education.) The expectations for performance are identical for both undergraduates and graduates because the expectations for newly licensed teachers in the state of Colorado are exactly the same. Undergraduates and graduates work side by side in coursework and internships. There are very slight differences including the course registration numbers (UGs register for 4000 level; Grads register for 5000 level) and undergraduates take 1-2 licensure courses and one internship prior to admission in the program. The teacher education program fosters critically reflective inquiry about teaching and learning and the development of collaborative skills necessary to work effectively with other adults on schooling issues. The program strives to meet the needs of an increasingly diverse population of students, and to productively participate in and lead school renewal by applying democratic principles in educational settings.

Education Pathways

The graduate teacher education program at UC Denver is designed for individuals with a minimum of a bachelor’s degree who seek a master’s degree along with an initial Colorado provisional teacher’s license in the following areas:

- Elementary Education (K–6) (40 semester hours)

- Secondary Education (7–12) (36 semester hours)
  - English
  - mathematics
  - science (general science, biology, earth science, physics, chemistry)
  - social studies
  - foreign language (Spanish, French)

- Special Education Generalist (Ages 5–21) (58 semester hours)

- Dual General Education/Special Education (60-63 semester hours)

Program Distinctions

Program Structure

The program admits teacher candidates in three cohort groups, one in the summer, one in fall and one in the spring. The initial professional teacher education program includes a full time 12- or 15-month licensure plan for regular education, a 15 month full time option for special education, and a 18 month full time option for dual special education. Part time 18 month options for regular education are planned for Spring 2011. Students will be taking course work at the university and field-based work in one of UC Denver’s partner schools. By enrolling in several courses together, elementary and secondary teacher candidates consider how students develop as learners over the entire K–12 school span. This collaborative approach applies to students in the general and special education program as well. This ensures that all elementary and secondary classroom teachers are well-prepared to work with students with special needs and that all special educators have a solid foundation in general education in curriculum and instruction.

Professional Development Schools

While in the licensure portion of the program, teacher candidates work in a partner school one to four days per week, depending on the internship level with the sequence of the program plan. University courses are closely interrelated with the four internship experiences in which teacher candidates gradually assume responsibility for teaching. Elementary teacher candidates generally spend an entire academic year in a single partner elementary school, whereas secondary teacher candidates spend their four internships in one of the partner middle schools and one of the partner high schools. The partner schools are located in several Denver metropolitan districts with most serving large populations of low-income and/or minority students, as well as a sizeable number of students for whom English is a second language and students with special needs. Each partner school is supported by a site professor from the university one day per week and by a master teacher/mentor, called a site coordinator.

Assessment

In 2000, Senate Bill 154 required all Colorado teacher education institutions to become performance based. PBA stands for performance based assessment. PBAs are created that correspond to many of the teacher education courses and concurrent practice in the series of internships. In doing so, knowledge can be evaluated as a result of coursework and performance in schools simultaneously. As teacher candidates progress through the program, they will be introduced to Performance Based Assessments (PBAs) and will be guided and supported in both course work and internships. Students seeking dual licensure are responsible for four additional PBAs associated with their second endorsement in Special Education.

The PBAs are:

1. Literacy Instruction & Assessment (elementary and secondary versions)
2. Mathematics Instruction & Assessment (elementary)
3. Subject Matter Content (secondary)
4. Student Profile
5. Classroom Management
6. Student Academic Performance Sample (SAPS)
7. Internship Performance Rubric (used at the end of each internship)

Passing the PLACE or PRAXIS II content examination prior to the final internship is also required before a candidate is eligible for a provisional teaching license in Colorado.

Programs of Study

Due to the complex nature of state mandated influences of teacher preparation courses and consistently evaluating our program to meet student needs, please see current programs of study in the teacher education handbook.

Master's Degree Options

The teacher education program design supports the concept of teacher education as an ongoing developmental process linking preservice, induction and ongoing professional growth experiences. Upon completion of the licensure portion of the program, beginning teachers continue working toward their master's degree (an additional 18-35 semester hours) in the areas of special education, educational psychology, content in English or history in collaboration with the Department of College or Liberal Arts and Sciences, or curriculum and instruction during their first or second year of teaching. This ensures that UC Denver's new teachers are provided with continuing support from the university while in their first few years of teaching.

Undergraduate Teacher Licensure

Undergraduate Teacher Education Program

The undergraduate teacher education program at UC Denver is a joint effort between the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and the School of Education & Human Development. Students earn a bachelor's degree through the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and a teaching license through the School of Education & Human Development.

This undergraduate program is dedicated to quality teacher education. To that end, our admission standards are rigorous and there are a number of program “gates” that teacher candidates go through to complete licensure.
UC Denver has selective admission standards for entering freshmen, including a 93 institutional index that includes students who are typically in the top third of their class or have a 3.4 GPA or score above a 23 on the ACT or 1100 on the SAT. Students transferring from community colleges must have a minimum of a 2.5 GPA.

Please note: The admission into the School of Education & Human Development teacher education program is a separate process from admission to the university. Summer deadlines are January 15* February 15; the fall deadline is March 15. Spring admission deadlines are August 15, September 15 and October 15.

Undergraduate Teacher Education Pathways

Undergraduate teacher candidates can earn a BA and a Colorado provisional teacher’s license in the following areas:

- BA—Individually Structured Major Elementary Education Licensure
- BA—English Literature Secondary English Licensure
- BS—Mathematics Secondary Mathematics Licensure
- BA—History Secondary Social Science Licensure
- BA—Political Science Secondary Social Science Licensure
- BA—Spanish Secondary Spanish Licensure
- BA—French Secondary French Licensure

Undergraduate Advising

Undergraduate teacher candidates will have a team of individuals who work with them throughout the completion of their bachelor’s degree and teacher licensure. The following are the members of the advising team:

College of Liberal Arts and Science (CLAS) Education Advisor

The CLAS advisor will assist you upon entry to the university through graduation. The CLAS advisor will monitor your progress through the core curriculum, pre-IPTE curriculum, eligibility requirements for the IPTE program and transfer credits. The CLAS advisor will also approve individually structured major-elementary education contracts for elementary education teacher candidates.

Faculty Advisor

A faculty advisor designated within the academic department works with undergraduate teacher education students pursuing secondary licensure regarding specific requirements within academic major (i.e., English, history, mathematics, Spanish, French, and political science). See the CLAS advisor for specific names and contact information.

School of Education and Human Development Advisor

An advisor in the School of Education and Human Development’s Student Services Center (Lawrence St. Center Bldg., 701; 303-315-6300) is able to help with questions about prerequisite completion, taking the PRAXIS II/PLACE exam and other general questions.

IPTE Undergraduate Academic Planning Sheets

Developed in collaboration with the academic departments and IPTE program faculty, advisors will work with the teacher candidates on an academic planning sheet. There is little flexibility in the program course requirements as these requirements meet and exceed the Colorado Department of Education’s teacher education professional and content standards.

IPTE Undergraduate Community College Articulation
UC Denver honors the community college articulation agreement to transfer the 60 designated semester hours from the community college to anyone admitted to the teacher licensure program. If the teacher candidate is a transfer student, he/she should work with his/her CLAS advisor early and often to ensure that all courses are transferred properly.

Programs of Study

Due to the complex nature of state mandated influences of teacher preparation courses and consistently evaluating this program for students, for the 2010-2011 term, please refer to the most current version of the teacher education program handbook for academic requirements for this program.

Requirements for Admission

The program rolling admissions each semester. Summer admission deadlines are January 15 & February 15; Fall admission deadline March 15. Spring admission deadlines are August 15, September 15 and October 15.

Teacher Education Information Sessions

All prospective teacher candidates are strongly encouraged to attend an information session before applying to the program. Information sessions are held twice a month lasting approximately 60-90 minutes. Advisors will be available to provide prospective students transcript reviews and pre-admission advising. To more effectively facilitate this process, please bring copies of all transcripts with you. A calendar of upcoming information sessions can be viewed on the Downtown Campus Web site. Go to www.ucdenver.edu/education to reserve a space under the menu item "Information Sessions" or call the school's Student Services Center at 303-315-6300.

Teacher Education Program Requirements

- Applicants to the IPTE program must hold at least a bachelor’s degree with a minimum undergraduate cumulative GPA of 2.75 for admission.

- Graduate candidates with a GPA less than 2.75 are required to take the GRE, with a combined score of 1000 on the verbal and quantitative sections; or the Miller Analogies Test, with an average score of 400–600, before consideration for admittance.

- Registration verification of scheduled content knowledge exam or copy of official scores for PLACE or PRAXIS II.
• All elementary education candidates must have a liberal arts major or equivalent content courses that provide a broad background of knowledge.

• All secondary education candidates must have a major or major equivalent of at least 30 semester hours in their desired teaching field.

• Undergraduate candidates must have an individually structured elementary emphasis.

• A complete application which can be obtained at scheduled information sessions, downloaded online, or at the Student Services Center.

*This is determined through transcript evaluations at information sessions.

Executive Leadership Administrator Licensure Program

Faculty

For information about faculty in this area, visit www.ucdenver.edu/education/alps.
The primary responsibility of the administrative leadership and policy studies (ALPS) faculty is to prepare leaders for public education in Colorado and the nation. Currently, the principal license is required for people seeking building-level administrative positions in Colorado.

Principal Licensure Program

ALPS offers course work that leads to the initial license for principal. Having earned an initial license, those who have obtained a master's degree and who go on to complete a district sponsored induction program may then be awarded a professional license by the Colorado Department of Education.

ALPS’s 32 semester-hour principal licensure program is project-based, requiring students to present evidence of meeting both state and national standards through performance based assessments. A 400-hour clinical-practice experience is integrated throughout the four-semester program.

Students develop a portfolio during the principal licensure program. Portfolios not finalized by the end of the fourth semester must be completed within the two subsequent semesters (not including summer).

Note: Those already holding a principal license and master's degree should see the Executive Leadership Program (below) for pursuing administrator licensure.

Denver Metro-Area Cohorts

Denver metro-area cohorts are delivered in four 8-semester-hour courses over four consecutive semesters. Cohorts start at one or more locations each semester and involve a combination of regular in-person meetings (up to 15 times per semester) and online work.

- EDUC 5751 - Principal/Administrator Licensing I Semester Hours: 5 to 9
- EDUC 5752 - Principal Administrator Licensing II. Semester Hours: 5 to 9
- EDUC 5753 - Principal/Administrator Licensing III. Semester Hours: 5 to 9
- EDUC 5754 - Principal or Administrator Licensing IV. Semester Hours: 5 to 9

Total: 32 Hours

Distance-Learning Cohorts

Distance-learning cohorts start each summer in June with a weeklong boot camp in Denver, meet over several intensive weekends during the subsequent fall and spring semesters and end with a weekend the following summer. Online work is completed in between the in-person sessions. Distance-learning cohorts are delivered in three 9-semester-hour courses and one 5-semester-hour course:
EDUC 5751 - Principal/Administrator Licensing I. Semester Hours: 5 to 9
EDUC 5752 - Principal Administrator Licensing II. Semester Hours: 5 to 9
EDUC 5753 - Principal/Administrator Licensing III. Semester Hours: 5 to 9
EDUC 5754 - Principal or Administrator Licensing IV. Semester Hours: 5 to 9
Total: 32 Hours

MA Program

The MA is designed for those who do not already hold a graduate degree. Usually master's students will complete 9 semester hours beyond the 32 required in the licensure program, for a total of 41 semester hours of course work after the bachelor's degree.

For the MA degree, students must select at least one course in each of the following three areas:

Section A: Educational Research

RSEM 5100 - Basic Statistics Semester Hours: 3
RSEM 5200 - Introduction to Research Methods Semester Hours: 3
RSEM 5300 - Introduction to Measurement Semester Hours: 3

Section B: Educational Foundations/Multicultural Education

FNDS 5050 - Critical Issues in American Education. Semester Hours: 3
FNDS 5500 - Contemporary Philosophies of Education. Semester Hours: 3
FNDS 5410 - History and Philosophy of Modern Education. Semester Hours: 3
LALC 5140 - Multicultural Education Semester Hours: 3
LALC 5150 - Culture of the Classroom Semester Hours: 3
LALC 5160 - Historical and Legal Foundations of Bilingual Education Semester Hours: 3

Section C: Educational Psychology/Special Education

EDUC 5400 - Special Education Seminar for Principals. Semester Hours: 3
EPSY 5100 - Advanced Child Growth and Development. Semester Hours: 3
EPSY 5110 - Human Learning. Semester Hours: 3
EPSY 5140 - Advanced Adolescent Growth and Development. Semester Hours: 3
EPSY 5160 - Behavior Disorders in Exceptional Children. Semester Hours: 3
EPSY 5200 - Social Psychology of Learning. Semester Hours: 3
SPED 5140 - Advanced Assessment in Special Education. Semester Hours: 3
SPED 5180 - Curriculum Planning for Students with Special Needs. Semester Hours: 3
SPED 5400 - Advanced Seminar in Special Education. Semester Hours: 3
SPED 5600 - Special Education for School Professionals. Semester Hours: 3

Candidates must also successfully complete a comprehensive exam paper, reflecting on how the three MA classes will help them in the role of principal or administrator.

EdS Program

The EdS degree program affords the opportunity for advanced graduate study and is available to those who already hold a master's degree. Generally for the specialist degree students will complete 9 semester hours that constitute an area of focus, in addition to the 32 required in the licensure program. Candidates must also successfully complete a comprehensive exam paper, reflecting on how the three EdS classes will help them in the role of principal or administrator.

Administrator Licensure - Executive Leadership Program

Designed for the professional educator who, already holding a principal license and master's degree, wishes to obtain an initial administrator license in Colorado and prepare for a career as a superintendent or other district leader. This one-year, 12-semester-hour certificate program combines weekend meetings with online work and hands-on clinical practice—usually completed in participants' home districts. Learn more at www.ucdenver.edu/education/elp.

Additional Program Information

Individuals interested in any of these programs are encouraged to contact ALPS faculty. Conferences prior to application are encouraged and welcomed. Following admission, students are expected to maintain frequent contact with assigned advisors to plan, develop and complete their programs of study.

Special Education Program Overview

The special education program within the initial professional teacher education division offers a special education generalist license and a special education endorsement as well as a master of arts degree in special education. All special education program options foster the development of critical reflection, inquiry about teaching and learning, as well as the breadth and depth in content knowledge necessary to work effectively in elementary and secondary classrooms. The program faculty promote the ability of teacher candidates to meet the needs of an increasingly diverse population of K–12 learners, as well as to participate productively in and lead school renewal.

The faculty in the program in special education value collaborative relationships between general and special educators, so we offer our teacher candidates the option of pursuing a dual endorsement in both general and special education to offer our teacher candidates the option of pursuing a dual endorsement in both general and special education.

Special Education Program Distinctions

Special Education Licensing Pathways

To be a licensed as a special education generalist for grades ages 5-21, a teacher candidate must hold a bachelor’s degree from a four-year accepted institution of higher education, have completed the plan of study from one of the program options for the preparation of special education generalist, have passed the approved elementary content and special education assessments and have demonstrated all required state and national standards.

Program options for the special education generalist include: 1) initial licensure as a special education generalist; 2) dual licensure in either elementary or secondary education and as a special education generalist; and, 3) for those who already hold a Colorado teaching license, an added endorsement, which is also fully online. There is also an option to count these courses towards a masters in special education which will require an additional 9 semester hours of course work.

The time needed to complete the various special education generalist program options varies based on the needs of teacher candidates. In addition to traditional on-campus offerings, a wide selection of courses are available in online formats. During the academic year, core special education courses are scheduled in late afternoons, evenings and on Saturdays to avoid conflict with teaching responsibilities.

Professional Development Schools
While in the licensure portion of the program, teacher candidates work in a partner school one to four days per week, depending on the internship. University courses are closely interrelated with the four internship experiences in which teacher candidates gradually assume responsibility for teaching. Special education teacher candidates engage in a series of four internships from the beginning of the program to the end of the program. Dual teacher candidates engage in five internships that result in a general education license at the elementary or secondary level and then complete a fifth internship and additional course work; this can be done during an additional full time semester or can be worked out flexibly as the student assumes their first teaching position to complete their special education license. The partner schools are located in several Denver metropolitan districts with most serving large populations of low-income and/or minority students, as well as a sizeable number of students for whom English is a second language and students with special needs. Each partner school is supported by a site professor from the university one day per week and by a master teacher, called a site coordinator.

Assessment

In 2000, Senate Bill 154 required all Colorado teacher education institutions to become performance based. PBA stands for performance based assessment. PBAs are created that correspond to many of the teacher education courses and concurrent practice in the series of internships. In doing so, knowledge can be evaluated as a result of coursework and performance in schools simultaneously. As teacher candidates progress through the program, they will be introduced to Performance Based Assessments (PBAs) and will be guided and supported in both coursework and internships. Students seeking dual licensure are responsible for four additional PBAs associated with their second endorsement in special education.

The PBAs are:

1. Literacy Instruction & Assessment (elementary and secondary versions)
2. Mathematics Instruction & Assessment (elementary)
3. Subject Matter Content (secondary)
4. Student Profile
5. Classroom Management
6. Student Academic Performance Sample (SAPS)
7. Internship Performance Rubric (used at the end of each internship)

The four additional PBAs that all teacher candidates in the special education program are expected to proficiently complete include:
1. Assessment
2. Collaboration & Positive Behavior Supports
3. Literacy Instruction for Students with Identified Special Needs
4. The Individualized Education Program (I.E.P.) Process

Passing the PLACE or PRAXIS II Content examinations prior to the final internship is also required before a candidate is eligible for a provisional teaching license in Colorado.

Faculty Advisor

A faculty advisor designated within the academic department works with undergraduate teacher education students pursuing secondary licensure regarding specific requirements within academic major (i.e., English, history, mathematics, Spanish, French, and political science). See the CLAS advisor for specific names and contact information.

School of Education and Human Development Advisor

An advisor in the School of Education and Human Development’s Student Services Center (Lawrence St. Center Bldg., 701; 303-315-6300) is able to help with questions about prerequisite completion, taking the PRAXIS II/PLACE exam and other general questions.

IPTE Undergraduate Academic Planning Sheets

Developed in collaboration with the academic departments and IPTE program faculty, advisors will work with the teacher candidates on an academic planning sheet. There is little flexibility in the program course requirements as these requirements meet and exceed the Colorado Department of Education’s teacher education professional and content standards.

IPTE Undergraduate Community College Articulation

UC Denver honors the community college articulation agreement to transfer the 60 designated semester hours from the community college to anyone admitted to the teacher licensure program. If the teacher candidate is a transfer student, he/she should work with his/her CLAS advisor early and often to ensure that all courses are transferred properly.

Early Childhood Education Program

The early childhood education (ECE) program leads to a master’s degree in early childhood education (early childhood accomplished teacher focus) and/or licensure in early childhood special education (early childhood special education specialist). The program prepares leaders who will enrich the life experience of young children (birth to 8) and their families through a variety of professional roles.

ECE Program students may select from three program options:

1. MA in early childhood education
2. ECSE specialist license (initial or added endorsement)
3. MA plus ECSE specialist license (initial or added endorsement)

The ECE program is interdisciplinary in focus, drawing on university resources and the clinical expertise of various community professionals. There is a strong emphasis on fieldwork and practicum experiences in both regular and special education concentrations. Field experiences are a part of each course and provide an opportunity for each student to gain knowledge, abilities and dispositions while interacting with children, families, program staff and community agencies. Practicum experiences are designed to allow students to apply knowledge and practice skills in a closely supervised environment.

The early childhood accomplished teacher focus and the early childhood special education focus share course content in:

- literacy development and disorders
- child growth and development, differences and disorders
- learning approaches with young children
- measurement and evaluation
- basic statistics/research methods
- multicultural education
- research and current issues
- early childhood curriculum and program development for inclusive classrooms
- working collaboratively with parents and families
- program administration/leadership

The early childhood special education program provides specialized preparation in:

- screening and assessment of young children
- intervention strategies with infants and preschoolers
- behavior management
- working as a member of the transdisciplinary team
- cognitive and socio-emotional development and disorders
- treatment of children who have neurological impairment and chronic illness
- challenging behaviors and autism

Program Requirements

Semester Hour Requirements

Master’s degree in ECE: 40 semester hours
ECSE specialist license: 40 semester hours
Master’s degree plus ECSE specialist license: 49 semester hours
Master's degree plus ECSE specialist added endorsement: 40 semester hours
ECSE specialist added endorsement: 25 semester hours

Fieldwork and Practicum Requirements

The master's degree in early childhood education includes a total of 425 hours of required fieldwork/practica. Approximately 200 hours of fieldwork are associated with course assignments; 225 hours of intense, culminating practica occur toward the end of the second year of study. Students completing the MA program take a written comprehensive exam (take home) during the final semester of their program (concurrently with courses at the end of the program sequence).

For the master's degree in early childhood education plus the ECSE specialist initial license, a total of 800 hours of fieldwork/practica is required. Approximately 290 hours of fieldwork are associated with course assignments; 510 hours of intense, culminating practica occur toward the end of the second year of study. Students seeking an added endorsement in ECSE specialist also complete 510 hours of practicum experiences.

Nine semester hours can be transferred for the master's degree; 15 semester hours can be transferred for the ECSE specialist license. These credits include courses taken through continuing education, from other institutions or as a nondegree student at the University of Colorado Denver before the term officially admitted.

Instructional Technology Endorsement

K–12 teachers may elect to complete a 24-semester-hour program leading to state endorsement in instructional technology at the teacher or specialist level. Teachers beginning their careers may complete the initial teacher licensing program, followed by 24 semester hours for teacher-level endorsement. More experienced teachers may complete 24 semester hours for the specialist-level endorsement.

Comprehensive Examination for All ILT Students

The comprehensive exam consists of a professional portfolio where students demonstrate program competencies through work products and related accomplishments. The portfolio is created throughout the student’s program and submitted for faculty review the final semester. For more information, see the ILT Web site.

For complete details about ILT programs, endorsement requirements and certificates, see the ILT Web site.

Linguistically Diverse Education Endorsement

Linguistically Diverse Education

Requirements for LDE Program
(Degree/Endorsement or Certificates - TESOL, CIEL, CRUE)

Office: Lawrence Street Center, 701
Telephone: 303-315-6300
Fax: 303-315-6311
E-mail: education@ucdenver.edu
Web site: www.ucdenver.edu/education/lde

Faculty

Information about faculty in this program is available at www.ucdenver.edu/education/lde. The faculty of linguistically diverse education (LDE) believe that effective teaching requires an awareness of and the ability to respond to individual differences. LDE faculty also emphasize the importance of teachers as scholars and reflective practitioners. In particular, teachers must understand how linguistic and cultural diversity affect their teaching. Two themes run throughout all program offerings. The first concerns the importance of recognizing a variety of literacies—“home” literacies, school literacy, “mainstream” literacy, first and second language literacies—and to develop teaching practices that utilize an understanding of the complexity of literacy development across language contexts. The second theme involves the meaningful use of language and literacy to improve the quality of one’s life. As an approach to teaching, this theme emphasizes the creation of diverse, rich environments in which learners experience oral and written language as part of authentic tasks, and where concern for the cultural and linguistic heritage of the students is evident.

Program Options

The LDE program offers options leading to the following:

- a Master of Arts in Curriculum and Instruction
- the Colorado Endorsement for Linguistically Diverse Education
- a Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) certificate
- a Content Instruction for English Learners (CIEL) certificate
- a Culturally Responsive Urban Education (CRUE) certificate

The program is intended for:

- novice teachers who have completed their Colorado teaching credentials in UC Denver’s graduate teacher education licensure program and are enrolled in the MA in curriculum and instruction with an emphasis in LDE (see 27 semester-hour option)

- veteran elementary and secondary teachers returning to graduate studies for the master’s degree (36 semester hours)
- veteran elementary and secondary teachers returning to acquire Colorado endorsement credentials (24 semester hours)
- individuals interested in teaching English abroad (TESOL: 15 semester hours)
- veteran elementary and secondary teachers returning to graduate studies for a certificate to aid them in helping their English language learners succeed (CIEL: 9 semester hours)
- elementary and secondary teachers who desire preparation in better meeting the needs of culturally diverse learners (CRUE: 9 semester hours)
- individuals interested in teaching adults (MA: 36 semester hours)

The MA is a field-based professional development program involving university faculty and practicing LDE instructors in public school and intensive English settings. Courses, laboratories and practica emphasize scholarly approaches to complex problems of practice and feature interactive, collaborative and practical approaches to working with English language learners.

We advocate a sociocultural approach to issues of language and learning, acknowledging the legitimacy of linguistic and cultural differences and recognizing that academic settings represent important socializing forces in students' lives. Because of this, we emphasize the “whole learner” in our teaching and in teacher education and teacher development, understanding that individuals do not merely add a language to their repertoire of communication but make fundamental identity adjustments as they progress in their studies. For this reason, all our course work, laboratories and practica experiences are field-based, putting our program participants in contact with veteran teachers and English language learners. We draw heavily on recent scholarship in collaborative approaches to school-university partnerships and systemic school change in developing classroom methods and materials, curricula and teacher development experiences.

The MA program also provides a foundation in teaching English in a variety of contexts in the United States and abroad. Teachers who work in LDE programs or in other content areas (such as art, language arts, math, music, science, social studies or technology), but who wish to integrate LDE principles and strategies into their instruction for their English language learners, will find the MA program relevant to their interests and goals.
Course work includes language teaching methodology, language acquisition, linguistic analysis of English, multicultural foundations, assessment, literacy and other areas. This program has been developed as an advanced course of study for practicing teachers or individuals with some teaching experience.

Applicants who are new to teaching, and who wish to teach in U.S. K–12 public school settings, should inquire about the teacher education licensure program. Applicants who are new to teaching, but who do not need a teaching license (certification) because they do not wish to teach in U.S. public schools, may consider the TESOL certificate to gain initial teaching experiences before applying for the MA.

Program Requirements and Courses

To complete the LDE program and earn a master's degree and/or endorsement, or to earn a TESOL certificate, students must complete the appropriate course work as outlined in the table below.

LALC 5190 - Culturally Responsive Pedagogy and Practices Semester Hours: 3

Total: 9 Hours

Additional information about the CRUE certificate can be found at www.cruecenter.org/certificate.php.

Cumulative Portfolio of Performance Based Assessments (PBAS)

The portfolio is required for the CDE endorsement, counts as the comprehensive exam for the master's degree and permits you to document your development over the course of your program. Portfolios are reviewed by LDE faculty members. At least two faculty members must agree that the portfolio is acceptable in order to pass. The portfolio process is reviewed in every class as each of the PBAs is completed in the classes, helping students to update their portfolios throughout the program. For more portfolio guidelines, visit the Web site at www.ucdenver.edu/education/lde.

PLACE Exam for Linguistically Diverse Education Endorsement

To add the endorsement to their teaching license, students must pass the PLACE (Program for Licensing Assessments for Colorado Educators) exam for linguistically diverse education, secure and submit the appropriate paperwork from the Colorado
Department of Education, and pay fees required for the PLACE and for the endorsement paperwork. Information about PLACE is online at www.place.nesinc.com.

Course Scheduling

During the fall and spring semesters, most university courses are offered in the late afternoon and evening and meet for three hours once a week over a 16-week semester. Some alternative course schedules are available, such as meeting on five Friday-evening/all-day Saturday combinations. In the summer semester, three-to eight-week sessions are offered, and courses may be in the morning, afternoon or evening.

Planning

For practicing full-time teachers, we recommend taking one course each fall and spring semester and up to two courses each summer. Students may simultaneously complete requirements for the MA and the endorsement for linguistically diverse education. Support for course planning is available in LDE advising sessions—usually held once in fall and once in spring. These sessions help students build their programs around course sequences and availability (some courses are offered only once per year).

Active Status in the Graduate School

Students must complete their programs within seven years, maintaining a GPA of 3.0. Students typically take four courses each calendar year. Failure to enroll over three contiguous semesters will result in a requirement to resubmit part I of the application for admission and a letter of intent.

Faculty

Information about faculty in this program is available online at www.ucdenver.edu/education/literacy.

The faculty of literacy, language and culturally responsive teaching (L2CRT) believe that effective teaching requires an awareness of and the ability to respond to individual differences. L2CRT faculty also emphasize the importance of teachers as scholars and reflective practitioners. In particular, teachers must understand how linguistic and cultural diversity affect their teaching. Two themes run throughout all program offerings. The first concerns the importance of recognizing a variety of literacies—“home” literacies, school literacy, “mainstream” literacy, first and second language literacies—and to develop teaching practices that utilize an understanding of the complexity of literacy development across language contexts. Reading and Writing Option and Reading Teacher Endorsement

This master’s program is designed for K-6 and 7-12 teachers. Those interested in elementary reading and writing should communicate with Professors Espinoza, Nathenson-Mejia or Taylor. Those interested in secondary and adult reading and writing should communicate with Professor Shanklin (see Web site for faculty contact information).

Reading is a credentialed program meeting the Colorado Department of Education requirements for reading teacher endorsement. Therefore, students who obtain a master’s degree emphasizing reading education from UC Denver are certified to hold positions in public and private schools as special developmental and remedial reading teachers in K–6 or 7–12. This program is also valuable for elementary and secondary teachers who wish to enhance reading and writing instruction in their classrooms.

By placing emphasis on the reading, writing and oral and visual language development of culturally, linguistically and academically diverse student populations, this master’s program is at the forefront of the field. Language is approached from a socio-psycholinguistic perspective that emphasizes the learner’s construction of meaning rather than the learning of isolated skills. Importance is placed on using theory, inquiry and personal reflection to inform classroom practice. The program prepares teachers to become decision makers capable of developing learner-centered curricula where each student’s reading and writing abilities are assessed to address developmental or special needs.

Curriculum

Course offerings lead to an MA degree in curriculum and instruction with an emphasis in reading and writing, as well as a reading teacher endorsement, at one of two levels: K–6 or 7–12.

Those who have completed UC Denver’s graduate teacher education licensure program must earn an additional 27 semester hours to obtain the MA and endorsement. Those who completed licensure through other means must earn an additional 36 semester hours to obtain the MA and endorsement.

Teachers may add a reading teacher endorsement to an already-earned master’s degree in education by taking those courses listed under the chosen endorsement level. (In the state of Colorado, the reading teacher endorsement cannot simply be added to a bachelor’s degree.) Electives and core courses are not required. Two additional courses must be taken in other areas specified by the Colorado Department of Education. In many cases, previous master’s degree courses will satisfy this requirement.

Secondary English Education Option

| Total Semester Hours | 36 | 27 | 27 | 36 | 27 | 27 |
The master’s program in secondary English education is designed to enhance the preparation of middle and high school English/language arts teachers. Students complete course work in language development, assessment and field experiences. With the help of their advisor, they also select specific courses from the English Department or within the School of Education and Human Development that provide a well-rounded repertoire of knowledge and skills to fulfill the needs of an English educator. Special consideration is given to working with diverse ethnic populations. Students interested in English education should see Professor Shanklin (see Web site for faculty contact information).

Program Requirements

To earn a master of arts degree in curriculum and instruction with an emphasis in secondary English education, students must complete the following:

- 30 graduate semester hours in English education
- 6 graduate semester hours of core courses
- Performance-based assessments that culminate in a portfolio finalized in the last semester of the program as fulfillment of the MA comprehensive exam requirement

Each student’s course plan is developed in conjunction with his/her advisor. Please review www.ucdenver.edu/education/englished for recommended course sequence.

Cumulative Portfolio

The MA portfolio counts as the comprehensive exam for the master’s degree. The portfolio is an accumulation of the performance based assessments completed during program courses and reflects on the student’s development over the course of the degree program. Reading and writing students must include confirmation of Reading Teacher PLACE exam registration in their portfolios. Information about the PLACE is online at www.place.nesinc.com.

Course Scheduling

During the fall and spring semesters, most university courses are offered in the late afternoon and evening and meet for three hours once a week over a 16-week semester. Some alternative course schedules are available, such as meeting on five Friday-evening/all-day Saturday combinations. In the summer semester, three- to eight-week sessions are offered, and courses may be in the morning, afternoon or evening. A current schedule of courses is available online at http://courses.cudenver.edu.

Planning
For practicing full-time teachers, we recommend taking one course each fall and spring semester, and up to two courses each summer. Plan carefully because courses are intended to build upon each other, and some courses are only offered once a year.

Active Status in the Graduate School

Students must complete their programs within seven years, maintaining a GPA of 3.0. Students typically take four courses each calendar year. Failure to enroll over three contiguous semesters will result in a requirement to resubmit part I of the application for admission and a letter of intent.

Early and Adolescent Literacy Certificates

The early literacy certificate and adolescent literacy certificate each include three graduate-level courses (for a total of 9 semester hours) and are conveniently offered entirely online. They are specifically designed to help licensed teachers develop the skills necessary to reach student readers. To find out more, please visit www.ucdenver.edu/education or email cpe@ucdenver.edu.

To learn about how these certificate credits may apply toward one of the above programs in reading and writing, contact education@ucdenver.edu.

Program Overview

The school library and instructional leadership program within the ILT master’s degree program is a nationally recognized NCATE-AASL revised and approved school library media education program that leads to the Colorado Department of Education endorsement for school libraries. The program integrates information literacy standards through the use of collaborative planning, as approved by the American Association of School Libraries. Technology and library resources are seen as tools to increase student achievement by integrating the information literacy standards with the content standards of the classroom teacher. The program adheres to the constructivist theory of resource-based learning and promotes an appreciation of children’s and adolescent literature. The program believes that school librarians require education as a teacher as well as a librarian, as advocated by the American Library Association and the International Association of School Libraries. As a school librarian, you will provide collaborative instruction, information access and leadership through the management of your library program and the library resources. Courses are offered in a completely online program, or a monthly Saturday cohort scheduled in communities across Colorado.

Once admitted, students begin a plan of study that typically takes about two years to complete. Consult the SLIL Web site for more information about specific plans of study, course offerings and expectations of cohort groups.

Admission Requirements

Admission decisions are based on undergraduate and graduate grades, external letters of recommendation and fit with the program as reflected in a letter of intent. In some cases, results of a test (GRE) are also required. Prospective students should consult the SLIL program Web site for complete admission procedures and requirements.

Professional Expectations

All students in the SLIL program are expected to show a strong commitment to the program and to maintain high academic, professional and ethical standards. Inappropriate or unprofessional conduct is cause for discipline or dismissal from the program.

Technology Expectations

The SLIL program uses computers and related technologies either as a focus or a tool for learning. Students are expected to obtain an e-mail account and check it frequently. In addition to on-campus facilities, SLIL students need convenient access to Internet-connected computers off campus, either at their place of work or at home. In addition to textbooks, software purchases may be required or recommended for specific classes.

Program Requirements

School library students also have a choice between endorsement-only and full master’s programs. The master’s program requires a minimum of 36 graduate semester hours.
Students complete a plan of study consisting of courses and professional field experience. To receive Colorado teacher endorsement, students are required to pass the PLACE test in school library. This is a Colorado Department of Education requirement.

An Example of Two-Year Plan for School Library Program

Courses are offered only in certain semesters and courses should be taken in a particular sequence based on when you start the program. Advising is required prior to enrolling in a course, even as a non-degree student, in order to ensure the most effective course sequencing and availability of courses.

Comprehensive Examination for All SLIL Students

The comprehensive exam consists of a professional portfolio where in students demonstrate program competencies through work products and related accomplishments. The portfolio is created throughout the student’s program and submitted for faculty review the final semester. For more information, see the ILT Web site. For complete details about the SLIL program and endorsement requirements, see the ILT Web site at www.ucdenver.edu/education/schoollibrary.

Undergraduate Certificate Programs

Applied German Language Skills

Undergraduate Certificate

Certificate Description

The undergraduate certificate in applied German language skills is designed for students of any discipline who wish to acquire and demonstrate to potential employers that they possess a fluid working knowledge of the German language and understanding of the cultures in which German is spoken. The completion of the requirements for this certificate can also serve as a means for nondegree-seeking professionals to develop a working competency in the German language and culture for use in such areas as international business, education, genealogy, transatlantic travel, academic research, translation and many other fields.
Admission

All currently enrolled students at UC Denver (undergraduate or graduate) in good standing (including nondegree-seeking students) are eligible for admission into the program. Any student who already possesses an undergraduate degree is also qualified for admission into the program, but must apply to the university as a nondegree-seeking student. Students working toward a baccalaureate degree who are currently enrolled in a college-level institution other than UC Denver are also eligible for certification.

Course Requirements

Twenty-four (24) semester hours of course work with UC Denver faculty (15 of which must be upper division), distributed as follows:

German Language Skills (15 credit hours): Students must complete a minimum of 15 semester credit hours of upper-division German language skills courses. These courses are defined as those areas of study in which grammar, vocabulary, pronunciation and/or communicative abilities in German are the primary focus of instruction. Up to six credit hours of upper-division German skills courses may be applied as transfer credit from outside, college-level institutions. Alternately, students may apply up to nine credit hours of officially recognized study abroad credit toward this requirement.

German Culture (9 credit hours): Students must complete a minimum of nine semester credit hours of German culture courses where the primary focus of instruction addresses any facet of Austrian, German and/or Swiss culture. These courses may be completed at any level (lower or upper division as well as graduate) and in any combination of disciplines, provided that the student supplies evidence that a significant portion of each course is devoted to Austrian, German and/or Swiss culture. This includes but is not limited to history, philosophy, political science, literature (in German or in translation) and other German cultural topics. Up to three credit hours of culture courses may be applied as transfer credit from outside, college-level institutions. Alternately, students may apply up to six credit hours of officially recognized, documented university-level course work (or the equivalent) in a German-speaking country.

Proficiency Exam: Successful completion of an internationally recognized German language proficiency exam. At any point prior to the awarding of the certificate, students must submit documentation that they have passed an internationally recognized German language skills examination. Such proficiency exams (some of which are administered locally in Denver and Boulder) include but are not limited to the TestDaF (Test Deutsch als Fremdsprache), Zertifikat Deutsch (ZD), Zertifikat Deutsch für den Beruf (ZDfB) or Prüfung Wirtschaftsdeutsch (PWD). Students must receive approval from German faculty at UC Denver to ensure that their exam scores are valid and applicable toward certification.

Students must obtain approval from UC Denver German faculty for all of the above and maintain a minimum 3.0 GPA in all course work applied to the certificate.

Transfer Credit

A significant portion of the certificate program is based on language proficiency. Consequently, students who have developed language skills through course work at institutions outside of UC Denver, including study abroad, may apply a limited number of previously earned semester hours toward the program. Please make an appointment with an advisor in the department to discuss details. All transfer credits must be approved by UC Denver German faculty.

Application of Course Work

The course work applied toward certification is meant as a proficiency requirement and not as a total semester hour amount. As a result, students who are working toward a degree may apply course work in German certification as credit toward other programs such as a minor, general education requirements or their major. Students are encouraged to inform their major advisor that they are working toward certification in German for help in coordinating their overall academic curriculum.

Further Information

Students are encouraged to hold a personal conference with a departmental advisor before applying to the certificate program. Phone 303-556-4893 for contact information.

Applied Statistics Undergraduate Certificate

Coordinator: Stephanie Santorico
Telephone: 303-556-2547
E-mail: Stephanie.Santorico@ucdenver.edu
Web site: http://math.ucdenver.edu/statistics/ugrad_cert.shtml

Entrance Requirements

All undergraduate students in good standing (including nondegree-seeking students) will be admitted to the program. For students in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, this requires a cumulative grade point average of 2.0. Some mathematical background (including calculus and linear algebra) is recommended.

To apply, see Undergraduate Applied Statistics Certificate

Curriculum

There are three parts to the requirements:

Required Courses

MATH 2830 - Introductory Statistics

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 2830
Basic statistical concepts, summarizing data, probability concepts, distributions, confidence intervals, hypothesis testing. Prereq: intermediate algebra. Semester Hours: 3 to 3  GT Pathways Category Key: GT-MA1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Basic Methods (choose one):

MATH 4820 - Statistics

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4820
Point and confidence interval estimation, principles of maximum likelihood, sufficiency and completeness, tests of simple and composite hypothesis, linear models and multiple regression, analysis of variance. Prereq: MATH 3800. MATH 4810 highly recommended, but not required. Cross-listed with MATH 5320. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 4830 - Applied Statistics

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4830
Review of estimation, confidence intervals and hypothesis testing; Anova; categorical data analysis; non-parametric tests; linear and logistic regression. Prereq: an introductory course in statistics such as MATH 2830 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with MATH 5830. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Advanced Methods (choose one):

MATH 4387 - Regression Analysis, Modeling and Time Series
Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4387
Topics include linear and multiple regression, basic experimental designs, one-way analysis of variance. Emphasis is on practical aspects and applications of linear models to the analysis of data in business engineering, behavioral, biological and physical sciences. Prereq: MATH 3191 and 3800/4820. Cross-listed with MATH 5387. Semester Hours: 3 to 3  When Offered: FALL
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 4394 - Experimental Designs

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4394
Infrequent. Completely randomized block designs factorial and fractional factorial experiments, balanced incomplete block designs, responses surface methods. Prereq: MATH 4387. Cross-listed with MATH 5394. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Elective (choose one):

MATH 4101 - Applied Statistics Using SAS and SPSS I

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4101
Teaches the practical statistical tools social scientists use to analyze real-world problems. Course split into four modules, each taught by a different instructor. The first module introduces SAS and SPSS; modules 2-4 are problem-based and cover topics such as ANOVA, multivariate regression, and cluster analysis. Prereq: any statistics course. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 or any statistics course in the math department at the 4000 level or higher
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ECON 4150 - Economic Forecasting

Summer 2010 Registration ECON 4150
Teaches forecasting techniques used in business and government to project trends and short-term fluctuations. Actual data are employed in instruction and labs. State-of-the-art spreadsheet and algorithms are introduced as part of the course work. Prereq: Undergraduate statistics or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with ECON 5150. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ECON 4811 - Introduction to Econometrics

Summer 2010 Registration ECON 4811
Introduces econometric methods and their applications to quantitative economic problems. Simple and multiple regression models and problems encountered in their applications are developed in lectures and applied computer projects. Prereq: ECON
3811 or equivalent. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 4770 - Applied Statistics for the Natural Sciences

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4770
Surveys statistical techniques including: quick review of basic statistics, tests for normality and outliers, display of data; simple and multiple regression; ANOVA and its relation to regression. Emphasis on computer or stat-pak analysis and interpretation of statistical results. Prereq: College algebra and GEOG 3080, or consent of instructor.
Cross-listed with ENVS 5600, GEOL 4770, 5770. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 4770 - Applied Statistics for the Natural Sciences

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 4770
Surveys statistical techniques including: quick review of basic statistics, tests for normality and outliers, display of data; simple and multiple regression; Anova and its relation to regression. Emphasis on computer or stat-pak analysis and interpretation of statistical results. Prereq: College algebra and GEOG 3080, or consent of instructor.
Cross-listed with GEOL 5770, GEOG 4770, ENVS 5600. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SOCY 5183 - Seminar: Quantitative Data Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration SOC 5183
A research-oriented seminar stressing the utilization of social data already collected in the test or generation of sociological theory. Note: Required for M.A. graduate students in sociology. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
Equivalent course pre-approved by the certificate coordinator

Project

An independent data analysis project with a report and presentation to demonstrate proficiency with data analysis techniques and a statistical computing software package.
Enroll for one hour of MATH 4840 (Independent Study) or in an equivalent course pre-approved by the certificate coordinator.

Certificate Total: 13 Hours
Grade Requirements

Students must maintain a 3.0 GPA in these courses with no credit given for courses with grades below B-.

Residency Requirements

Since a certificate is a University of Colorado Denver certification of a student’s specialized knowledge in an advanced subject area, all courses in the certificate program are expected to be taken in residency at the University of Colorado Denver.

Cultural Diversity Studies
Undergraduate Certificate

The undergraduate certificate in cultural diversity studies is designed to appeal to undergraduate students with a background in any major. It will allow students to demonstrate to potential employers that they possess the multicultural skills and knowledge necessary to succeed in the workplace. Students will enroll in department courses that focus on the historical context in which race and culture have emerged in the United States.

This certificate is also targeted to nondegree-seeking professionals who seek to acquire multicultural knowledge and the skills necessary to ensure their success in professional environments. Students will be encouraged to think critically about race and race relations. Their expanded understandings of the implications of race and culture in work environments will ensure employers that they offer the highest quality employees opportunities in employment or advancement.

A certificate in cultural diversity studies offers students an enduring intellectual value based on classic articles, book excerpts and scholars who have shaped the study and understanding of race and ethnicity in contemporary society. Our courses provide the opportunity for students to encounter many of the greatest thinkers in race and ethnicity firsthand. Course curriculum includes carefully edited selections from the works of the most distinguished observers of race and ethnicity, past and present. Students will appreciate the broad range of coverage, the logic of course organization and the accessibility of material covered.

The undergraduate certificate in cultural diversity studies requires 12 semester hours (four courses).

Certificate Requirements
Required Course

ETST 2000 - Introduction to Ethnic Studies

Summer 2010 Registration ETST 2000
Multi-disciplinary survey of contemporary and historical research analyses of the diverse social, economic, political, and cultural facets of African American, American Indian, Asian American, and Latino communities and cultures. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 GT Pathways Category Key: GT-SS3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Total: 3 Hours

Electives

Choose three courses from any ethnic studies department courses, including the following:

ETST 2155 - African American History

Summer 2010 Registration ETST 2155
Surveys the history of African Americans. Study interpretations, and analysis of major problems, issues, and trends affecting the African American population from pre-slavery to the present. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 Pathways Category Key: GT-HI1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ETST 2294 - Race and the Media

Summer 2010 Registration ETST 2294
Virtually all Americans are susceptible to the blatant and subtle socializing and conditioning effects of the modern media (film, television, the internet). Explains the variety of cultural values transmitted through the media, with particular emphasis on racial issues. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ETST 3254 - Race and Ethnicity in the Inner City

Summer 2010 Registration ETST 3254
This dynamic course combines aspects of urban studies and sociology. Contemporary cultural factors of the minority ghetto experience are investigated as elements in urban crisis. Emphasis is placed on possible solutions through government agencies and community organization. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
ETST 3297 - Social History of Asian Americans

Summer 2010 Registration ETST 3297
Introductory-level course surveys the social history of Asian American groups from the mid-19th century to the present. Examines immigration patterns, the development of communities, social and economic problems, and anti-Asian movements and activities. Cross-listed with SOCY 3297. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ETST 3396 - History of the American Indian

Summer 2010 Registration ETST 3396
Indigenous nations in North America comprise hundreds of diverse cultures. This course examines U.S. Indian policy and how indigenous nations responded; how they creatively adapted, and resisted cultural change; and how they continue to persist culturally, socially, and politically. Cross-listed with HIST 3396. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ETST 3704 - Culture, Racism and Alienation

Summer 2010 Registration ETST 3704
The effects of racism on the personality of participants in racist cultures. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ETST 4558 - Chicano and Latino Politics

Summer 2010 Registration ETST 4558
Analysis of the social, cultural, and economic factors that affect political behavior of Latinos. Special attention is paid to the Mexican American cultural heritage and to relations between Mexican Americans and Anglo Americans. Cross-listed with PSCI 4554. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Total: 9 Hours

Certificate Total: 12 Hours

There are crosslisted courses in a variety of departments, including history, political science and sociology. Any crosslisted course is acceptable. You must register for it under ETST numbers. A complete listing of department offerings and crosslisted courses can be obtained every semester from the ethnic studies department Web page or by calling our office at 303-556-2700 for a copy.
A minimum grade of B- must be earned in each of the four courses completed as part of the certificate. All credits for the certificate must be earned at the Downtown Campus.

Additional information about the undergraduate certificate in cultural diversity studies may be obtained from ethnic studies Director Donna Langston, Lawrence Street Center, 480, 303-556-2726, Donna.Langston@ucdenver.edu.

Ethics Undergraduate Certificate

The certificate in ethics is designed for students currently enrolled in a degree program as well as nondegree students.

A total of 15 semester hours is required for an ethics certificate. Students are required to write a capstone paper in an area of ethics directly related to their career and/or field of study (PHIL 3840).

Certificate Requirements

PHIL 1020 - Introduction to Ethics and Society: The Person and the Community

Summer 2010 Registration PHIL 1020

Studies some of the traditional problems in ethics that tend to be focused on individual morality within the larger context of social and political philosophy. Some specific contemporary moral and social problems may be addressed, such as AIDS, abortion, famine, and individual rights versus the collective rights of society. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

3GT Pathways Category Key: GT-AH3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Choose four:

PHIL 3002 - Ancient Greek Philosophy

Summer 2010 Registration PHIL 3002

History of ancient Greek thought, including traditional myth, pre-Socratic fragments, Plato’s dialogues, and Aristotle’s systematic philosophy. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHIL 3150 - History of Ethics
PHIL 3150 - Surveys the ethical thought of major figures in the history of philosophy, beginning with Plato and ending with the 19th century. Examples: Aristotle, Hume, Kant and Mill. (Class readings of primary philosophical texts.)

Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHIL 3200 - Social and Political Philosophy

Summer 2010 Registration PHIL 3200

Examines basic issues in social and political philosophy, including justice, freedom, individuality, power and community.

Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHIL 3250 - Business Ethics

Summer 2010 Registration PHIL 3250

Surveys some of the major moral problems which arise in business, such as the nature and scope of the moral responsibilities of corporations, affirmative action, and truth in advertising. Begins with a study of moral reasoning, ethical theory, and the challenges of applying ethical theory.

Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHIL 3500 - Ideology and Culture: Racism and Sexism

Summer 2010 Registration PHIL 3500

Surveys the nature and role of racism and sexism. Topics may include ideology theory, naturalism, the equal protection clause, recent scientific discussion, sociological history, and social constructionism. Cross-listed with WGST 3500.

Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHIL 3840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration PHIL 3840

Semester Hours: 1 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHIL 4150 - Twentieth Century Ethics

Summer 2010 Registration PHIL 4150

Surveys representative philosophers, methods, and/or problems in 20th century ethics. Prereq: PHIL 3002 or 3022, a minimum grade of "C" in each previous philosophy course, or permission of instructor.

Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
PHIL 4242 - Bioethics

Summer 2010 Registration PHIL 4242
Examines some of the major moral issues confronting the nation's health care system. The class will search for solutions to such problems as financing health care for those unable to do so on their own, determining the extent of a patient's right to both refuse and demand certain types of medical treatment, and allocating scarce medical resources such as lifesaving vital organs. The springboard for examining these issues will be the doctor or patient relationship framed by the moral principles of respect for persons and beneficence. Prereq: PHIL 3002 or 3022, a minimum grade of "C" in each previous philosophy course, or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with PHIL 5242, SSCI 5242, HUMN 5242. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Certificate Total: 15 Hours

Geographic Information Science Undergraduate Certificate

GISci Certificate Advisor: Rafael Moreno
Office: North Classroom, 3524
Telephone: 303-352-3762
E-mail: rafael.moreno@ucdenver.edu

The intention of this certificate is to provide undergraduates with a mechanism for demonstrating capabilities in spatial techniques in the social and/or physical sciences. The focus of this certificate is on a broad array of geotechniques, including geographic information systems, remote sensing, cartography and statistics, which give students additional analytical skills to take into the workplace or on to graduate school. This certificate is designed for geography majors as well as nonmajors.

Upon successful completion of the certificate, students will be able to:

- understand basic theoretical underpinnings of spatial analysis
- apply geo-spatial technologies to real-world problems
• have a basic knowledge of how to operate at least three types of software used for spatial analysis

Students must have a 3.0 GPA average in all approved geographic technology courses to earn the certificate. The certificate will be awarded when the student graduates with the bachelor’s degree. For those who already have a bachelor’s degree, the certificate will be awarded upon completion of the program.

Application

Students may begin the program in any semester or during the summer by making arrangements with Dr. Rafael Moreno, the GISci certificate coordinator, and completing and signing the Application for GISci Certificate. This should be done once you have elected to pursue the certificate. Those who are not current students must apply for non-degree admission (go to Information for Undergraduate Students and click on Nondegree Students link at top of page) before registering for any classes.

Curriculum

To obtain the certificate, students must complete four core courses, one elective, and a 1-hour independent study, totaling 16 hours. Although the four core courses may be taken in any order, it is advisable to begin with GEOG 3080, Introduction to Mapping and Map Analysis, since this course familiarizes students with many key concepts used in the other classes. Of the four core requirements, only the statistics class has prerequisites, including algebra and introductory calculus. Because of the technical nature of the GIS and remote sensing course work, however, some mathematical experience is desirable prior to beginning the program. All core courses are offered on a yearly basis. Any alterations to the program MUST be approved by the GISci Coordinator.

Course Requirements

Core Courses:

GEOG 4060 - Remote Sensing I: Introduction to Environmental Remote Sensing

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4060
An in-depth treatment of the use of aerial photographs and other forms of imagery for the analysis of urban-industrial patterns, vegetation, agriculture, landforms, and geologic structure. Prereq: GEOG 3080 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOG 5060, GEOL 4060, GEOL 5060. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

-OR-
GEOG 5060 - Remote Sensing I: Introduction to Environmental Remote Sensing

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 5060
An in-depth treatment of the use of aerial photographs and other forms of imagery for the analysis of urban-industrial patterns, vegetation, agriculture, landforms, and geologic structure. Prereq: GEOG 3080 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOG 4060, GEOL 4060, 5060. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
(May also take as GEOL 4060 or 5060)

GEOG 4080 - Introduction to GIS

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4080
Introduces various aspects of geographic information systems (GIS), including justification, definition of hardware/software, database design, and data conversion. GIS is a computer-based mapping system providing a graphical interface to locational and relational attribute data on facilities and land. Includes hands-on use of a geographic information system workstation. Prereq: GEOG 3080 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOG 5080. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 5080 - Introduction to GIS

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 5080
Introduces various aspects of geographic information systems (GIS), including justification, definition of hardware/software, database design, and data conversion. GIS is a computer-based mapping system providing a graphical interface to locational and relational attribute data on facilities and land. Includes hands-on use of a geographic information system workstation. Cross-listed with GEOG 4080. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 4770 - Applied Statistics for the Natural Sciences

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 4770
Surveys statistical techniques including: quick review of basic statistics, tests for normality and outliers, display of data; simple and multiple regression; Anova and its relation to regression. Emphasis on computer or stat-pak analysis and interpretation of statistical results. Prereq: College algebra and GEOG 3080, or consent of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOL 5770, GEOG 4770, ENVS 5600. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

OR equivalent course approved by the GISci Certificate Coordinator

Lab Requirement (to be taken at the end of the program):

Independent Study in GEOG or GEOL with a geographic technology professor (Moreno, Thomas, Wyckoff, or instructor approved by GISci coordinator). The independent project must also demonstrate a proficiency in GIS in the student’s area of interest (1 credit hour) or take CVEN 5386. GIS Laboratory (3 credit hours). See below for course numbers/descriptions.

GEOG 4840 - Independent Study: GEOG

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4840
Independent research primarily for undergraduate majors. Prereq: Permission of department. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5386 - GIS Laboratory

Summer 2010 Registration CVEN 5386
Provides in-depth experience with use and programming of a particular GIS software, including Arc GIS and related object-oriented programming languages. Advanced functionality for user authoring of software interface, data management and analysis functions and output generation. Exact content will vary by semester. Prereq: Computing and Introduction to GIS or their equivalent. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Elective (choose one from the following):

GEOG 4070 - Remote Sensing II: Advanced Remote Sensing

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4070
Focuses on digital image processing of satellite and aerial images. Students explore the nature of digital image data, gain an understanding of image analysis using PCs, and learn about the use of analysis products in the development of GIS databases. Prereq: GEOG 4060/5060 or GEOL 4060/5060 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOG 5070, GEOL 4070, 5070. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Mediation Undergraduate Certificate

Mediation entails a third-party intervention designed to assist parties in managing conflict. Trained mediators are impartial process experts who learn to utilize communication and conflict philosophy and theories to increase the probability of more favorable outcomes between parties in conflict. The undergraduate certificate is designed for communication majors or any student interested in developing practical skills in alternative dispute resolution. The courses in this certificate focus on alternative dispute processes that include strategies for managing conflict in personal, public, legal, political, governmental and corporate contexts.

Certificate Requirements

The undergraduate certificate in mediation requires 12 semester hours (four courses).
Core Courses

COMM 4262 - Mediation

Summer 2010 Registration CMMU 4262
Explores theoretical and practical aspects of mediation in a variety of contexts ranging from divorce mediation to labor-management disputes. Cross-listed with COMM 5262. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Students must complete at least one of the following two courses (those who take both classes take one elective rather than two; those who take only one class must select two electives):

COMM 4255 - Negotiations and Bargaining

Summer 2010 Registration CMMU 4255
Designed to allow students to study theories and apply concepts that explain the influences of various forms of mediating, reducing, and/or resolving conflict among individuals, groups, organizations, nations and cultures. Cross-listed with COMM 5255. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

COMM 4260 - Communication and Conflict

Summer 2010 Registration CMMU 4260
Studies the influence of communication on intrapersonal, interpersonal, intragroup and intergroup conflict situations. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Electives

COMM 3271 - Communication and Diversity

Summer 2010 Registration CMMU 3271
Explores the complexities of communication across diverse identities such as race, ethnicity, and gender. Course attempts to seek solutions via sharing meaning and discovering common ground. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

COMM 4015 - Communication and Civility
Summer 2010 Registration CMMU 4015
Examines the central role of communication in the creation of a civil and humane society. The definition, understanding, and practices of civility in public discourse and in professional, social, and personal relationships are explored. Film, literature, music, and other texts are utilized to illustrate key concepts and serve as catalysts for discussion. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

COMM 4140 - Argumentation

Summer 2010 Registration CMMU 4140
Examines classical through contemporary theories, with special attention to types of propositions, burden of proof, analysis of issues, evidence, reasoning, fallacies, case construction, refutation and ethics. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

COMM 4681 - Communication Issues in Trial Court Practices and Processes

Summer 2010 Registration CMMU 4681
Introduces students to communication and language research aimed at improving the fairness, reliability, and validity of court and judicial processes, including lawyer-client interviews, interrogatories, jury selection, jury instructions, witness examination, and the use of language evidence in court. Prereq: ENGL 2030 or equivalent. Cross-listed with COMM 5681. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Total: 12 Hours

Students may be allowed to take courses other than those on this list to fulfill the requirements for the certificate, if those courses better fit their professional goals.

Professional Writing Certificate

The certificate consists of 12 semester hours that may be completed in one or two semesters. Enrollment is open to undergraduates, graduates, working professionals and returning students, and the certificate has no prerequisites.

Courses

Required Courses
ENGL 2070 - Grammar, Rhetoric and Style

Summer 2010 Registration ENGL 2070
Teaches the basics of English grammar in order to develop a rhetorical and stylistic confidence in reading and writing, using an approach that is more descriptive than prescriptive. Teaches students how to evaluate the grammatical choices of established writers and how to develop flexibility in the grammatical choices they make in their own writing. Prereq: ENGL 1020 or equivalent. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

OR

ENGL 2154 - Introduction to Creative Writing

Summer 2010 Registration ENGL 2154
Reading, discussing, writing short fiction and poetry in a workshop setting. Prereq: ENGL 1020. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ENGL 3154 - Technical Writing

Summer 2010 Registration ENGL 3154
Introduces the study and writing of technical documents. Emphasizes the processes, style, structure, and forms of technical writing. Attention is paid to audience analysis, organization, clarity and precision. Prereq: ENGL 1020. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

OR

ENGL 3170 - Business Writing

Summer 2010 Registration ENGL 3170
Focuses on the strategies and techniques of business writing, with emphasis on reader, message and form. Prereq: ENGL 1020. ENGL 2030 highly recommended. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ENGL 3084 - Advanced Composition

Summer 2010 Registration ENGL 3084
Focuses on the rhetorical examination and production of visual and textual documents in such areas as politics, education, art, culture and advertising. Equal focus on developing individual student writing skills at advanced levels. Prereq: ENGL 2030. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
ENGL 4701 - Multimedia in the Community

Summer 2010 Registration ENGL 4701
Produce dossier-quality multimedia shorts by researching and writing digital compositions for selected community organizations. Topics for research range across numerous social issues and involve all disciplines. Prereq: ENGL 2030, 3154, and 3170 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with ENGL 5701. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Public Relations Undergraduate Certificate

Public relations has been defined as the management function that entails planning, research, publicity, promotion and collaborative decision-making to help any organization’s ability to listen to, appreciate and respond appropriately to those persons and groups whose mutually beneficial relationships the organization needs to foster as it strives to achieve its mission and vision. The undergraduate certificate in public relations is designed for undergraduate communication majors who wish to demonstrate to potential employers that they possess skills and knowledge in the area of public relations. It also is useful for non-degree-seeking working professionals without bachelor’s degrees who plan to enter or re-enter the workplace and who seek to acquire the skills and knowledge necessary to perform public relations in their professional environments.

Certificate Requirements

The undergraduate certificate in public relations requires 12 semester hours (four courses). Students must complete the following three courses:

COMM 4635 - Principles of Public Relations

Summer 2010 Registration CMMU 4635
Introduces theory and practice in the field of public relations, including topics such as effects upon society, public opinion, target audiences, adaptation to the media, uses, laws and ethics. Cross-listed with COMM 5635. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

COMM 4640 - Advanced Public Relations
Summer 2010 Registration CMMU 4640
Examines key public relations practices in private, not-for-profit and public sectors. Strategic planning processes, research methods, evaluation, reports, and collateral development are addressed, with an emphasis on the intersection of theory and practice. Prereq: COMM 4635. Cross-listed with COMM 5640. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

COMM 4665 - Principles of Advertising

Summer 2010 Registration CMMU 4665
Provides a fundamental understanding and appreciation of advertising in today's global society, including consumer motivation, buying behavior, research, creative development and media planning. Cross-listed with COMM 5665. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Additionally, students choose one course from the following:

COMM 3680 - Mass Communication Skills

Summer 2010 Registration CMMU 3680
Instruction in writing and editing skills associated with the production of print, radio, television and film. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

COMM 4240 - Organizational Communication

Summer 2010 Registration CMMU 4240
Relationships among such communication factors as flow, media, channel, diversity, information delivery and organization functioning, morale, and productivity. Cross-listed with COMM 5240. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Total: 12 Hours

Students may be permitted to take courses other than those listed above to fulfill the requirements for the certificate if those courses fit their professional goals better (CMMU 4635, Principles of Public Relations may not be substituted, however). Requests for approval of substitute courses, including an explanation for the substitution, must be made in writing to Hamilton Bean.

Grade and Residency Requirements
A grade of B must be earned in each course completed as part of the certificate. All of the credit hours for the certificate must be earned at the University of Colorado Denver.

Application Procedures and Additional Information

Students should apply for the undergraduate certificate in public relations after the completion of the required courses. To apply, students must complete the certificate application and return it to Hamilton Bean in his mailbox in room 102-A of the Plaza Building or mail to Department of Communication; P. O. Box 173364, Campus Box 176; University of Colorado Denver; Denver, CO 80217-3364. The approved certificate is mailed to the student.

Students who are not already enrolled at UCD must also complete an Application for Non-Degree Admission prior to registering for courses. The form should be returned to the Office of Admissions in the annex of the CU Building.

Additional information about the undergraduate certificate in public relations may be obtained from Hamilton Bean, Department of Communication, Plaza 102-V, 303-352-3876, Hamilton.Bean@ucdenver.edu.

Scientific Foundations of Technical Innovation Certificate

The goal of this certificate is to give students and working professionals an opportunity to broaden their technical knowledge while contributing to regional economic development. Two real-world projects—one for a client and one for the student's own pursuits—are combined with a series of six short courses to provide both context and substance for gaining knowledge needed to create technical prototypes. The model is based on the method by which most physical science graduate students learn technical domains on a "just-in-time" basis. It is also a method by which many corporations quickly bring new project team members up to speed on project knowledge. Entry into the certificate program requires prior completion of two semesters of calculus-based physics and two semesters of calculus or permission of the certificate advisor.

Undergraduate required courses

PHYS 4850 - Physics for Design and Innovation I

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 4850

A service-learning project using fundamental physical principles to design a prototype scientific instrument, technical device, or technical process for a real-world client.
Includes instruction on project management, intellectual property, and market analysis. Cross-listed with PHYS 5850. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 4852 - Physics for Design and Innovation II

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 4852
A capstone project using fundamental physical principles to prototype a scientific instrument, technical device or technical process. The focus is on the student's own product idea. Includes online guided readings on the wider context of product development. Students should consult with instructor on necessary physics and mathematics preparation for the project. Prereq: PHYS 4850. Cross-listed with PHYS 5852. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Total: 12 Hours

Graduate required courses

Graduate versions of the courses (5000-level) require an undergraduate degree and additional work on technical analysis or connection to professional practice.

PHYS 5850 - Physics for Design and Innovation I

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 5850
A service-learning project using fundamental physical principles to design a prototype scientific instrument, technical device, or technical process for a real-world client. Includes instruction on project management, intellectual property, and market analysis. Cross-listed with PHYS 4850. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Technical and Professional Communication Undergraduate Certificate

The undergraduate certificate in technical and professional communication is designed for several types of students:

- working adults who are employed or who are seeking employment in the field of technical communication but who are not seeking an undergraduate degree
- students who are majoring in communication and want to enhance their technical communication abilities
- students pursuing a major other than communication who want to enhance their technical communication abilities

Students enrolled in this certificate receive state-of-the-art training in core professional skills, including technical writing, technical editing and web design. The certificate is especially helpful for those who plan to enter (or re-enter) the workplace and who want to acquire the knowledge and skills necessary to contribute to technical documentation projects.

Certificate Requirements

The undergraduate certificate in technical and professional communication requires 12 semester hours (four courses), as follows:

Required Core

COMM 3120 - Technical Communication

Summer 2010 Registration CMMU 3120

Develops students' abilities to prepare and communicate information in diverse media, including written, spoken, graphic and electronic. Technical communication focuses on communication used on the job as opposed to communication in academic settings. Students prepare communications in response to real-world cases and demonstrate the integration of communication through these different media. Prereq: ENGL
Electives

Students must complete any three of the following courses:

COMM 4120 - Writing Technical Reports

Summer 2010 Registration CMMU 4120
Studies various aspects of technical reports, including the theoretical applications behind making reports persuasive. Topics include informal and formal reports, progress reports, feasibility reports, empirical reports and recommendation reports. Prereq: COMM 3120. Cross-listed with COMM 5120. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

COMM 4290 - Web Design

Summer 2010 Registration CMMU 4290
Covers writing web pages in HTML, beginning Photoshop, style sheets, bitmapped animations, issues of usable layout, navigability, structure, typography, and color on the web. Projects require students to develop static web sites. Prereq: COMM 3120 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with COMM 5290. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

COMM 4300 - Multimedia Authoring

Summer 2010 Registration CMMU 4300
Analysis and evaluation of components of multimedia development and hands-on instruction featuring computer animation for advertising, training, and educational projects. Cross-listed with COMM 5300. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

COMM 4410 - Science Writing

Summer 2010 Registration CMMU 4410
An intensive practice in composing for diverse science publication genres and venues and practice in analyzing the ways consumers obtain and process information about scientific developments and controversies. Prereq: at least one writing or composition course at the 3000 level or above. Cross-listed with COMM 5410. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
COMM 4805 - Graphics

Summer 2010 Registration CMMU 4805
Instructs technical communicators in designing information that communicates visually as well as verbally. Students focus on document design; illustration; information retrieval; desktop publishing using Quark Xpress; and working with typesetters, printers and graphic artists. Prereq: COMM 3120. Cross-listed with COMM 5805. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Total: 12 Hours

Grade and Residency Requirements

A grade of B or higher must be earned in each course completed as part of the Certificate (a grade of B- is not acceptable). All of the credit hours for the certificate must be earned at the University of Colorado Denver.

Application Procedures

Students should apply for the undergraduate certificate in technical and professional communication after the completion of the required courses. To apply, students must complete the certificate application.

The form should be returned to Jim Stratman, located in the Plaza Building, room 102-F, or put in his mailbox in room PL 102-A, or mailed to him at the Communication Department; Campus Box 176, P. O. Box 173364; Denver, CO 80217-3364. Once the certificate is processed, it will be mailed to the student unless other arrangements have been made by the student to pick up the certificate from the program assistant in PL 102C.

Students need to be registered at the University of Colorado Denver as full-time students, part-time students or as non-degreed students in order to register for these classes. To apply as a non-degreed student, fill out the Application for Non-Degree Admission. Return the form, along with your fee, to the Office of Admissions in the Annex of the CU Building, located at the corner of 14th and Larimer.

Additional Information

Additional information about the undergraduate certificate in technical and professional communication may be obtained from the director of the technical communication
Graduate Certificate Programs

Applied Statistics Graduate Certificate

Coordinator: Stephanie Santorico:
Telephone: 303-556-2547
E-mail: Stephanie.Santorico@ucdenver.edu

Entrance Requirements

Students are expected to have a bachelor's degree and be admitted to the graduate school as either a degree-seeking or nondegree-seeking student. Students are expected to have completed an introductory statistics course (such as MATH 2830 or the equivalent) or an introductory course in probability. At least one semester of calculus and a course containing linear algebra are also recommended.

To apply, see Graduate Applied Statistics Certificate

Curriculum

There are three parts to the requirements:

Required Courses

Basic methods (choose one):

MATH 4820 - Statistics

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4820
Point and confidence interval estimation, principles of maximum likelihood, sufficiency and completeness, tests of simple and composite hypothesis, linear models and multiple regression, analysis of variance. Prereq: MATH 3800. MATH 4810 highly recommended, but not required. Cross-listed with MATH 5320. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
MATH 4830 - Applied Statistics

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4830
Review of estimation, confidence intervals and hypothesis testing; Anova; categorical data analysis; non-parametric tests; linear and logistic regression. Prereq: an introductory course in statistics such as MATH 2830 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with MATH 5830.
Semester Hours: 3
When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

-OR-

MATH 5320 - Statistics

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5320
Point and confidence interval estimation, principles of maximum likelihood, sufficiency and completeness, tests of simple and composite hypothesis, linear models and multiple regression, analysis of variance. Prereq: MATH 3800. MATH 4810 highly recommended, but not required. Cross-listed with MATH 4820.
Semester Hours: 3
When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Advanced methods (choose two):

MATH 5387 - Regression Analysis, Modeling and Time Series

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5387
Topics include linear and multiple regression, basic experimental designs, one-way analysis of variance. Emphasis is on practical aspects and applications of linear models to the analysis of data in business engineering and behavioral, biological and physical sciences. Prereq: MATH 3191 and 3800/4820. Cross-listed with MATH 4387.
Semester Hours: 3
When Offered: FALL
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

-AND/OR-

MATH 5394 - Experimental Designs

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5394
Infrequent. Completely randomized block designs, factorial and fractional factorial experiments, balanced incomplete block designs, response surface methods. Prereq: MATH 4387 and 5387. Cross-listed with MATH 4394.
Semester Hours: 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

-AND/OR-
MATH 6360 - Exploratory Data Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 6360
Every other year. Philosophy and techniques associated with exploratory (vs. confirmatory) data analysis, both as originally presented (John Turkey) and current computer-based implementations. Graphical displays, robust-resistant methods (lines, two-way fits), diagnostic plots, standardization. Prereq: Previous statistics course or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Elective (choose one):

Any statistics course in the math department at the 5000 level or higher

Summer 2010 Registration ECON 5150
Teaches forecasting techniques used in business and government to project trends and short-term fluctuations. Actual data are employed in instruction and labs. State-of-the-art spreadsheet and algorithms are introduced as part of the course work. Prereq: ECON 3811. Cross-listed with ECON 4150. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ECON 5813 - Econometrics I

Summer 2010 Registration ECON 5813
Theory and application of statistical techniques used to analyze economic problems. Topics include simple and multiple regression models, simultaneous equation models, and the problems encountered in their application. Students formulate models, obtain data, estimate models, interpret results and, forecast. Prereq: ECON 4811 or equivalent. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ECON 5823 - Econometrics II

Summer 2010 Registration ECON 5823
Second course in the econometrics sequence, covering intermediate topics in cross-section and time series analysis. Topics include limited dependent variables, autoregressive and distributed lag models, longitudinal data analysis and unit roots, co-integration and other time-series topics. Prereq: ECON 5083 and 5813. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
ENVS 5600 - Applied Statistics for the Natural Sciences

Summer 2010 Registration ENVS 5600
Surveys statistical techniques including: quick review of basic statistics, tests for normality and outliers, display of data; simple and multiple regression; ANOVA and its relation to regression. Emphasis on computer or stat-pak analysis and interpretation of statistical results. Prereq: College algebra and GEOG 3080, or consent of an instructor. Cross-listed with GEOG 4770, GEOL 4770, 5770. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 5770 - Applied Statistics for the Natural Sciences

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 5770
Surveys statistical techniques including: quick review of basic statistics, tests for normality and outliers, display of data; simple and multiple regression; Anova and its relation to regression. Emphasis on computer or stat-pak analysis and interpretation of statistical results. Prereq: College algebra and GEOG 3080, or consent of an instructor. Cross-listed with GEOL 4770, GEOG 4770, ENVS 5600. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PSYC 5713 - Advanced Statistics

Summer 2010 Registration PSY 5713
Experimental design and analysis of controlled interventions and evaluations. Emphasis on multifactor analysis of variance, orthogonal contrasts, post-hoc tests, multiple regression, and analysis of co-variance. Prereq: Admission to the Psychology MA, Clinical program or the Clinical Health Psychology Ph.D. program or with permission of instructor and graduate program director. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SOCY 5183 - Seminar: Quantitative Data Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration SOC 5183
A research-oriented seminar stressing the utilization of social data already collected in the test or generation of sociological theory. Note: Required for M.A. graduate students in sociology. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Equivalent course pre-approved by the certificate coordinator

Project

An independent data analysis project with a report and presentation to demonstrate proficiency with data analysis techniques and a statistical computing software package.
Enroll for one hour of MATH 5840 (Independent Study) or in an equivalent course preapproved by the certificate coordinator.

Certificate Total: 13 Hours

Grade Requirements

Students must maintain a 3.0 GPA in these courses with no credit given for courses with grades below B-.

Residency Requirements

Since a certificate is a University of Colorado Denver certification of a student’s specialized knowledge in an advanced subject area, all courses in the certificate program are expected to be taken in residency at the University of Colorado Denver.

Faculty

Information about faculty in this program is available at www.ucdenver.edu/education/lde. The faculty of linguistically diverse education (LDE) believe that effective teaching requires an awareness of and the ability to respond to individual differences. LDE faculty also emphasize the importance of teachers as scholars and reflective practitioners. In particular, teachers must understand how linguistic and cultural diversity affect their teaching. Two themes run throughout all program offerings. The first concerns the importance of recognizing a variety of literacies—“home” literacies, school literacy, “mainstream” literacy, first and second language literacies—and to develop teaching practices that utilize an understanding of the complexity of literacy development across language contexts. The second theme involves the meaningful use of language and literacy to improve the quality of one’s life. As an approach to teaching, this theme emphasizes the creation of diverse, rich environments in which learners experience oral and written language as part of authentic tasks, and where concern for the cultural and linguistic heritage of the students is evident.

Program Options

The LDE program offers options leading to the following:

- a Master of Arts in Curriculum and Instruction
- the Colorado Endorsement for Linguistically Diverse Education
- a Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) certificate
- a Content Instruction for English Learners (CIEL) certificate
- a Culturally Responsive Urban Education (CRUE) certificate

The program is intended for:

- novice teachers who have completed their Colorado teaching credentials in UC Denver’s graduate teacher education licensure program and are enrolled in the MA in curriculum and instruction with an emphasis in LDE (see 27 semester-hour option)
- veteran elementary and secondary teachers returning to graduate studies for the master’s degree (36 semester hours)
• veteran elementary and secondary teachers returning to acquire Colorado endorsement credentials (24 semester hours)

• individuals interested in teaching English abroad (TESOL: 15 semester hours)

• veteran elementary and secondary teachers returning to graduate studies for a certificate to aid them in helping their English language learners succeed (CIEL: 9 semester hours)

• elementary and secondary teachers who desire preparation in better meeting the needs of culturally diverse learners (CRUE: 9 semester hours)

• individuals interested in teaching adults (MA: 36 semester hours)

The MA is a field-based professional development program involving university faculty and practicing LDE instructors in public school and intensive English settings. Courses, laboratories and practica emphasize scholarly approaches to complex problems of practice and feature interactive, collaborative and practical approaches to working with English language learners.

We advocate a sociocultural approach to issues of language and learning, acknowledging the legitimacy of linguistic and cultural differences and recognizing that academic settings represent important socializing forces in students’ lives. Because of this, we emphasize the “whole learner” in our teaching and in teacher education and teacher development, understanding that individuals do not merely add a language to their repertoire of communication but make fundamental identity adjustments as they progress in their studies. For this reason, all our course work, laboratories and practica experiences are field-based, putting our program participants in contact with veteran teachers and English language learners. We draw heavily on recent scholarship in collaborative approaches to school-university partnerships and systemic school change in developing classroom methods and materials, curricula and teacher development experiences.

The MA program also provides a foundation in teaching English in a variety of contexts in the United States and abroad. Teachers who work in LDE programs or in other content areas (such as art, language arts, math, music, science, social studies or technology), but who wish to integrate LDE principles and strategies into their instruction for their English language learners, will find the MA program relevant to their interests and goals.

Course work includes language teaching methodology, language acquisition, linguistic analysis of English, multicultural foundations, assessment, literacy and other areas. This program has been developed as an advanced course of study for practicing teachers or individuals with some teaching experience.

Applicants who are new to teaching, and who wish to teach in U.S. K–12 public school settings, should inquire about the teacher education licensure program. Applicants who are new to teaching, but who do not need a teaching license (certification) because they do not wish to teach in U.S. public schools, may consider the TESOL certificate to gain initial teaching experiences before applying for the MA.

Program Requirements and Courses

To complete the LDE program and earn a master’s degree and/or endorsement, or to earn a TESOL certificate, students must complete the appropriate course work as outlined in the table below.

Content Instruction for English Learners (CIEL)
Certificate Requirements

Students interested in the CIEL certificate must complete the following:
LALC 5030 - Language/Literacy Acquisition Part I Semester Hours: 3
-OR-
LALC 5070 - Linguistic Analysis of English: Implications for Teaching Semester Hours: 3

LALC 5050 - Linguistic and Cultural Issues in Linking Assessment and Instruction Semester Hours: 3

LALC 5826 - Language Teaching Lab Semester Hours: 3

LALC 6912 - Seminar and Practicum in Literacy and Language, ESL and Bilingual Education Semester Hours: 3

Total: 9 Hours
Culturally Responsive Urban Education (CRUE)
Certificate Requirements

Those considering the CRUE certificate must complete the following:

LALC 5170 - Race, Class and Culture in Public Schools Semester Hours: 3
LALC 5180 - Working with Communities and Families Semester Hours: 3
LALC 5190 - Culturally Responsive Pedagogy and Practices Semester Hours: 3

Total: 9 Hours

Additional information about the CRUE certificate can be found at www.cruecenter.org/certificate.php.

Cumulative Portfolio of Performance Based Assessments (PBAS)

The portfolio is required for the CDE endorsement, counts as the comprehensive exam for the master’s degree and permits you to document your development over the course of your program. Portfolios are reviewed by LDE faculty members. At least two faculty members must agree that the portfolio is acceptable in order to pass. The portfolio process is reviewed in every class as each of the PBAs is completed in the classes, helping students to update their portfolios throughout the program. For more portfolio guidelines, visit the Web site at www.ucdenver.edu/education/lde.

PLACE Exam for Linguistically Diverse Education Endorsement

To add the endorsement to their teaching license, students must pass the PLACE (Program for Licensing Assessments for Colorado Educators) exam for linguistically diverse education, secure and submit the appropriate paperwork from the Colorado Department of Education, and pay fees required for the PLACE and for the endorsement paperwork. Information about PLACE is online at www.place.nesinc.com.

Course Scheduling

During the fall and spring semesters, most university courses are offered in the late afternoon and evening and meet for three hours once a week over a 16-week semester. Some alternative course schedules are available, such as meeting on five Friday-evening/all-day Saturday combinations. In the summer semester, three-to eight-week sessions are offered, and courses may be in the morning, afternoon or evening.

Planning

For practicing full-time teachers, we recommend taking one course each fall and spring semester and up to two courses each summer. Students may simultaneously complete requirements for the MA and the endorsement for linguistically diverse education. Support for course planning is available in LDE advising sessions—usually held once in fall and once in spring. These sessions help students build their programs around course sequences and availability (some courses are offered only once per year).

Active Status in the Graduate School

Students must complete their programs within seven years, maintaining a GPA of 3.0. Students typically take four courses each calendar year. Failure to enroll over three contiguous semesters will result in a requirement to resubmit part I of the application for admission and a letter of intent.

Content Instruction for English Learners (CIEL) Certificate Requirements

Students interested in the CIEL certificate must complete the following:

- LALC 5030 - Language/Literacy Acquisition Part I Semester Hours: 3
  - OR-
  - LALC 5070 - Linguistic Analysis of English: Implications for Teaching Semester Hours: 3

- LALC 5050 - Linguistic and Cultural Issues in Linking Assessment and Instruction Semester Hours: 3
  - OR-
  - LALC 5820 - Techniques in Teaching English as a Second Language Semester Hours: 3
  - OR-
  - LALC 5825 - Methods and Materials of Language Teaching Semester Hours: 3
  - OR-
  - LALC 5826 - Language Teaching Lab Semester Hours: 3

- LALC 6912 - Seminar and Practicum in Literacy and Language, ESL and Bilingual Education Semester Hours: 3

Total: 9 Hours
Culturally Responsive Urban Education (CRUE) Certificate Requirements

Those considering the CRUE certificate must complete the following:

LALC 5170 - Race, Class and Culture in Public Schools Semester Hours: 3
LALC 5180 - Working with Communities and Families Semester Hours: 3
LALC 5190 - Culturally Responsive Pedagogy and Practices Semester Hours: 3

Total: 9 Hours

Additional information about the CRUE certificate can be found at www.cruecenter.org/certificate.php.

Cumulative Portfolio of Performance Based Assessments (PBAS)

The portfolio is required for the CDE endorsement, counts as the comprehensive exam for the master's degree and permits you to document your development over the course of your program. Portfolios are reviewed by LDE faculty members. At least two faculty members must agree that the portfolio is acceptable in order to pass. The portfolio process is reviewed in every class as each of the PBAs is completed in the classes, helping students to update their portfolios throughout the program. For more portfolio guidelines, visit the Web site at www.ucdenver.edu/education/lde.

PLACE Exam for Linguistically Diverse Education Endorsement

To add the endorsement to their teaching license, students must pass the PLACE (Program for Licensing Assessments for Colorado Educators) exam for linguistically diverse education, secure and submit the appropriate paperwork from the Colorado Department of Education, and pay fees required for the PLACE and for the endorsement paperwork. Information about PLACE is online at www.place.nesinc.com.

Course Scheduling

During the fall and spring semesters, most university courses are offered in the late afternoon and evening and meet for three hours once a week over a 16-week semester. Some alternative course schedules are available, such as meeting on five Friday-evening/all-day Saturday combinations. In the summer semester, three-to eight-week sessions are offered, and courses may be in the morning, afternoon or evening.

Planning

For practicing full-time teachers, we recommend taking one course each fall and spring semester and up to two courses each summer. Students may simultaneously complete requirements for the MA and the endorsement for linguistically diverse education. Support for course planning is available in LDE advising sessions—usually held once in fall and once in spring. These sessions help students build their programs around course sequences and availability (some courses are offered only once per year).

Active Status in the Graduate School

Students must complete their programs within seven years, maintaining a GPA of 3.0. Students typically take four courses each calendar year. Failure to enroll over three contiguous semesters will result in a requirement to resubmit part I of the application for admission and a letter of intent.

Design Build Graduate Certificate

Contact: Erik (Rick) Sommerfeld
Telephone: 303-556-6160
E-mail: sommere@colorado.edu

The College of Architecture and Planning offers a graduate certificate in the emerging area of design build as an extension of the MArch program. It requires a total of 18 semester hours, some of which also count toward the MArch program, some of which do not. Course work in this extension emphasizes the designer’s point of view.

Certificate Requirements

Five courses totaling 18 semester hours can be applied to the MArch graduation requirements:

ARCH 6370 - Introduction To Design Build

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 6370

Introduction to Design Build project delivery methods important to architects. Lecture, research on the industry and an individual student project are the methods used to introduce ethical questions, role of the architect, owner, consultant and subcontractors.
Work leads to studio project or case study. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6371 - Maintaining Quality and Managing Risks: Design Build

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 6371
A lecture and seminar on approaches to risk management including contracts, insurance, financial analysis, dispute resolution and client relationships. Utilizing case study approach, quality assurance will be defined and studied in the design and building phase of workings. Prereq: ARCH 6370. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6372 - Architecture in a Single Source Project Delivery

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 6372
Directed to the practice of architecture with design build and other single source delivery systems. This course examines requirements of codes, zoning, building systems and legal questions for the architect. Prereq: ARCH 6370. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6373 - Construction in Design Build

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 6373
Using a single project, students fully explore the design phase, estimating, scheduling and project management skills in traditional construction. Course is concurrent with an advanced studio and builds a project on a site. Prereq: ARCH 6370. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6170 - Advanced Design Studio

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 6170
Students enter the advanced design studio after successfully completing the four core design studios and comprehensive studio (ARCH 6150). Students must take two advanced studios (unless they wish to undertake a thesis; see ARCH 6950). Topics vary according to faculty interests. Prereq: ARCH 6150 and ARCH 6151. Coreq: ARCH 6171. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration. taken with

ARCH 6171 - Advanced Design Seminar

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 6171
Supports fuller discussion of key themes and concepts in ARCH 6170. Students must take two advanced design seminars (unless they wish to undertake a thesis; see ARCH 6950). Prereq: ARCH 6150, ARCH 6151. Coreq: ARCH 6170. Semester Hours: 2 to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Total: 18 Hours

Designing E-learning Environments Graduate Certificate

The DeE certificate is an 15-semester-hour program offered entirely online that focuses specifically on the skills needed to design and facilitate online learning opportunities for learners in K–12, higher education and corporate settings. This program is perfect for educators who are not interested in a graduate degree. More information is available at www.ucdenver.edu/academics/colleges/SchoolOfEducation/Academics/MASTERS/ILT/Pages/eLearning.aspx.

Sample plan for eLearning Certificate

Year 1
Fall: INTE 5660 - Designing and Teaching in eLearning Environments
Spring: INTE 5670 - Developing eLearning Instruction
Summer: INTE 5680 - Integrating Media in eLearning Environments

Comprehensive Examination for All ILT Students

The comprehensive exam consists of a professional portfolio where in students demonstrate program competencies through work products and related accomplishments. The portfolio is created throughout the student’s program and submitted for faculty review the final semester.

For more information or for complete details about ILT programs, see the ILT Web site.

Digital Storytelling Graduate Certificate

A 9-semester-hour certificate in digital storytelling includes face-to-face workshops as well as a 4-semester-hour online course. Participants develop digital stories using nonlinear video editing programs and other presentation tools. They learn to integrate digital storytelling methods into existing courses and curricula for all ages.

Domestic Violence Graduate Certificate

Certificate Requirements

Students take the four specified courses below and one elective.

PUAD 5910 - Women and Violence: A Sociological Perspective

Summer 2010 Registration P AD 5910

This course is a sociological, feminist analysis of violence against women and girls that addresses the intersection of sexism and other forms of oppression such as racism, classism and heterosexism within historical, cultural, social and institutional contexts. Topics covered focus on overt and covert forms of sexual coercion, harassment and assault, battering and stalking. Cross-listed with PUAD 7910, CRJU 5910 and 7910. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PUAD 5920 - Psychology of Violence Against Women

Summer 2010 Registration P AD 5920

This class addresses the contributions and the limitations of current empirical and clinical psychological literatures about domestic violence. Topics covered include: distinguishing among mental health professionals regarding work with DV clients; the psychological impacts of domestic violence; services useful for responding to the needs of women and children; and an introduction to the psychology and treatment of batterers. Cross-listed with PUAD 7920, CRJU 5920 and 7920. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PUAD 5930 - Battered Women and the Legal System

Summer 2010 Registration P AD 5930

This course provides a practical understanding of how the following relate to battered women and their children: (a) major developments in federal, state, tribal, administrative, statutory and case law; (b) the role and responses of law enforcement, judges, attorneys, victim assistance providers and other legal system agents; and (c) the role and process of victim advocacy. Cross-listed with PUAD 5930, CRJU 5930 and
7930. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PUAD 5940 - Domestic Violence Social Change and Advocacy

Summer 2010 Registration P AD 5940
This course provides students information on the theories and strategies behind contemporary social change movements and the skills necessary to organize and implement actions to influence public awareness and policy. The values of American society are complex and require advocates/activists to develop a heightened sense of self, community and an ethical framework while confronting sexism, racism and other forms of oppression. Cross-listed with PUAD 7940, CRJU 5940 and 7940. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Faculty

Information about faculty in this program is available online at www.ucdenver.edu/education/literacy.

The faculty of literacy, language and culturally responsive teaching (L2CRT) believe that effective teaching requires an awareness of and the ability to respond to individual differences. L2CRT faculty also emphasize the importance of teachers as scholars and reflective practitioners. In particular, teachers must understand how linguistic and cultural diversity affect their teaching. Two themes run throughout all program offerings. The first concerns the importance of recognizing a variety of literacies—“home” literacies, school literacy, “mainstream” literacy, first and second language literacies—and to develop teaching practices that utilize an understanding of the complexity of literacy development across language contexts. The second theme involves the meaningful use of language and literacy to improve the quality of one’s life. As an approach to teaching, this theme emphasizes the creation of diverse, rich environments in which learners experience oral and written language as part of authentic tasks, and where concern for the cultural and linguistic heritage of the students is evident.

Reading and Writing Option and Reading Teacher Endorsement

This master's program is designed for K-6 and 7-12 teachers. Those interested in elementary reading and writing should communicate with Professors Espinoza, Nathenson-Mejia or Taylor. Those interested in secondary and adult reading and writing should communicate with Professor Shanklin (see Web site for faculty contact information).

Reading is a credentialed program meeting the Colorado Department of Education requirements for reading teacher endorsement. Therefore, students who obtain a master's degree emphasizing reading education from UC Denver are certified to hold positions in public and private schools as special developmental and remedial reading teachers in K-6 or 7-12. This program is also valuable for elementary and secondary teachers who wish to enhance reading and writing instruction in their classrooms.

By placing emphasis on the reading, writing and oral and visual language development of culturally, linguistically and academically diverse student populations, this master’s program is at the forefront of the field. Language is approached from a socio-psycholinguistic perspective that emphasizes the learner’s construction of meaning rather than the learning of isolated skills. Importance is placed on using theory, inquiry and personal reflection to inform classroom practice. The program prepares teachers to become decision makers capable of developing learner-centered curricula where each student’s reading and writing abilities are assessed to address developmental or special needs.

Curriculum

Course offerings lead to an MA degree in curriculum and instruction with an emphasis in reading and writing, as well as a reading teacher endorsement, at one of two levels: K–6 or 7–12.

Those who have completed UC Denver’s graduate teacher education licensure program must earn an additional 27 semester hours to obtain the MA and endorsement. Those who completed licensure through other means must earn an additional 36 semester hours to obtain the MA and endorsement.

Teachers may add a reading teacher endorsement to an already-earned master’s degree in education by taking those courses listed under the chosen endorsement level. (In the state of Colorado, the reading teacher endorsement cannot simply be added to a bachelor’s degree.) Electives and core courses are not required. Two additional courses must be taken in other areas specified by the Colorado Department of Education. In many cases, previous master’s degree courses will satisfy this requirement.

advisor approval
Secondary English Education Option

The master’s program in secondary English education is designed to enhance the preparation of middle and high school English/language arts teachers. Students complete course work in language development, assessment and field experiences. With the help of their advisor, they also select specific courses from the English Department or within the School of Education and Human Development that provide a well-rounded repertoire of knowledge and skills to fulfill the needs of an English educator. Special consideration is given to working with diverse ethnic populations. Students interested in English education should see Professor Shanklin (see Web site for faculty contact information).
Program Requirements

To earn a master of arts degree in curriculum and instruction with an emphasis in secondary English education, students must complete the following:

- 30 graduate semester hours in English education
- 6 graduate semester hours of core courses
- performance-based assessments that culminate in a portfolio finalized in the last semester of the program as fulfillment of the MA comprehensive exam requirement

Each student’s course plan is developed in conjunction with his/her advisor. Please review www.ucdenver.edu/education/englished for recommended course sequence.

Interdisciplinary core course (see list below).

Four electives, per advisor approval, from the English department and/or the School of Education & Human Development. The following are recommended:

- LALC 5720 - Writing: Process, Development, and Teaching Grades 3-12 Semester Hours: 3
  -OR-
  ENGL 5110 - Denver Writing Project Semester Hours: 3

Courses in working with English language learners and in instructional technology may also be helpful. For a technology course, please contact the professor about prerequisite knowledge.

Total: 36 semester hours

Program Requirements--When Added to UC Denver's Graduate Teacher Education Licensure Program
MA in curriculum and instruction with emphasis in secondary content leadership (English), when added to UC Denver’s graduate teacher education licensure program:

- 18 graduate semester hours
- performance-based assessments that culminate in a portfolio finalized in the last semester of the program as fulfillment of the MA comprehensive exam requirement

Each student’s course plan is developed in conjunction with his/her advisor. Please review www.ucdenver.edu/education/englished for recommended course sequence.

Cumulative Portfolio

The MA portfolio counts as the comprehensive exam for the master’s degree. The portfolio is an accumulation of the performance based assessments completed during program courses and reflects on the student's development over the course of the degree program. Reading and writing students must include confirmation of Reading Teacher PLACE exam registration in their portfolios. Information about the PLACE is online at www.place.nesinc.com.

Course Scheduling

During the fall and spring semesters, most university courses are offered in the late afternoon and evening and meet for three hours once a week over a 16-week semester. Some alternative course schedules are available, such as meeting on five Friday-evening/all-day Saturday combinations. In the summer semester, three- to eight-week sessions are offered, and courses may be in the morning, afternoon or evening. A current schedule of courses is available online at http://courses.cudenver.edu.

Planning

For practicing full-time teachers, we recommend taking one course each fall and spring semester, and up to two courses each summer. Plan carefully because courses are intended to build upon each other, and some courses are only offered once a year.

Active Status in the Graduate School

Students must complete their programs within seven years, maintaining a GPA of 3.0. Students typically take four courses each calendar year. Failure to enroll over three contiguous semesters will result in a requirement to resubmit part I of the application for admission and a letter of intent.

Early and Adolescent Literacy Certificates

The early literacy certificate and adolescent literacy certificate each include three graduate-level courses (for a total of 9 semester hours) and are conveniently offered entirely online. They are specifically designed to help licensed teachers develop the skills necessary to reach student readers. To find out more, please visit www.ucdenver.edu/education or email cpe@ucdenver.edu.

To learn about how these certificate credits may apply toward one of the above programs in reading and writing, contact education@ucdenver.edu.

Emergency Management and Homeland Security Graduate Certificate

Certificate Requirements

Students take two required courses as well as three elective courses approved by their advisor. The emergency management and homeland security concentration/certificate allows students to choose electives organized in the following tracks: policy and management, spatial analysis and quantitative assessment, public safety, homeland security and justice or public and environmental health. Students may choose courses in one track to create a more focused concentration or pick from among the tracks to fulfill their elective course requirements.

GEOG 5230 - Hazard Mitigation and Vulnerability Assessment

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 5230

Examines hazard mitigation and its planning and policy implications, emphasizing how vulnerability assessments play an integral role. Students explore how mitigation minimizes the impacts from hazards and use GIS to conduct a local study. Prereq: GEOG 2202 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOG 4230. Semester Hours: 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PUAD 5650 - Disaster and Emergency Management Policies
Summer 2010 Registration P AD 5650

Examines policies for the management of hazards, emergencies and disasters. Focuses on a series of case studies concerning major disasters and on management principles drawn from those cases. Examines the role of institutional processes, government organizations and nongovernmental organizations in emergency management. Cross-listed with PUAD 7650. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Electives approved by advisor (3) (6-9 semester hours)

Total: 15 Hours

The emergency management and homeland security certificate requires the completion of three electives chosen from a preapproved, multidisciplinary list of courses relevant to emergency management. Students may choose electives in one of three tracks: policy and management; spatial analysis, planning and quantitative assessment; or public safety, homeland security and justice.

Environmental Policy, Management and Law Graduate Certificate

Certificate Requirements

Students take at least two of the three courses listed below:

PUAD 5631 - Seminar in Environmental Politics and Policy

Sumer 2010 Registration P AD 5631

Examines the fundamental principles of politics and policy that shape strategies of environmental protection. Focuses on the role of institutional processes, government organizations and nongovernmental organizations in environmental politics and policy. Cross-listed with PUAD 7631. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PUAD 5632 - Seminar in Environmental Management

Summer 2010 Registration P AD 5632

Examines the practical challenges facing environmental managers today, using a series of case studies. Focuses on the role of institutional processes, government organizations and nongovernmental organizations in the practice of environmental management. Cross-listed with PUAD 7632. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PUAD 5633 - Seminar in Natural Resource and Environmental Health Law

Summer 2010 Registration P AD 5633 Administrative law aspects of environmental policy implementation and enforcement, the role of courts in both stimulating and limiting statutory reform, and regulatory innovation. Focus on the legal aspects of both natural resource allocation and management, and environmental protection. Alternatives to traditional processes for environmental dispute resolution. Cross-listed with PUAD 7633. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Total: 15 Hours

Environmental Sciences Graduate Certificate

The graduate-level certificate in environmental sciences has seven options: air quality, ecosystems, environmental health, environmental science education, geospatial analysis, hazardous waste and water quality. Each option comprises four courses and is designed to approach an environmental issue from various disciplines. To earn a certificate, students are required to satisfactorily complete the courses in the option of their interest. These courses may be taken as electives within an MS degree program or through nondegree admission. Students must have the prerequisites for each course and must meet the requirements listed. Contact the option advisor for the particular option of interest before starting. A certificate will be issued upon proof of satisfactory completion of the courses. For an MS degree, students must coordinate the option courses with electives in their program. The listings of courses in each option are in the electives section of the master’s program information.

Geographic Information Systems Graduate Certificate

This certificate is for students who want to get a taste of the geographic information systems (GIS) specialty area before applying for a graduate degree and for professionals who need a working knowledge of GIS. To earn the certificate in GIS, students must complete four of the core GIS classes, equaling 12 semester hours of work. Students can complete this certificate as a master’s student or as a nondegree student. Students must already have a baccalaureate degree and must complete any course-specific prerequisites.

Geospatial Information Science Graduate Certificate

Contact: Brian Muller
Telephone: 303-556-5967
E-mail: brian.muller@ucdenver.edu

The College of Architecture and Planning offers a certificate in geospatial information science through participating departments. The emphasis of this certificate is on applications of GIS in urban and environmental planning and design fields. The certificate is available to any student earning one of our graduate degrees; to students earning cognate degrees, for example in the School of Public Affairs, College of Engineering and Applied Science or from the Department of Geography; and to nondegree students who have already earned such a degree.

Certificate Requirements

1. A minimum of 18 semester hours (with at least 12 related planning and design hours to be earned in residence at UC Denver or University of Colorado at Boulder);

2. A minimum B (3.0) average and a minimum grade of B- (2.7) in any course, as outlined in the certificate curriculum:

   - One required introductory class: Introduction to GIS (both theory and methods) (3 semester hours)

   - At least three additional courses in GIS or remote sensing methods to be approved in advance by the GIS committee (9 semester hours). Such courses may include:
     - Cartography (Boulder and Denver, geography)
     - GIS Analysis (Denver, civil engineering)
     - GIS II (Boulder, geography)
     - Advanced GIS Workshops (Boulder and Denver, multiple departments)
GIS Management (Denver, civil engineering)
Quantitative Methods in Geography (Boulder, geography)
Remote Sensing (Boulder and Denver, multiple departments)

- Applications Option 1: Studio or thesis project involving application of planning and design GIS-based methods to be approved by the faculty GIS committee (6 semester hours)

- Applications Option 2: Internship or other work experience is strongly encouraged for all students and may at the discretion of the committee be substituted for other courses (6 semester hours)

It is not possible or desirable to specify every course that should count toward a certificate. CAP and other participating programs will continue to generate new GIS-related courses as the curriculum evolves, and CAP delivers much of its instruction through studio courses that vary in content each semester. A certificate program must include an ongoing structure for managing course requirements and determining when individual students have met them.

Historic Preservation Graduate Certificate

Contact: Christopher Koziol
Telephone: 303-556-6516
E-mail: christopher.koziol@ucdenver.edu

The College of Architecture and Planning together with the Department of History in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences offers a graduate certificate in historic preservation. The goal is to instill a culture of interdisciplinary collaboration through course work (and beyond the classroom), through engagement with the community. This certificate builds upon the extraordinary preservation community and opportunities in Colorado. It requires a total of 18 semester hours.

Certificate Requirements

The historic preservation certificate can be earned as part of any of the following degrees:

- Master in History (Public History)
- Master of Architecture
- Master of Landscape Architecture
- Master of Urban Design
- Master of Urban and Regional Planning
- PhD in Design and Planning

The certificate requires a total of 18 semester hours, including:

- Two required core courses (3 semester hours each) on preservation theory and practice from the architect's and planner's perspective of intervening through design and regulation and from the historian's perspective of how the past might guide the future:
  - HIST 5232 - Historic Preservation
  - URPL 6634 - Preservation Theory and Practice

- At least three credits in history of architecture, landscape architecture or historic places. Among recent and current offerings:
  - ARCH 5220, 5230: History of Architecture I, II
  - LDAR 5521: History of Landscape Architecture
  - HIST 5229: Colorado Historic Places

- At least three credits in preservation methods, including preservation technology, documentation of sites and structures, visual research methods, and other subjects. Among recent and current offerings:
  - HIST 5240: National Parks History
  - ARCH 6490: Historic Ranch Documentation & Preservation
  - ARCH 6290: Chautauqua Historic Preservation
  - DSPL 7686: International Preservation Practice
  - ARCH 6490: Vernacular Stuff
  - ARCH 6520: Documentation (summer program in Rome)
  - ARCH 6520: Historic Materials (summer program in Rome)
A thesis or preservation studio (6 semester hours) is required. Preservation studio rotates among architecture, landscape architecture and planning and Urban Design.

Students are encouraged to take an internship in preservation. New offerings and special topics courses are added each semester. Students may work with an advisor in their specialized field to develop a program appropriate to individual interests (which must be approved by the Faculty Preservation Committee).

Required Core Courses

Total: 15 Hours

Public Relations Graduate Certificate

Public Relations has been defined as the management function that entails planning, research, publicity, promotion and collaborative decision-making to help any organization’s ability to listen to, appreciate and respond appropriately to those persons and groups whose mutually beneficial relationships the organization needs to foster as it strives to achieve its mission and vision. The graduate certificate in public relations is designed to provide students with the principles and theories that guide the work of public relations practitioners in commercial, public and non-profit contexts.

The graduate certificate in public relations is designed for working professionals who already have earned bachelor’s degrees but who would like to enhance or upgrade their skills in the area of public relations. Non-degree students who enroll in the MA program following completion of the certificate may transfer up to 12 hours of credits earned for the certificate into credits for the MA degree. The certificate also is designed for students enrolled in a UCD master's program, including the Department of Communication's MA program. For such students, the certificate can be completed as part of or in addition to the course work required for the master’s degree (recipients of the undergraduate certificate in public relations are ineligible to complete this certificate).

Certificate Requirements

The graduate certificate in public relations requires four courses (12 semester hours):

Summer 2010 Registration CMMU 5240

Relationships among such communication factors as flow, media, channel, diversity, information delivery and organization functioning, morale, and productivity. Prereq: Undergraduates with senior standing may enroll with permission of instructor. Cross-listed with COMM 4240. Semester Hours: 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Summer 2010 Registration CMMU 5635

Introduces theory and practice in the field of public relations, including topics such as effects upon society, public opinion, target audiences, adaptation to the media, uses, laws and ethics. Prereq: Undergraduates with senior standing may enroll with permission of instructor. Cross-listed with COMM 4635. Semester Hours: 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Summer 2010 Registration CMMU 5640

Examines key public relations practices in private, not-for-profit and public sectors. Strategic planning processes, research methods, evaluation, reports, and collateral development are addressed, with an emphasis on the intersection of theory and practice. Prereq: COMM 4635 or COMM 5635. Undergraduates with senior standing may enroll with permission of instructor. Cross-listed with COMM 4640. Semester Hours: 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

COMM 5665 - Principles of Advertising

Summer 2010 Registration CMMU 5665

Provides a fundamental understanding and appreciation of advertising in today's global society, including consumer motivation, buying behavior, research, creative development and media planning. Prereq: Undergraduates with senior standing may enroll with permission of instructor. Cross-listed with COMM 4665. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Total: 12 Hours

Students may be permitted to take courses other than those listed above to fulfill the requirements for the certificate if those courses fit their professional goals better (CMMU 5635, Principles of Public Relations may not be substituted, however). Requests for approval of substitute courses, including an explanation for the substitution, must be made in writing to Hamilton Bean.

Grade and Residency Requirements

A grade of B must be earned in each course completed as part of the certificate. All of the credit hours for the certificate must be earned at the University of Colorado Denver.

Application Procedures and Additional Information

Students should apply for the graduate certificate in public relations after the completion of the required courses. To apply, students must complete the certificate application and return it to Hamilton Bean in his mailbox in room 102-A of the Plaza Building or mail to Department of Communication; P. O. Box 173364, Campus Box 176; University of Colorado Denver; Denver, CO 80217-3364. The approved certificate is mailed to the student.

Students who are not already enrolled at UCD must also complete an Application for Non-Degree Admission prior to registering for courses. The form should be returned to the Office of Admissions in the annex of the CU Building.

Additional information about the graduate certificate in public relations may be obtained from Hamilton Bean, Department of Communication, Plaza 102-V, 303-352-3876, Hamilton.Bean@ucdenver.edu.

Sustainable Urban Infrastructure Graduate Certificate

This certificate is for students and working professionals who seek an interdisciplinary curriculum in the broad field of sustainable infrastructure to address complex water, energy, built environment and transportation challenges using engineering and social science strategies. Students must already have a baccalaureate degree.
Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) Graduate Certificate

Linguistically Diverse Education

Requirements for LDE Program

(Degree/Endorsement or Certificates - TESOL, CIEL, CRUE)

Office: Lawrence Street Center, 701

Fax: 303-315-6311

Faculty

Information about faculty in this program is available at www.ucdenver.edu/education/lde. The faculty of linguistically diverse education (LDE) believe that effective teaching requires an awareness of and the ability to respond to individual differences. LDE faculty also emphasize the importance of teachers as scholars and reflective practitioners. In particular, teachers must understand how linguistic and cultural diversity affect their teaching. Two themes run throughout all program offerings. The first concerns the importance of recognizing a variety of literacies—“home” literacies, school literacy, “mainstream” literacy, first and second language literacies—and to develop teaching practices that utilize an understanding of the complexity of literacy development across language contexts. The second theme involves the meaningful use of language and literacy to improve the quality of one’s life. As an approach to teaching, this theme emphasizes the creation of diverse, rich environments in which learners experience oral and written language as part of authentic tasks, and where concern for the cultural and linguistic heritage of the students is evident.

Program Options
The LDE program offers options leading to the following:

- a Master of Arts in Curriculum and Instruction
- the Colorado Endorsement for Linguistically Diverse Education
- a Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) certificate
- a Content Instruction for English Learners (CIEL) certificate
- a Culturally Responsive Urban Education (CRUE) certificate

The program is intended for:

- novice teachers who have completed their Colorado teaching credentials in UC Denver’s graduate teacher education licensure program and are enrolled in the MA in curriculum and instruction with an emphasis in LDE (see 27 semester-hour option)
- veteran elementary and secondary teachers returning to graduate studies for the master’s degree (36 semester hours)
- veteran elementary and secondary teachers returning to acquire Colorado endorsement credentials (24 semester hours)
- individuals interested in teaching English abroad (TESOL: 15 semester hours)
- veteran elementary and secondary teachers returning to graduate studies for a certificate to aid them in helping their English language learners succeed (CIEL: 9 semester hours)
- elementary and secondary teachers who desire preparation in better meeting the needs of culturally diverse learners (CRUE: 9 semester hours)
- individuals interested in teaching adults (MA: 36 semester hours)

The MA is a field-based professional development program involving university faculty and practicing LDE instructors in public school and intensive English settings. Courses, laboratories and practica emphasize scholarly approaches to complex problems of practice and feature interactive, collaborative and practical approaches to working with English language learners.

We advocate a sociocultural approach to issues of language and learning, acknowledging the legitimacy of linguistic and cultural differences and recognizing that academic settings represent important socializing forces in students’ lives. Because of this, we emphasize the “whole learner” in our teaching and in teacher education and teacher development, understanding that individuals do not merely add a language to their repertoire of communication but make fundamental identity adjustments as they progress in their studies. For this reason, all our course work, laboratories and practica experiences are field-based, putting our program participants in contact with veteran teachers and English language learners. We draw heavily on recent scholarship in collaborative approaches to school-university partnerships and systemic school change in developing classroom methods and materials, curricula and teacher development experiences.

The MA program also provides a foundation in teaching English in a variety of contexts in the United States and abroad. Teachers who work in LDE programs or in other content areas (such as art, language arts, math, music, science, social studies or technology), but who wish to integrate LDE principles and strategies into their instruction for their English language learners, will find the MA program relevant to their interests and goals.

Course work includes language teaching methodology, language acquisition, linguistic analysis of English, multicultural foundations, assessment, literacy and other areas. This program has been developed as an advanced course of study for practicing teachers or individuals with some teaching experience.

Applicants who are new to teaching, and who wish to teach in U.S. K–12 public school settings, should inquire about the teacher education licensure program. Applicants who are new to teaching, but who do not need a teaching license (certification) because they do not wish to teach in U.S. public schools, may consider the TESOL certificate to gain initial teaching experiences before applying for the MA.

Program Requirements and Courses

To complete the LDE program and earn a master’s degree and/or endorsement, or to earn a TESOL certificate, students must complete the appropriate course work as outlined in the table below.

LALC 5180 - Working with Communities and Families Semester Hours: 3

LALC 5190 - Culturally Responsive Pedagogy and Practices Semester Hours: 3

Total: 9 Hours

Additional information about the CRUE certificate can be found at www.cruecenter.org/certificate.php.

Cumulative Portfolio of Performance Based Assessments (PBAS)

The portfolio is required for the CDE endorsement, counts as the comprehensive exam for the master’s degree and permits you to document your development over the course of your program. Portfolios are reviewed by LDE faculty members. At least two faculty members must agree that the portfolio is acceptable in order to pass. The portfolio process is reviewed in every class as each of the PBAs is completed in the classes, helping students to update their portfolios throughout the program. For more portfolio guidelines, visit the Web site at www.ucdenver.edu/education/lde.

PLACE Exam for Linguistically Diverse Education Endorsement

To add the endorsement to their teaching license, students must pass the PLACE (Program for Licensing Assessments for Colorado Educators) exam for linguistically diverse education, secure and submit the appropriate paperwork from the Colorado Department of Education, and pay fees required for the PLACE and for the endorsement paperwork. Information about PLACE is online at www.place.nesinc.com.

Course Scheduling

During the fall and spring semesters, most university courses are offered in the late afternoon and evening and meet for three hours once a week over a 16-week semester. Some alternative course schedules are available, such as meeting on five Friday-evening/all-day Saturday combinations. In the summer semester, three-to eight-week sessions are offered, and courses may be in the morning, afternoon or evening.

Planning

For practicing full-time teachers, we recommend taking one course each fall and spring semester and up to two courses each summer. Students may simultaneously complete requirements for the MA and the endorsement for linguistically diverse education. Support for course planning is available in LDE advising sessions—usually held once in fall and once in spring. These sessions help students build their programs around course sequences and availability (some courses are offered only once per year).

Active Status in the Graduate School

Students must complete their programs within seven years, maintaining a GPA of 3.0. Students typically take four courses each calendar year. Failure to enroll over three contiguous semesters will result in a requirement to resubmit part I of the application for admission and a letter of intent.

Teaching of English to Speakers of Other Languages (CTESOL)
Program Description

To meet the increasing needs of individuals seeking advanced training in teaching English as a second language, the English department at UC Denver offers a graduate certificate in the teaching of English to speakers of other languages (CTESOL).

The certificate program is designed to build the necessary skills to teach English as a second language through focused preparation. It is primarily aimed at native speakers of English who want to teach overseas, but may serve the needs of international students wanting to teach English in their home country or other countries.

Upon successful completion of the program, CTESOL participants will be able to:

- Discuss the theoretical basis of second language instruction
- Demonstrate a variety of effective ESL teaching techniques
- Explain, in pedagogically relevant ways, the linguistic structures of the English language

Curriculum

The curriculum consists of 12 semester hours (9 semester hours of required courses, and three semester hours of electives). The required courses must be taken at UC Denver. A GPA of 3.0 or better is required for all graduate courses.

Required Courses

ENGL 5171 - Language Theory

Summer 2010 Registration ENGL 5171
Introduces linguistic theory to the beginning graduate student. Builds upon the material included in the undergraduate class, by adding materials pertaining to the teaching of writing and graduate language studies. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ENGL 5601 - Principles and Practices of Second Language Acquisition

Summer 2010 Registration ENGL 5601
Overview of basic principles and practices in the learning and teaching of English as a second language. Cross-listed with ENGL 4601. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ENGL 5651 - Second Language Writing
Summer 2010 Registration ENGL 5651
Topics include the similarities between first and second language writing, the processes of composition and revision, teacher response to student writing, student processing of feedback, writing assessment, and the reading or writing connection. Cross-listed with ENGL 4651. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Total: 9 Hours

Elective Courses

ENGL 5093 - Teaching of Writing

Summer 2010 Registration ENGL 5093
Deals with the analysis of rhetorical theory with an emphasis on practical applications in the classroom, with attention to alternative pedagogies in teaching. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
or an alternative elective approved by the program advisor

Total: 3 Hours

Total: 12 Hours

Additional Information

LENGTH OF TIME
The course of study will typically last one academic year, including the summer session.

WHEN YOU MAY BEGIN
You may begin in any semester. There is no fixed deadline for application for admission.

PREREQUISITES
All applicants must have a bachelor’s degree or the equivalent to be accepted to the program. Graduate students at UC Denver will also be permitted to apply for the certificate while they are concurrently completing another graduate degree. Permission may not be granted to graduate students in applied linguistics.

Non-native speakers of English are required to submit an official TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language) report showing a score of at least 580. Those who score below 580 but above 525 on the TOEFL may be admitted conditionally to the program. Under these conditions, students will have their English language skills assessed by the faculty of the program immediately after they arrive on campus to determine whether further courses are needed to develop English language proficiency. After assessment, the students may be assigned to full-time language study in an intensive English program, permitted to take graduate-level classes on a conditional basis along with further designated language study or permitted to begin graduate study without further restrictions.

The Reserve Officers’ Training Corps (Air Force, Army and Navy) programs offer students the opportunity to receive a commission as an officer in the United States Air Force, United States Army, United States Navy and United States Marine Corps. This program is in conjunction with a students’ major course of study and is similar to an academic minor. Both the Army ROTC and the Air Force ROTC programs offer two-year and four-year programs with options for undergraduate and graduate students, active duty and reserve. The Naval ROTC program offers the same with the exception that there is no support available for graduate students. All offer competitive scholarships and a varying degree of course credit. For more information, contact the ROTC offices on the Boulder or Downtown Campus.

Aerospace Studies

U.S. Air Force ROTC offers several programs leading to a commission in the U.S. Air Force upon receipt of at least a baccalaureate degree.

Standard Four-Year Program

This standard program is designed for incoming freshmen, or any student with four years remaining until degree completion. It consists of three parts: the general military course for lower-division students (normally freshmen and sophomores); the professional officer course for upper-division students (normally juniors and seniors); and leadership laboratory (attended by all cadets). Completion of a four-week summer training course is required prior to commissioning.

Modified Two-Year Program

All undergraduate and graduate students are eligible for these programs. They are offered to full-time, regularly enrolled degree students and require at least two years of full-time college (undergraduate or graduate level, or a combination). Those selected for this program must complete a six-week field training program during the summer months as a prerequisite for entry into the professional officer course the following fall semester.

Leadership Laboratory

All AFROTC cadets must attend leadership laboratory (two hours per week). The laboratory involves a study of Air Force customs and courtesies, drill and ceremonies, career opportunities and the life and work of an Air Force junior officer.

Other AFROTC Programs
Other programs are frequently available based on current Air Force needs. Any AFROTC staff member in Boulder (303-492-8351) can discuss best alternatives. Interested students should make initial contact as early as possible, as selection is on a competitive basis. There is no obligation until a formal contract is entered.

Air Force College Scholarship Program

A scholarship board is held at the end of each semester for students who have at least one semester of full-time college credit and a 2.5 GPA. Students selected for this program are placed on scholarships that pay tuition, book allowance, nonrefundable educational fees, and subsistence of $300–$500 per month, tax-free. These scholarships are available in all academic disciplines and are two to three years in length. All cadets enrolled in the professional officer course receive $450–$500 per month subsistence during the regular academic year.

Flight Opportunities

Prior to entering the fourth year of the AFROTC program, qualified AFROTC students can compete for pilot and navigator allocations. Cadets receiving a pilot or navigator allocation will begin flight training after completion of their degree and commissioning as a second lieutenant. All cadets are eligible to fly with the Civil Air Patrol while enrolled in AFROTC.

USAF Nursing Programs

Qualified nursing students can compete for nursing scholarships. This scholarship can lead to a rewarding career as an Air Force officer, serving as a doctor or nurse. The prehealth scholarship pays for an undergraduate degree and medical school.

AFROTC Course Credit

AFROTC credit for graduation varies with each college. Students should contact the appropriate college for determination of credit.

Registration

The AFROTC program is offered through the University of Colorado-Boulder. Students at the UC Denver Downtown Campus may register for AFROTC classes through the concurrent registration process. Contact your dean’s office for the appropriate forms. AFROTC classes begin with the AIRR prefix.
The Reserve Officers’ Training Corps (Air Force, Army and Navy) programs offer students the opportunity to receive a commission as an officer in the United States Air Force, United States Army, United States Navy and United States Marine Corps. This program is in conjunction with a students’ major course of study and is similar to an academic minor. The Naval ROTC program offers the same with the exception that there is no support available for graduate students. All offer competitive scholarships and a varying degree of course credit. For more information, contact the ROTC offices on the Boulder or Downtown Campus.

Military Science

Army ROTC is an elective program that can lead to a commission as an officer in the active Army, the Army Reserve or the Army National Guard. All Army ROTC classes are offered at UC Denver for freshmen, sophomores and juniors, at the University of Colorado at Boulder (UCB) and at Colorado School of Mines (CSM). Students interested in Army ROTC classes should contact the Department of Military Science at UC Denver. The Department of Military Science offers two programs for students.

Standard Four-Year Program

The four-year program consists of two phases: the basic course (freshman and sophomore years) and the advanced course (junior and senior years).

Basic

The basic course offers a 2- or 3-semester-hour class each semester covering Army history and organization as well as military leadership and management. Laboratory sessions provide the opportunity to apply leadership skills while learning basic military skills. Enrollment in the basic course incurs no military obligation except for Army scholarship recipients.

Advanced

The advanced course covers leadership, tactics and unit operations, training techniques, military law and professional ethics, and includes a leadership practicum each semester. A 35-day summer advanced camp at Fort Lewis, Washington, provides challenging leadership training and is a prerequisite for commissioning. The advanced course students must have completed the basic course and obtain permission from the professor of military science.

Two-Year Program

The two-year program for academic juniors and graduate students consists of the advanced course, preceded by a four-week summer ROTC basic course at Fort Knox, Kentucky. Veterans or students who have participated in three years of Junior ROTC or Civil Air Patrol may be eligible to enroll in the advanced course without attendance at basic camp or completion of the basic course. Inquiries on advanced placement should be directed to the Department of Military Science. The advanced course students must obtain permission from the professor of military science.

Scholarship Programs

Four-year college scholarships are available to high school seniors, who should apply before December 1 of their senior year. Competition for two- and three-year scholarships is open to all University of Colorado students whether or not they are currently enrolled in ROTC. Scholarship students receive full tuition and laboratory fees, a $1,200 per-year book allowance and an allowance of $350-$500 per month during the academic year. Students interested in the scholarship program should contact the enrollment officer no later than the beginning of the spring semester to apply for the following academic year. Contact the enrollment and scholarship officer at 303-492-3549 or armyrotc@colorado.edu.

Activities and Leadership Laboratories

Students may participate in activities with the Buffalo Battalion’s Charlie Company located on the Auraria Campus, to include color guard, intramural sports, running club and ranger challenge. Weekly or Saturday leadership labs provide cadets with practical leadership experience and performance-oriented, hands-on instruction outside the classroom. Leadership labs are compulsory for enrolled cadets. PT is conducted three times a week with the purpose of developing muscular strength, endurance and cardio-respiratory endurance.

Army Nursing Program

Qualified nursing students can compete for nursing scholarships. This scholarship can lead to a rewarding career as an Army Nurse Corps officer. Contact the Army ROTC enrollment officer at 303-492-3549 for information and benefits.

Registration

Students who wish to register for Army ROTC classes sign up for them through the normal course registration process. AROTC classes begin with the MILR prefix. For more information about Army ROTC, contact the Department of Military Science office, which is conveniently located in the CCD Administration Building at South Classroom Building, Room 213 A/B, Auraria Campus, 303-352-7079.

The Reserve Officers’ Training Corps (Air Force, Army, and Navy) programs... as an officer in the United States Air Force, United States Army, United States Navy and United States Marine Corps. Both the Army ROTC and the Air Force ROTC programs offer two-year and four-year programs with options for undergraduate and graduate students, active duty, and reserve. The Naval ROTC program offers the same, with the exception that there is no support available for graduate students. All offer competitive scholarships and a varying degree of course credit. For more information, contact the ROTC offices on the Boulder or Downtown campus.

Naval Studies

U.S. Naval ROTC provides several programs all leading to a commission in the U.S. Navy or U.S. Marine Corps upon receipt of a baccalaureate degree.

Standard Four-Year Program

Incoming freshmen can receive full tuition funding (8 semesters) for their undergraduate education. This is the “normal” pathway by which students enter the program. Applications need to be completed online via the national NROTC Web site (www.nrotc.navy.mil) well before the student matriculates, typically the January prior to fall admission. Students are highly encouraged to apply early. Scholarships are awarded based on high school GPA, ACT/SAT scores and extracurricular activity levels. Students interested in engineering or nursing degrees may be eligible for up to nine semesters of funding. If interested in nursing, please contact the recruiting officer for more detail.

Two-Year Program

Students can apply for a four-semester scholarship in the spring semester of their sophomore year. Scholarships are awarded based on college GPA, personal interview and recommendation by the NROTC unit. Please contact the recruiting officer for more information.

College Program

The main prerequisite for joining the NROTC unit is that the student is currently admitted to UC Denver. Anyone in this status has a very good chance of being allowed to participate with the NROTC unit in a nonscholarship (a.k.a. college program) status, and to eventually commission as an officer in the U.S. Navy or Marine Corps. After participating in the NROTC unit in a nonscholarship status for at least one semester, the NROTC unit may recommend that students be considered for a full-tuition scholarship. A scholarship board is held at the end of each semester for these students. Chances for being awarded a full-tuition scholarship for as many as seven semesters are very good if the student has a cumulative college GPA of 3.0 or higher. High school GPA and ACT/SAT scores are not considered in the scholarship selection process. This is a great opportunity for students who either missed the deadline for applying to NROTC, who are already in college or who perhaps didn’t perform well enough in high school to earn a scholarship through the standard four-year program.

NROTC Course Credit

NROTC credit for graduation varies with each college. Students should contact the appropriate college for determination of credit.

Registration

The NROTC program is offered through the University of Colorado-Boulder. Students at the UC Denver Downtown Campus may register for NROTC classes through the concurrent registration process. Contact your dean’s office for the appropriate forms. NROTC classes begin with the NAVR prefix.

Considers the determinants of fertility variation within and among traditional human societies. Biocultural and ecological perspectives on pubertal timing, marriage patterns, birth seasonality, duration of birth intervals and reproductive senescence. Prereq: ANTH 1303 or equivalent. Cross-listed with ANTH 5260. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 4290 - Anthropology and Public Health
ANTH 4290 - Public Health and Anthropology

This course critically explores anthropological approaches to public health problems. Through a number of key issues and case studies, we examine how public health practice can be enhanced through anthropological research, theory, and methodology. Prereq: upper division standing. Cross-listed with ANTH 5290. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 4300 - Migrant Health

This course examines health issues associated with transnational migration from an anthropological point of view. Drawing upon case studies, we examine the health of migrant communities in both host and sending nations. Prereq: upper division standing. Cross-listed with ANTH 5300. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 4320 - Archaeology of Mexico and Central America

Surveys the major prehistoric and protohistoric cultures and societies of that area of Mexico and Central America identified with the evolution of Meso-American civilization. Major topics include early human colonization of the Americas, the domestication of plants and animals, the emergence of regionally-based cultures and societies, trade and exchange and the evolution of urbanism and the state. Primary emphasis on such ancient cultures and societies as those of the Olmec, Zapotec, Maya, Teotihuacan, Toltec and Aztec. Prereq: Introduction to archaeology. Cross-listed with ANTH 5320. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 4330 - Lithic Analysis

Examines the theoretical basis and methodological tools used by archaeologists in the analysis of prehistoric stone tools. Topics of discussion include the mechanics of stone fracture, typologies, use wear analysis and core reduction techniques. Prereq: ANTH 1302. Cross-listed with ANTH 5330. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 4380 - Archaeology of Hunters-Gatherers

Explores the theory and methods used by archaeologists to investigate prehistoric hunter-gatherers. Topics of concern include mobility, subsistence, procurement, and socio-political organization. Prereq: ANTH 1302 Cross-listed with ANTH 5380. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
ANTH 4390 - Laboratory Methods in Archaeology

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 4390

Methods and theories of archaeology are used to scrutinize the collection and interpretation of data and the relationships of archaeology to other disciplines. Core materials emphasize the critique of basic archaeological assumptions. Note: Course content varies slightly each time it is offered, in response to student needs and the availability of projects (e.g., laboratory work, urban excavation, survey and mapping). May be repeated for credit when topics change. Prereq: ANTH 1302 or equivalent. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 4400 - Archaeology of Power and Inequality

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 4400

Addresses inequality and power through a long-term archaeological and theoretical perspective. Discusses explanations for the origins of power and inequality and their role in early small-scale societies and emerging complex politics. Prereq: ANTH 1302 or equivalent. Cross-listed with ANTH 5400. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 4450 - Development and Conservation: Contemporary Issues

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 4450

Applies the theoretical paradigms of political ecology to contemporary issues of sustainable development. Case studies are chosen illustrating topics based on faculty expertise and student interaction. The first part of the course presents theoretical perspectives relevant to the chosen topic. In the second half, students participate in directed problem solving activities. Prereq: ANTH 4070, ANTH 4170 and graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with ANTH 5450. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 4460 - Development and Conservation: Theory and Practice

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 4460

Examines the praxis of anthropological knowledge of human ecosystem interaction and development of economic opportunities. Issues of biodiversity, resource conservation, sustainable development and globalization are studied. Prereq: ANTH 4450 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with ANTH 5460. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
ANTH 4500 - Advanced Issues in Human Evolution

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 4500
This flexible course offers an advanced treatment of issues in human biological evolution. Topics may emphasize morphological evolution, behavioral evolution, the environment of human evolution, non-human primate comparative information. Prereq: ANTH 1303 and 3512 or equivalent. Cross-listed with ANTH 5500. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 4520 - Human Biological Variation

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 4520
Human biological variation and adaptation, considered from an evolutionary perspective. How we measure and classify human variation often affects the conclusions we draw. This course considers the causes and maintenance of human variability and adaptability, including cultural and social factors in the genesis and maintenance of normal and abnormal traits. Prereq: Introductory course in biological or physical anthropology. Cross-listed with ANTH 5520. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 4540 - Forensic Anthropology

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 4540
The goals of this course are to provide detailed knowledge of the human skeleton, as well as the methods employed in determination of biological characteristics that can predict an individual's identity. The application of human osteological knowledge to forensic and anthropological problems and research are discussed in the context of a "hands-on" session during each lecture period. Prereq: ANTH 1303 or equivalent. Cross-listed with ANTH 5540. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 4550 - Primate Comparative Anatomy

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 4550
Examines human and non-human primate anatomical diversity. Students learn primate anatomy and the morphological differences among species. Explanations for the evolutionary origins of differences are reviewed, focusing on evolutionary theory, comparative methods and biomechanics. Prereq: ANTH 1303 or equivalent. Cross-listed with ANTH 5550. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 4560 - Human Ecology
ANTH 4560
Studies demographic and ecological variables as they relate to human populations. Aspects of natural selection, overpopulation and environmental deterioration are considered. Prereq: Introductory course in biological or physical anthropology. Cross-listed with ANTH 5560. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 4570 - Landscape Archaeology

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 4570
Introduces spatial archaeology through intrasite analysis and regional studies. Methods treated include site location and quantitative spatial organization. Theoretical topics include definitions of community, ancient urbanism and the impact of subsistence and politics on relations to the landscape. Prereq: ANTH 1302 or equivalent. Cross-listed with ANTH 5570. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 4580 - Neanderthals and the Origin of Modern Humans

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 4580
Focuses on the human fossil record for the tax on Homo sapiens, including the earliest members of this group ("early" or "archaic" Homosapiens), the Neanderthals and so-called "anatomically modern" Homosapiens. The goal of the course is to survey the major issues within the area of modern human origins, and to learn about the evolutionary relationships, lifeways and behaviors of these groups. Prereq: ANTH 1303 or equivalent. Cross-listed with ANTH 5580. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 4590 - Primate Behavior

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 4590
Studies nonhuman primate behavior with emphasis on understanding social behavior, ecology and issues related to human evolution. Prereq: ANTH 1303 or equivalent. Cross-listed with ANTH 5590. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 4600 - Medical Anthropology

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 4600
Introduces students to the theories and concepts of medical anthropology, the study of human health and illness. Explores conceptions of the body, modalities of healing, the clinical encounter, and new medical technologies. Prereq: Upper-division standing. Cross-listed with ANTH 5600. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
ANTH 4640 - Darwinian Approach to Human Behavior

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 4640
The evolution of human behaviors from a Darwinian perspective, focusing on the natural selection of behaviors that maximize reproductive success. Includes topics such as male and female reproductive strategies, female mate choice, male violence and resource acquisition and control. Prereq: ANTH 1303. Cross-listed with ANTH 5640. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Geographic affiliations, culture, history, traditional ways of life and culture change in Mexico and Central America. Cross-listed with ANTH 5740. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 4800 - Special Topics in Medical Anthropology

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 4800
Seminar series on current issues in medical anthropology. Faculty offer a range of different courses, including the political economy of drugs, health and human rights, and reproductive health. Prereq: upper division standing. Cross-listed with ANTH 5800. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 4810 - Integrating Anthropology

Designed to build on specialized course work in the subdisciplines of anthropology, this course emphasizes the basic concepts that integrate and unite the discipline and give it unique perspective. These are the concepts of culture, adaptation and human evolution. In the last several weeks of the course, students consider the applicability of the anthropological perspective to specific human issues. Note: Centers on the critical examination and discussion of presentations made by department faculty and graduate students. Prereq: junior or senior standing and course work equivalent to a minor in anthropology. Cross-listed with ANTH 5810. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 4840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 4840
Directed study based on a specific subfield of anthropology. Note: Permission of instructor required. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 4910 - Field Experience in Archaeology

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 4910
Students participate in archaeological field research and data recovery and conduct laboratory analysis of materials recovered in the field. Emphasis is placed on excavation technique and accuracy of record keeping. Prereq: Introductory course in archaeology. Cross-listed with ANTH 5910. Semester Hours: 3 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 4995 - Travel Study

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 4995
A flexible format that permits courses to be taught in various areas of the world. Cultures of the Himalayas. Concerned broadly with contemporary Himalayan culture. Focuses on Tibetan cultures and the Tibetan diaspora, and the Nepalese (Newari) culture of the Katmandu Valley. The goals for this course are: to acquaint the student with social, political and cultural features of this part of the world; to teach, through directed field experiences, how cultural anthropology is practiced; to understand how the process of tourism differs from the study of anthropology; how tourism, however it is practiced, changes in fundamental ways those subject to it. The Arts of Self and Society in Contemporary China. An intensive introduction to contemporary conditions and issues in the People's Republic of China, including social relations, popular culture, eating practices, religious practices and everyday life. Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 5460 - Development and Conservation: Theory and Practice

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 5460
Examines the praxis of anthropological knowledge of human ecosystem interaction and development of economic opportunities. Issues of biodiversity, resource conservation, sustainable development and globalization are studied. Prereq: ANTH 5450 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with ANTH 4460. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
ANTH 5500 - Advanced Issues in Human Evolution

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 5500
This flexible course offers an advanced treatment of issues in human biological evolution. Topics may emphasize morphological evolution, behavioral evolution, the environment of human evolution, non-human primate comparative information. Cross-listed with ANTH 4500. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 5520 - Human Biological Variation

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 5520
Human biological variation and adaptation, considered from an evolutionary perspective. How we measure and classify human variation often affects the conclusions we draw. This course considers the causes and maintenance of human variability and adaptability, including cultural and social factors in the genesis and maintenance of normal and abnormal traits. Prereq: Background in physical or biological anthropology and graduate standing. Cross-listed with ANTH 4520. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 5530 - Anthropological Genetics

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 5530
An advanced survey of molecular and population genetics and their applications in anthropology. Topics vary, including but not limited to: genetic epidemiology, genetic distance studies, behavioral genetics, developmental genetics, sociobiology, and use of mitochondrial DNA to reconstruct population histories. Emphasis is on applications of new technology and methodology, as well as new genetic paradigms replacing classical models of genetic causation. Prereq: Undergraduate course work in biological anthropology or general genetics. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

ANTH 5540 - Forensic Anthropology

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 5540
The goals of this course are to provide detailed knowledge of the human skeleton, as well as the methods employed in determination of biological characteristics that can predict an individual's identity. The application of human osteological knowledge to forensic and anthropological problems and research are discussed in the context of a "hands-on" session during each lecture period. Prereq: ANTH 1303 or equivalent. Cross-listed with ANTH 4540. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
ANTH 5550 - Primate Comparative Anatomy

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 5550
Examines human and non-human primate anatomical diversity. Students learn primate anatomy and the morphological differences among species. Explanations for the evolutionary origins of differences are reviewed, focusing on evolutionary theory, comparative methods and biomechanics. Prereq: ANTH 1303 or equivalent. Cross-listed with ANTH 4550. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 5560 - Human Ecology

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 5560
Studies demographic and ecological variables as they relate to human populations. Aspects of natural selection, overpopulation and environmental deterioration are considered. Prereq: Background in biological or physical anthropology and graduate standing. Cross-listed with ANTH 4560. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 5570 - Landscape Archaeology

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 5570
Introduces spatial archaeology through intrasite analysis and regional studies. Methods treated include site location and quantitative spatial organization. Theoretical topics include definitions of community, ancient urbanism and the impact of subsistence and politics on relations to the landscape. Prereq: ANTH 1302 or equivalent. Cross-listed with ANTH 4570. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 5580 - Neanderthals and the Origin of Modern Humans

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 5580
Focuses on the human fossil record for the tax on Homo sapiens, including the earliest members of this group ("early" or "Archaic" Homo sapiens), the Neanderthals and so-called "Anatomically modern" Homosapiens. The goal of the course is to survey the major issues within the area of modern human origins, and to learn about the evolutionary relationships, lifeways and behaviors of these groups. Prereq: ANTH 1303 or equivalent. Cross-listed with ANTH 4580. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 5590 - Primate Behavior

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 5590
Studies nonhuman primate behavior with emphasis on understanding social behavior, ecology and issues related to human evolution. Prereq: ANTH 1303 or equivalent. Cross-listed with ANTH 4590. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 5600 - Medical Anthropology

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 5600
Introduces students to the theories and concepts of medical anthropology, the study of human health and illness. Explores conceptions of the body, modalities of healing, the clinical encounter, and new medical technologies. Prereq: Graduate standing. Cross-listed with ANTH 4600. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 5640 - Darwinian Approach to Human Behavior

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 5640
The evolution of human behaviors from a Darwinian perspective, focusing on the natural selection of behaviors that maximize reproductive success. Includes topics such as male and female reproductive strategies, female mate choice, male violence and resource acquisition and control. Prereq: ANTH 1303. Cross-listed with ANTH 4640. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 5730 - Peoples and Cultures of Sub-Saharan Africa

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 5730
Covers various types of societies and civilizations that have existed in sub-Saharan Africa. Explores foragers, pastoralists, agricultural societies, chiefdoms, kingdoms and empires, as these emerged and interacted with each other. Details their ideas and social orders, including the following topics: race, ethnicity, kinship, politics, economics, religion, magic, witchcraft, sorcery, marriage, age, gender, stratification, art, literature and oral traditions. Also addresses the impact of colonialism, the rise of nations, changes in the post-colonial period, warfare, and the impact of globalism on Africa today. Prereq: Upper division standing. Cross-listed with ANTH 4730, ETST 4730. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 5740 - Ethnography of Mexico and Central America

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 5740
Geographic affiliations, culture, history, traditional ways of life and culture change in Mexico and Central America. Prereq: Graduate standing. Cross-listed with ANTH 4740. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
ANTH 5800 - Special Topics in Medical Anthropology

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 5800
Seminar series on current issues in medical anthropology. Faculty offer a range of different courses, including the political economy of drugs, health and human rights, and reproductive health. Prereq: graduate standing. Cross-listed with ANTH 4800. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 5810 - Integrating Anthropology

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 5810
Designed to build on specialized course work in the subdisciplines of anthropology, this course emphasizes the basic concepts that integrate and unite the discipline and give it unique perspective. These are the concepts of culture, adaptation and human evolution. In the last several weeks of the course, students consider the applicability of the anthropological perspective to specific human issues. Note: Centers on the critical examination and discussion of presentations made by department faculty and graduate students. Cross-listed with ANTH 4810. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 5840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 5840
Directed study based on a specific subfield of anthropology. Prereq: Permission of instructor required. Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 5910 - Field Experience in Archaeology

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 5910
Students participate in archaeological field research and data recovery and conduct laboratory analysis of materials recovered in the field. Emphasis is placed on excavation technique and accuracy of record keeping. Prereq: Background in archaeology and graduate standing. Cross-listed with ANTH 4910. Semester Hours: 3 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 5939 - Internship/Cooperative Education

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 5939
Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
ANTH 5995 - Travel Study

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 5995
A flexible format that permits courses to be taught in various areas of the world. Cultures of the Himalayas. Concerned broadly with contemporary Himalayan culture. Focuses on Tibetan cultures and the Tibetan diaspora, and the Nepalese (Newari) culture of the Katmandu Valley. The goals for this course are: to acquaint the student with social, political and cultural features of this part of the world; to teach, through directed field experiences, how cultural anthropology is practiced; to understand how the process of tourism differs from the study of anthropology; how tourism, however it is practiced, changes in fundamental ways those subject to it. The Arts of Self and Society in Contemporary China. An intensive introduction to contemporary conditions and issues in the People's Republic of China, including social relations, popular culture, eating practices, religious practices and everyday life. Uses a combination of readings, lectures, field trips to local sites and ethnographic field projects. Usually situated in Kunming, Yunnan province, in southwest China, but the location may vary. Note: Students enroll additionally in Chinese language classes at levels from beginning to advanced. Prereq: Permission of instructor. Cross-listed with ANTH 4995. Semester Hours: 3 to 9
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 6000 - Seminar in Current Research Topics

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 6000
An inquiry into current research of critical and general interest to anthropologists. Variable format. Prereq: Permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 6040 - Advanced Topics in Medical Anthropology

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 6040
A flexible seminar format for dealing with topics of special interest in medical anthropology on an advanced graduate level. Topics to be considered vary from semester to semester. Examples include high altitude adaptation, anthropological perspectives on substance abuse, epidemiology, environmental and occupational health, the health consequences of cultural change and cross-cultural psychiatry. Note: Topics vary from semester to semester. Prereq: Permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 1 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 6041 - Human Genetics: Legal, Ethical and Social Issues

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 6041
Examines legal, ethical and social issues that have come about with advances in human ANTH 6063 - Qualitative Research Design and Methods

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 6063
Much of the data collected in the social sciences is interview and text-based. This course explores methods for collecting and analyzing these data and theoretical paradigms that underlie these methods. Cross-listed with HBSC 7051. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 6103 - Current Theory in Ethnography

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 6103
An in-depth inquiry into important theories in cultural anthropology through extensive primary source reading. Practice in formulating theory, critical thinking and theoretical writing are emphasized. Note: First course in a two-course required graduate sequence. Prereq: Undergraduate course work in cultural anthropology. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 6133 - Anthropological Perspectives on Language

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 6133
An intensive introduction to linguistic anthropology. Following a brief survey of technical linguistics, focus is on: the roles of language in society; multilingualism; language and identity; language and worldview; language, gender, class and power; language as social action; and other topics. Students carry out investigations based on models from their reading, as well as responding to the theoretical approaches of the field. Prereq: Undergraduate course work in cultural anthropology. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 6307 - Contemporary Perspectives in Archaeology

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 6307
Explores contemporary theoretical methodological perspectives in archaeology. Structured to proceed from a survey of the history of archaeological thought based on recent retrospectives, to an analysis of works reflecting current perspectives and directions. Topics include: archaeological interpretation, classical versus scientific archaeology, versus culture-history, functionalist and materialist paradigms, ethno-archaeological and text-based studies, neo-evolutionism, interactionist models, Marxist perspectives, processual theory. Prereq: Undergraduate course work in archaeology. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 6317 - Archaeological Research Design and Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 6317
Examines the methods and techniques used in archaeology, including theory-building, hypothesis testing and middle range theory. Core materials emphasize the learning and critique of basic archaeological assumptions and the methods and theories used to scrutinize the collection and interpretation of data. Topics include chronometric applications and paleo-environmental reconstruction. Prereq: ANTH 6307 or equivalent. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 6503 - Biological Anthropology Core: The Fossil Record

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 6503
Examines the historical development and modern practice of biological anthropology, including the theoretical and methodological foundations of this field. Emphasis is placed on the evidence for human and non-human primate evolution and the processes that influenced this evolution. Prereq: Graduate standing. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 6513 - Biological Anthropology Core: Modern Human Variation

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 6513
Considers the theory and methods used in investigations of biological variation in contemporary human populations. This includes the biological and cultural sources responsible for creating and maintaining contemporary variation as well as their functional consequences. Methods of research design and how to write a grant and scientific articles are considered. Prereq: Graduate standing. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 6520 - Seminar: Selected Topics in Physical Anthropology

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 6520
A flexible seminar format for dealing with topics of special interest in physical anthropology on an advanced graduate level. Topics vary from semester to semester. Examples include: anthropology of nutrition, paleoecology, primate evolution, field experience in paleontology, advanced osteology and advanced human ecology. Prereq: Undergraduate work in biological/physical anthropology and graduate standing. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
ANTH 6840 - Independent Study: Anth

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 6840
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ANTH 6950 - Master’s Thesis

Summer 2010 Registration ANTH 6950
Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 5000 - Math and Physics for Architects

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 5000
Provides the review of mathematics and physics. This is a prerequisite for the graduate technology courses. Does not count toward the required credits for the March degree.
Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 5110 - Design Studio I

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 5110
This first of four core design studios introduces the basic strategies and techniques of architectural design. Focuses on the languages of design, as well as on traditional and digital methods of visualizing architectural ideas and forms. Prereq: Must have completed the College's woodshop training program. Coreq: ARCH 5111.
Semester Hours: 6 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 5111 - Introduction to Drawing

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 5111
This course explores the development of graphic skills emphasizing drawing as a means to design. It includes investigation of drawing types and methods; diagramming of ideas and systems; informative, exploratory and developmental sketching. Coreq: ARCH 5110.
Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 5120 - Design Studio II

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 5120
The second of the four core design studios focuses on concepts of small-scale building design, sitting and climate. Through a number of design exercises, students learn how these factors help shape buildings. Prereq: ARCH 5110 and ARCH 5111. Coreq: ARCH 5121. Semester Hours: 4to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 5121 - Design Seminar II

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 5121
Supports fuller discussion of the key themes and concepts in ARCH 5120. Prereq: ARCH 5110 and 5111; Coreq: ARCH 5120. Semester Hours: 2to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 5130 - Design Studio III

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 5130
The third of the four core studios focuses on concepts of program, architectural meaning and human behavior in buildings. Through a number of design exercises, students learn how these factors help shape buildings. Prereq: ARCH 5120 and ARCH 5121. Coreq: ARCH 5131. Semester Hours: 4to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 5131 - Design Seminar III

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 5131
Supports fuller discussion of the key themes and concepts in ARCH 5130. Prereq: ARCH 5120 and ARCH 5121. Coreq: ARCH 5130. Semester Hours: 2to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 5140 - Design Studio IV

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 5140
The last of the four core design studios focuses on concepts of building technology, context and environmental sustainability. Through a number of design exercises, students learn how technology helps shape buildings. Prereq: ARCH 5130 and 5131. Coreq: ARCH 5141. Semester Hours: 4to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 5141 - Design Seminar IV

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 5141
Supports fuller discussion of the key themes and concepts in ARCH 5140. Prereq: ARCH 5130 and 5131; Coreq: ARCH 5140. Semester Hours: 2to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
ARCH 5210 - Introduction to Architecture

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 5210
Introduces important ways of looking at architecture and acquaints students with the various perspectives that they will later find in the rest of the curriculum. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 5220 - History of Architecture I

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 5220
Introduces world architecture and urbanism from prehistory to the Italian Renaissance. The course helps students understand the various cultural, technological, philosophical, and aesthetic ideas that helped shape buildings through history. Buildings and settlements on all continents and in all of the major world cultures are discussed. Prereq: ARCH 5210. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 5230 - History of Architecture II

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 5230
Examines world architecture and urbanism from the Italian Renaissance to the present. Helps students understand the various cultural, technological, philosophical and aesthetic ideas that helped shape buildings through history. Buildings and settlements on all continents and in all of the major world cultures are discussed. Prereq: ARCH 5220. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 5240 - Human Factors in Design

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 5240
Focuses on the ethical, social, cultural and psychological principles, processes which people bring to the perception and design of the built environment. Its major topics include: ethical values; cultural patterns and values; privacy and community; social, cultural and personal ritual; the symbolic content of form and environment; and programming and post-occupancy evaluation. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 5310 - Introduction to Building Technology

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 5310
Provides an overview of the structure, systems, assemblies and processes that make a building. Provides a broad view of building technology and an understanding of the interrelationship of all the parts, upon which subsequent technology courses are
ARCH 5320 - Building Construction and Methods

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 5320
Discusses the principles and processes of building construction and introduces the major constructional systems. Stresses the relationship between architectural concepts and building technology and helps students understand how to choose building systems and materials. Prereq: ARCH 5310. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 5330 - Environmental Control Systems I

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 5330
The first course in the environmental control systems sequence introducing the concepts and methods of environmental control in residential buildings. Discusses the thermal behavior of buildings, climate as a determinant of building design, energy use in buildings, natural and mechanical means of environmental control, plumbing, electrical, communication systems, water supply and sanitation systems. Prereq: ARCH 5320. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 5340 - Environmental Control Systems II

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 5340
The second course in the environmental control systems sequence focusing on the environmental systems in commercial and other non-residential buildings. Discusses natural and artificial lighting, HVAC systems, acoustics, vertical transportation and fire protection. Prereq: ARCH 5330. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 5350 - Structures I

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 5350
The first course in the structures sequence introduces the analysis and design of structural elements and focuses on the principles of static's and the strength of materials. Topics include stress determination, deflection and the behaviors of tension, compression and shear in various structural elements. Coreq: ARCH 5340. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 5360 - Structures II
Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 5360
Focuses on the relationship between architectural concepts and the selection of structural systems. Addresses the qualitative and quantitative analysis of reinforced concrete, steel and wood structural systems and members. Prereq: ARCH 5350. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 5410 - Professional Practice

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 5410
Introduces the essential elements of professional practice through topics such as internship, licensing, services, modes of practice, fees, marketing, documents, specification and production procedures. Examines traditional and emerging forms of practice. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6150 - Comprehensive Design Studio

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 6150
A required studio focusing on an architectural project from schematic design through detailed development including structural, environmental systems, life safety, wall sections and building assemblies. A comprehensive program will inform the architectural project. Prereq: ARCH 5140 and ARCH 5141. Coreq: ARCH 6151. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6151 - Comprehensive Design Seminar

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 6151
Supports fuller discussion of the key themes and concepts in ARCH 6150. Prereq: ARCH 5140 and ARCH 5141. Coreq: ARCH 6150. Semester Hours: 2 to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6160 - Architectural Photography

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 6160
Introduces the key concepts and techniques of photography in general and architectural photography in particular. Students learn basic principles of exposure, focal length, composition and darkroom procedures and then undertake a number of photographic exercises. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6161 - Precedents in Architecture
Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 6161
Explores a number of traditional answers to recurring design issues, such as how to approach and enter a building or how to design a facade. In a seminar setting, students examine traditional ideas for their underlying principles and design new architectural compositions based on those principles. Prereq: Completion of ARCH 5110. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6162 - Furniture Design

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 6162
Students learn how to design and build furniture in the College's woodshop. Topics include ergonomics, properties of materials, principles and techniques of joinery and techniques of hand and machine tools. Prereq: must have completed the college's woodshop training program. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6170 - Advanced Design Studio

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 6170
Students enter the advanced design studio after successfully completing the four core design studios and comprehensive studio (ARCH 6150). Students must take two advanced studios (unless they wish to undertake a thesis; see ARCH 6950). Topics vary according to faculty interests. Prereq: ARCH 6150 and ARCH 6151. Coreq: ARCH 6171. Semester Hours: 4to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6171 - Advanced Design Seminar

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 6171
Supports fuller discussion of key themes and concepts in ARCH 6170. Students must take two advanced design seminars (unless they wish to undertake a thesis; see ARCH 6950). Prereq: ARCH 6150, ARCH 6151. Coreq: ARCH 6170. Semester Hours: 2to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6190 - Special Topics in Design Studies

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 6190
Various topics in design, according to current faculty and student interests. Prereq: Completion of ARCH 5110. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6210 - History of American Architecture
Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 6210
Examines the history of American architecture from prehistoric times to the present, mainly within the geographical borders of the present-day United States. Helps students understand the various cultural, technological, philosophical and aesthetic ideas that helped shape American buildings. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6212 - History of Modern Architecture

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 6212
Examines the various theories, accomplishments and ideals of modern architecture in the 20th century. Issues include the relationship between theory and practice, architecture and ideology, technology, abstraction and representation, functionalism and formalism, utopianism and social responsibility. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6220 - History of Architectural Theory

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 6220
Investigates the history of architectural theories in the West from antiquity to the present. Explores the various ideas that have been proposed to explain or to direct architectural design and examines the relationship between the theories and the buildings themselves. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6221 - Post-Structuralist Architecture

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 6221
Examines the ways in which architecture has responded to the philosophical changes introduced during the 1960's French post-structuralism. Evaluates how the new metaphysical outlooks have affected architectural theory and design methods. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6290 - Special Topics in Cultural Studies

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 6290
Various topics in cultural studies, according to current faculty and student interests. Prereq: ARCH 5210, ARCH 5220 and ARCH 5230. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6370 - Introduction To Design Build
ARCH 6370 - Introduction to Design Build

Summer 2010 Registration

Introduction to Design Build project delivery methods important to architects. Lecture, research on the industry and an individual student project are the methods used to introduce ethical questions, role of the architect, owner, consultant and subcontractors. Work leads to studio project or case study. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6371 - Maintaining Quality and Managing Risks: Design Build

Summer 2010 Registration

A lecture and seminar on approaches to risk management including contracts, insurance, financial analysis, dispute resolution and client relationships. Utilizing case study approach, quality assurance will be defined and studied in the design and building phase of workings. Prereq: ARCH 6370. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6372 - Architecture in a Single Source Project Delivery

Summer 2010 Registration

Directed to the practice of architecture with design build and other single source delivery systems. This course examines requirements of codes, zoning, building systems and legal questions for the architect. Prereq: ARCH 6370. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6373 - Construction in Design Build

Summer 2010 Registration

Using a single project, students fully explore the design phase, estimating, scheduling and project management skills in traditional construction. Course is concurrent with an advanced studio and builds a project on a site. Prereq: ARCH 6370. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6390 - Special Topics in Technology

Summer 2010 Registration

Various topics in technology, according to current faculty and student interests. Prereq: ARCH 5310 and ARCH 5320. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6412 - Construction Documents

Summer 2010 Registration

Introduces the concepts and techniques of construction documents. Semester Hours:
3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6490 - Special Topics in Professional Studies

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 6490
Various topics in professional studies according to current faculty and student interests. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6520 - Architecture in Other Cultures

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 6520
Various studies of architecture and urbanism in foreign countries. Semester Hours: 1to 9
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6624 - The Built Environment in Other Cultures I: Research Design

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 6624
The intent is to broaden students' perspectives by asking them to examine design within another culture. Each student prepares a proposal of study including a statement of the problem to be addressed, the type of field research to be undertaken and the nature of the report to be produced. Cross-listed with LDAR 6624. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 6840
Studies initiated by students or faculty and sponsored by a faculty member to investigate a special topic or problem related to architecture. Prereq: Permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 1to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6910 - Teaching Assistantship

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 6910
Work with a faculty member in a course to help with class preparation and delivery. This is intended for students who may be considering a career in teaching architecture. Prereq: Permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6930 - Architecture Internship
Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 6930
Designed to provide professional practice experience. The internship is composed of eight hours per week working in a practicing professional's office during the regular semester. Students must complete the second-year level before taking this course. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6931 - Architecture Internship

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 6931
Designed to provide professional practice experience. The internship is composed of eight hours per week working in a practicing professional's office during the regular semester. Students must complete the second-year level before taking this course. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6950 - Thesis Preparation

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 6950
In place of the final advanced design studio, students may choose to develop a specialized thesis in some topic related to architecture. The thesis will normally take three semesters, starting with the three-credit hour ARCH 6490, Thesis Research Tools in the spring semester, this course in the fall semester and finishing with a six-credit thesis class in the third semester. A thesis may culminate in a design or in a written report. A thesis is expected to advance the field in some way by offering new insights into aspects of design, technology, history or professional principles. Prereq: ARCH 6490 and completion of at least one advanced design studio (ARCH 6170 or ARCH 6171). Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 6951 - Architecture Thesis

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 6951
Development of a master's thesis (see ARCH 6950 above). Prereq: completion of two advanced design studios ARCH 6150 and ARCH 6950. Semester Hours: 6 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARCH 7840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration ARCH 7840
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
ARTS 1000 - Arts In Our Time

Summer 2010 Registration ARTS 1000
Multidisciplinary course designed to introduce students to the ways in which arts work and how the arts shape our perception of the world around us. Each student selects three four-week modules designed to examine each of the disciplines of fine arts, music and theatre, in the context of the creative process, audience perception and historical perspective. Every five weeks, students from each of the modules join forces in a week of "Inter-arts" sessions -- lectures and discussions about the relationship of the arts to each other and to our contemporary culture. Topics which are addressed in the modules include such things as American musical theatre, perception of jazz, public sculpture, light as art, sonic explorations, photography, history of production design, women in American music and censorship. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARTS 1111 - Freshman Seminar

Summer 2010 Registration ARTS 1111
The course explores the nature of creative inspiration, its potential and implementation. Through individual and collaborative projects, students investigate the interdisciplinary composition and development of the literary, visual and performing arts and their aesthetic, social and political impact. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARTS 1150 - Topics in Cross-Disciplinary Arts I

Summer 2010 Registration ARTS 1150
Designed to explore the ways in which the arts are a part of daily life. Research and observation of the variety of ways in which the arts are utilized. Prepares students to participate in special projects. Specific topics and projects change each semester. Semester Hours: 1to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARTS 2150 - Topics in Cross-Disciplinary Arts II

Summer 2010 Registration ARTS 2150
Provides opportunities for students to apply artists' methods and media in a non-presentation setting. Experiential research is centered around a specific topic each semester, but enable students to discover a broader understanding of the arts. Semester Hours: 1to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARTS 3150 - Topics in Cross-Disciplinary Arts III
Summer 2010 Registration ARTS 3150
Focuses on the ways in which the arts are engaged in communities as expressions of identity as well as agents of change. Historical research and applied projects provide a foundation for participation in designated team projects. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARTS 4150 - Topics in Cross-Disciplinary Arts IV

Summer 2010 Registration ARTS 4150
Investigates the historical and critical perspectives of the arts in a variety of contexts. Specific topics provide a focus for students to discover the ways in which the arts inform each other and are shaped by the events of the world. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARTS 5000 - Topics

Summer 2010 Registration ARTS 5000
Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ARTS 5150 - Topics In Cross-Disciplinary Arts

Summer 2010 Registration ARTS 5150
Investigates the historical and critical perspectives of the arts in a variety of contexts. Specific topics provide a focus for students to discover the ways in which the arts inform each other and are shaped by the events of the world. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 1111 - Freshman Seminar

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 1111
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 1136 - Human Biology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 1136
Topics include: basic human body chemistry, healthy internal body balance, new disease treatments, human inheritance and human beings as part of Earth's living systems. Note: For students who are not majoring in biology. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 1550 - Basic Biology: Ecology and the Diversity of Life
Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 1550
Introduces important biological concepts, including: the process of science, biological diversity, evolution, basic ecological principles and environmental issues. Lectures emphasize current issues. Note: For students who are not majoring in biology. Biology and health career majors should not take this course.

Semester Hours: 4to 4GT
Pathways Category Key: GT-SC1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 1560 - Basic Biology: From Cells to Organisms

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 1560
Introduces students to cell structure and function, survey of representative human systems, genetics and applications of biotechnology. Immune systems featured with an emphasis on Aids, cancer and other human diseases prevalent in today's world. Note: For students who are not majoring in biology. Biology and health career majors should not take this course.

Semester Hours: 4to 4GT
Pathways Category Key: GT-SC1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 2051 - General Biology I

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 2051
Introduces four major areas of study: (1) the chemistry of biological systems; (2) the structure and function of the cell; (3) cellular energy transformations (photosynthesis and respiration); and (4) genetics (mitosis, meiosis, patterns of inheritance, molecular genetics). Note: Biology and health science (pre-med, pre-vet, pre-physical therapy, etc.) majors must also take the accompanying laboratory - BIOL 2071. Prereq: CHEM 1000 or high school chemistry required.

Semester Hours: 3to 3GT
Pathways Category Key: GT-SC1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 2061 - General Biology II

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 2061
This course is a continuation of BIOL 2051. Introduces four major areas of study: (1) evolution,(2) animal structure and function, (3) plant structure and function and (4) ecology. Note: Biology and health science (pre-med, pre-vet, nursing, etc.) majors must also take the accompanying laboratory - BIOL 2081. Prereq: BIOL 2051 or equivalent with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher.

Semester Hours: 3to 3GT
Pathways Category Key: GT-SC1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 2071 - General Biology Laboratory I
SUMMER 2010 REGISTRATION

BIOL 2071
Introduces the basic scientific approach and report preparation through exercises and experiments in cell biology, basic biochemical techniques, genetics, molecular genetics and applications of biotechnology. Note: Exercises corresponding to topics in BIOL 2051. Coreq: BIOL 2051. Semester Hours: 1 to 1 GT Pathways Category Key: GT-SC1

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 2081 - General Biology Laboratory II

SUMMER 2010 REGISTRATION

BIOL 2081
Study of evolution, plant and animal anatomy, developmental biology; includes two off-campus ecology field trips. Note: Exercises corresponding to topics in BIOL 2061. Prereq: BIOL 2071 or equivalent with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher; Coreq: BIOL 2061. Semester Hours: 1 to 1 GT Pathways Category Key: GT-SC1

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 2750 - Introduction to Molecular Research Techniques

SUMMER 2010 REGISTRATION

BIOL 2750
Designed to give background knowledge and hands-on experience for a person wanting to work in a molecular-research laboratory. Introduction to basic molecular techniques including micropipetting, making media, DNA and RNA isolation, restriction digest, RT-PCR, and gel electrophoresis. Semester Hours: 2 to 2

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 2840 - Independent Study

SUMMER 2010 REGISTRATION

BIOL 2840
Note: registration by special processing form only. Prereq: One semester of general biology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher and permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 1 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 2939 - Internship/Cooperative Education

SUMMER 2010 REGISTRATION

BIOL 2939
Experiences involving application of specific, relevant concepts and skills in supervised employment situations. Prereq: 15 hours of 2.75 GPA. Semester Hours: 1 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 3104 - Behavioral Genetics

SUMMER 2010 REGISTRATION

BIOL 3104
Interdisciplinary course on relationships between behavior and heredity, with emphasis on human behavioral genetics. Prereq: General biology or general psychology. Cross-listed with PSYC 3104. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 3124 - Introduction to Molecular Biology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 3124
Provides an understanding of the structure and function of genetic material, DNA replication and recombination, and regulation of gene expression and protein synthesis. Emphasizes eukaryotic systems, while providing an overview of prokaryotic systems. Prereq: One year of general biology with a grade of "C" or higher and one year of general chemistry. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 3134 - Advanced Topics

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 3134
Periodic examination of current topics in the field of biology. (See Schedule Planner for current topics). Semester Hours: 1 to 8
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 3225 - Human Physiology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 3225
The basic orientation of the course is toward understanding the functioning of the body as a set of homeostatic mechanisms. Particular emphasis is placed on membrane potentials, muscle, circulation, respiration, digestion, the kidney, the control of metabolism and acid-based balance. Prereq: One year of general biology, general cell biology and one year of chemistry with grades of 'C' (2.0) or higher. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 3244 - Human Anatomy

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 3244
Introduces the structural aspects of the human body. Anatomical models, microscope slides and dissections, including human cadavers are used in the lab. Prereq: one year of general biology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 3330 - Plant Diversity

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 3330
Surveys all major plant groups using evolutionary and ecological principles to interpret patterns of diversity in form and function. Topics include reproduction and life cycles, adaptations and ecological interactions, paleobotany and biogeography, classification and taxonomy and evolution. Prereq: One year of general biology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 3411 - Principles of Ecology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 3411
A lecture course that examines the interrelationships between organisms and their environments. Subject matter includes organism, population and ecosystem levels of study and application to current environmental issues. The emphasis is on the underlying principles of ecology that involve all types of organisms. Note: Satisfies core ecology requirement for biology major. May not be used as upper division biology elective. No co-credit with BIOL 3412. Prereq: One year of general biology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 3412 - Fundamentals of Applied Ecology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 3412
Ecology is the science of interrelationships between organisms, including humans and their environment. This lecture course examines applications of ecological principles to human needs and environmental protection. Covers the ecology of humans and managed systems. Note: Satisfies core ecology requirement for biology major. May not be used as upper division biology elective. No co-credit with BIOL 3411. Prereq: One year of general biology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 3413 - Ecology Laboratory

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 3413
Provides hands-on experiences in ecology and appreciation for using research tools to study ecological systems. Students will learn a wide range of techniques and concepts related to population, community, ecosystem, urban, and physiological ecology. Prereq: Introductory Ecology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher; concurrent registration in ecology accepted. Semester Hours: 2 to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 3520 - Invertebrate Zoology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 3520
Most species on earth are invertebrate animals that, by definition, lack backbones. This course examines the biology, taxonomy, anatomy, ecology and evolution of these important creatures, which occupy a diversity of terrestrial, freshwater and marine habitats. Prereq: One year of general biology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 3521 - Vertebrate Biology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 3521
The subphylum vertebrata consists of fish, amphibians, reptiles, birds and mammals—some of the most fascinating and most threatened species on earth. This course covers the geological record, evolution, taxonomy, anatomy, physiology, ecology and conservation of these organisms. Prereq: One year of general biology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 3611 - General Cell Biology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 3611
Covers the structure and function of the cell including bioenergetics, membranes, secretion, respiration and the cell cycle. Prereq: One year of general biology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher and one year of general chemistry. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 3612 - Cell Biology Laboratory

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 3612
Laboratory course covering topics in cell and molecular biology, such as protein folding, membrane potential, organelle function, cell signaling and fertilization; as well as associated methods, including microscopy, cell culture and PCR. Basic skills are emphasized in recitation and laboratory. Prereq: General cell biology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 3621 - Introduction to Immunology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 3621
Provides an introduction to the basic concepts of immunology, including development of the immune system, innate immunity, aspects of the adaptive immune system, and the role of the immune system in disease, as well as allergies and autoimmunity. Prereq: One year of general biology with a grade of "C" or higher. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 3654 - General Microbiology
Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 3654
Covers all aspects of the biology of microorganisms: their cellular structures and function, growth and metabolism, general and molecular genetics, diversity and interactions with other organisms and the environment (ecology). The objective is to provide students with a thorough introduction to microbiology including basic microbiological laboratory techniques. Note: General cell biology or general genetics is recommended. Prereq: One year of general biology and one year of general chemistry with grades of "C" (2.0) or higher. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 3832 - General Genetics

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 3832
Introduces molecular, classical, developmental and population genetics. Prereq: One year of general biology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 3840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 3840
Note: Registration by special processing form only. Prereq: One year of general biology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher and permission of instructor; registration by special processing form only. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 3939 - Internship/Cooperative Education

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 3939
Designed experience involving application of specific, relevant concepts and skills in supervised employment situations. Prereq: Junior standing and 2.75 GPA. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4024 - Introduction to Biotechnology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4024
Introduces aspects of biotechnology within a historical context, including medical, forensic, agricultural and microbial biotechnology. Addresses principles behind state-of-the-field techniques in recombinant DNA technology, bioinformatics, proteomics and genomics. Biotechnology regulations and ethics will also be discussed. Prereq: BIOL 4024: one year of general biology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher. BIOL 5024: graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BIOL 5024. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
BIOL 4050 - Advanced Biology Topics

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4050
Examines current topics in the field of biology. Topics vary from term to term. See Schedule Planner for current topics. Prereq: One year of general biology with grades of "C" (2.0) or higher. Cross-listed with BIOL 5050. Semester Hours: 1 to 8
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4051 - Advanced Topics In Microbiology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4051
An in-depth study of microbial concepts, including prokaryotic and eukaryotic structure and function; properties of biological macromolecules; microbial growth kinetics; and microbial diversity. Emphasis is on one of the following: virology, microbial physiology, environmental microbiology, microbial biotechnology and nucleic acids. Prereq: General microbiology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher. Cross-listed with BIOL 5051. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4052 - Advanced Ecology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4052
This combination seminar and lecture course focuses on state-of-field knowledge, current theories and recent models in selected areas of ecology, such as theoretical ecology, evolutionary ecology, population biology and ecosystems ecology. Prereq: Introductory ecology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher (BIOL 3411 or BIOL 3412 or equivalent). Cross-listed with BIOL 5052. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4053 - Disease Ecology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4053
The study of the underlying principles that influence the spatio-temporal patterns of infectious disease in environments. Students will apply ecological theories about concepts such as biodiversity, trophic interactions, landscape structure, and nutrient cycling to the study of disease. Prereq: Introductory Ecology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher. Cross-listed with BIOL 5053. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4054 - Developmental Biology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4054
Covers gametogenesis, fertilization, cleavage and development of the embryo with an emphasis on the biochemical and biophysical aspects. Prereq: General cell biology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher. Cross-listed with BIOL 5054. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4064 - Advanced Cell Biology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4064
Builds on the foundations laid in the prerequisite courses. Major topics include the functions of cell membranes, energy transduction and regulation of metabolic pathways. A major emphasis is the control and integration of cellular activities. Prereq: General cell biology and one semester of biochemistry with grades of "C" or higher. Cross-listed with BIOL 5064. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4074 - Human Reproductive Biology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4074
Comprehensive study of anatomy and physiology of human reproduction. Embryogenesis of male and female reproductive systems and detailed analysis of contraception, world population growth, population control and implications of population growth are also covered. Prereq: One year of general biology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher. Cross-listed with BIOL 5074. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4125 - Molecular Biology Laboratory

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4125
Provides hands-on experiences in molecular biology and an appreciation for using the tools of molecular biology to study biological systems. Emphasis is placed on DNA cloning, PCR, mutagenesis and protein purification techniques. Experimental design and the theories underlying the techniques are also discussed. Prereq: General microbiology with a grade of "C" or higher and molecular biology, either introductory or advanced, with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher; concurrent registration in molecular biology accepted. Cross-listed with BIOL 5125. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4126 - Molecular Genetics

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4126
Examines molecular techniques and their application to experimental genetics, specifically organization and mapping of genomes, application and model systems in defining hereditary components of disease, and mechanisms of identifying mutations and their implications for disease. Also addresses application of recombinant DNA technology. Prereq: General genetics and one year of organic chemistry (or equivalent) with grades of "C" (2.0) or higher; biochemistry strongly recommended. Cross-listed with
BIOL 4128 - Topics in Molecular Biology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4128

Literature-based course examining the regulation of gene expression in eukaryotic systems, as well as contemporary recombinant DNA technology and applications of molecular cloning techniques. Prereq: General cell biology and general genetics with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher; biochemistry strongly recommended. Cross-listed with BIOL 5128.

Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4134 - Human Genetics

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4134

Advanced survey of the current status of the field. Emphasis on understanding, diagnosis and treatment of genetic disease and on the impact of molecular biology on human genetics. Prereq: General genetics with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher. Cross-listed with 5134.

Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4144 - Medical Microbiology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4144

Provides an understanding of the relationship between pathogenic organisms and their host. Emphasis is placed on the area of medical bacteriology, with attention given to mechanisms of pathogenesis, genetics of disease, serology and treatment. Prereq: general microbiology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher. Cross-listed with BIOL 5144.

Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4154 - Conservation Biology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4154

Basic concepts and theories in population biology and genetics as they apply to issues relating to the preservation of biodiversity, such as the genetics of small populations, captive propagation, restoration ecology and the design of nature reserves. Prereq: Introductory ecology (BIOL 3411, 3412 or equivalent) with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher. Cross-listed with BIOL 5154.

Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4165 - Neurobiology
Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4165
Overview of neuroscience, covering the cellular basis of neuronal activity, muscle, sensory structures and the structure and function of the human brain. Prereq: One year of general biology and general cell biology with grades of "C" (2.0) or higher. Cross-listed with BIOL 5165. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4250 - Mechanisms of Animal Behavior

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4250
The proximate and ultimate mechanisms of animal behavior are analyzed using comparative animal examples from the scientific literature. Proximate mechanisms include genetic and physiological processes. Ultimate mechanisms include the role of natural and sexual selection in the evolution of behavior. Prereq: One year of general biology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher. Genetics and human physiology are recommended. Cross-listed with BIOL 5250. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4315 - Plant Systematics

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4315
Lecture, lab and field trips. Extensive introduction to the basic principles and concepts of vascular plant systematics. Topics include principles of taxonomy, nomenclature, methods, systems of classification and field and herbarium procedures. Emphasis on plant structure and identification using fresh, frozen and pressed plant specimens. Prereq: One year of general biology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher. Cross-listed with BIOL 5315. Semester Hours: 4to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4335 - Plant Science

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4335
Lecture, lab and field trips. An in-depth study of flowering plants, including embryology, structure, function, reproduction, ecology and evolution of the group. Emphasis is placed upon morphology and anatomy at all stages of plant development. Prereq: One year of general biology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher. Cross-listed with BIOL 5335. Semester Hours: 4to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4345 - Flora of Colorado

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4345
Lecture, lab and field trips. Introduces the vascular plant flora of Colorado, including ferns, gymnosperms and flowering plants. Emphasis on field identification of species representing a range of natural communities from grassland to alpine tundra, as well as non-natives. Field and herbarium techniques covered. Prereq: One year of general biology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher. Cross-listed with BIOL 5345. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4415 - Microbial Ecology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4415
An in-depth study of ecology as it relates to microorganisms; abiotic and biotic interactions within microbial populations in macro- and microhabitats; and the role of microorganisms in maintaining steady state conditions in natural ecosystems. Emphasis is placed on how the ecology of microorganisms affects the human condition. Prereq: General microbiology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher. Cross-listed with BIOL 5415. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4416 - Aquatic Ecology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4416
This advanced ecology course examines the inter-relations of biological (including humans), physical and chemical components of wetlands, streams, rivers, lakes, reservoirs and groundwater. Learning is facilitated through lectures, discussions, student presentations, laboratory and field exercises. Prereq: Introductory ecology (BIOL 3411, 3412 or equivalent) with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher. Cross-listed with BIOL 5416. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4425 - Biogeography

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4425
An in-depth study of biological populations through analysis of geographic distribution patterns in space and time. Emphasis on how biogeography informs studies of evolution and ecology and on applied studies in conservation, sustainability, epidemiology, and disease dynamics. Prereq: One year of general biology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher. Cross-listed with BIOL 5425. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4450 - Marine Biology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4450
Looks at the fascinating organisms that inhabit the oceans, which represent 99% of the living space of earth. While the focus is on the ecology of marine organisms, taxonomy, physiology and anatomy are also covered. Prereq: One year of general biology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher. Cross-listed with BIOL 5450. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4455 - Comparative Environmental Physiology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4455
This advanced physiology course explores the physiological evolutionary adaptations of different animals in the context of their environment. Content includes exploration of maintenance of homeostasis via feedback regulation, structure-function relationships, cellular physiology, and the study of organ systems including the nervous, endocrine, respiratory, reproductive and cardiovascular systems. Prereq: Human or animal physiology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher. Cross-listed with BIOL 5455. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4460 - Environmental Toxicology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4460
Text and literature-based course provides students with background knowledge concerning environmental toxins, the nature and extent of environmental contamination, and toxicant effects on individual organisms and populations. Prereq: Human physiology with grades of "C" (2.0) or higher; organic chemistry and/or biochemistry strongly recommended. Cross-listed with BIOL 5460. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4474 - Ecological Methods

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4474
Deals with the empirical aspects of an ecological study. Students learn sampling techniques that are used in plant and animal ecology. Emphasis is placed on hypothesis testing, data analysis and experimental field designs. Prereq: Introductory ecology (BIOL 3411, 3412 or equivalent) with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher. Cross-listed with BIOL 5474. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4475 - Mechanisms of Human Pathology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4475
Studies physiological, cellular and biochemical processes in human diseases, with particular focus on non-communicable diseases such as diabetes, cardiovascular disease and diseases of aging such as osteoporosis and macular degeneration. Prereq: Human physiology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher; general cell biology or general microbiology strongly recommended. Cross-listed with BIOL 5475. Semester Hours: 3 to
BIOL 4494 - Population and Evolutionary Genetics

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4494
Introduces the genetic processes underlying evolutionary change in microbial, plant and animal populations. Topics include: sources of variation, Hardy-Weinberg equilibrium, population genetic structure, natural selection and other evolutionary forces, quantitative genetics and molecular phylogenetics. Emphasis on experimental data. Prereq: One year of general biology and general genetics with grades of "C" (2.0) or higher. Cross-listed with BIOL 5494.Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4550 - Cell Signaling

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4550
Lecture by faculty and student presentations cover mechanism of hormones and regulation of various cellular processes through second messenger systems. Prereq: General cell biology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher; one semester of biochemistry recommended. Cross-listed with BIOL 5550.Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4560 - Seminar: Nervous System Disorders

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4560
Opening lectures cover the scientific process and how to review original scientific literature. Students present seminars on original research focusing on the neural bases of diseases such as Parkinson's, Alzheimer's and schizophrenia. Prereq: General cell biology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher; neurobiology strongly recommended. Cross-listed with BIOL 5560.Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4621 - Immunology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4621
Studies antibody-antigen interactions, the immune system, inflammation, hypersensitivity, autoimmunity, and recovery from infection. Prereq: One year of general biology and general cell biology with grades of "C" (2.0) or higher; general genetics strongly recommended. Cross-listed with BIOL 5621.Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4622 - Topics in Immunology
Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4622
An in-depth study of immunological concepts. Topics will vary from semester to semester and may range from specifics of immune cell responses to tolerance and autoimmunity. Delivery will include lecture, student presentations, and discussion. Prereq: One year of general biology with a grade of 'C' or higher; general cell biology and general genetics are recommended. Cross-listed with BIOL 5622. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4634 - Biology of Cancer

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4634
Cancer is the second leading cause of death in the United States. This course offers an overview of recent research into the causes, treatments and possible prevention of cancer. Includes a detailed look at the mechanisms of action of various oncogenes. Prereq: General cell biology with a grade of 'C' (2.0) or higher; general genetics strongly recommended. Cross-listed with BIOL 5634. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4640 - Mammalogy

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4640
Lecture, laboratory, and required field trips. This course provides a general overview of the biology of mammals, including their diversity, distribution, economic importance, and other characteristics that make them of special interest to humans. Coverage will be worldwide, with special emphasis placed on the mammals of Colorado. Prereq: One year of general biology with grades of 'C' (2.0) or higher and completion of the structure/function core requirement with a grade of 'C' (2.0) or higher. Cross-listed with BIOL 5640. Semester Hours: 4to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4674 - Endocrinology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4674
This systematic survey of the endocrine system looks at the cellular basis and biochemical characteristics of individual endocrine tissues. Their function in the regulation of other endocrinological, physiological, and behavioral events is analyzed. The course emphasizes the human system and complements studies in physiology, behavior and neurobiology. Prereq: Human physiology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher. Cross-listed with BIOL 5674. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4705 - Introduction to Research
Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4705
An overview of all aspects of scientific research. Topics covered include the scientific method, experimental design, the role of statistics, scientific writing, publication and sources of funding. Several guest faculty lectures are scheduled. Prereq: One year of general biology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher; junior or senior standing. Cross-listed with BIOL 5705. Semester Hours: 3-to-3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4750 - Technology Transfer and Biotechnology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4750
An innovative hybrid course combining traditional classroom presentations with discussions and assignments on a web-based classroom management system. Covers the process from academic discovery to commercialization of a product, including clinical trials, patent law, entrepreneurship, ethics, venture capital funding, marketing and product development. Note: Will not fulfill biology major requirements. Cross-listed with BIOL 5750. Semester Hours: 2-to-2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4764 - Biostatistics

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4764
Covers the quantitative aspects of data collection, organization, and analysis in the biological sciences. Emphasizes understanding of relationships among probability theory, parameter estimation, test statistics, scope of inference, and interpretation. Provides "Hands-on" experience with data analysis. Prereq: One year of general biology with a "C" (2.0) or higher, college-level algebra with "B" (3.0) or higher, or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BIOL 5764. Semester Hours: 3-to-3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4840
Note: Registration by special processing form only. Prereq: One year of general biology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher and permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 1-to-6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4910 - Field Studies

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4910
Field studies of individuals, populations and communities comprising a specified ecosystem. Emphasis on field identification of vascular plants and vertebrate animals. Topics include the physical environment, biotic and abiotic interactions, life history, ecological adaptations and biogeography. Note: Lectures and a week-long field trip.
Prereq: One year of general biology and ecology with grades of "C" (2.0) or higher; permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BIOL 5910. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4974 - Evolution

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4974

A capstone course that draws upon concepts from all fields of biology. Topics include the fossil record, mass extinctions, the historical development of the modern synthesis, principles and mechanisms of evolution, current viewpoints and controversies. Prereq: One year of general biology and general genetics with grades of "C" (2.0) or higher; junior or senior standing strongly recommended. Cross-listed with BIOL 5974. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 4990 - Undergraduate Research Seminar

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 4990

Introduces research in the biological sciences. Students read current scientific literature, attend related seminars and participate in discussions. This course offers students a chance to interact with visiting scientists, who will present state-of-the-field biological research in a seminar setting. Prereq: Senior standing, satisfactory completion of all biology core courses, overall GPA of 3.0 or higher and permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BIOL 6655. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5001 - RM-MSMSP: Cells, Human Systems and Heredity

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5001

Systematic study of key concepts in cell structure and function; energy transformations in living systems, functioning of human systems in health or disease, patterns or process of human inheritance and biotechnology impacts on human society. Concepts are linked to other scientific, mathematical, societal and pedagogical domains. This course is not applicable toward any degree in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Prereq: Permission of project director. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5002 - RM-MSMSP: Ecology, Biodiversity and Adaptation

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5002

Systematic study of biological concepts including ecosystems, population dynamics, food chains, biodiversity and evolutionary processes. Instruction is inquiry-based and interactive. Concepts are linked to other scientific, mathematical, societal and pedagogical domains. This course is not applicable toward any degree in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Prereq: Permission of instructor (project director). Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5003 - RM-MSMSP: The Biology of Life: Integrated Perspectives

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5003

Uses an integrated approach to investigate current biological, ecological and environmental issues including biofuels, climate change, red tides, coral bleaching, biomagnifications of toxins, acid rain and population growth. Note: This course is not applicable toward any degree in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Prereq: BIOL 5001 and BIOL 5002 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5024 - Introduction to Biotechnology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5024

Introduces aspects of biotechnology within a historical context, including medical, forensic, agricultural and microbial biotechnology. Addresses principles behind state-of-the-field techniques in recombinant DNA technology, bioinformatics, proteomics and genomics. Biotechnology regulations and ethics will also be discussed. Prereq: BIOL 4024: one year of general biology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher. BIOL 5024: graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BIOL 4024. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5050 - Advanced Biology Topics

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5050

Examines current topics in the field of biology. Topics vary from term to term. See Schedule Planner for current topics. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BIOL 4050. Semester Hours: 1 to 8
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5051 - Advanced Topics In Microbiology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5051

An in-depth study of microbial concepts, including prokaryotic and eukaryotic structure and function; properties of biological macromolecules; microbial growth kinetics; and microbial diversity. Emphasis is on one of the following: virology, microbial physiology, environmental microbiology, microbial biotechnology and nucleic acids. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BIOL 4051. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
BIOL 5052 - Advanced Ecology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5052
This combination seminar and lecture course focuses on state-of-field knowledge, current theories and recent models in selected areas of ecology, such as theoretical ecology, evolutionary ecology, population biology and ecosystems ecology. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BIOL 4052. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5053 - Disease Ecology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5053
The study of the underlying principles that influence the spatio-temporal patterns of infectious disease in environments. Students will apply ecological theories about concepts such as biodiversity, trophic interactions, landscape structure, and nutrient cycling to the study of disease. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BIOL 4053. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5054 - Developmental Biology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5054
Covers gametogenesis, fertilization, cleavage and development of the embryo with an emphasis on the biochemical and biophysical aspects. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BIOL 4054. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5064 - Advanced Cell Biology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5064
Builds on the foundations laid in the prerequisite courses. Major topics include the functions of cell membranes, energy transduction and regulation of metabolic pathways. A major emphasis is the control and integration of cellular activities. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BIOL 4064. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5074 - Human Reproductive Biology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5074
Comprehensive study of anatomy and physiology of human reproduction. Embryogenesis of male and female reproductive systems and detailed analysis of contraception, world population growth, population control and implications of population growth are also covered. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BIOL 4074. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5099 - Biology For Computer Scientists, Engineers and Mathematicians

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5099
Designed to give a foundation in molecular biology for work in the field of computational biology or bioinformatics. The goal of this new field is to provide predictive capability for diagnosing disease and discovering therapeutics. Prereq: B.S. in computer science, engineering, mathematics or a related discipline. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5125 - Molecular Biology Lab

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5125
Provides hands-on experiences in molecular biology and an appreciation for using the tools of molecular biology to study biological systems. Emphasis is placed on DNA cloning, PCR, mutagenesis and protein purification techniques. Experimental design and the theories underlying the techniques are also discussed. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BIOL 4125. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5126 - Molecular Genetics

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5126
Examines molecular techniques and their application to experimental genetics, specifically organization and mapping of genomes, application and model systems in defining hereditary components of disease, and mechanisms of identifying mutations and their implications for disease. Also addresses application of recombinant DNA technology. Prereq: General genetics and one year of organic chemistry (or equivalent) with grades of "C" (2.0) or higher; biochemistry strongly recommended. Cross-listed with BIOL 4126. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5128 - Topics in Molecular Biology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5128
Literature-based course examining the regulation of gene expression in eukaryotic systems, as well as contemporary recombinant DNA technology and applications of molecular cloning techniques. Prereq: General cell biology and general genetics with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher; biochemistry strongly recommended. Cross-listed with BIOL 4128. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
BIOL 5134 - Human Genetics

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5134
Advanced survey of the current status of the field. Emphasis on understanding, diagnosis and treatment of genetic disease and on the impact of molecular biology on human genetics. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BIOL 4134. Semester Hours: 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5144 - Medical Microbiology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5144
Provides an understanding of the relationship between pathogenic organisms and their host. Emphasis is placed on the area of medical bacteriology, with attention given to mechanisms of pathogenesis, genetics of disease, serology and treatment. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BIOL 4144. Semester Hours: 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5154 - Conservation Biology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5154
Basic concepts and theories in population biology and genetics as they apply to issues relating to the preservation of biodiversity, such as the genetics of small populations, captive propagation, restoration ecology and the design of nature reserves. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BIOL 4154. Semester Hours: 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5165 - Neurobiology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5165
Overview of neuroscience, covering the cellular basis of neuronal activity, muscle, sensory structures and the structure and function of the human brain. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BIOL 4165. Semester Hours: 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5250 - Mechanisms of Animal Behavior

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5250
The proximate and ultimate mechanisms of animal behavior are analyzed using comparative animal examples from the scientific literature. Proximate mechanisms include genetic and physiological processes. Ultimate mechanisms include the role of natural and sexual selection in the evolution of behavior. Prereq: One year of general biology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher. Genetics and human physiology are recommended. Cross-listed with BIOL 4250. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5315 - Plant Systematics

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5315
Lecture, lab and field trips. Extensive introduction to the basic principles and concepts of vascular plant systematics. Topics include principles of taxonomy, nomenclature, methods, systems of classification and field and herbarium procedures. Emphasis on plant structure and identification using fresh, frozen and pressed plant specimens. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BIOL 4315. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5330 - Evolution and Diversification of Plants

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5330
Surveys the diverse assemblage of green algae and land plants. Ecological and evolutionary principles are used to interpret patterns of form and function within the context of their phylogeny as revealed from molecular systematics. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5335 - Plant Science

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5335
Lecture, lab and field trips. An in-depth study of flowering plants, including embryology, structure, function, reproduction, ecology and evolution of the group. Emphasis is placed upon morphology and anatomy at all stages of plant development. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BIOL 4335. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5345 - Flora of Colorado

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5345
Lecture, lab and field trips. Introduces the vascular plant flora of Colorado, including ferns, gymnosperms and flowering plants. Emphasis on field identification of species representing a range of natural communities from grassland to alpine tundra, as well as non-natives. Field and herbarium techniques covered. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BIOL 4345. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
BIOL 5415 - Microbial Ecology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5415
An in-depth study of ecology as it relates to microorganisms; abiotic and biotic interactions within microbial populations in macro- and microhabitats; and the role of microorganisms in maintaining steady state conditions in natural ecosystems. Emphasis is placed on how the ecology of microorganisms affects the human condition. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BIOL 4415. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5416 - Aquatic Ecology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5416
This advanced ecology course examines the inter-relations of biological (including humans), physical and chemical components of wetlands, streams, rivers, lakes, reservoirs and groundwater. Learning is facilitated through lectures, discussions, student presentations, laboratory and field exercises. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BIOL 4416. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5425 - Biogeography

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5425
An in-depth study of biological populations through analysis of geographic distribution patterns in space and time. Emphasis on how biogeography informs studies of evolution and ecology and on applied studies in conservation, sustainability, epidemiology, and disease dynamics. Prereq: One year of general biology with a grade of "C" (2.0) or higher. Cross-listed with BIOL 4425. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5445 - Applied Environmental Biology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5445
Examines the reciprocal relationships of organisms and the environment at scales from microbes to ecosystems. Explores the impact of human-caused perturbations on organisms as well as the impact of living systems on the flow of energy and materials (natural and man-made) through the environment. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor; one year of general biology and one year of general chemistry; introductory ecology recommended. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5450 - Marine Biology
Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5450
Looks at the fascinating organisms that inhabit the oceans, which represent 99% of the living space of the earth. While the focus is on the ecology of marine organisms, taxonomy, physiology and anatomy are also covered. Prereq: One year of general biology. Cross-listed with BIOL 4450. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5455 - Comparative Environmental Physiology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5455
This advanced physiology course explores the physiological evolutionary adaptations of different animals in the context of their environment. Content includes exploration of maintenance of homeostasis via feedback regulation, structure-function relationships, cellular physiology, and the study of organ systems including the nervous, endocrine, respiratory, reproductive and cardiovascular systems. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BIOL 4455. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5460 - Environmental Toxicology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5460
Text and literature-based course provides students with background knowledge concerning environmental toxins, the nature and extent of environmental contamination, and toxicant effects on individual organisms and populations. Prereq: Human physiology with grades of "C" (2.0) or higher; organic chemistry and/or biochemistry strongly recommended. Cross-listed with BIOL 4460. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5474 - Ecological Methods

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5474
Lecture, laboratory. Deals with the empirical aspects of an ecological study. Students learn sampling techniques that are used in plant and animal ecology. Emphasis is placed on hypothesis testing, data analysis and experimental field designs. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BIOL 4474. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5475 - Mechanisms of Human Pathology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5475
Studies physiological, cellular and biochemical processes in human diseases, with particular focus on non-communicable diseases such as diabetes, cardiovascular disease and diseases of aging such as osteoporosis and macular degeneration. Prereq:
Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BIOL 4475. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5494 - Population and Evolutionary Genetics

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5494

Introduces the genetic processes underlying evolutionary change in microbial, plant and animal populations. Topics include: sources of variation, Hardy-Weinberg equilibrium, population genetic structure, natural selection and other evolutionary forces, quantitative genetics and molecular phylogenetics. Emphasis on experimental data. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BIOL 4494. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5550 - Cell Signaling

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5550

Lecture by faculty and student presentations cover mechanism of hormones and regulation of various cellular processes through second messenger systems. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BIOL 4550. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5560 - Seminar: Nervous System Disorders

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5560

Opening lectures cover the scientific process and how to review original scientific literature. Students present seminars on original research focusing on the neural bases of diseases such as Parkinson's, Alzheimer's and schizophrenia. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. BIOL 5165 or 4165 is strongly recommended. Cross-listed with BIOL 4560. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5621 - Immunology

Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5621

Studies antibody-antigen interactions, the immune system, inflammation, hypersensitivity, autoimmunity, and recovery from infection. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BIOL 4621. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BIOL 5622 - Topics in Immunology
Summer 2010 Registration BIOL 5622

Introduces the knowledge and skills of Project Management (PM) in a business environment. Emphasis will be on the entire project life cycle, the project management process groups and the knowledge areas as presented in the Project Management Body of Knowledge (PMBOK) from the Project Management Institute (PMI). Managerial aspects, quantitative tools and traditional techniques of Project Management will be covered. Application to various industries will be included. Note: cannot receive credit for both BUSN 6820 and DSCI 6820. Cross-listed with DSCI 6820 and URPL 6686. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BUSN 6822 - Services Operations

Summer 2010 Registration BUSN 6822

Examines the unique issues involved in the management of service operations. Operations Management principles specific to service industries are given in depth coverage. In addition, simulation is introduced as a technique for studying service industries. Note: cannot receive credit for both BUSN 6822 and DSCI 6822. Prereq: BUSN 6530 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with DSCI 6822. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
BUSN 6824 - Business Forecasting

Summer 2010 Registration BUSN 6824
Modern businesses use forecasts in marketing, finance, accounting, human resources management and supply chain and production management decision making. This course focuses on practical application of forecasting techniques, choosing and comparing appropriate methods and applying the results to the business application. Note: Can only receive credit for one of the cross listed courses. Prereq: BUSN 6530 or FNCE 6290. Cross-listed with DSCI 6230 and FNCE 6372. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BUSN 6826 - Supply Chain Management

Summer 2010 Registration BUSN 6826
Introduces the application of purchasing, operations, and logistics to the entire supply chain of an organization. Because of globalization and the rapid advancement of information technology, emphasis is placed on integration management of processes and systems, relationship management of upstream and downstream players and strategies that incorporate current and future trends. Note: Cannot receive credit for both BUSN 6826 and DSCI 6826. Cross-listed with DSCI 6826. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BUSN 6828 - Business Applications of Data Mining

Summer 2010 Registration BUSN 6828
Addresses statistical approaches to the very large data sets increasingly common in business applications such as internet-based business, fraud detection, credit scoring and market segmentation. Topics include limitations of classical statistical when applied to large data sets, alternative approaches and applications of key data mining algorithms such as logistic regression, decision trees and cluster analysis. Emphasis is placed on proper choice of method, interpretation of the results and understanding of the strengths and limitations of the methods. Students are expected to analyze and report on a variety of data sets drawn from business applications areas. Note: cannot receive credit for both BUSN 6828 and DSCI 6828. Prereq: BUSN 6530 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with DSCI 6828. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BUSN 6830 - Business and the Natural Environment

Summer 2010 Registration BUSN 6830
Class considers the impact of economic activity on the natural environment and the regulatory, market and corporate voluntary responses to reducing this impact. Topics include externalities, life cycle assessment, environmental accounting, corporate environmental reporting, ISP 14000 certification and sustainability. Semester Hours: 3 to
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BUSN 6832 - Quality and Process Improvement

Summer 2010 Registration BUSN 6832
Studies the identification, measurement and improvement of quality and the practical management issues related to implementing quality systems within organizations. Topics include historic and contemporary views of quality, statistical quality control tools including Six Sigma, work design and measurement and process flow and design. Note: cannot receive credit for both BUSN 6832and DSCI 6440. Prereq: BUSN 6530 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with DSCI 6440. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BUSN 6834 - Simulation Modeling

Summer 2010 Registration BUSN 6834
Students learn to model and analyze complex dynamic systems using state-of-the are software such as Arena. Illustrative application areas include production systems, service systems, distribution systems and health care systems. Topics include creating reliable simulation models, analyzing the input and output from the model and managing simulation projects. a substantial part of the course will be devoted to projects where students define, model and analyze a significant system of their choosing. Note: Cannot receive credit for both BUSN 6834 and DSCI 6480. Prereq: Permission of instructor. Cross-listed with DSCI 6480. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BUSN 6836 - Decision Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration BUSN 6836
Examines business decision making under conditions of risk and uncertainty using quantitative decision analysis methods such as utility theory, value of information, decisions with conflicting objectives and hierarchical structured models. Applications include decisions commonly encountered in capital acquisitions, financial investments, quality control, project selection, strategic planning, production control and human resource management. Student computer-assisted projects are conducted. Note: Cannot receive credit for both BUSN 6836 and DSCI 6460. Cross-listed with DSCI 6460. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BUSN 6840 - Accounting and Finance for Sustainability

Summer 2010 Registration BUSN 6840
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Busn 6850 - Accounting and Finance for Sustainability

Summer 2010 Registration BUSN 6850
Helping companies and communities become more socially and environmentally sustainable requires information and investment. This class introduces internal accounting techniques that aid companies in becoming more eco-efficient and external reporting to help investors value a company along social and environmental dimensions. How and when to report potential environmental liabilities and different models of sustainability reporting are also discussed. At the national level we examine alternative measures of GDP that better represent social and environmental aspects of the country. Markets can be powerful tools for change. We look at emissions trading, microfinance and socially responsible investing. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

BUSN 6860 - Finance in the Sports Entertainment Industries

Summer 2010 Registration BUSN 6860
This course explores the problems and solutions of financing in sports and entertainment business. It focuses on stadium/venue financing, sports team valuation, entertainment event guarantee estimation, player/artist salary issues and managing disparate revenue streams. The course utilizes speakers, articles, problem sets and cases. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 1000 - Foundations for General Chemistry

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 1000
This course prepares for CHEM 2031 or 1130. Note: For students with no previous chemistry or with inadequate background. Prereq: MATH 1110 or high school equivalent. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 1111 - Freshman Seminar

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 1111
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 1115
Covers content areas of undergraduate chemistry. Topics include periodicity; the mole and chemical bonding; the kinetic theory and states of matter; chemical reactions; solutions and chemical equilibria. Semester Hours: 1to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 1130 - Engineering General Chemistry

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 1130
A one-semester non-laboratory version of general chemistry for engineers and those science majors who do not require laboratory credit and do not plan to take a second semester of chemistry. Prereq: One year of high school chemistry or Chem 1000 and Math 1110 (or high school equivalent). Semester Hours: 5to 5
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 1474 - Core Chemistry: Chemistry For the Consumer

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 1474
Focuses on the common household chemicals that affect us on a daily basis. Students learn the underlying chemistry of nuclear power, sunscreens, food, cleaning agents, etc. Home-based laboratory experiments with safe, common substances. Semester Hours: 4to 4
GT Pathways Category Key: GT-SC1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 2031 - General Chemistry I

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 2031
Topics include chemical structure, atomic and molecular properties, molecular geometry and bonding, and gas laws. Prepares students to take upper division chemistry courses. Note: a beginning course for science majors, medical technologists, pre-medical and pre-dental students. Prereq: One year of high school chemistry or CHEM 1000 and MATH 1110 (or high school equivalent); Coreq: CHEM 2038. Semester Hours: 3to 3
GT Pathways Category Key: GT-SC1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 2038 - General Chemistry Laboratory I

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 2038
Students perform laboratory experiments on topics covered in CHEM 2031 and gain experience in observing, recording, and interpreting physical and chemical phenomena. Note: Laboratory to accompany CHEM 2031. Coreq: CHEM 2031. Semester Hours: 1to 1
GT Pathways Category Key: GT-SC1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
CHEM 2061 - General Chemistry II

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 2061
(Continuation of CHEM 2031.) Topics include kinetics, equilibria and thermodynamics. Prereq: CHEM 2031; Coreq: CHEM 2068. Semester Hours: 3to 3 GT Pathways Category Key: GT-SC1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 2068 - General Chemistry Laboratory II

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 2068
Students gain experience with laboratory technique and elementary chemical instrumentation. Note: Laboratory to accompany CHEM 2061 and a continuation of CHEM 2038. Prereq: CHEM 2038; Coreq: CHEM 2061. Semester Hours: 2to 2 GT Pathways Category Key: GT-SC1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 2300 - Nutritional Chemistry

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 2300
Introduces nutrition intended primarily for majors in nursing, physical therapy, physical education. Topics include structure and metabolism of carbohydrates, lipids and proteins, functions of vitamins and minerals and food constituents. Prereq: CHEM 1000, 1474 or high school chemistry. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 2840 - Independent Study: Chem

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 2840
Semester Hours: 1to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 2939 - Internship/Cooperative Education

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 2939
Experiences involving application of specific, relevant concepts and skills in supervised employment situations. Prereq: 15 hours of 2.75 GPA. Semester Hours: 1to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 3011 - Inorganic Chemistry

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 3011
The fundamentals of inorganic chemistry, including: atomic, molecular and crystal structures; the energetics of reactions, acid-base interactions; and the chemistry of main group and transition metal elements, including coordination and organometallic chemistry. Prereq or Coreq: CHEM 3421 or 3491. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 3018 - Inorganic Chemistry Laboratory

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 3018
Combines theoretical concepts with hands-on laboratory experience and introduces students to modern inorganic chemistry. Experiments cover both main group and transition metal chemistry with an emphasis on synthesis, characterization, and application of inorganic compounds. Prereq or Coreq: CHEM 3011. Semester Hours: 2to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 3111 - Analytical Chemistry

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 3111
Topics include sampling, volumetric analyses, instrumental analyses and statistical treatment of data. Note: Lecture course for chemistry, biology, medical technology and environmental students. Prereq: CHEM 2061. Semester Hours: 3to 3 When Offered: FALL
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 3118 - Analytical Chemistry Laboratory

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 3118
Students gain experience with technique of sampling and analysis, including an introduction to instrumental methods. Note: Laboratory course to be taken concurrently with CHEM 3111. Prereq: CHEM 2068; Coreq: CHEM 3111. Semester Hours: 2to 2 When Offered: FALL
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 3411 - Organic Chemistry I

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 3411
Lecture course designed to introduce the study of structure, reactions, properties, and mechanisms of organic molecules. Prereq: CHEM 2061. Semester Hours: 4to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 3418 - Organic Chemistry Laboratory I

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 3418
Laboratory course to augment concepts of CHEM 3411, illustrating the practical aspects of organic chemistry. Prereq: CHEM 2068; Prereq or Coreq: CHEM 3411. Semester
CHEM 3421 - Organic Chemistry II

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 3421
Lecture course designed to introduce the study of structure, reaction, properties and mechanisms of organic molecules. Note: Continuation of CHEM 3411. Prereq: CHEM 3411. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 3428 - Organic Chemistry Laboratory II

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 3428
Laboratory course to augment concepts of CHEM 3421, illustrating the practical aspects of organic chemistry. Prereq: CHEM 3418; Prereq or Coreq: CHEM 3421. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 3491 - Honors Organic Chemistry II

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 3491
Second semester organic chemistry. Theoretical concepts and practical aspects of organic structure, mechanism, synthesis and analysis. Note: Required for chemistry majors and open to all students. No joint credit with CHEM 3421. Prereq: CHEM 3411. Coreq: CHEM 3498. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 3498 - Honors Organic Chemistry Laboratory II

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 3498
In small groups, students use the chemical literature to devise multi-step syntheses and determine reaction mechanisms for organic compounds. Note: Laboratory course required for chemistry majors. Open to non-majors on approval of the instructor. Prereq or Coreq: CHEM 3491. Semester Hours: 2 to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 3810 - Biochemistry

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 3810
Introduces the principles of biochemistry for science and health science-oriented majors. Designed to cover the important aspects of modern biochemistry. Prereq: BIOL 2061 and CHEM 3411. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
CHEM 3840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 3840
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 3939 - Internship/Cooperative Education

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 3939
Designed experiences involving application of specific, relevant concepts and skills in supervised employment situations. Prereq: Junior standing and at least a 2.75 GPA. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 4121 - Instrumental Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 4121
Surveys instrumental methods of analysis. Emphasis on spectrophotometry, electrochemistry, chromatography and radiochemical techniques. Prereq: CHEM 3111, 3421 or 3491, and PHYS 2331; Coreq for Chemistry majors: CHEM 4128. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 4128 - Instrumental Analysis Laboratory

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 4128
Laboratory practice to accompany CHEM 4121. One hour of discussion and three hours of laboratory, with an emphasis on writing laboratory reports. Note: Required of chemistry majors and open to other students in CHEM 4121. Coreq: CHEM 4121. Semester Hours: 2 to 2
When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 4511 - Physical Chemistry I

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 4511
Includes study of the laws of thermodynamics, thermochemistry, chemical equilibria, solutions and statistical mechanics. Prereq: PHYS 2331; Coreq: MATH 3511. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
When Offered: FALL
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 4518 - Physical Chemistry Laboratory I

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 4518
Instruction in the experimental techniques of physical chemistry with emphasis on the properties of gases, thermodynamics and chemical equilibrium. Prereq: CHEM 3118; Coreq: CHEM 4511. Semester Hours: 2 to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 4521 - Physical Chemistry II

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 4521
Continuation of CHEM 4511, with emphasis on chemical kinetics, quantum mechanics, molecular structure and spectroscopy. Prereq: CHEM 4511 and MATH 3511. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 4538 - Physical Chemistry II Laboratory

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 4538
Instruction in the experimental techniques of physical chemistry with emphasis on quantum chemistry, spectroscopy and chemical kinetics. Prereq: CHEM 4518; Coreq: CHEM 4521. Semester Hours: 2 to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 4700 - Environmental Chemistry

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 4700
A discussion of the sources, reactions, transport, effects, and fates of chemical species in the water, soil, and air environments. Prereq: CHEM 3111 or 3411. Cross-listed with CHEM 5700. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 4810 - General Biochemistry I

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 4810
Topics include structure, conformation, and properties of proteins; enzymes, mechanisms and kinetics; carbohydrates, lipids and membranes, and energetics. Prereq: CHEM 3421 or 3491. Cross-listed with CHEM 5810. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 4820 - General Biochemistry II

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 4820
Topics include biosynthesis and metabolism of carbohydrates, lipids and amino acids, information processing. Note: continuation of CHEM 4810. Prereq: CHEM 4810. Cross-listed with CHEM 5820. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
CHEM 4828 - Biochemistry Lab

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 4828
Focuses on modern laboratory techniques for biochemical research, with an emphasis on methods for protein isolation, purification, and identification. Students perform experiments involving (but not limited to) chromatography, electrophoresis, spectrophotometry, and protein activity assays. Prereq: CHEM 3810 or 4810. Semester Hours: 2 to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 4835 - Biochemistry of Cancer

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 4835
Explores the biochemical aspects of cancer causation and treatment. Topics include DNA and protein damage, oncogenes and tumor suppressors, the chemistry of chemotherapeutic agents, and the mechanisms of resistance to anticancer drugs. Prereq: CHEM 3810, 4810, or 5810. Cross-listed with CHEM 5835. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 4840 - Independent Study: Chem

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 4840
Prereq: Permission of instructor required. Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 5010 - Advanced Inorganic Chemistry

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 5010
Covers the fundamental principles of inorganic chemistry. Topics include atomic structure and periodicity, molecular symmetry, bonding, structural chemistry, main-group chemistry, coordination chemistry, and organometallic chemistry. Prereq: CHEM 3011 and CHEM 4521 or equivalent, or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 5071 - RM-MSMSP: Atoms and Properties of Matter

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 5071
Systematic study of the structure of the atom, how atoms interact to form bonds, how matter behaves at the molecular level, the periodic table, and the macroscopic properties of matter. Concepts are linked to other scientific, mathematical, societal, and pedagogical domains. This course is not applicable toward any degree in the College of
CheM 5072 - RM-MSMSP: Interactions of Elements and Compounds

Summer 2010 Registration CheM 5072
Systematic study of solubility (physical and chemical properties of solutions and the chemistry of acids, bases, pH, and buffer solutions), oxidation or reduction reactions, reaction energetics (thermodynamics and kinetics), and applications of chemistry to environmental, biochemical, and nutritional problems. Concepts are linked to other scientific, mathematical, societal, and pedagogical domains. This course is not applicable toward any degree in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Prereq: CheM 5071 (or equivalent) and permission of project director. Semester Hours: 4to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CheM 5110 - Advanced Analytical Chemistry

Summer 2010 Registration CheM 5110
Explores the fundamental principles of analytical chemistry. Topics will focus on meteorology (the science of making measurements), measurements based on energy transfer (e.g. spectroscopic analysis), and measurements based on mass transfer (e.g. chemical separations and electrochemistry). Prereq: Undergraduate instrumental analysis or equivalent. Semester Hours: 4to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CheM 5130 - Surface Analytical Techniques

Summer 2010 Registration CheM 5130
Surveys widely used techniques for surface analysis, including thermal desorption, mass spectrometry, X-ray photoelectron spectroscopy, and surface electrochemistry. Applications to catalyst and organic or biological surfaces are included. Prereq: CheM 4121 or equivalent. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CheM 5250 - Chemometrics: Data Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration CheM 5250
Provides chemists and environmental scientists with the basic statistical skills for effective data analysis and experimental design. Minimal theoretical detail is provided; practical applications and graphical techniques are emphasized. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CheM 5310 - Advanced Organic Chemistry
Summer 2010 Registration
CHEM 5310
An exploration of structure, bonding and reactivity in organic modules that includes extensive analysis of the chemical literature, culminating in written and seminar presentations of individual projects. Prereq: CHEM 3421 and 4521. Semester Hours: 4to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 5510 - Computational Chemistry

Summer 2010 Registration
CHEM 5510
Classical and ab initio molecular dynamics are covered from theory to application. Students have access to high-performance computational resources and cover current topics in the field. Prereq: CHEM 4521 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 5520 - Molecular Structure and Spectra

Summer 2010 Registration
CHEM 5520
Applies quantum mechanics to the understanding of molecular structure and spectroscopy. Prereq: CHEM 4521. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 5530 - Advanced Physical Chemistry

Summer 2010 Registration
CHEM 5530
Explores fundamental properties of molecules (bond length and strength, the potential energy surface, reaction rates, etc.) and examines how these properties are measured, using original literature as the primary source, and culminating in written and seminar presentations of individual projects. Prereq: CHEM 4511, 4521 and 4538 or equivalent. Semester Hours: 4to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 5550 - Applications of Group Theory in Chemistry

Summer 2010 Registration
CHEM 5550
Introduces the basic principles of the group theoretical method as well as its applications in organic, inorganic, and physical chemistry. Covers Mo's for main-group and transition metal compounds, ligand field theory, molecular vibrations, and electron absorption spectroscopy. Prereq: CHEM 4521 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 5600 - Topics in Chemistry
Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 5600
Note: Topics vary from year to year. Prereq: Graduate standing. Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 5700 - Environmental Chemistry

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 5700
A discussion of the sources, reactions, transport, effects, and fates of chemical species in the water, soil and air environments. Prereq: CHEM 3111, 3411, and graduate standing. Cross-listed with CHEM 4700. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 5710 - Air Pollution Chemistry

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 5710
Chemical processes occurring in the atmosphere are discussed. Includes application to air pollution problems, including urban air pollution, air quality standards, non-urban air pollution, acid deposition, and stratospheric pollution. Prereq: CHEM 4521 or 4700. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 5720 - Atmospheric Sampling and Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 5720
Fundamentals of environmental sampling specifically applied to the atmosphere are discussed. Includes a variety of techniques for the measurement of monitoring gaseous, semi-volatile and particulate air pollutants, techniques for the measurement of criteria pollutants, chemical and physical measurements of particulate and air toxins. Prereq: CHEM 4700 or CHEM 5710 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 5810 - General Biochemistry I

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 5810
Topics include structure, conformation, and properties of proteins; enzymes, mechanisms and kinetics; carbohydrates, lipids and membranes, and energetics. Prereq: CHEM 3421 or 3491. Cross-listed with CHEM 4810. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 5820 - General Biochemistry II

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 5820
Topics include biosynthesis and metabolism of carbohydrates, lipids and amino acids, information processing. Note: Continuation of CHEM 5810. Prereq: CHEM 5810. Cross-
CHEM 5835 - Biochemistry of Cancer

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 5835
Explores the biochemical aspects of cancer causation and treatment. Topics include DNA and protein damage, oncogenes and tumor suppressors, the chemistry of chemotherapeutic agents, and the mechanisms of resistance to anticancer drugs. Prereq: CHEM 3810, 4810, or 5810. Cross-listed with CHEM 4835. Semester Hours: 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 5840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 5840
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 5939 - Cooperative Education

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 5939
Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 5950 - Master's Thesis

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 5950
Semester Hours: 1 to 8
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 6000 - Chemistry Seminar

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 6000
Faculty and student presentations of CU-Denver research projects and other current chemistry topics. Note: All chemistry students are encouraged to attend, but credit is given only to those who present seminars. Prereq: Graduate standing. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 6001 - Master's Research Seminar

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 6001
Students present a formal seminar to the department describing their master's research work. Note: Required for all students completing a thesis-based master's degree; optional for those completing master's projects. Prereq: Participation in master's thesis or project research; CHEM 6000. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 6002 - Chemistry Seminar I

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 6002
The art of listening to and giving a chemistry seminar. Introduces the chemical literature, the pedagogical techniques of seminar giving, and the critical thinking skills required to understand a technical presentation. Note: Seminar presentations by faculty, outside speakers, and advanced graduate students are analyzed by the students participating in the course. Prereq: Graduate standing. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 6003 - Chemistry Seminar II

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 6003
Students prepare and give a chemical seminar based on a literature paper. Note: Seminar presentations by students and outside speakers are analyzed by students in the course. Prereq: Graduate standing. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 6840 - Independent Study: Chem

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 6840
Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 6950 - Master's Thesis

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 6950
Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHEM 6960 - Master's Report

Summer 2010 Registration CHEM 6960
Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHIN 1010 - Beginning Chinese I
CHIN 1010 - A basic introduction to Chinese language and culture.
Students study pronunciation, vocabulary, grammar and simple writing techniques. Note: Students may not enroll in any lower division (1000/2000) language skills course in which their level of proficiency exceeds that of the course. Students placing into a course through any means other than following the regular sequence must consult with an appropriate faculty member of the Dept. of Modern Languages prior to enrollment. No previous study of Chinese is required. Semester Hours: 5to 5
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHIN 1020 - Beginning Chinese II

Continuation of CHIN 1010. Further practice of pronunciation, study of vocabulary, grammar, and simple writing techniques. Note: Students may not enroll in any lower division (1000/2000) language skills course in which their level of proficiency exceeds that of the course. Students placing into a course through any means other than following the regular sequence must consult with an appropriate faculty member of the Dept. of Modern Languages prior to enrollment. Prereq: CHIN 1010. Semester Hours: 5to 5
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHIN 1071 - Mandarin Chinese for the Professions

Continuation of CHIN 1010. Provides students with language skills and cultural knowledge in the context of conducting business with Chinese. Students develop elementary language skills for communication, cultural awareness and business etiquette via structured thematic units with business scenarios and simulations. Note: Chinese 1071 cannot be taken to fulfill language requirements; nor can it be used to substitute for Chinese 1010. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHIN 1111 - Freshman Seminar

Continuation of CHIN 1010. Provides students with language skills and cultural knowledge in the context of conducting business with Chinese. Students develop elementary language skills for communication, cultural awareness and business etiquette via structured thematic units with business scenarios and simulations. Note: Chinese 1071 cannot be taken to fulfill language requirements; nor can it be used to substitute for Chinese 1010. Semester Hours: 1to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHIN 2110 - Second Year Chinese I

Continuation of CHIN 1010. Continuing development of listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills in practical Chinese, with grammar review and introduction of the Chinese dictionary. In addition to contemporary Chinese, there is some emphasis on Chinese classical materials, such as proverbs. Note: Students may not enroll in any lower division (1000/2000) language skills course in which their level of proficiency exceeds that of the course. Students placing into a course through any means other than following the regular sequence must consult with an appropriate faculty member of the Dept. of Modern Languages prior to enrollment. Prereq: CHIN 1020. Semester Hours: 5 to 5
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHIN 2120 - Second Year Chinese II

Summer 2010 Registration CHIN 2120
(Continuation of CHIN 2110.) Satisfies the fourth semester language requirement at most graduate schools. Note: Students may not enroll in any lower division (1000/2000) language skills course in which their level of proficiency exceeds that of the course. Students placing into a course through any means other than following the regular sequence must consult with an appropriate faculty member of the Dept. of Modern Languages prior to enrollment. Prereq: CHIN 2110. Semester Hours: 5 to 5
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHIN 2840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration CHIN 2840
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHIN 2939 - Internship/Cooperative Education

Summer 2010 Registration CHIN 2939
Experiences involving application of specific, relevant concepts and skills in supervised employment situations. Prereq: 15 hours of 2.75 GPA. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHIN 2970 - Contemporary Chinese Cinema

Summer 2010 Registration CHIN 2970
Introduces students to Chinese cinema, one of the most powerful and often controversial modes of representing society, culture, history and politics in China. Note: Taught in English. All films have English subtitles. No previous study of Chinese language or culture is required. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHIN 3300 - Special Topics on Chinese Film
Summer 2010 Registration CHIN 3300
Studies the cultural, social and historical conditions that have shaped Chinese cinema. May focus on one Chinese speaking country or more than one (including but not limited to China, Taiwan and Hong Kong). May focus on a particular period (pre-Cultural revolution, for example) or a particular theme (urban cinema or martial arts films, for example). Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHIN 3840 - Independent Study: CHIN

Summer 2010 Registration CHIN 3840
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CHIN 3995 - Travel Study

Summer 2010 Registration CHIN 3995
A travel study abroad course to one or more Chinese speaking countries. Topics of the course will vary depending on the instructor, sites visited and focus of the course. Topics may include intensive language training, film studies, contemporary issues, literary and cultural studies, etc. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CLAS 1020 - Introduction to Career Planning

Summer 2010 Registration CLAS 1020
Introduces an integrative career planning process that fosters an in-depth understanding of individual interests, personality, skills and values which serves as a foundation for choosing satisfying majors and careers. Students research career options and develop a career plan. Topics include changing workforce, employability skills and current workplace trends. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CLAS 1100 - American Ways: Communication, Culture, and the Classroom

Summer 2010 Registration CLAS 1100
Provides an introduction to U.S. cultural issues. Geared specifically for foreign students, this course serves to orient students to the social and historical milieu in which they will be functioning while pursuing their degree. Although the focus is on the U.S., the subject matter is to serve as a vehicle for cross-cultural analysis. Semester Hours: 2 to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CLAS 1111 - Freshman Seminar
Summer 2010 Registration CLAS 1111
An academic course for entering freshmen, taught under a controlled enrollment environment to promote student faculty interaction and critical thinking skills. An ancillary function is to provide students with academic proficiencies necessary for success in a liberal arts baccalaureate program. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CLAS 2939 - Cooperative Education

Summer 2010 Registration CLAS 2939
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CLAS 3020 - Education, Mentoring, and Leadership

Summer 2010 Registration CLAS 3020
Introduces challenges in and tools for addressing issues of mentoring and leadership in school settings. Students are required to think about various needs, origins, moral dilemmas, requirements, and techniques of mentoring and leadership with students and work to develop mentoring skills for application in schools. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CLAS 3100 - Perspectives on Teaching

Summer 2010 Registration CLAS 3100
Introduces major concepts in education; e.g., characteristics of schools, students, the roles of teachers, voices that influence education, innovations in education, and the teaching responsibilities that future teachers are expected to assume. Prereq: An education internship. Semester Hours: 2 to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CLAS 3935 - Outward Bound

Summer 2010 Registration CLAS 3935
The University of Colorado at Denver offers college credit for Colorado Outward Bound School programs. COBS promotes education, service, and personal growth through wilderness experience. COBS offers courses in a variety of locations that span the canyons, rivers, and mountains of Colorado and the West. Semester Hours: 1 to 10
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CLAS 3939 - Cooperative Education
Summer 2010 Registration CLAS 3939
Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CLAS 4840 - Independent Study: CLAS

Summer 2010 Registration CLAS 4840
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CNST 1000 - China and the Chinese

Summer 2010 Registration CNST 1000
A multidisciplinary introduction to Chinese society both past and present. Prehistory, birth of imperial China, literature, philosophy, religion, nationalism, revolution, modernization, contemporary life, social structure, gender, food, family life, population policy, ethnicity, popular culture, economics and politics. Note: This course is taught in English. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 GT Pathways Category Key: GT-AH1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CNST 4000 - Senior Seminar in Chinese Studies

Summer 2010 Registration CNST 4000
Capstone course in the Chinese studies program in which students design and carry out independent research projects on topics of their choice. Prereq: CNST 1000 and 15 hours in Chinese studies. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

COMM 1011 - Fundamentals of Communication

Summer 2010 Registration CMMU 1011
Studies communication theory and application. Topics include communication models, interpersonal communication and the concept of self, nonverbal communication, message preparation and analysis, and decision making. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 GT Pathways Category Key: GT-SS3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

COMM 1021 - Fundamentals of Mass Communication

Summer 2010 Registration CMMU 1021
Studies relationships among television, radio, newspapers, magazines and society. Examines the effects of exposure to mass media, mass media ownership and control, mass media law, technical aspects of message and program production, and delivery. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Summer 2010 Registration C J 7320
Considers the major issues confronting police executives, such as professionalism, recruitment, selection, training, deployment, innovation, evaluation, and charges of brutality, in efficiency and corruption. Cross-listed with CRJU 5320. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CRJU 7321 - Research Methods in Criminal Justice

Summer 2010 Registration C J 7321
Provides an assessment of research strategies in criminal justice through an examination of applied research designs and analytical models. The logic and rationale of these various strategies are contrasted, and their relative merits are critiqued. Selected research problems in the criminal justice system are utilized to illustrate the application and interpretation of alternative strategies. Cross-listed with CRJU 5321. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CRJU 7325 - Qualitative Methods for Criminal Justice

Summer 2010 Registration C J 7325
Focuses on qualitative methods applicable to research in the field of criminal justice. The primary focus is on ethnographic approaches employing such fieldwork techniques as observation, participant observation, interviews, content analysis, life histories and case studies. Cross-listed with CRJU 5325. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CRJU 7330 - Gangs and Criminal Organizations
Summer 2010 Registration C J 7325
This course examines extent, nature and trends of gangs and criminal organizations. We focus on contemporary studies and theories of gang behavior and organized crime. The course examines types of crime, gender and race issues, transnational violence, and public policies regarding criminal organizations. Cross-listed with CRJU 5330. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CRJU 7391 - Sex Offenders and Offenses

Summer 2010 Registration C J 7325
This course will focus on challenges practitioners face in the management of sex offenders. It covers development of programs and partnerships that can effectively assess, inform, manage and treat sex offenders through all phases of the system and reduce recidivism. Cross-listed with CRJU 5391. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CRJU 7410 - Victimology

Summer 2010 Registration C J 7410
This course examines victim-offender relationships, the interactions between victims and the criminal justice system and the connections between victims and other social groups and institutions among various populations. This course addresses the theory, history, research, legislation and policy implications related to the social construction of "The Victim." Cross-listed with CRJU 5410. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CRJU 7420 - Violence in Society

Summer 2010 Registration C J 7420
This course examines various aspects of violence including distribution over time and space, situations and circumstances associated with violent victimization and offending, and how social institutions, community structure and cultural factors shape violent events. Cross-listed with CRJU 5420. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CRJU 7430 - Drugs, Alcohol and Crime

Summer 2010 Registration C J 7430
This course provides an interdisciplinary overview of theory, research and policy issues surrounding the relationship between drugs, alcohol and crime; and the criminal justice system response. The course explores the socially constructed nature of illegal substances and connections to U.S. drug policy. Cross-listed with CRJU 5430. Semester
CRJU 7510 - Seminar: Contemporary Issues in Law Enforcement

_Summer 2010 Registration C J 7510_

Examines current thinking and experience with respect to changing and reforming police programs and practices. The course focuses primarily on the American police experience, reviewing major innovations, exploring their rationale, and examining organizational impediments to their implementation. Cross-listed with CRJU 5510. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CRJU 7520 - Seminar: Corrections

_Summer 2010 Registration C J 7520_

Provides a critical examination of the development and implementation of correctional systems in America. The course presents the origins of correctional efforts and the evolution of the prison; reviews punishment and rehabilitation rationales in the context of sentencing models; examines the social organization of the prison, including inmate subcultures and staff work strategies; and assesses the inmates’ rights movement and the impact of judicial intervention in correctional settings. Cross-listed with CRJU 5520. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CRJU 7530 - Seminar: Community Corrections

_Summer 2010 Registration C J 7530_

Analyzes the theories and practices of probation and parole, responses of paroling authorities to public pressures and court controls, and their implications for rehabilitation. Efforts to bridge institutional settings and community life, as well as the feasibility and effectiveness of treating individuals under sentence in the community, are reviewed. Cross-listed with CRJU 5530. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CRJU 7540 - Seminar: Juvenile Justice Administration

_Summer 2010 Registration C J 7540_

Examines the policies and practices of agencies in processing youthful offenders through the juvenile court system, reviews trends in juvenile justice policy making, and assesses changes in response to juvenile crime by both the juvenile justice and criminal justice systems. Cross-listed with CRJU 5540. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
CRJU 7550 - Seminar: Criminal Justice Policy Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration C J 7550
Provides a survey of conceptual and design strategies in criminal justice policy analysis. The logic and rationale of these various strategies are contrasted, and their relative merits are critiqued. Selected policy issues in the criminal justice system are utilized to illustrate the application and interpretation of alternative strategies. Cross-listed with CRJU 5550. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CRJU 7551 - Seminar: Judicial Administration

Summer 2010 Registration C J 7551
Analyzes judicial organization, court administration, and criminal court judicial decision making practices within the context of the broader operation of the criminal justice system. Special attention is paid to the social organization of the courtroom, examining the special roles of judges, prosecutors and defense attorneys. Cross-listed with CRJU 5551. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CRJU 7552 - Seminar: Criminal Justice Ethics

Summer 2010 Registration C J 7552
Offers a normative framework within which to explore ways to increase sensitivity to the demands of ethical behavior among criminal justice personnel. The application of a normative perspective enhances the possibility that moral problems are better understood, more carefully analyzed, and rendered more tractable. Applied ethics forces a reflection not just on ethics, but also on the nature and operation of the criminal justice system itself. Cross-listed with CRJU 5552. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CRJU 7553 - Seminar: Women and Criminal Justice

Summer 2010 Registration C J 7553
Explores issues surrounding women as offenders, victims, and criminal justice professionals. Investigates explanations for the involvement of women in illegal activities. Analyzes the plight of battered women, rape victims, and other female victims. Examines the participation of women in law enforcement, judicial processes, corrections and lawmaking. Cross-listed with CRJU 5553. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CRJU 7554 - Seminar: Criminal Justice Reform
CRJU 7554 - Advanced Seminar: The Social Organization of Crime

Provides an overview of reform efforts in the criminal justice system. Selected theoretical approaches and policies are examined and assessed in light of their assumptions and programmatic applications. The rational and process underlying selected reform strategies are explored. The implications of the effects of reform in criminal justice policy making and decision making are analyzed. Cross-listed with CRJU 5554. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CRJU 7571 - Advanced Seminar: The Social Organization of Crime

Explores the relationship of neighborhood social disorganization to the dynamics of crime from a social ecology perspective. The course examines the underlying social causes of phenomena such as criminal victimization, violent and property crime, neighborhood fear, neighborhood deterioration and recidivism. The course examines social, structural, and ecological characteristics of neighborhoods and communities in affecting crime. Cross-listed with CRJU 5571. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CRJU 7572 - Advanced Seminar: Race, Crime and Justice

Examines the role of race in criminal justice processing. This course examines the research findings, interpretations, issues, and implications in assessing the impact of race in the administration of criminal justice. Explores the policy implications concerning the nature and extent of racial disparities in the criminal justice system and lays out a research agenda to more strategically address these issues within criminal justice policy making. Cross-listed with CRJU 5572. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CRJU 7574 - Advanced Seminar: White Collar Crime

Employs both the social science and legal approaches to examine crime committed by corporations as well as by individuals in white collar occupations. The course covers how such crimes are socially defined, who commits them, who is victimized by them, which social contexts promote them, and how society and the criminal justice system respond to them. Cross-listed with CRJU 5574. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CRJU 7575 - Advanced Seminar: The Mentally Disordered Offender
Summer 2010 Registration C J 7575
Examines the offender who may be mentally disordered. A survey is made of the various phases of the criminal justice system where psychiatrists are involved, e.g., diversion, fitness, insanity and sentencing. Dangerous sex offender legislation, "Not guilty by reason of insanity" and "Guilty but mentally ill" statutes, and issues concerning confidentiality, informed consent, and treatment are addressed. Cross-listed with CRJU 5575. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CRJU 7576 - Advanced Seminar: Social Science in the Criminal Justice System

Summer 2010 Registration C J 7576
Examines the use of social science as a tool for legal analysis within the criminal justice system. The course examines how social science research is used to resolve relatively simple factual disputes, then moves on to more complex issues that arise when social science is invoked to make or to change law, both constitutional law (particularly the First, Sixth, Eighth and Fourteenth Amendments) and common law, particularly the construction of procedural rules that govern the operations of the criminal justice system. Cross-listed with CRJU 5576. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CRJU 7600 - Special Topics in Criminal Justice

Summer 2010 Registration C J 7600
This highly specialized seminar addresses cutting-edge and emerging developments in the field of criminal justice and provides students and faculty with the opportunity to explore significant themes, issues, and problems from a broad interdisciplinary perspective. Topics vary from semester to semester. Course may be taken for credit more than once, provided subject matter is not repeated. Cross-listed with CRJU 6600. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CRJU 7910 - Women and Violence: a Sociological Perspective

Summer 2010 Registration C J 7910
This course is a sociological, feminist analysis of violence against women and girls that addresses the intersection of sexism and other forms of oppression such as racism, classism and heterosexism within historical, cultural, social and institutional contexts. Topics covered focus on overt and covert forms of sexual coercion, harassment and assault, battering and stalking. Cross-listed with CRJU 5910, PUAD 5910 and 7910. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
CRJU 7920 - Psychology of Violence Against Women

Summer 2010 Registration C J 7920
This class addresses the contributions and the limitations of current empirical and clinical psychological literatures about domestic violence. Topics covered include: distinguishing among mental health professionals regarding work with DV clients; the psychological impacts of domestic violence; services useful for responding to the needs of women and children; and an introduction to the psychology and treatment of batterers. Cross-listed with CRJU 5920, PUAD 5920 and 7920. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CRJU 7930 - Battered Women and the Legal System

Summer 2010 Registration C J 7930
This course provides a practical understanding of how the following relate to battered women and their children; a) major developments in federal, state, tribal, administrative, statutory and case law; b) the role and responses of the law enforcement, judges, attorneys, victim assistance providers and other legal system agents; and c) the role and process of victim advocacy. Cross-listed with CRJU 5930, PUAD 5930 and 7930. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CRJU 7940 - Domestic Violence Social Change and Advocacy

Summer 2010 Registration C J 7940
This course provides students information on the theories and strategies behind contemporary social change movements and the skills necessary to organize and implement actions to influence public awareness and policy. The values of American society are complex and require advocates/activists to develop a heightened sense of self, community and an ethical framework while confronting sexism, racism and other forms of oppression. Cross-listed with CRJU 5940, PUAD 5940 and 7940. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CRJU 8840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration C J 8840
Affords the student the opportunity to pursue creative research activities under the individual supervision of a full-time faculty member. No more than six semester hours of credit for independent study may be applied toward the PhD degree. Prereq: 12 semester hours of criminal justice course work and permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
CRJU 8990 - Doctoral Dissertation

Summer 2010 Registration C J 8990
Upon admittance to candidacy, students must be continuously registered for dissertation credit each fall and spring semester or be automatically dropped from the program. Students must register for 7.0 credit hours per semester. In cases where students will not be using any university resources during a particular semester, they may petition the PhD director to register for only 3.0 credit hours to maintain continuous enrollment. Students must be registered for dissertation credit during the semester they have a colloquium or defense. Semester Hours: 1 to 10
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 1320 - Introduction to Computing

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 1320
A course in programming for students in all disciplines who are non-computer science majors. Learning essential programming skills using a modern language like Ruby or Python, both of which are easier to learn than traditional programming languages such as C++ and Java. The student is introduced to the flow of control: selection, iteration, subprograms. Data structures: strings, arrays, records, lists, tables. Introduction to testing and debugging. Prereq: MATH 1120. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 1410 - Fundamentals of Computing

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 1410
First course in computing for those who will take additional computer science courses. Covers the capabilities of a computer, the elements of the computer language C++, and basic techniques for solving problems using a computer. Coreq: CSCI 1411. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 1411 - Fundamentals of Computing Laboratory

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 1411
This laboratory is taken with CSCI 1410 and will provide students with additional help with problem solving and computer exercise to compliment the course material covered in CSCI 1410. Prereq: Freshman status. Coreq: CSCI 1410. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 1510 - Logic Design

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 1510
The design and analysis of combinational and sequential logic circuits. Topics include binary and hexadecimal number systems, Boolean algebra and Boolean function minimization, and algorithmic state machines. Lecture/lab includes experiments with computer-aided design tools. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 1800 - Special Topics: 1800-1839

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 1800

Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 2132 - Circuit Analysis I

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 2132

Basic theorems of circuit analysis. Transient solution of circuits by classical techniques. Ideal operational amplifier analysis techniques and applications. Prereq: MATH 2411 and PHYS 2331. Cross-listed with ELEC 2132. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 2312 - Intermediate Programming

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 2312

Programming topics in the C++ language. The emphasis is on problem solving using object oriented and Generic Programming. Topics include advanced I/O, classes, inheritance, polymorphism and virtual functions, abstract base classes, exception handling, templates, and the Standard Template Library. Prereq: CSCI 1410. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 2421 - Data Structures and Program Design

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 2421

Topics include a first look at an algorithm, data structures, abstract data types, and basic techniques such as sorting, searching, and recursion. Programming exercises are assigned through the semester. Prereq: ENGL 1020, CSCI 2312. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 2511 - Discrete Structures

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 2511

Covers the fundamentals of discrete mathematics, including: logic, sets, functions, asymptotics, mathematical reasoning, induction, combinatorics, discrete probability, relations and graphs. Emphasis on how discrete mathematics applies to computer science in general and algorithm analysis in particular. Prereq: MATH 1401. Semester Hours: 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 2525 - Assembly Language and Computer Organization

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 2525
Topics include computer architecture, program execution at the hardware level, programming in assembly language, the assembly process, hardware support of some high-level language features, and a program's interface to the operating system. Programming exercises are assigned in this course. These exercises involve the use of specific hardware in designated laboratories. Prereq: CSCI 1410 and 1510. Semester Hours: 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 2571 - Fundamentals of UNIX

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 2571
Introduces the UNIX operating system and its family of related utility programs. History and overview, versions, and common features. File operations, utilities, shells, editors, filters and data manipulation. Shell programming communications and networking, windowing environments, mail and Internet. Programming tools. Simple system administration. Credit will not count toward BSCSE degree. Prereq: familiarity with operating systems and/or a programming course. Semester Hours: 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 2800 - Special Topics: 2800-2939

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 2800
Semester Hours: 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 3287 - Database System Concepts

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 3287
Introduces database design, database management systems, and the SQL standard database language. Includes data modeling techniques, conceptual database design, theory of object-relational and relational databases, relational algebra, relational calculus, normalization and database integrity. Prereq: CSCI 2421. Semester Hours: 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 3320 - Advanced Programming
Summer 2010 Registration C SC 3320
A continuation of programming and problem solving methodologies. The focus will be on generic programming with C++ templates and the standard template library, and will be supplemented with object-oriented programming and top-down design. Prereq: CSCI 2421. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 3412 - Algorithms

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 3412
Design and analysis of algorithms. Asymptotic analysis as a means of evaluating algorithm efficiency. The application of induction and other mathematical techniques for proving the correctness of an algorithm. Data structures for simplifying algorithm design, such as hash tables, heaps and search trees. Elementary graph algorithms. Assignments include written work and programming projects. Prereq: CSCI 2421 and CSCI 2511. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 3415 - Principles of Programming Languages

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 3415
Introduces programming language design concepts and implementation issues. Includes language concepts such as control structures and data types, formal language specification techniques, and syntactic and semantic implementation issues. Prereq: CSCI 2421 and 2525. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 3453 - Operating System Concepts

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 3453
Covers the principles of computer operating systems and the essential components of an operating system. Topics include: I/O devices, file systems, CPU scheduling and memory management. Prereq: CSCI 3412 (Algorithm). Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 3508 - Introduction to Software Engineering

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 3508
Introduces principles and practices of software engineering: software life-cycle models, requirements engineering, analysis and design tools, human factors risk management, program certification, project management and intellectual property rights. Prereq: ENGL 1020 and CSCI 3412. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
CSCI 3511 - Hardware-Software Interface

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 3511
Hardware and software techniques needed to control and program device interfaces. Input and output devices, computer peripherals, device drivers and interfaces are introduced. Specific programmable devices are used in class projects. Prereq: CSCI 2525. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 3560 - Probability and Computing

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 3560
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 3840 - Independent Study: CSCI

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 3840
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 3963 - Network Structures

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 3963
This interdisciplinary course examines how the technological, social and economic worlds are connected and how the study of networks sheds light on these connections. Topics include: how opinions spread through society; the robustness and fragility of financial networks; the technology and economics of Web information and on-line communities. Prereqs: MATH 2411. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 4034 - Theoretical Foundations of Computer Science

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 4034
Introduces abstract models for computation, formal languages and machines. Topics include: automata theory, formal languages, grammars and Turing machines. Prereq: CSCI 3412. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
CSCI 4202 - Introduction to Artificial Intelligence

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 4202
Topics include heuristic search, games playing algorithms, application of predicate calculus to AI, introduction to planning, application of formal grammars to AI. Prereq: CSCI 3412. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 4408 - Applied Graph Theory

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 4408
Introduces discrete structures applications of graph theory to computer science, engineering and operations research. Topics include connectivity, coloring, trees, Euler and Hamiltonian paths and circuits. Matching and covering problems, shortest route and network flows. Prereq: MATH 3000 or CSCI 2511. Cross-listed with MATH 4408. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 4411 - Computational Geometry

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5411
Many practical and aesthetic algorithmic problems have their roots in geometry. Applications abound in the areas of computer graphics, robotics, computer-aided design, and geographic information systems, for example. A selection of topics from convex hull, art gallery problems, ray tracing, point location, motion planning, segment intersection, Voronoi diagrams, visibility and algorithmic folding will be covered. Prereq: CSCI 3412. Cross-listed with CSCI 5411. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 4501 - Java

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 4501
Comprehensive course on Java programming. Coverage of programming language constructs of Java and the core libraries that come with Java: coverage of advanced topics, including technologies for building distributed applications, and interacting with a database. Prereq: CSCI 2421. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 4555 - Compiler Design

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 4555
Introduces the basic techniques used in translating programming languages: scanning, parsing, symbol table management, code generation, code optimization and error recovery. Prereq: CSCI 3412 and 3415. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 4565 - Introduction to Computer Graphics

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 4565
Introduces two and three dimensional computer graphics. Topics include scan conversion, geometric primitives, transformation, viewing, basic rendering, and illumination. Emphasis is on programming using "C" and "C++" Open Gl. Prereq: CSCI 3412 and MATH 3191 or 3195. Cross-listed with CSCI 5565. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 4591 - Computer Architecture

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 4591
Deals with how assembly language maps to hardware, and basic hardware techniques implemented in computers. Topics include logic design of arithmetic units, data control path processor logic, pipelining, memory systems, and input-output units. The emphasis is on logic structure rather than electronic circuitry. Students must know basic control logic design and be familiar with an assembly language before taking this course. Prereq: CSCI 2525 or ELEC 2651. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 4630 - Linguistic Geometry

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 4630
A new type of game theory in Artificial Intelligence for solving abstract board games (ABG). A number of real world systems including military combat, transportation, and internet cyber war can be modeled as ABG. Prereq: CSCI 3412. Cross-listed with CSCI 5630. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 4640 - Universal Compiler: Theory and Construction

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 4640
Theoretical foundations and step-by-step hands-on experience in the development of a compiler, which can tune itself to a new programming language. This is a must-take course for future software developers as well as those interested in applications of the theory of Computer Science. Cross-listed with CSCI 5640. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 4650 - Numerical Analysis I
Summer 2010 Registration  C SC 4650
Methods and analysis of techniques used to resolve continuous mathematical problems on the computer. Solution of linear and nonlinear equations, interpolation and integration. Prereq: MATH 2411, MATH 3191 or MATH 3195, and programming experience. Cross-listed with CSCI 5660, MATH 4650, and MATH 5660. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 4660 - Numerical Analysis II

Summer 2010 Registration  C SC 4660
Numerical differentiation and integration, numerical solution of ordinary differential equations, and numerical solutions of partial differential equations as time allows. Prereq: MATH 3195 or both 3191 and 3200; MATH or CSCI 4650 or 5660; or programming experience. Cross-listed with CSCI 5661, MATH 4660 and 5661. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 4738 - Senior Design I

Summer 2010 Registration  C SC 4738
This is an advanced practical course in which students design, implement, and document and test software systems for use in industry, non-profits, government and research institutions. The course offers practical experience by working closely with project sponsors. It also offers extensive experience in oral and written communication throughout the software lifecycle. Prereq: CSCI 3508. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 4739 - Senior Design II

Summer 2010 Registration  C SC 4739
This course is a continuation of Senior Design I. Students must have taken Senior Design I in order to enroll for Senior Design II. In this course, the projects begun in Senior Design I are completed and presented. Prereq: CSCI 4738. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 4740 - Computer Security

Summer 2010 Registration  C SC 4740
Introduces basic knowledge from the computer security area. Concepts and techniques of cryptography, including history of codes and ciphers, basic cryptography techniques like data encryption standards, public key systems and digital signatures. Prereq: MATH
Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 4761 - Introduction To Computer Networks

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 4761
Introduction and overview of computer networks. Topics include protocols, quality of services and performance issues. Prereq: CSCI 2421. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 4771 - Introduction To Mobile Computing

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 4771
Provides an in-depth understanding of the fundamentals in mobile computing and studies the existing and proposed solutions for ubiquitous computing. This course focuses on systems and networking issues involved with supporting mobility. Prereq: CSCI 3453 and 4761. Cross-listed with CSCI 5771. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 4788 - Bioinformatics

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 4788
Provides a broad exposure to the basic concepts and methodologies of bioinformatics and their application to analyzing genomic and proteomic data. Topics may include dynamic programming algorithms, graph theoretic techniques, hidden Markov models, phylogenetic trees, RNA/protein structure prediction and microarray analysis. Prereq: CSCI 1410 and MATH 3195 or 3191. Cross-listed with MATH 4788, PHYS 4788. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 4800 - Special Topics: 4800-4839

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 4800
Credit and subject matter to be arranged. Prereq: as determined by instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 4840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 4840
For seniors majoring in computer science. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
CSCI 4910 - User Experience Design

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 4910
A how-to course for any technologist who has endured difficult interfaces and want to design effective user interfaces that respect and advance the user experience. Course includes: Psychology, HCI personas, scenarios, prototyping, and evaluation for desktop and mobile applications. Prereq: CSCI 2312 - Intermediate Programming. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 4920 - Computer Game Design and Programming

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 4920
Computer Game Design and Programming introduces practical and example driven approaches to modern 3D game development. Topics include 3D modeling, character animation, UI design, scripting, texture mapping, and sound effect. Prereq: CSCI 2421. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 4939 - Cooperative Education

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 4939
Faculty or employer-supervised employment in industry. Enrollment is limited to students who fully completed a contract for cooperative education credit by the last day of the drop or add period. Prereq: CSCI 3415. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5098 - Computer Science For Bioscientists

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5098
Provides a broad but detailed overview of the computer science field to graduate students in the biosciences, with emphasis on web technologies, programming languages, algorithms and database systems. No credit for CS graduate students. Prereq: working knowledge of programming language (e.g., Java). Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5217 - Information Theory

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5217
Introduces information theory and its application in computer science, communication theory, coding and applied mathematics. Entropy, mutual information, data compression and storage, channel capacity, rate distortion, hypothesis testing. Error detecting and correcting codes, block codes and sequential codes. Prereq: CSCI 4535. Semester
CSCI 5255 - Object Oriented Design

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5255
Software system design using object-oriented techniques, responsibility driven design and agile development practices. Topics include objects, classes, interfaces, inheritance, polymorphism, exception handling and testing. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5408 - Applied Graph Theory

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5408
Introduces discrete structures applications of graph theory to computer science, engineering and operations research. Topics include connectivity, coloring, trees, Euler and Hamiltonian paths and circuits. Matching and covering problems, shortest route and network flows. Prereq: MATH 3000 or CSCI 2511. Cross-listed with MATH 4408. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5409 - Graph Theory and Graph Algorithms

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5409
Studies geometric graphs and other geometric objects, both analysis and algorithmic construction, leads to interesting connections among VLSI design, graph theory and graph algorithms. Studies a subset of the recent literature, with special emphasis on visibility graphs, thickness of graphs, graph coloring and the surprising and elegant connections among them all. Other topics are introduced as time permits. Prereq: CSCI 3412, CSCI 4408, CSCI 5451 or MATH 4408 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5411 - Computational Geometry

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5411
Many practical and aesthetic algorithmic problems have their roots in geometry. Applications abound in the areas of computer graphics, robotics, computer-aided design, and geographic information systems, for example. A selection of topics from convex hull, art gallery problems, ray tracing, point location, motion planning, segment intersection, Voronoi diagrams, visibility and algorithmic folding will be covered. Prereq: CSCI 3412. Cross-listed with CSCI 4411. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
CSCI 5446 - Theory of Automata

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5446
Studies the relationships between classes of formal languages (regular, context-free, context-sensitive, phrase-structure) and classes of automata (finite-state, pushdown, Turing machines). Additional topics include decidability and computability issues. Prereq: CSCI 3412. Cross-listed with MATH 5446. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5451 - Algorithms

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5451
Advanced design and analysis techniques: dynamic programming, greedy algorithms, amortized analysis. Advanced data structures: Fibonacci heaps, union-find data structures. Study of variety of special topics, which may include: graph algorithms, optimization problems, Fast Fourier Transform, string matching, geometric algorithms, Np-completeness and approximation algorithms. Prereq: CSCI 3412. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5542 - Neural Networks

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5542
Parallel distributed representations, dynamics of Hopfield-style networks, content addressable memories, and Hebbian learning are the major topics of the first half. The last half consists of simulated annealing back propagation, competitive learning, and self-organizing networks. Prereq: CSCI 3412. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5551 - Parallel and Distributed Systems

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5551
Examines a range of topics involving parallel and distributed systems to improve computational performance. Topics include parallel and distributed programming languages, architectures, networks, algorithms and applications. Prereq: Graduate Standing. Cross-listed with CSCI 7551. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5552 - Advanced Topics in Parallel Processing

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5552
Examines the advances of sequential computers for gaining speed and application of these techniques to high-speed supercomputers of today. Programming methodologies of distributed and shared memory multiprocessors, vector processors and systolic arrays are compared. Performance analysis methods for architectures and programs are described. Prereq: CSCI 5551. Cross-listed with CSCI 7552. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5559 - Database Systems

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5559
Introduces database system concepts, with examination of relational database systems from conceptual design through relational schema design and physical implementation. Topics include database design and implementation for large database systems, transaction management, concurrency control, object-oriented and distributed database management systems. Prereq: CSCI 3287. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5565 - Introduction to Computer Graphics

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5565
Introduces two and three dimensional computer graphics. Topics include scan conversion, geometric primitives, transformation, viewing, basic rendering, and illumination. Emphasis is on the programming using C and C++ Open Gl. Prereq: CSCI 3412 and MATH 3191/3195. Cross-listed with CSCI 4565. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5573 - Operating Systems

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5573
Students study the principles of computer operating systems and their essential components. Team projects expose students to variety of system design issues as they relate to the functionality and performance of the system. Topics include I/O devices, Disk Scheduling, File System Organizations, Directory Systems, Sequential and Concurrent process, CPU Scheduling, Memory Management, Deadlock and review of some related articles in the literature. Prereq: CSCI 3412 and 3415. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5574 - Advanced Topics in Operating Systems

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5574
Covers the advanced topics in operating systems by examining functionality and performance issues in CPU Scheduling, communications, distributed file systems, distributed operating systems, shared-memory multiprocessors and real-time operating systems. In addition to studying papers, reviews and presentations, students carry out a semester long team project within the scope of one of the above topics Prereq: CSCI
CSCI 5582 - Artificial Intelligence

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5582
Approaches to design of systems for solving problems usually solved by humans, especially those related to intelligent decision making. Emphasis on various types of knowledge representation. Cross-listed with CSCI 7582. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5585 - Advanced Computer Graphics

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5585
An in-depth study of active research topics in computer graphics. Topics include advanced rendering, global illumination, scientific visualization, geometric modeling, simulation and animation. Emphasis is on readings from literature and on a term project. Prereq: CSCI 5565 or 4565. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5593 - Advanced Computer Architecture

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5593
Important concepts in the structural design of computer systems are covered. Topics include memory hierarchy, super pipelining and super scalar techniques, dynamic execution, vector computers and multiprocessors. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5610 - Computational Biology

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5610
Designed to introduce a broad range of computational problems in molecular biology. Solution techniques draw from several branches of mathematics: combinatorics, probability, optimization, and dynamical systems. No prior knowledge of biology is critical, but it would be at least helpful to have the equivalent of BIOL 5099. Prereq: CSCI 2421. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5619 - Complex Intelligent Systems

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5619
Presents the cutting-edge results of research in AI: advanced topics in linguistic geometry. LG is an approach to construction of mathematical models for reasoning about large-scale multi-agent concurrent games. The purpose of LG is to provide strategies to guide the participants of a game to reach their goals. Prereq: CSCI 4202, 5582 or 5690. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5630 - Linguistic Geometry

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5630
A new type of game theory in Artificial Intelligence for solving abstract board games (ABG). a number of real world systems including military combat, transportation, and internet cyber war can be modeled as Abg. Prereq: CSCI 4202, 5582 or 5690. Cross-listed with CSCI 4630. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5640 - Universal Compiler: Theory and Construction

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5640
Theoretical foundations and step-by-step hands-on experience in the development of a compiler, which can tune itself to a new programming language. This is a must-take course for future software developers as well as those interested in applications of the theory of Computer Science. Cross-listed with CSCI 4640. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5654 - Algorithms for Communication Networks

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5654
Algorithmic and mathematical underpinnings of communication networks. a taxonomy of data-packet networks depending on modes of communication: fixed-interconnection networks, radio networks and multiple-access channel. Algorithms to implement packet routing and broadcasting. Prereq: CSCI 3412. Cross-listed with CSCI 7654. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5660 - Numerical Analysis I

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5660
Methods and analysis of techniques used to resolve continuous mathematical problems on the computer. Solution of linear and nonlinear equations, interpolation and integration. Prereq: MATH 2411, MATH 3191 or MATH 3195, and programming experience. Cross-listed with CSCI 4650, MATH 4650, and MATH 5660. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5661 - Numerical Analysis II
Summer 2010 Registration  C SC 5661
Numerical differentiation and integration, numerical solution of ordinary differential equations, and numerical solutions of partial differential equations as time allows. Prereq: MATH 3195 or both 3191 and 3200; MATH or CSCI 4650 or 5660; or programming experience. Cross-listed with CSCI 4660, MATH 4660 and 5661. Semester Hours: 3 to 3  When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5667 - Introduction to Approximation Theory

Summer 2010 Registration  C SC 5667
Normed linear spaces, convexity, existence and uniqueness of best approximations. Tchebychev approximation by polynomials and other related families. Least squares approximation and splines. Prereq: MATH 4320. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5682 - Expert Systems

Summer 2010 Registration  C SC 5682
Reviews and analyzes many expert systems documented in the literature, such as Mycin, Macsyma, and Xcon. Emphasis is given to the design of rule-based systems, the use of uncertain and incomplete information and system shells. Prereq: CSCI 3412. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5690 - Knowledge Representation for Intelligent Systems

Summer 2010 Registration  C SC 5690
An in-depth study of different types of knowledge representation in artificial intelligence for the efficient control of complex real-world systems like autonomous robots, space vehicles, and military units. Major emphasis is on search algorithms and heuristics, logical representation with applications to planning, formal linguistic representation. At the conclusion, all the theories studied are combined in the form of introduction to the state-of-the-art linguistic geometrical representation of complex control systems. Prereq: CSCI 3412. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5701 - High-Performance Communication Systems and Network Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration  C SC 5701
Protocols and architectures related to high performance communication systems as well as network performance analysis techniques are covered. Topics include Integrated Services Digital Networks (ISDN), Broadband ISDN, protocols such as ATM and SONET, and high performance network architectures such as optical networks.
Analytical analysis of network performance includes queuing theory and stochastic processes. Prereq: CSCI 4761 or 5761. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5702 - Data Mining

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5702
Introduces data mining and knowledge discovery. Topics include: preprocessing, clustering, machine learning, neural networks, fuzzy sets, evolutionary computation. Prereq: CSCI 3412 and MATH 3191/3195. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5704 - Introduction to Distributed Systems

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5704
Studies design, implementation and management of distributed systems, including communication issues, security reliability, resource sharing, and remote execution. Prereq: CSCI 3453 and 4591. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5728 - Software Engineering

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5728
Groups of students plan, analyze and design large software projects. Prereq: CSCI 3412 and 3415. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5765 - Computer Networks

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5765
An in-depth study of active research topics in computer networks. Topics include: Internet protocols, TCP/UDP, congestion and flow control, IP routings, mobile IP, P2P overlay networks, network security, performance, and other current research topics. Prereq: Graduate Standing. Cross-listed with CSCI 7765. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5771 - Introduction to Mobile Computing

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5771
Provides the fundamentals of mobile computing. Studies existing and proposed solutions for ubiquitous computing. This course focuses on systems and networking issues involved with supporting mobility. Prereq: CSCI 3453 and 4761. Cross-listed with CSCI 4771. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
CSCI 5780 - Theory Of Distributed Computing

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5780
Elements of the theory of distributed computing through fundamental algorithmic ideas, lower bound techniques, and impossibility results. Timing assumptions (asynchrony and synchrony), simulations between models (message passing and shared memory), failure types (crash and Byzantine). Prereq: CSCI 3412. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5799 - Topics in Network Computing

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5799
Studies the active research topics in network based computing such as Cluster, Grid computing, P2P Computing, Pervasive Computing, Workflow system and Cloud Computing. Students will study key papers in the literature, and submit a research term project. Prereq: Graduate standing. Cross-listed with CSCI 7799. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5800 - Special Topics: 5800-5839

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5800
These special topics courses cover recent developments in an aspect of computer science. Prereq: as determined by instructor. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5840
For graduate computer science students. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 5941 - Directed Study: Programming Project

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 5941
Software development project supervised by a faculty member approved by the Center for Computational Biology. Used towards a certificate in Computational Biology. Counts as an independent study. Prereq: CSCI 5451 and CSCI 5610. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 6595 - Computational Methods in Nonlinear Programming

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 6595
Introduces fundamental algorithms and theory for nonlinear optimization problems. Topics include Newton, quasi-Newton and conjugate directional methods; line search and trust-region methods; active set, penalty and barrier methods for constrained optimization; convergence analysis and duality theory. Prereq: MATH 4320, MATH 5718. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 6664 - Numerical Linear Algebra

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 6664
Offered every other year. Solution of linear equations, eigenvector and eigen value calculation, matrix error analysis, orthogonal transformation, iterative methods. Prereq: MATH 5660 and 5718. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 6840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 6840
For doctoral computer science students. Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 6950 - Master's Thesis

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 6950
Semester Hours: 1 to 9
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 6960 - Master's Report

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 6960
Students seeking a Master of Science in computer science, who do not choose to do a thesis, must complete an individual project of an investigative and creative nature under supervision of a full-time CS graduate faculty. Student must present their results to a faculty committee. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 7002 - Computer Security

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 7002
A broad overview of computer security, roughly divided into three unequal components: a) the history of codes and ciphers; b) basic cryptographic techniques, for example, symmetric cryptography, authentication techniques, and asymmetric crypto systems, and: c) applications to current and future computer-related technologies, for example, network security, wireless communication, quantum cryptography, and more. Prereq: CSCI 5451. Cross-listed with ISMG 7002. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
CSCI 7200 - Advances In Management Information Systems

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 7200
Provides a broad coverage of research on the management of information technology. The course covers the systems-oriented research, organizational-oriented research, and information systems economics research. Prereq: PhD standing. Cross-listed with ISMG 7200. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 7210 - Topics In Analytical Research In Management Information Systems

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 7210
Covers a variety of analytical research topics of interest to the IS research community including the evaluation of data mining algorithm performance, cost sensitive learning and outlier detection. Prereq: Admission to the CSIS PhD program. Cross-listed with ISMG 7210. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 7211 - Topics In Behavioral-Organizational Research In Management Information Systems

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 7211
Provides in-depth exposure to some key behavioral, management and organizational theories and models used in Information Systems research. Covers topics in socio-technical, trust, computer self-efficacy, organizational transformation, organizational learning, resource-based and coordination theories. Prereq: Admission to the CSIS PhD program. Cross-listed with ISMG 7211. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 7502 - Research Methods

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 7502
Promotes research skills. Involves presenting a research topic and discussions of its merits, reviewing journal articles, writing a paper and/or a proposal in the NIH / NSF format in the student's area of research. Prereq: PhD student standing or permission of instructor for MS students who are writing a thesis. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 7551 - Parallel and Distributed Systems

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 7551
Examines a range of topics involving parallel and distributed systems to improve computational performance. Topics include parallel and distributed programming languages, architectures, networks, algorithms and applications. Prereq: Graduate
Standing. Cross-listed with CSCI 5551. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 7552 - Advanced Topics in Parallel Processing

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 7552
Examines the advances of sequential computers for gaining speed and application of these techniques to high-speed supercomputers of today. Programming methodologies of distributed and shared memory multiprocessors, vector processors and systolic arrays are compared. Performance analysis methods for architectures and programs are described. Cross-listed with CSCI 5552. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 7574 - Advanced Topics in Operating Systems

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 7574
Covers the advanced topics in operating systems by examining functionality and performance issues in CPU Scheduling, communications, distributed file systems, distributed operating systems, shared-memory multiprocessors and real-time operating systems. In addition to studying papers, reviews and presentations, students carry out a semester long team project within the scope of one of the above topics. Prereq: CSCI 3453 or CSCI 5573. Cross-listed with CSCI 5574. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 7582 - Artificial Intelligence

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 7582
Approaches to design of systems for solving problems usually solved by humans, especially those related to intelligent decision making. Emphasis on various types of knowledge representation. Cross-listed with CSCI 5582. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 7654 - Algorithms for Communication Networks

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 7654
Algorithmic and mathematical underpinnings of communication networks. A taxonomy of data-packet networks depending on modes of communication: fixed-interconnection networks, radio networks and multiple-access channel. Algorithms to implement packet routing and broadcasting. Prereq: Permission of instructor. Cross-listed with CSCI 5654. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 7711 - Bioinformatics I
Summer 2010 Registration C SC 7711
(BIOI 7711-Offered on a semester basis from H.S.C.) What is Bioinformatics and why study it? How is large-scale molecular biology data generated, where and how can researchers gain access to it, what computational analyses are possible and computational techniques for solving inference problems in molecular biology? Prereq: Permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 4 When Offered: FALL
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 7712 - Bioinformatics II

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 7712
(BIOI 7712-offered on a semester basis from H.S.C.) Inference problems and computational techniques for molecular biology, with emphasis on machine learning approaches. Use of computational induction techniques focused on information extraction from biomedical literature, inference of biochemical networks from high-throughput data and prediction of protein function. Estimation, clustering, discrimination and regression. Prereq: CSCI 7711. Semester Hours: 4 When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 7765 - Computer Networks

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 7765
An in-depth study of active research topics in computer networks. Topics include: Internet protocols, TCP/UDP, congestion and flow control, IP routings, mobile IP, P2P overlay networks, network security, performance, and other current research topics. Prereq: Graduate Standing. Cross-listed with CSCI 5765. Semester Hours: 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 7799 - Topics in Network Computing

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 7799
Studies the active research topics in network based computing such as Cluster, Grid computing, P2P Computing, Pervasive Computing, Workflow system and Cloud Computing. Students will study key papers in the literature, and submit a research term project. Prereq: Graduate standing. Cross-listed with CSCI 5799. Semester Hours: 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 7800 - Special Topics: 7800-7839

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 7800
These special topics courses cover recent developments in an aspect of computer science. Prereq: As determined by instructor. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
CSCI 8990 - Doctoral Dissertation

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 8990
Semester Hours: 1 to 9
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 8991 - Doctoral Dissertation

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 8991
Semester Hours: 1 to 9
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 8992 - Doctoral Dissertation

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 8992
Semester Hours: 1 to 9
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 8993 - Doctoral Dissertation

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 8993
Semester Hours: 1 to 9
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 8994 - Doctoral Dissertation

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 8994
Semester Hours: 1 to 9
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 8995 - Doctoral Dissertation

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 8995
Semester Hours: 1 to 9
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 8996 - Doctoral Dissertation

Summer 2010 Registration C SC 8996
Semester Hours: 1 to 9
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 8997 - Doctoral Dissertation
Summer 2010 Registration

C SC 8997
Semester Hours: 1 to 9
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 8998 - Doctoral Dissertation

Summer 2010 Registration

C SC 8998
Semester Hours: 1 to 9
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CSCI 8999 - Doctoral Dissertation

Summer 2010 Registration

C SC 8999
Semester Hours: 1 to 9
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 1025 - Civil Engineering Graphics & Computer Aided Design

C E 1025
Introduces microcomputer-based, menu-driven, 2-D and 3-D computer-aided design systems; standard Civil Engineering industry details and some three-dimensional modeling of solid objects; principles on engineering drawing and descriptive geometry with applications specifically geared for civil engineers. Prereq: High School Geometry and Algebra. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 1800 - Special Topics

C E 1800
Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 1840 - Independent Study

This category is intended for topics which students may wish to pursue on their own initiative, with guidance from a professor who agrees to limited consultation on the work and to award credit when the project is completed. Departmental approval is required. Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 2121 - Analytical Mechanics I
Summer 2010 Registration C E 2121
A vector treatment of force systems and their resultants; equilibrium of trusses, beams, frames, and machines, including internal forces and three-dimensional configurations, static friction, properties of areas, distributed loads and hydrostatics. Prereq: PHYS 2311. Coreq: ENGR 1025, MATH 2422. Cross-listed with MECH 2023. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 2200 - Computing Methods in Civil Engineering

Summer 2010 Registration C E 2200
Introduces Fortran computer programming and advanced spreadsheet methods of solving civil engineering problems. Prereq: ENGR 1025 and MATH 2411. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 2212 - Plane Surveying

Summer 2010 Registration C E 2212
Observation, analysis and presentations of basic linear, angular, area and volume field measurements common to civil engineering endeavors. Prereq/Coreq: MATH 1401. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 2800 - Special Topics 2800-283X

Summer 2010 Registration C E 2800
Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 2840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration C E 2840
This category is intended for topics which students may wish to pursue on their own initiative, with guidance from a professor who agrees to limited consultation on the work and to award credit when the project is completed. Departmental approval is required. Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 3111 - Analytical Mechanics II

Summer 2010 Registration C E 3111
A vector treatment of dynamics of particles and rigid bodies, including rectilinear translation, central-force, general motion of particles, kinematics of rigid bodies, the inertia tensor, plane motion of rigid bodies; energy and momentum methods for particles, systems of particles and rigid bodies. Prereq: CVEN 2121. Cross-listed with MECH 2033. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 3121 - Mechanics of Materials

Summer 2010 Registration C E 3121

Mechanical properties of materials, stresses and strains in members subjected to tension, compression and shear, combined stresses, flexural and shearing stresses in beams, deflections of beams, column analysis, principal stresses. Prereq: CVEN 2121. Cross-listed with MECH 3043. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 3131 - Applied Mechanics

Summer 2010 Registration C E 3131

A limited study of particle and rigid body mechanics. Subject coverage introduces vector concepts of force, moment and equilibrium, then concentrates on kinematics and kinetics of particles in motion, including oscillatory and orbital and finally discusses rigid body motion with emphasis on energy and momentum methods. Prereq: MATH 2422 and PHYS 2311. (Not for Civil Engineer or Mechanical Engineer majors.) Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 3141 - Introduction to Structural Materials

Summer 2010 Registration C E 3141

Introduces the production, properties, and behavior of common engineering materials. Emphasis is placed on concrete, steel, and wood. Includes the techniques used to determine material properties. Coreq: CVEN 3121. Semester Hours: 2 to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 3154 - Water Quality Laboratory

Summer 2010 Registration C E 3154

Lecture and lab weekly, discussing techniques and making measurements of water purity parameters. Prereq: CHEM 1130/2031 and 2038; Prereq or Coreq: MATH 2411. Semester Hours: 2 to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 3313 - Theoretical Fluid Mechanics
Summer 2010 Registration  C E 3313
Introduces the fundamentals of fluid mechanics. Subject matter includes fluid properties, hydrostatics, the continuity principle, the energy principle, the momentum principle, similitude and dimensional analysis, forces on immersed bodies and laminar and turbulent flow in a closed conduit. Prereq: CVEN 2121. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 3323 - Applied Fluid Mechanics

Summer 2010 Registration  C E 3323
Applies the principles of fluid mechanics to analysis and design of hydraulic systems involving pressurized pipelines, open channels and pumps. Introduces fluid measurements which includes laboratory demonstrations and experiments. Prereq: CVEN 2200 and CVEN 3313. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 3401 - Introduction to Environmental Engineering

Summer 2010 Registration  C E 3401
An introductory course that provides a unique systems approach to environmental engineering, examining the source-to-receptor feedback loop for pollution control. Physical, chemical and biological processes are integrated across atmospheric, wastewater and sub-surface systems. Laboratory exercises provide direct experiential learning of key concepts. Prereq: CHEM 1130 or equivalent. Cross-listed with CVEN 5401. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 3414 - Design of Water and Wastewater Systems

Summer 2010 Registration  C E 3414
Covers the design of water distribution and wastewater collection systems. Topics include the design process, estimation of water demand and sewage flows, analysis of pipe networks and sewer systems, cost estimating, and design selection. Field trips are required. Prereq/Coreq: CVEN 3323. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 3505 - Structural Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration  C E 3505
Principles of structural analysis applied to statically determinate and indeterminate structures. Prereq: CVEN 3121. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
CVEN 3602 - Transportation Engineering

Summer 2010 Registration C E 3602
This course will introduce you to the concepts and methods of transportation engineering, planning and management. This course will emphasize traffic engineering. Topics will include vehicle dynamics, traffic flow fundamentals, accident analysis, signal timing, highway capacity analysis, level of service analysis, freeway operations, and evaluation procedures for alternative transportation projects. Prereq: Junior standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 3708 - Introduction to Geotechnical Engineering

Summer 2010 Registration C E 3708
Index properties of soils, soil classification, clay minerals, compaction and other soil improvement methods; shrinkage, swelling and frost action; permeability and seepage analysis, consolidation settlement and time rate of consolidation, shear strength of soils, bearing capacity and lateral earth pressure. Prereq: CVEN 3121. Prereq/Coreq: CVEN 3313. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 3800 - Special Topics: 3800-3839

Summer 2010 Registration C E 3800
Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 3840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration C E 3840
This category is intended for topics which students may wish to pursue on their own initiative, with guidance from a professor who agrees to limited consultation on the work and to award credit when the project is completed. Departmental approval is required. Semester Hours: 1 to 8
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 3842 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration C E 3842
Semester Hours: 1 to 8
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 4000 - Senior Seminar
Summer 2010 Registration  C E 4000
Required of all Civil Engineering majors. Each student shall take the state-administered Fundamentals of Engineering (F.E.) examination. This course must be taken prior to the semester of graduation. Prereq: CVEN 3111, ENGR 3012, ELEC 3030, senior standing and approved 30 credit hour check. Semester Hours: 0to 0  When Offered: FALL SPR  Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 4067 - Senior Design Projects

Summer 2010 Registration  C E 4067
Senior civil engineering students, working in teams, are assigned significant open-ended design problems requiring the synthesis of material learned in previous engineering courses for solution. Design teams work independently under the supervision of a civil engineering faculty member. Prereq: An approved graduation agreement. Semester Hours: 3to 3  Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 4077 - Engineering Economy

Summer 2010 Registration  C E 4077
Applies economic and financial principles to evaluation of engineering alternatives. Calculation of annual costs, present worth and prospective rates of return on investment. Review of systems analysis techniques, including simulation, linear programming, and project scheduling. Prereq: Junior standing. Cross-listed with MECH 4147. Semester Hours: 3to 3  Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 4087 - Engineering Contracts

Summer 2010 Registration  C E 4087
Laws met by the practicing engineer, types of contracts, specification writing, laws on contracts, agency, partnership, sales and property, with primary emphasis on rights and duties of the engineer. Prereq: Senior standing. Semester Hours: 3to 3  Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 4115 - Introduction to Structural Dynamics

Summer 2010 Registration  C E 4115
Single degree-of-freedom systems, two degree-of-freedom systems. Complex representation, step and impulse loads, many degrees of freedom, influence coefficients, matrix methods, stability of solution, vibration of strings, beams and membranes, approximate methods. Prereq: CVEN 3111, MATH 3191 and 3200. Semester Hours: 3to 3  Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
CVEN 4388 - Site Engineering

Summer 2010 Registration C E 4388

Course introduces the fundamentals of site engineering which require understanding and interpreting landforms, slopes, contour lines, grading, drainage, and earthwork to storm water management, hydrology reports, designing roadways, and street networks. Other topics include designing for ADA and concepts of sustainability in site design. Note: CAD experience is recommended. Cross-listed with CVEN 5388. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 4405 - Environmental and Water Systems Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration C E 4405

The primary focus of this course is on quantitative techniques for environmental systems modeling analysis. The course primarily covers life cycle assessments (LCA) based concepts. The course will review basic steps in conducting an LCA, data collection and data processing. Other concepts such as EIOA, energy and exergy analysis would be introduced. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 4427 - Storm Water System Design

Summer 2010 Registration C E 4427

This course covers urban watershed analysis, design rainfall and hydrologic losses, flood frequency and design event, rational method for peak runoff prediction, street hydraulic capacity and safety, culvert hydraulics, street inlet collection system and storm sewer system design and flow analysis. Prereq: CVEN 3323 and senior standing. Cross-listed with CVEN 5427. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 4537 - Numerical Methods for Engineers

Summer 2010 Registration C E 4537

Introduces numerical analysis. Solution of linear and non-linear equation systems. Numerical methods for ordinary and partial differential equations. Engineering applications. Prereq: CSCI 1100/1410, MATH 3191 and 3200. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 4565 - Timber Structure Design

Summer 2010 Registration C E 4565

Design of wood roof, wall, and floor systems including beams, columns, trusses, diaphragms and shear walls for vertical and lateral loads. Connection design, gluedlaminated members, plywood, and engineered lumber are incorporated. Prereq: CVEN 3505 and CVEN 3141. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 4575 - Structural Steel Design

Summer 2010 Registration C E 4575
Design of structural steel members and their connections. Prereq: CVEN 3505 and CVEN 3141. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 4585 - Reinforced Concrete Design

Summer 2010 Registration C E 4585
Ultimate strength methods for design of reinforced concrete structures. Prereq: CVEN 3505 and CVEN 3141. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 4602 - Highway Engineering

Summer 2010 Registration C E 4602
Evaluates alternate highway routes. Discusses highway drainage, finance, maintenance, pavement design, traffic operations and principles of economic analysis. Analyses of the impact of the highway on the environment. Prereq: CVEN 3602 and CVEN 3708. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 4718 - Intermediate Soils Engineering

Summer 2010 Registration C E 4718
Continuation of CVEN 3708 into selected topics in soils engineering. Laboratory experiments are performed to assess index properties of soils including gradation, soil consistency and specific gravity; moisture/density relations; soil classification, permeability, compressibility; and shear strength of soils. These soil parameters are then used in a design project required for the course. Prereq/Coreq: CVEN 3708. Semester Hours: 2 to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 4738 - Intermediate Foundation Engineering

Summer 2010 Registration C E 4738
Applies principles of soil mechanics to the analysis and design of foundations and earth structure. Theories of consolidation, earth pressure, slope stability, and bearing capacity. Studies settlement of structures, shallow and deep foundations, retaining walls and excavations. Prereq: CVEN 3708 and CVEN 3141. Coreq: CVEN 4718. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 4780 - Engineering Geology

Summer 2010 Registration C E 4780
Studies geology as utilized in engineering and environmental practice. Emphasizes a conceptual integration of geologic materials, processes, and rates of change as a basis for successful application of geologic knowledge to environmental planning and engineering design projects. Prereq: MATH 2411 and CVEN 2121. Cross-listed with CVEN 5780 and GEOL 4780, 5780. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 4800 - Special Topics: 4800-4839

Summer 2010 Registration C E 4800
Supervised study of special topics of interest to students under guidance of instructor. Prereq: Permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 4840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration C E 4840
This category is intended for topics which students may wish to pursue on their own initiative, with guidance from a professor who agrees to limited consultation on the work and to award credit when the project is completed. Departmental approval is required. Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5111 - Structural Dynamics

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5111
Vibration and dynamic response of simple linear and nonlinear structures to periodic and general disturbing forces. Frequency domain analysis, response analysis of multi-degree-of-freedom systems. Wind and earthquake effects. Prereq: CVEN 3505 and CVEN 4115. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5121 - Intermediate Mechanics of Materials

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5121
Intermediate-level course in the mechanics of deformable bodies. Plane stress and strain; stress-strain relation with emphasis on elastic and inelastic behavior of members, and theories of failure. Discussion of basic methods of structural mechanics, with applications to asymmetric and curved beams, thick walled pressure vessels, torsion of members of noncircular section, and other selected problems in stress analysis. Prereq: CVEN 3121, MATH 3191 and 3200. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5333 - Applied Hydrology

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5333
Engineering application of principles of hydrology. Subject matter includes precipitation measurement and data analysis, stream flow measurement and water budget analysis, evaporation and evapotranspiration, infiltration and rainfall-runoff relationships, hydrograph properties and unit hydrograph analysis, flood frequency, analysis and flood routing. Prereq: Permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5334 - Groundwater Hydrology

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5334
Topics include groundwater occurrence, hydrologic cycle and budget, interactions with surface waters, principles of groundwater flow, well hydraulics, well field design, regional flow systems, water and pollutant chemistry, computer modeling and groundwater management. Emphasis is on quantitative analysis methods for groundwater resource inventory, design and management. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5336 - Urban Runoff Quality and Quantity Modeling

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5336
This course covers rainfall/runoff data base, rain gage under-catch, statistical models for frequency analysis, Unit Graph and Kinematic Wave method for runoff prediction, urban watershed modeling, event-based flood prediction, continuous flow predictions, modeling consistency and sensitivity, impact assessments, master drainage planning, and storm centering technique. Prereq: CVEN 5333 - Graduate Standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5343 - Open Channel Hydraulics

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5343
Engineering analysis and design of natural and artificial open channels. Application of uniform flow concept to design of erodible and non-erodible channels. Application of energy and momentum principles to conditions of gradually varied flow, spatially varied flow and rapidly varied flow. Prereq: CVEN 3323 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5344 - Unsteady Open Channel Hydraulics

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5344
Derivation of basic principles of unsteady open channel flow. Application of kinematic wave, diffusive wave and dynamic wave approaches to open channel, including overland flow and flow in a drainage or river network. Introduction of numerical finite difference methods, characteristic method and simplified analytical method for the solution of unsteady open channel flow problems. Evaluation of computer simulation models such as DWOPER and SWMM. Prereq: CVEN 5343 and CVEN 5333 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5345 - Computational Methods for Water Resources

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5345
This course covers two major areas: hydrologic and hydraulic numerical routing schemes. The hydrologic routing includes linear and nonlinear reservoir operations using the characteristic curves derived from the reservoir geometry. The hydrologic routing numerical scheme will be applied to optimize the reservoir operations for power generation, irrigation, and flood control. The hydraulic routing covers Dynamic Flood Wave, Diffusive Wave, and Kinematic Wave. The finite difference method is used to develop numerical models to predict flood flows through channels. This course also covers probable maximum precipitation and dam break flow analysis. Prereq: CVEN 3323. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5381 - Introduction to Geographic Information Systems

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5381
Provides an over-view exposure and experience with various aspects of GIS technology and its uses for natural resource and infrastructure, planning, design and management. This course involves a survey of GIS software and hardware, review of cartographic mapping principles, hands-on applications to environmental impact assessment, municipal facilities management, transportation, water resources and demographics. GIS project management factors are addressed. Prereq: Graduate and/or upper division standing. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5382 - GIS Spatial Database Development
Summer 2010 Registration C E 5382
This second GIS course builds on the introductory course and addresses principles and technologies for development and conversion of spatial databases, including photogrammetry, surveying and geodesy, coordinate systems and transformations, and remote sensing. Prereq: Graduate and/or upper division standing; completion of CVEN 5381 (or equivalent) and MEng-GIS program prerequisites (especially surveying, mapping and computing); background in algebra, calculus fundamentals and facility to compute DOS/UNIX, spreadsheet, and FORTRAN; familiarity with various CAD (e.g. AutoCAD) and GIS (e.g. Arc Info, GRASS) software is also required. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5383 - GIS Analysis -- Theory and Practice

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5383
This third course reviews GIS software functions and terminology, including data entry (input, editing), manipulation (projection, merge, window, aggregate), analysis (map algebra, overlay, Boolean, interpolation network, measurements, distance, terrain modeling, statistical analysis), query (spatial, attribute), and display/reporting. Integration of various domain-specific systems analysis models with GIS databases is also addressed. Laboratory activities involve programming applications using available GIS. Prereq: graduate and/or upper division standing; completion of CVEN 5381 (or equivalent) and completion of MEng-GIS prerequisites (especially applied Statistics); background in algebra, calculus fundamentals, facility to compute DOS/UNIX, OS/UNIX, spreadsheet, and FORTRAN; familiarity with various CAD (e.g., AutoCAD) and GIS (e.g., Arc Info, GRASS), software is also required. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5384 - GIS Management and Policies

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5384
This fourth course addresses aspects of GIS planning and development. These include topics of benefit-cost and financial analysis, scheduling, project management, internal and external marketing. Also, addressed are issues of GIS institutional acceptance, the role of computerized spatial data systems in decision making, application of planning techniques for accomplishing resource goals, administrative structure which enhances efficiency of use, and legal considerations involved with development and use of such databases. Prereq: Graduate and/or upper division standing; completion of CVEN 5381 (or equivalent); familiarity with various CAD (e.g. AutoCAD) and GIS (e.g. Arc Info, GRASS) software is also required. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5385 - GIS Relational Database Systems
Summer 2010 Registration C E 5385
Introduces relational database management system concepts with emphasis on GIS.
Includes examination of relational database systems from conceptual design through relational schema design and physical implementation. Topics include SQL, database design and implementation for large database systems, transaction management, concurrency control, distributed database management systems and the interaction and progressive integration of GIS technologies and RDBMS technologies. Prereq: Graduate and/or upper division standing; completion of CVEN 5381 or equivalent and completion of MEng-GIS program prerequisites. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5386 - GIS Laboratory

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5386
Provides in-depth experience with use and programming of a particular GIS software, including Arc GIS and related object-oriented programming languages. Advanced functionality for user authoring of software interface, data management and analysis functions and output generation. Exact content will vary by semester. Prereq: Computing and Introduction to GIS or their equivalent. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5387 - Advanced Remote Sensing

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5387
Addresses remote sensing concepts including 1) imaging sensors and geo-referencing;
2) image processing for radiometric, multi-spectral image enhancement, and multisensor image fusion; and 3) multi-spectral image classification, including feature extraction, supervised and unsupervised classification, and extensions to hyper-spectral data. Prereq: Calculus II, Statistics, Surveying and Mapping, Introduction to GIS, GIS
Spatial Data Development (CVEN 5382) or Introduction to Remote Sensing. Semester
Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5388 - Site Engineering

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5388
Course introduces the fundamentals of site engineering which require understanding and interpreting landforms, slopes, contour lines, grading, drainage, and earthwork to storm water management, hydrology reports, designing roadways, and street networks.
Other topics include designing for ADA and concepts of sustainability in site design.
Note: CAD experience is recommended. Cross-listed with CVEN 4388. Semester
Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
CVEN 5393 - Water Resources Development and Management

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5393
A multidisciplinary exploration of the principles governing water resources planning and development. Emphasis is on the sciences of water (physical, engineering, chemical, biological and social) and their interrelationships. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5394 - Water Resources Systems

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5394
Addresses the concepts, general processes, and quantification methods used in planning and analysis of water resource system planning and operations problems and goals, analysis methods, computer simulation and optimization. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5401 - Introduction to Environmental Engineering

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5401
Provides a broad overview of the environmental engineering and pollution control system. Offers a unique systems approach to environmental engineering, examining the source-to-receptor feedback loop system of pollution control. Process principles underlying pollutant, transport, abatement, and control are presented in a unified manner, cross-cutting atmospheric, wastewater and sub-surface systems. Prereq: Graduate standing in MSCE or MSES programs or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with CVEN 3401. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5402 - Environmental and Water Quality Modeling

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5402
Provides unified understanding of fundamental physical, chemical and biological processes that govern the transport and fate of pollutants in environmental systems - water, air and subsurface. Includes hands-on experience in modeling surface and ground water systems. Prereq: CVEN 5401. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5403 - Environmental Regulations and Management Systems

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5403
Students will receive an overview and understanding of major environmental laws and will be introduced to legal concepts used to develop environmental laws. In addition, students will learn about environmental management systems and their applications to environmental problems. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5404 - Chemical Processes in Environmental Engineering

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5404
Design and analysis of chemical processes in environmental systems - air, water and subsurface. Incorporates equilibrium, coordination, and oxidation-reduction chemistry concepts. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5405 - Environmental and Water Systems Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5405
The primary focus of this course is on quantitative techniques for environmental systems modeling analysis. The course primarily covers life cycle assessments (LCA) based concepts. The course will review basic steps in conducting an LCA, data collection and data processing. Other concepts such as EIOA, energy and exergy analysis would be introduced. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5414 - Physical Processes in Environmental Engineering

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5414
Design and analysis of physical processes in environmental systems - air, water and subsurface. Topics include mixing models, volatilization, sedimentation, filtration, absorption and membrane processes. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5427 - Storm Water System Design

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5427
This course covers urban watershed analysis, design rainfall and hydrologic losses, flood frequency and design event, rational method for peak runoff prediction, street hydraulic capacity and safety, culvert hydraulics, street inlet collection system and storm sewer system design and flow analysis. Prereq: CVEN 3323. Cross-listed with CVEN 4427. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5434 - Biological Processes in Environmental Engineering
Summer 2010 Registration  C E 5434
Covers the theory and application of biological processes in environmental systems. Topics include microbial metabolisms and the application of fundamental principles to treatment and energy recovery processes, including bioreactor configurations and design considerations. Prereq: graduate standing or permission of instructor.Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5444 - Design of Solid Residuals and Natural Treatment Systems

Summer 2010 Registration  C E 5444
Solid residuals treatment topics include thickening, dewatering, digestion, land application and composting. Natural treatment systems topics include slow rate, rapid, and overland flow land treatment systems; and constructed wetlands. Field trip required. Prereq: graduate standing, MATH 2411, PHYS 2311 and ability to use spreadsheets.Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5456 - Engineering Practice

Summer 2010 Registration  C E 5456
Consulting engineering practice and management. Professional practice and organization. Marketing, ethics, personnel selection, and training. Planning, budgeting, work scheduling, resource allocation, and balancing. Oral and written communication, quality standards, and engineering management. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor.Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5457 - Administration of Public Works

Summer 2010 Registration  C E 5457
A descriptive course concerned with the administration of engineering and planning aspects of urban public works. Prereq: Graduate standing in civil engineering or public administration, or permission of instructor.Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5460 - Intro Sustainable Urban Infrastructure

Summer 2010 Registration  C E 5460
Focuses on developing uniform vocabulary on sustainable infrastructure across science & technology, architecture & planning, public policy, and health & behavioral sciences. Students learn concepts, principles/pathways and evaluation techniques for promoting the diffusion of sustainable urban infrastructures.Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
CVEN 5461 - Defining & Measuring Sustainability

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5461
Unique cross-disciplinary course that teaches students community engagement strategies to define sustainability goals. Life cycle assessment and material flow analysis tools used to measure environmental sustainability benchmarks. Field work applies both tools to cities in Colorado.Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5480 - Hazardous Wastes and Site Remediation

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5480
Students learn to: (1) define and classify hazardous wastes encountered at hazardous waste-contaminated sites, (2) learn basic principles underlying currently available technologies for site remediation, (3) use EPA's technology screening matrix for technology selection, and (4) provide engineering design for selected remediation systems, e.g. ground-water pump-and-treat, soil vapor extraction, soil washing, and bioremediation. Prereq: CVEN 5402.Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5481 - Sustainable Urban Water Systems

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5481
Design of sustainable water systems. Defines sustainable water systems, then discusses sustainable aspects of water resources, water treatment, water distribution, wastewater treatment, and water policy. Also covers planning for climate change, and designing urban environments for decreased water usage.Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5494 - Risk Assessment in Environmental Engineering

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5494
The process of determining the likelihood and extent of harm that may result from an activity or event. Topics covered are: hazard identification, dose-response evaluation, exposure assessment, and risk characterization. The subjects of risk management, risk perception, and risk communication are also discussed. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with ENVS 6200, HBSC 7340.Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5514 - Matrix Analysis of Structures

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5514
Matrix analysis of skeletal structures. Systematic formulation of stiffness and flexibility methods of analysis of skeletal structures. Application of modern computational tools to structural analysis, including introduction to the finite element method. Prereq: CVEN 3505. Semester Hours: 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5515 - Introduction to Finite Element Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5515
Systematic formulation and application of the finite element approximation to the solution of engineering problems. Topics include one- and two-dimensional elasticity problems, two-dimensional heat flow and irrotational fluid flow. Elements considered include triangular and quadrilateral elements formulated by elementary and isoparametric techniques. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5537 - Numerical Methods in Civil Engineering

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5537
Introduces numerical analysis. Solution of linear and nonlinear equation systems. Numerical methods for ordinary and partial differential equations. Engineering applications. Differs from CVEN 4537 by the addition of individual student projects. Prereq: CSCI 1100/1410, MATH 3191 and 3200. Cross-listed with ELEC 5210, MECH 5110. Semester Hours: 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5575 - Advanced Topics in Structural Steel Design

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5575
Plate buckling, plate girder design and other topics determined by class interest. Prereq: CVEN 4575. Semester Hours: 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5585 - Advanced Topics in Reinforced Concrete

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5585
Advanced topics relating to design and analysis of reinforced concrete structures. Prereq: CVEN 4585. Semester Hours: 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5602 - Advanced Highway Design

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5602
Design and location of various classes of rural and urban highways. Development of theory as a rational basis of design for highway alignment, cross-section, intersections, and interchanges is stressed. Prereq: CVEN 4602. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5611 - Traffic and Safety Data Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5611
Covers statistical analysis methods for engineering studies in general, and for highway accident and traffic flow data in particular. Topics include data needs, sampling designs, survey methods, hypothesis testing, tests of proportions, non-parametric tests, analysis of variance, multivariate regression, and other tests of fit. Introductory overview of state and federal accident databases. Comparisons of accident rates by highway type, vehicle speeds, vehicle types, weather conditions and other factors also presented. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5612 - Traffic Impact Assessment

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5612
Covers (1) procedures to satisfy state and local requirements for transportation impact studies, (2) methods to perform trip generation, distribution, and traffic assignment for impact analyses, and (3) analysis of transportation impacts on residential communities, mode choice, regional business (downtown or suburban), peak and off-peak travel times, noise, safety, parking and pedestrians. A course project requires students to develop an application of analysis software to a case study area. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5613 - Traffic Flow Theory and Fundamentals

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5613
Emphasizes the mathematical and probabilistic aspects of traffic flows on interrupted (signalized) and uninterrupted (unsignalized) roadways. The course examines the properties of vehicle motion in traffic streams, and then examines the traffic interactions affected by the relationship between supply (signal timings and road designs) and demand (vehicle arrival rates and traffic patterns). Both macroscopic and microscopic models of traffic flow characteristics are presented, as well as queuing models and statistical distributions of headways. Prereq: CVEN 5611 and CVEN 5621 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5621 - Highway Capacity Analysis
Summer 2010 Registration  C E 5621
Covers the principles and applications of highway capacity analysis for freeways and arterials, ramps and interchanges, weave and merge sections, signalized and unsignalized intersections, roundabouts, pedestrian areas and transit. Emphasis is on level-of-service analysis procedures in the Highway Capacity Manual, although other approaches are also discussed. Additional topics include roadway characteristics, vehicle dynamics, human factors, speed and volume studies, travel time surveys and traffic flow characteristics. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5622 - Traffic Operations and Control

Summer 2010 Registration  C E 5622
Covers principles of traffic flow and analysis methods for surface street traffic systems. Emphasis is on network modeling and simulation of coordinated signal systems, together with unsignalized intersections and freeway junctions using modern software tools. Additional topics include alternative signal timing plans, signal controllers, vehicle detection systems for volume, speed, occupancy and ramp metering. A course project requires students to develop and apply modeling software to a case study area. Prereq: CVEN 5621 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5631 - Transportation Planning Methods

Summer 2010 Registration  C E 5631
Introduces the urban transportation planning process as conducted by metropolitan planning organizations throughout the U.S. Course covers the four-step modeling process (trip generation, trip distribution, mode split and assignment). Topics also include data needs, survey methods, and statistical models for origin-destination estimation and travel demand forecasting. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5632 - Urban Transportation Modeling

Summer 2010 Registration  C E 5632
An advanced coverage of urban and regional transportation planning models, procedures and software. Mathematical formulations, properties, and solution algorithms are presented. Additional topics include methods of data acquisition from public domain databases for use in modeling software. A course project requires students to develop an application of modeling software to a case study area. Prereq: CVEN 5631 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
CVEN 5652 - Airport Planning and Design

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5652
National airport system plan, air travel demand, geometric design of airport facilities, design of airport pavement and drainage structures, and airport environmental impact. Prereq: CVEN 3602 and graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5662 - Transportation System Safety

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5662
Safety aspects of highway, railroad, and airway transportation systems. Accident analysis, accident prevention, economic consequences of accidents. Prereq: CVEN 3602 and graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5682 - Pavement Design

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5682
Design of flexible and rigid pavements for highways and airports; stress analysis in flexible and rigid pavements; design of joints and reinforcing steel for rigid pavements; principles of subgrade stabilization. Prereq: CVEN 3602 and CVEN 4718. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5692 - Urban Traffic Workshop

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5692
Selected laboratory problems related to urban traffic. Prereq: CVEN 5642 or equivalent. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5708 - Advanced Soils Engineering

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5708
A unified treatment of the foundation of soil engineering analysis. Topics include stress-strain-strength of soils; generalized limiting equilibrium analysis; stability analyses of earth-retaining structures, slopes, and shallow foundations; probabilistic approach of stability assessment; computation of settlement of foundations in sand and clay and time-rate of consolidation and critical state concept. Special attention is directed toward the illustration of theory through practical examples. Prereq: CVEN 3708, CVEN 4718, and graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5709 - Settlement Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5709
A unified treatment of settlement analysis on sand and clay. Topics include settlement of shallow foundation, settlement of deep foundation, and settlement of embankments, walls and excavations. Conventional methods of analysis and the finite element method of analysis are covered. Critical design implications are emphasized. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5718 - Engineering Properties of Soils

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5718
Engineering properties of soils, including index properties, permeability, stress-strain behaviors, shear strength, compressibility, critical state soil models and their application in interpreting soil behaviors. Attention also is directed to laboratory and in-situ tests to examine the validity of shear strength and compressibility theories and their application to stability and settlement analysis. Prereq: CVEN 3708, CVEN 4718, and graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5719 - Design and Construction of Geosynthetic-Reinforced Soil Structures

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5719
Theory of reinforced soil; mechanical and hydraulic properties of geosynthetics; soil-geosynthetic interaction behavior; design concepts of GRS structures; design and construction of GRS retaining walls; design and construction of GRS embankments and slopes; design and construction of GRS foundations. Prereq: CVEN 5708. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5728 - Groundwater and Seepage

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5728
Principles governing flow of water through soils. Approximate methods for confined and unconfined seepage problems, including flow nets, analog models, numerical methods, and method of finite elements. Analytical solutions for unconfined flow problems. Drainage filter design. Seepage toward wells. Stability of earth structures due to seepage. Prereq: CVEN 3708, CVEN 4718, and graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
CVEN 5738 - Foundation Engineering

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5738
Methods of subsurface exploration and sampling of soils, lateral support in open cuts, control of groundwater, analysis and design of shallow foundations, analysis and design of deep foundations, bridge abutments and cofferdams, underpinning, and application of modern computational techniques to analysis and design of foundations. Prereq: CVEN 5708, CVEN 5718, and graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5748 - Design of Earth Embankment Dams

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5748
Theory, design, and construction of earth embankments. Use of published data, field exploration, laboratory tests on soils and rock in investigating foundations, and construction materials. Principles of compaction and settlement. Slope stability analysis, landslide, recognition and control, use of benches and beams. Prereq: CVEN 3708, CVEN 4718, and graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5758 - Foundations on Expansive Soils

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5758
Expansive soils swell upon wetting because of the swelling nature of constituent clay minerals, particularly montmorillonite. This course studies swelling nature of different clay minerals, effects of wetting, swelling potential, swelling pressures, and design of different foundation systems. Prereq: CVEN 4738, B.S.C.E. or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5768 - Introduction to Rock Engineering

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5768
Nature of rock masses, geological exploration, deformability and strength, in-situ stresses and deformation, rock hydraulics. Prereq: CVEN 3708, CVEN 4718 and graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5778 - Applied and Experimental Rock Mechanics

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5778
Surface exploration and characterization of rock masses, slope stability, analysis of rock masses; rock mass reinforcement; tunnel and shaft designs, design of underground rock chambers; foundations on rocks; and dam design. Prereq: CVEN 5768 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5780 - Engineering Geology

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5780
Studies geology as utilized in engineering and environmental practice. Emphasizes a conceptual integration of geologic materials, processes, and rates of change as a basis for successful application of geologic knowledge to environmental planning and engineering design projects. Prereq: MATH 2411 and CVEN 2121. Cross-listed with CVEN 4780 and GEOL 4780/5780. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5788 - Design and Construction of Municipal Solid Waste Disposal Facilities

Summer 2010 Registration CVEN 5788
NIMBY (Not In My Back Yard) and environmental regulations demand that all landfills receive proper engineering design. This course covers regulations, management (reduction, collection, transportation, transformation, recycling, incineration, disposal), and disposal facility design. Prereq: Senior in CVEN, B.S.C.E. or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5798 - Dynamics of Soils and Foundations

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5798
Principles of vibrations of, and wave propagation in, elastic, homogeneous, isotropic media; laboratory and in-situ measurements of soil properties; applications of these principles and properties to the design of foundations subject to dynamic loading generated by machinery, earthquakes, or blasts. Prereq: CVEN 5708, 5718, and graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5800 - Special Topics: 5800-5839

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5800
Topical courses offered once or on irregular intervals. Typical topics include: computer-aided structural engineering, pre-stressed concrete, non-matrix structural analysis, geotechnical aspects of hazardous waste management, geographic information systems and facility management, groundwater hydrology, engineering project management, structural planning, engineering practice, spreadsheet application, field instrumentation, hazardous wastes engineering, bridge super and substructure design, advanced steel design, hydraulic transients, foundations -- expansive soils, sludge process design.
Prereq: Variable. Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5840
Available only through approval of the graduate advisor. Subjects arranged to fit needs of particular student. Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5950 - Master's Thesis

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5950
Semester Hours: 1 to 8
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 5960 - Master's Report

Summer 2010 Registration C E 5960
Semester Hours: 1 to 8
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 6110 - PhD Seminar

Summer 2010 Registration C E 6110
Introduces PhD students to the process of doctoral research, addresses important milestones and hurdles in the PhD process, and provides advanced doctoral students with the opportunity for presenting and discussing their research with peers. Prereq: admission to the PhD program. Semester Hours: 0 to 0
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 6111 - Dynamics of Structures

Summer 2010 Registration C E 6111
Linear and nonlinear dynamic matrix analysis of multi-degree-of-freedom structural systems. Analysis and design for wind and earthquake loads including modal analysis and sub structuring techniques. Computer programming. Prereq: CVEN 5111. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 6131 - Theory of Elasticity

Summer 2010 Registration C E 6131
Mathematical theory of elasticity and its applications to engineering problems.
Discussion of the basic analytical and numerical methods of solutions. Prereq: CVEN 5121. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 6165 - Buckling in Structures

Summer 2010 Registration C E 6165
Buckling of columns, beams, frames, plates, and shells in the elastic and plastic range.
Prereq: CVEN 3121. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 6336 - Urban Flood Control System Design

Summer 2010 Registration C E 6336
This course covers urbanization impact on watershed regime, flood control measures, detention and retention system, infiltration basin, sand filter, water quality control basin, wetland preservation, storm water Best Management Practices, low impact development, outlet structure design, pond safety, stream restoration, overflow risk analysis and optimal operation. Prereq: CVEN 5333, 5343 and graduate standing. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 6353 - Hydraulic Design

Summer 2010 Registration C E 6353
Design of small dams, including reservoir sizing, spillways, and energy dissipaters. Design of urban drainage and flood control facilities such as culvert transitions, roadside ditches, street inlets, detention/retention ponds, storm sewer systems, drainage channels, and channel erosion controls including vegetation, concrete, riprap protection. Design of floodplain encroachment, natural channel improvement, and bridge hydraulics. Prereq: CVEN 5333 and 5343. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 6515 - Advanced Theory of Structures

Summer 2010 Registration C E 6515
Generalized approaches to the analysis of civil engineering and continuous elastic structures (such as plates and plane stress bodies) by force and displacement methods. Emphasis is on formulation by finite elements and solution by matrix methods. Prereq: CVEN 5515 and basic knowledge of computer programming. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
CVEN 6738 - Finite Element Method in Geotechnical Engineering

Summer 2010 Registration C E 6738

Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 6840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration C E 6840

Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 7800 - Special Topics

Summer 2010 Registration C E 7800

Credit and subject matter to be arranged. Prereq: Variable. Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 7801 - Special Topics

Summer 2010 Registration C E 7801

Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 7840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration C E 7840

Available only through approval of the graduate advisor. Subjects arranged to fit needs of particular student. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 7990 - Doctoral Dissertation

Summer 2010 Registration C E 7990

Semester Hours: 1 to 10
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

CVEN 8990 - Doctoral Dissertation

Summer 2010 Registration C E 8990

Semester Hours: 1 to 10
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
DSCI 2010 - Business Statistics

Summer 2010 Registration DSCI 2010
Basic principles of probability and statistics with applications in business. Includes descriptive statistics, probability and probability distributions, data collection, sampling distributions, statistical inference, simple regression and the use of a computer to perform statistical analysis. Students are required to present their analyses in written and/or oral form and defend their conclusions. This is a business core course. Therefore a grade of a 'C' or better must be earned to satisfy Business graduation requirements and prerequisites for other business courses. Prereq: MATH 1070, MATH 1080, and computer literacy (working knowledge of basic operating system and file manipulation commands, email, the world-wide web, a word processing package and spreadsheets). Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSCI 3000 - Operations Management

Summer 2010 Registration DSCI 3000
Introduces the concepts and methods commonly used in manufacturing and service operations. Topics include aggregate planning, inventory control, scheduling, quality control, and linear programming. This is a business core course. Therefore a grade of a 'C' or better must be earned to satisfy Business graduation requirements. Prereq: ACCT 2200, DSCI 2010, and MATH 1080. It is important to take this course junior year. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 When Offered: FASPRSUM
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSCI 3780 - Supply Chain Management

Summer 2010 Registration DSCI 3780
Over the last decade businesses have started to understand how the design and operation of their supplier network can actually be a source of competitive advantage. Supply chain management is concerned with the activities around communication, managing inventory, warehousing, transportation and facility location. The course objectives are to understand a supply chain/network from the strategic, planning and operations perspectives and to develop skills that allow you to analyze the responsiveness and effectiveness of the network. Prereq: DSCI 2010. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

DSCI 4840 - Independent Study
Summer 2010 Registration
DSCI 4840

Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

---

DSCI 4950 - Special Topics in Decision Sciences

Summer 2010 Registration
DSCI 4950

Courses offered on an irregular basis for the purpose of presenting new subject matter in Decision Sciences. Prereq: Will vary depending upon the particular topic and instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

---

DSCI 5939 - Cooperative Education

Summer 2010 Registration
DSCI 5939

Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

---

DSCI 6010 - Deterministic Models

Summer 2010 Registration
DSCI 6010

Seldom offered. Linear programming and its application, network analysis, including scheduling models, dynamic programming, integer programming, non-linear programming. Prereq: BUSN 6530 and 6630. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

---

DSCI 6020 - Stochastic Models

Summer 2010 Registration
DSCI 6020

Seldom offered. A variety of stochastic models and their application are discussed. Simulation modeling and analysis is emphasized as an approach for addressing such problems. Prereq: BUSN 6530 and 6630. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

---

DSCI 6220 - Research methods: Design and Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration
DSCI 6220

Research methods: Design and Analysis. Topics include: research design, approaches to gathering data; sampling methods; linear multivariate analysis methods emphasizing structural equations models; and a brief survey of other methods such as cluster analysis, multidimensional scaling, methods such as neural nets, Cart and/or genetic algorithms. While much of the material is of general interest, the course emphasizes methods and situations to prepare students in the CS/IS PhD program for research in their field(s). The course includes student projects involving the analysis of data using appropriate software, whose results are presented to the class. Note: Cannot receive credit for both ISMG 7220 and DSCI 6220. Prereq: BUSN 6530 (may be taken concurrently with permission of instructor) and either PhD student status or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with ISMG 7220. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSCI 6230 - Business Forecasting

Summer 2010 Registration DSCI 6230
Modern businesses use forecasts in marketing, finance, accounting, human resources management and supply chain and production management decision-making. This course focuses on practical application of forecasting techniques, choosing and comparing appropriate methods and applying the results to the business application.
Note: Can only receive credit for either DSCI 6230, BUSN 6824, or FNCE 6372. Prereq:
BUSN 6530 or FNCE 6290. Cross-listed with BUSN 6824 and FNCE 6372. Semester
Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSCI 6440 - Quality and Process Improvement

Summer 2010 Registration DSCI 6440
Studies the identification, measurement and improvement of quality and the practical management issues related to implementing quality systems within organizations.
Topics include historic and contemporary views of quality, statistical quality control tools including Six SigmaSM, work design and measurement and process flow and design.
Note: Cannot receive credit for both DSCI 6440 and BUSN 6832. Prereq: BUSN 6530 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BUSN 6832. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSCI 6460 - Decision Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration DSCI 6460
Examines business decision making under conditions of risk and uncertainty using quantitative decision analysis methods such as utility theory, value of information, decisions with conflicting objectives and hierarchical structured models. Applications include decisions commonly encountered in capital acquisitions, financial investments, quality control, project selection, strategic planning, production control and human resource management. Student computer-assisted projects are conducted. Note:
Cannot receive credit for both DSCI 6460 and BUSN 6836. Cross-listed with BUSN
6836. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSCI 6480 - Simulation Modeling
Summer 2010 Registration DSCI 6480

Students learn to model and analyze complex dynamic systems using state-of-the-art software such as Arena. Illustrative application areas include production systems, service systems, distribution systems and health care systems. Topics include creating reliable simulation models, analyzing the input and output from the model and managing simulation projects. A substantial part of the course will be devoted to projects where students define, model and analyze a significant system of their choosing. Note: Cannot receive credit for both DSCI 6480 and BUSN 6834. Prereq: Permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BUSN 6834. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSCI 6600 - Purchasing, Materials Management and Negotiation

Summer 2010 Registration DSCI 6600

Seldom offered. Studies the purchasing function in manufacturing, service and public organizations. Topics include: course selection, make-buy analysis, material quality standards and specifications, value analysis, negotiations, and legal aspects. Prereq: BUSN 6630. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSCI 6800 - Special Topics

Summer 2010 Registration DSCI 6800

Seldom offered. A number of different current topics in decision sciences are discussed in this course. Consult the current 'Schedule Planner' for semester offerings. Prereq: Permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSCI 6820 - Project Management

Summer 2010 Registration DSCI 6820

Introduces the knowledge and skills of Project Management (PM) in a business environment. Emphasis will be on the entire project life cycle, the project management process groups and the knowledge areas as presented in the Project Management Body of Knowledge (PMBOK) from the Project Management Institute (PMI). Managerial aspects, quantitative tools and traditional techniques of Project Management will be covered. Application to various industries will be included. Note: cannot receive credit for both DSCI 6820 and BUSN 6820. Cross-listed with BUSN 6820 and URPL 6686. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSCI 6822 - Services Operations
DSCI 6822 - Service Operations Management

Examines the unique issues involved in the management of service operations. Operations management principles specific to service industries are given in-depth. In addition, simulation is introduced as a technique for studying service industries. Note: Cannot receive credit for both BUSN 6822 and DSCI 6822. Prereq: BUSN 6530 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BUSN 6822. Semester Hours: 3

DSCI 6826 - Supply Chain Management

Introduces the application of purchasing, operations, and logistics to the entire supply chain of an organization. Because of globalization and the rapid advancement of information technology, emphasis is placed on integration management of processes and systems, relationship management of upstream and downstream players, and strategies that incorporate current and future trends. Note: Cannot receive credit for both BUSN 6826 and DSCI 6826. Cross-listed with BUSN 6826. Semester Hours: 3

DSCI 6828 - Business Applications of Data Mining

Addresses statistical approaches to the very large data sets increasingly common in business applications such as internet-based business, fraud detection, credit scoring and market segmentation. Topics include limitations of classical statistical when applied to large data sets, alternative approaches and applications of key data mining algorithms such as logistic regression, decision trees and cluster analysis. Emphasis is placed on proper choice of method, interpretation of the results and understanding of the strengths and limitations of the methods. Students are expected to analyze and report on a variety of data sets drawn from business application areas. Note: Cannot receive credit for both BUSN 6828 and DSCI 6828. Prereq: BUSN 6530 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with BUSN 6828. Semester Hours: 3

DSCI 6840 - Independent Study

Instructor approval is required. Allowed only under special and unusual circumstances. Regularly scheduled courses cannot be taken as independent study. Semester Hours: 1 to 8

DSCI 6910 - Decision Sciences Practicum
Summer 2010 Registration DSCI 6910
Students apply decision science methodologies to a real-life business problem in cooperation with a local Denver organization. Under the supervision of faculty, students engage in problem definition, analysis and solution. Results are presented in oral and written form to the sponsoring organization. Prereq: Permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSEP 6000 - Academic Writing for Doctoral Students

Summer 2010 Registration DSEP 6000
Tailored for graduate students in education. Focuses on techniques for improving academic writing, particularly planning, organizing, drafting, revising, and editing papers, i.e. course assignments, portfolio products, doctoral proposals or dissertation chapters. Prereq: Admission to doctoral program. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSEP 6010 - APA Conventions in Academic Writing

Summer 2010 Registration DSEP 6010
This workshop, specifically directed to doctoral students, concentrates on practical issues involved in documenting sources and following conventions for other text features using the current Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association and updates posted on the APA Web site. Prereq: admission to the doctoral program. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSEP 6020 - Advanced Academic Writing for Doctoral Students

Summer 2010 Registration DSEP 6020
This workshop is designed for doctoral students in education. Focuses on practical strategies for managing, organizing, revising and editing academic papers, especially complex writing projects such as dissertation proposals and dissertation chapters. Prereq: DSEP 6000 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSEP 6994 - Introduction to Academic Discourse

Summer 2010 Registration DSEP 6994
Designed to be taken prior to beginning the doctoral program. Discusses the process of writing-emphasizing reading research articles critically with a focus on selecting and organizing sources into a review, developing a conceptual framework, and identifying the connectivity between frameworks and conclusions. Covers principles involved in critically reviewing the literature, including an examination of the purpose of the literature review, its structures and an analysis of examples. Furthers the development of a scholarly writing culture, and set expectations for the type of writing necessary to be successful in the doctoral program and to be contributing members of the academic community of practice. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSEP 7000 - Doctoral Seminar in Research Methods

Summer 2010 Registration DSEP 7000

Designed for students beginning doctoral work, explores conceptional and practical bases for doing and evaluating educational research. The chain of reasoning linking the conceptualization of a research problem, the posing of questions in a social process of inquiry, and the collection and interpretation of evidence is examined through the use of examples. Prereq: RSEM 5100 or equivalent. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSEP 7010 - Dissertation Planning and Design

Summer 2010 Registration DSEP 7010

Provides doctoral students with conceptual, methodological, and social support during the early stages of the doctoral dissertation. Course content and discussion focuses on the first three chapters of the dissertation, including: posing research questions and hypotheses, conceptual and theoretical frameworks, literature reviews, and methodological (design, sampling, measurement, analysis) plans. Prereq: completion of all required course work; successful completion or scheduled doctoral comprehensive examination during the semester in which this course is taken. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSEP 7100 - Leadership/Innovation in Education

Summer 2010 Registration DSEP 7100

Introductory seminar for doctoral students in education. Orients students to the array of perspectives on leadership and innovation in education and develops doctoral-level analysis and writing skills. Students develop initial portfolio products and program plans. Prereq: admission to the doctoral program. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSEP 7200 - Administrative Leadership and Values Appraisals

Summer 2010 Registration DSEP 7200

Examines the core values underlying the program in education administration: value development in individuals as they relate to the purpose of public schooling in today's society. Prereq: permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 1 to 6

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
DSEP 7210 - Education Policy Making in a Democratic Society

Summer 2010 Registration DSEP 7210
Provides students with relevant theories, research, and practice related to administrative policy making educational organizations. Focuses on ways of thinking about societal and schooling tensions, and includes a focus on governance, planning, community participation, politics, working with groups, policy arenas, conflict management and the change process. Prereq: permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSEP 7220 - Leadership and Power

Summer 2010 Registration DSEP 7220
Part of a planned sequence of experiences for a cohort group of advanced doctoral students preparing for careers as senior policy administrators in education. Prereq: permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSEP 7230 - Organizational Performance in Schools

Summer 2010 Registration DSEP 7230
Examines ways of thinking about schools as organizations that deliver educational services, as well as places of employment for administrators, teachers, and other staff members. The course also focuses on ways to diagnose and change school performance. Prereq: permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSEP 7240 - Problems/Practices in Integrated Services

Summer 2010 Registration DSEP 7240
Examines the specific systems at local, state, and national levels that provide services and support for children, youth, and families including the regulatory and statutory criteria for program administration and funding, the nature and scope of services offered, and the goodness-of-fit between overlapping program mandates and existing needs of families. Prereq: admission to the Ph.D. program in educational leadership or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSEP 7250 - Nature of Work in Schools

Summer 2010 Registration DSEP 7250
Policies and educational reforms affecting the technical core of schooling: curriculum, teaching, learning, assessment, and organization. Students develop research and policy analysis skills and investigate social and political factors affecting what is taught and learned in schools. Prereq: DSEP 7000 and 7100. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSEP 7260 - Managing Integrated Services

Summer 2010 Registration DSEP 7260
Examines the dynamics of managing public policies and programs that support integrated services for children and families. Course focuses on managerial skills needed in a complex, multi-disciplinary setting. Course examines federal, state, and local government agency policies and their administrative implications. Prereq: core course in Integrated Services emphasis of the Ph.D. program in Educational Leadership and Innovation. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSEP 7300 - Individual and Organizational Change

Summer 2010 Registration DSEP 7300
Covers theory and practice of psychological change as this change relates to systems and individuals within organizations. Addresses the knowledge, understanding, and application of the change process. Prereq: permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSEP 7700 - Doctoral Pro Seminar

Summer 2010 Registration DSEP 7700
First semester students in DSEP are introduced to the faculty and the elements of the program. Prereq: admission to the Ph.D. program. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSEP 7710 - Theoretical Bases of Instructional Technology

Summer 2010 Registration DSEP 7710
Seminar on the theoretical foundations of the field of instructional technology, including behavioral, cognitive, and systems theories. Prereq: acceptance into the doctoral program. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSEP 7711 - Curriculum Reform in a Democracy

Summer 2010 Registration DSEP 7711
Students address major themes in curriculum improvement. Prereq: permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
DSEP 7712 - Seminar: Learning Theory and Learners

Summer 2010 Registration DSEP 7712
Students apply major issues from learning theories and development to problems of practice related to educational leadership and innovation. Prereq: EPSY 5110 or 5220 or (recommended: EPSY 5100, 5140 or 6000). Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSEP 7830 - Special Topics: 7830-7832

Summer 2010 Registration DSEP 7830
Special topics that reflect current research and scholarly exploration of leadership and innovation. Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSEP 7833 - Culture and Critical Theory

Summer 2010 Registration DSEP 7833
Provides an introduction to critical inquiry. General topics include: the development and of the concept of culture, the development and application of critical theory, critical race theory and critical pedagogy. Through the course, students are guided to explore critical theory work in their own field. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSEP 7834 - Divergent Scholarly Work on Identity & Voice

Summer 2010 Registration DSEP 7834
This seminar is to prepare individuals to integrate theoretical and practical knowledge by cultivating habits of analysis, inquiry and judgment. Students formulate ways of constructing voice for their own individual sense of identity as a leader and innovator in response to social and political pressures. Prereq: DSEP 7831. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Summer 2010 Registration DSEP 7840
Semester Hours: 1 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSPL 7011 - Research Design

Summer 2010 Registration DSPL 7011
Students are provided with a 'hands on' understanding of methodological issues to become both intelligent consumers of social science research and competent producers of empirically based knowledge. The course moves through the research process covering hypothesis formulation, research design, data collection, measurement, and some fundamentals of statistical inference. Prereq: Admission to the PhD program in Design and Planning or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSPL 7012 - Theories of Planning

Summer 2010 Registration DSPL 7012
Examines theories of planning and problems of plan implementation. Review and assesses a range of theories of intervention - market imperfections, political economy, regulations, community, rationality, and communication - relying on examples from students research as well as case studies developed by students. Prereq: Admission to the PhD program in Design and Planning or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSPL 7013 - Environment and Behavior

Summer 2010 Registration DSPL 7013
Explores contributions of social research to understanding what facilitates and motivates people's adoption of sustainable environmental behaviors. It examines personal and collective behaviors, at scales that range from buildings to global environmental change, in the developed and developing world. Prereq: Admission to the PhD program in Design and Planning or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSPL 7014 - Colloquium

Summer 2010 Registration DSPL 7014
Presentations of research projects by students, college faculty members and visitors. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSPL 7015 - Historiography and Architecture

Summer 2010 Registration DSPL 7014
Advanced seminar concerning the study of the written record of the past and how it is established. Readings focus on canonic texts formative to the discipline and the strategies they offer for historical research. Prereq: "Course is offered to doctoral students but masters students may enroll with instructor approval." Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
DSPL 7016 - Architecture, in Theory

Summer 2010 Registration DSPL 7014
Explores theories and texts that have influenced the analysis and the production of architectural form. The focus is on the expressive potential of architectural forms and the modalities of the realization of this potential. Prereq: "Course is offered to doctoral students but masters students may enroll with instructor approval." Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSPL 7017 - Pro-Seminar

Summer 2010 Registration DSPL 7014
Advanced, graduate-level course (seminar, independent-study, or other) addressing the history of architecture, landscape, or urbanism. Prereq: "Course is offered to doctoral students but masters students may enroll with instructor approval." Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSPL 7686 - Special Topics in Design and Planning

Summer 2010 Registration DSPL 7686
Various topical areas in design and planning are studied, including those in history, theory, methods, and practice. Semester Hours: 1 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSPL 7840 - Independent Study: DSPL

Summer 2010 Registration DSPL 7840
Studies initiated by students or faculty and sponsored by a faculty member to investigate a special topic or problem related to design and planning. Prereq: Permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 1 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

DSPL 7950 - Doctoral Thesis Research

Summer 2010 Registration DSPL 7950
Conducting research for doctoral dissertation, including data collection, analysis and presentation of findings. Prereq: Completion of core of PhD program. Semester Hours: 3 to 10

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ECED 5000 - The Early Childhood Profession
Summer 2010 Registration
ECE 5000
The first in the required sequence of early childhood courses. It provides an overview of the early childhood profession and philosophical, historical, and legal foundations of services to young children and their families. State and national standards for early childhood education and professional code of ethical conduct are examined. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ECED 5010 - Curriculum and Program Development in Early Childhood Education

Summer 2010 Registration
ECE 5010
Review of principles of early childhood curriculum and program development. Linkages are made between theoretical bases of development and curriculum planning. Curriculum areas considered include language, pre-academics, motor, social-emotional, science, social studies and aesthetic development. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ECED 5020 - Approaches to Young Children's Learning

Summer 2010 Registration
ECE 5020
Review of approaches for facilitating the learning and development of young children. Examined are programs for children from infancy through age eight. Approaches are considered in terms of (1) their differing views of intellectual, social, and physical development of young children; (2) their operation, activities and procedures; and (3) their effects on children's learning. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ECED 5030 - Directing Programs for Young Children

Summer 2010 Registration
ECE 5030
Analysis of organizational factors and instructional events in the classroom, facilitation of teacher effectiveness through supervisory feedback and in-service development. Special attention is given to supervisor or teacher relationships, parent-school-community relationships, and processes for feedback. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ECED 5040 - Administrative Seminar

Summer 2010 Registration
ECE 5040
Emphasis on those topics required of administrators and collaborator or consultants for early childhood socially inclusive classrooms or programs, such as philosophy, finance, programming, management, community or parent relations, supervision, ethical issues, teaming, professionalism, public policy and legislation, in service development and ECED 5060 - Working with Parents and Families

Summer 2010 Registration ECE 5060
Review of historical factors and research related to current trends in working with parents and families of children with or without disabilities. The course presents content concerning family systems theory, various community services available to families, abused and neglected children, and attributes of successful programs that serve parents and families in early childhood. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ECED 5070 - Cognitive, Social, Emotional Development and Disorders in Young Children

Summer 2010 Registration ECE 5070
Focuses on the cognitive and social development of infants and young children and problems that may occur during the process. Emphasizes intervention approaches for preschool children with cognitive and social-emotional disabilities. Implications for intervention from current research are considered. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ECED 5080 - Language and Literacy in Young Children

Summer 2010 Registration ECE 5080
Overview of normal language and literacy development through age 5, language components and pertinent research relating to language and literacy acquisition. Emphasis is placed on language only disorders commonly demonstrated by young children with disabilities and appropriate intervention strategies. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ECED 5090 - Neuromotor Development and Disorders in Young Children

Summer 2010 Registration ECE 5090
Provides an overview of normal and abnormal motor and neurological development in the infant and young child. Current treatment approaches for children with neuromotor disorders are examined, with emphasis on sensory integration and neuro-developmental treatment. Also reviewed are sensory deficits; hearing and visual impairment. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ECED 5102 - Introduction to Developmentally Appropriate Curriculum
ECE 5102
Introduces developmentally appropriate curriculum and instructional practices in early education and the elementary grades. Subject areas considered include literacy, language arts; mathematics, computers, blocks; science, outdoor education; social studies, thematic units; and art, drama, music, physical activity. Semester Hours: 1 to 3. Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ECED 5104 - Advanced Developmentally Appropriate Curriculum

ECED 5104 Extends earlier learning about developmentally appropriate curriculum and instructional practices in early education and the elementary grades. Students elaborate their knowledge of subject area materials and activities. A curriculum unit that is developmentally appropriate is planned, implemented, and evaluated. Prereq: ECED 5102. Semester Hours: 1 to 3. Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ECED 5140 - Measurement and Evaluation in Early Childhood Education

ECED 5140 Provides classroom experience in basic measurement concepts and in the screening and assessment of young children's cognitive, affective, language, and psychomotor capabilities and characteristics. Traditional measurement techniques as well as non-reactive measures, human and video-observational methods, and authentic assessment are included. Evaluation of programs and persons in early childhood education settings is examined. Semester Hours: 3 to 3. Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ECED 5200 - Screening and Assessment of Young Children

ECED 5200 Provides a field-based experience in the administration and scoring of a sampling of the most widely used screening and assessment instruments designed for use with infants and in preschool classrooms. Students have the opportunity to administer a variety of formal and informal measures including screening, evaluation, play-based and curriculum-based measures. Semester Hours: 3 to 3. Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ECED 5202 - Stress, Violence, and Behavior Challenges in Young Children’s Lives

ECED 5202 Prepares early childhood educators to work with young children and their families to counteract the negative effects of stress and violence. Students are introduced to the effects of stress and violence on young children, the emotional needs of children in the classroom and the use of specific intervention strategies to promote positive social skills, prevent behavior problems, and teach social problem solving to young children. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ECED 5204 - Early Childhood Mental Health

Summer 2010 Registration ECE 5204
Addresses the role of the early childhood practitioner in supporting young children emotional well-being and mental health. Topics include mental health disturbances or disorders of infancy or childhood, assessment of social or emotional development and behaviors related to mental health, relationship-based strategies for working with children with emotional and behavioral needs, and identification of community resources and services. Prereq: Students are encouraged to take ECED 5202 prior to this course for a specialization in early childhood mental health, however this is not an absolute prerequisite. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 6103
Students work with the professor to develop the products needed to ensure compliance with the new state standards for administrative licensure. Prereq: M.A. or certification in educational administration. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 6104 - Portfolio Product Development for Principal Licensure

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 6104
Students work with the professor to develop the products needed to ensure compliance with the new state standards for principal licensure. Prereq: M.A. or certification in educational administration. Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 6105 - Portfolio Evaluation for Administrative Licensure

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 6105
Students work with the professor to conduct a detailed evaluation of portfolios to ensure that they meet the state standards for administrator licensure. The professor assembles a team of faculty and practicing professionals for the evaluation process. Prereq: M.A. or certification in educational administration. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 6106 - Portfolio Evaluation for Principal Licensure

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 6106
Students work with the professor to conduct a detailed evaluation of portfolios to ensure that they meet the state standards for principal licensure. The professor assembles a team of faculty and practicing professionals for the evaluation process. Prereq: M.A. or certification in educational administration. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 6840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 6840
Semester Hours: 1 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
EDUC 6930 - Clinical Practice for Administrative Leadership

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 6930
Semester Hours: 1 to 7
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 6951 - Master's Thesis

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 6951
Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 7000 - Special Topics in Administration, Supervision, and Curriculum Development

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 7000
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 7120 - Curriculum of Middle Level School

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 7120
Deals with the history, development, principles, problems, practices, and trends of the curriculum of the middle level school.
Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 7140 - Student Activities Curriculum

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 7140
Principles, problems, and procedures for improvement of extra class activities, student councils, and home rooms in the secondary school.
Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 7150 - Doctoral Seminar in Curricular Theories

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 7150
An intensive study of current theories of public school curriculum related to trends in actual practices in elementary and secondary schools.
Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 7160 - Processes and Materials in Curriculum Appraisal

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 7160
Designed to provide curriculum workers with skills in the process of assessment of EDUC 7330 - Doctoral Seminar: Problems and Trends in Education

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 7330
A broad overview of current problems in schools and school systems and consideration of practices and policies in U.S. schools for solution of such problems. Evaluates procedures for solving educational problems. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 7350 - Elementary Principalship

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 7350
Two-week in-depth examination of the elementary school principalship. Required for Type D administrative certification, elementary school. Prereq: Permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 When Offered: SUMMER
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 7360 - Administration and Supervision of Elementary School

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 7360
For administrators and teachers. Purposes, practices, and trends in administration and educational leadership. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 7370 - Administration and Supervision of Senior High School

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 7370
Current administrative principles and practices essential to effective organization and management, with emphasis on the educational leadership of the principal. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 7380 - Doctoral Seminar: Theory of Educational Administration

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 7380
Studies organizational models, theories, and communication patterns; leadership roles and behavior; and organizational change. Attention to recent research in administrative theory. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
EDUC 7400 - Doctoral Seminar in School Finance

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 7400
For advanced graduate students. Problems of educational finance; theory, practice and control; equalization funds; federal-state-local relations in finance; budgeting; salary schedules; retirement; and school bonds. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 7410 - Educational Facilities Planning

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 7410
Determination of school plant needs; relation of educational and architectural services; criteria of adequate school plants, site development, building operation and management; financial problems. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 When Offered: FASPRSUM
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 7420 - Personnel Development and Training

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 7420
Management of human resources in educational organizations. Deals with shared roles between site development, building operation and management; financial problems. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 7430 - School and Community Relations

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 7430
Examines interactions of schools and their communities, citizen role or involvement in governance of education, internal and external communication concepts and practices, politics of education, community power and pressure groups, organizational culture and climate. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 7490 - Doctoral Seminar

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 7490
Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 7560 - Administration and Supervision in the Junior High School and Middle School

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 7560
Purposes, practices, and trends in administration of the middle level school. Current administrative principles and practices essential to effective organization and management. Emphasis is on leadership of the principal at the middle level school. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 7630 - Doctoral Seminar: Junior and/or Senior High School Education

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 7630
For advanced students. Problems, theories, and trends in secondary education. Includes field work and individual projects. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 7700 - Doctoral Pro Seminar

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 7700
This seminar integrates multiple doctoral labs, assists students to focus on dissertation topics, and facilitates inclusion of regional or national researches in students' PhD experiences. Prereq: Admission to the PhD program. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 7800 - Doctoral Research Seminar: Education Administration, Curriculum-Supervision

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 7800
This seminar focuses on doctoral research study in these areas of educational research. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 7810 - Doctoral Seminar in School Law

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 7810
An in-depth examination of the American legal process as it pertains to administration, planning, and delivery of educational programs. Involves self-selected research followed by individual or group presentations. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 7820 - Doctoral Seminar in Curriculum

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 7820
Advanced seminar relating to theory and practice in curriculum building. Includes both elementary and secondary levels. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
EDUC 7823 - Doctoral Seminar in Educational Supervision

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 7823
Advanced exploration of current instructional supervision concepts with exercises linking theory with professionals to solve instructional problems. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 7825 - Doctoral Seminar in Educational Leadership

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 7825
Seminar dealing with processes and patterns of educational leadership in the schools. Various theories of leadership are considered in relation to students' leadership behaviors. May be taken more than one semester for credit with advisor's approval. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 7840 - Independent Study: EDUC

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 7840
Doctoral. Semester Hours: 1 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 7911 - Practicum in Education Administration, Supervision and Curriculum

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 7911
Semester Hours: 1 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 7921 - Readings in Education Administration, Curriculum and Supervision

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 7921
Semester Hours: 1 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 7931 - Internship in Educational Administration and Supervision

Summer 2010 Registration EDUC 7931
Prereq: Permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

EDUC 7932 - Internship in Curriculum
ELEC 1201 - Introduction to Electrical Engineering

Summer 2010 Registration E E 1201
Introduces the field of electrical engineering and the computer -- its primary tool. ELEC faculty members explain the various specialties within the field by demonstration. Word processors, spreadsheets, and engineering software are introduced. Note: This course is not available to students who have taken ELEC 2142. ENGR 1000 cannot be substituted for ELEC 1201. Prereq: High School Trigonometry. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 1510 - Logic Design

Summer 2010 Registration E E 1510
The design of combinatorial and sequential switching circuits. Topics include Boolean algebra, Boolean function minimization technique, combinatorial circuit analysis and synthesis, synchronous sequential circuit analysis and synthesis, algorithmic state machine design, asynchronous sequential circuit analysis and synthesis. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 1520 - Embedded Systems Engineering I

Summer 2010 Registration E E 1520
Programming concepts are introduced from a hardware design standpoint. Assembly language and the "C" language are used to interface and manipulate hardware. Microcontroller programming for electrical engineering applications is studied. Prereq: ELEC 1510. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 2132 - Circuit Analysis I

Summer 2010 Registration E E 2132
Introduces circuit analysis: basic principles, operational amplifier circuits, first-order and second-order circuits, steady-state sinusoidal analysis with phasor mathematics. Prereq:
MATH 2411 and PHYS 2311. Cross-listed with CSCI 2132. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 2142 - Circuit Analysis II

Summer 2010 Registration E E 2142
Sequential course after ELEC 2132. Topics include: Solution of circuits using Laplace transforms, frequency domain analysis, additional steady-state solutions, Bode plots, active filters, pulses, impulses, and computer-aided analysis. Prereq: ELEC 2132, MATH 2421, PHYS 2331. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 2520 - Embedded Systems Engineering 2

Summer 2010 Registration E E 2520
A second semester computer engineering course covering basic computer architecture including CPU's, memory, peripherals, and operating systems including development tools, Kernel selection, file systems, and storage device manipulation, boot loaders, USB, networking, device drivers, and real-time operating system usage. Prereq: ELEC 1520. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 2531 - Logic Laboratory

Summer 2010 Registration E E 2531
Experiments in digital logic utilizing both computer simulation and actual analysis using integrated circuits. Initially, combinational logic circuits are studied, including circuits such as binary adders and multipliers, followed by sequential circuits, including counters. Meters and oscilloscopes are introduced. Use of computer-aided design tools facilitating design, simulation, and implementation of digital systems using field-programmable logic devices are an integral part of the entire course. Prereq/Coreq: ELEC 1510. Cross-listed with CSCI 2531. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 2552 - Sophomore Circuits Laboratory

Summer 2010 Registration E E 2552
Conduct experiments in circuit measurement using oscilloscopes, power supplies, and function generators. Verify basic circuitry, basic circuit theorems such as Ohm's Law, Kirchoff's Law, and Thevenin's theorem and Norton's theorem. Learn by experiments: impedance functions, transfer functions, resonance, Fourier series and analog filters. Prereq/coreq: ELEC 2142. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
ELEC 3030 - Electric Circuits and Systems

Summer 2010 Registration E E 3030
This basic electrical engineering course is for non-majors (does not apply to BSEE degree). Students study circuit analysis, transformers, electric motors, and simple electronic circuits (diodes and transistors). Prereq: MATH 2421 and PHYS 2331. Cross-listed with MECH 3030. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 3133 - Electromagnetic Fields

Summer 2010 Registration E E 3133
Basic material is covered, including: vector analysis in generalized coordinates, Maxwell's equations postulated for free space and extended to material regions and boundary conditions, uniform plane waves for free space and for materials, and static and quasi-static electric and magnetic fields. Prereq: ELEC 2132, MATH 3195, 2421 and PHYS 2331. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 3164 - Energy Conversion

Summer 2010 Registration E E 3164
Theory of transformers. Energy conversion concepts. Basic rotating energy converters, including direct current, synchronous and induction machines and applications. Prereq: ELEC 2142. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 3215 - Electronics I

Summer 2010 Registration E E 3215
The learning objective is fundamental semiconductor theory as applied to electronic circuits. Topics include: semiconductor theory, P-N junctions and diode applications, power supply design, transistor (BJT) theory and applications, low-frequency amplifiers, FET and MOSFET devices. Prereq: ELEC 2132, PHYS 2331 and CHEM 1130. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 3225 - Electronics II

Summer 2010 Registration E E 3225
BJT and FET transistor models at high frequencies, multi-stage amplifiers, frequency response of amplifiers. Feedback, operational amplifiers, oscillators, power amplifiers, and introduction to power electronics. Prereq: ELEC 2142 and 3215. Semester Hours:
ELEC 3316 - Linear Systems Theory

Summer 2010 Registration E E 3316
Introduces the fundamentals of signals and systems analysis. Topics include: time domain analysis of continuous and discrete time systems, frequency domain (Laplace and z-transform) analysis, applications to filters and feedback systems, Fourier transform for both continuous and discrete time signals, sampling and signal reconstruction, applications to communication systems and state space representation. Learning experience is enhanced by using MATLAB-based examples and experiments. Prereq: ELEC 2142. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 3651 - Digital Hardware Design

Summer 2010 Registration E E 3651
The specification and design of large digital hardware systems. Applications include using a hardware description language and simple digital control circuits. Prereq: ELEC 2531 and ELEC 2520. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 3715 - Electronics Laboratory

Summer 2010 Registration E E 3715
Design and experimental verification of the operation of filter circuits, power supply circuits, transistor amplifier circuits and FET circuits. Prereq: ELEC 2552. Prereq/Coreq: ELEC 3215. Semester Hours: 1to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 3724 - Energy Conversion Laboratory

Summer 2010 Registration E E 3724
Basic electro-mechanical energy conversion concepts as applied to the synchronous machine, induction machine, and DC machine; the transformer; applications. Prereq: ELEC 2142. Prereq or Coreq: ELEC 3164. Semester Hours: 1to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 3735 - Junior Laboratory

Summer 2010 Registration E E 3735
Design and measure: several nonlinear op-amp circuits, a multi-stage amplifier, and a complementary-symmetry output stage. Oral presentations on experiments to be given.
Prereq: ELEC 3715. Prereq/Coreq: ELEC 3225. Semester Hours: 1to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 3817 - Engineering Probability and Statistics

Summer 2010 Registration E E 3817
Topics include: definition of probability, conditional probability, independence, combined experiments and Bernoulli trials, random variables, joint distribution and density functions, correlations, sample mean and variance. Also, introduction to random processes, auto and cross correlation functions, spectral density of random signals, responses of a linear system to random inputs. Prereq: MATH 3195 and 2421. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 3939 - Cooperative Education

Summer 2010 Registration E E 3939
Students gain engineering design experience involving application of specific technical concepts and skills in a supervised industrial environment. (Must have approval from ELEC faculty.) Prereq: ELEC 2142. Semester Hours: 1to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 4025 - Device Electronics

Summer 2010 Registration E E 4025
A course relating performance and limitations of solid state devices to their structures and technology. For both advanced circuit and device engineers. Semiconductor physics and technology, pn-junction and MOS devices used in modern integrated circuits. Prereq: ELEC 3225 and senior standing. Cross-listed with ELEC 5025. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 4133 - Advanced Electromagnetic Fields

Summer 2010 Registration E E 4133
Topics include: Poynting's power theorem, reflection and transmission of uniform plane waves in layered media, two-conductor transmission lines, rectangular wave guides, Smith Chart elements of radiation ands antenna theory. Prereq: ELEC 3133. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 4136 - Control Systems Analysis
Summer 2010 Registration E E 4136
Introduces students to the fundamentals of analysis and design of feedback systems. Topics include: mathematical models of linear continuous-time systems applied to modeling physical systems in the time and frequency domain, control system characteristics, Routh's stability and transient response analysis, Nyquist stability and polar plots, analysis and design of linear control systems by root locus and frequency response, methods, compensator implementation, finite-precision numerical effects, round-off errors, and computer-based design applications. Prereq: ELEC 3316; Prereq/Coreq: ELEC 3817. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 4174 - Power Electronic Systems

Summer 2010 Registration E E 4174
Topics to be covered include: power electronics fundamentals and applications in power systems; uncontrolled, semi-controlled and fully controlled power semiconductors; converters design and control. Prereq: ELEC 3164. Cross-listed with ELEC 5174. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 4184 - Power Systems Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration E E 4184
Topics to be covered include: complex power; per-unit quantities; modeling of generators, transformers and transmission lines; power flow problem; economic dispatch; faults and sequence networks; and an introduction to power system protection and dynamics. Prereq: ELEC 3164. Cross-listed with ELEC 5184. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 4225 - Advanced Electronics

Summer 2010 Registration E E 4225
Switching state models of discrete components and integrated circuits, including logic gates, comparators, and operational amplifiers. Input, output, and transfer characteristics. Non-ideal properties. Analog-digital and digital-analog conversion. Mos-integrated circuits. Prereq: ELEC 3215, 3225, 3735. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 4247 - Communication Theory

Summer 2010 Registration E E 4247
Introduces the principles of analog and digital communication systems. Series expansion and Fourier Series and transforms. The sampling theorem. Stochastic principles and noise. Linear systems and Fourier analysis. Design of transmitters and receivers: modulation and demodulation schemes. Some information theoretic concepts: source coding, channel coding, channel capacity and performance measures. Prereq: ELEC 3316 and 3817. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 4248 - Digital Communication Systems

Summer 2010 Registration E E 4248
Introduces digital communication systems covering elements of information theory; mathematical representation of signals and systems; modulation and demodulation for the additive Gaussian noise channel; performance analysis of various transmission formats; synchronization; coded waveforms; decoding algorithms; and other related topics. Prereq: ELEC 3316, 3817; recommended ELEC 4247. Cross-listed with ELEC 5248. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 4249 - Space Communications Systems

Summer 2010 Registration E E 4249
Presents the art of space communications system design around the framework of the link budget and the essential analysis tool of the radio system designer. The budget is examined from theoretical and practical viewpoints. Pointers and motivation for further study in each of the related engineering disciplines are provided. Topics to be examined include satellite orbits, propagation, antennas, noise, modulation, coding and hardware or software. Prereq: Permission of instructor. Cross-listed with ELEC 5249. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 4276 - Digital Control Systems

Summer 2010 Registration E E 4276
Topics to be covered include: discrete-time systems and the z-transform, characteristics of open-loop and closed-loop discrete-time systems, time-response characteristics and stability analysis, design of digital and hybrid control systems using z-transform, root locus, frequency domain, and state variable compensation techniques, compensator on, implementation, and computer-based design applications. Prereq: ELEC 3316; Prereq or Coreq: ELEC 3817. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 4309 - Senior Design Project I

Summer 2010 Registration E E 4309
Design methodology and tools, project planning and team building, ethics in engineering and research, career planning and portfolio building. Project designs are completed and presented to the class. Prereq: Students must complete their Senior/30 hour check prior to enrollment. Prereq/Coreq: all required ELEC 3000-level classes and labs. ELEC 4309 and ELEC 4319 must be completed in subsequent academic semesters. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 4319 - Senior Design Project II

Summer 2010 Registration E E 4319
Project designs completed in ELEC 4309 are constructed and tested. Oral and written presentations of the completed project performance are required. Prereq: ELEC 4309. All required ELEC 3000-level classes and labs. Students must complete their Graduation Agreement prior to enrollment. ELEC 4309 and ELEC 4319 must be completed in subsequent academic semesters. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 4373 - Optical Engineering

Summer 2010 Registration E E 4373
This course introduces some of the most important concepts in optical engineering and prepares students a solid foundation to apply them to applications in the industry and academic research. Prereq: ELEC 4133 Advanced Electromagnetic Fields. Cross-listed with ELEC 5373. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 4406 - Control Systems Laboratory

Summer 2010 Registration E E 4406
This lab includes system identification, design of velocity control systems, design of PID controllers and control systems using state variable feedback. Prereq: ELEC 3225, 3316, 3735 and 3817. Semester Hours: 1to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 4423 - Microwave Laboratory

Summer 2010 Registration E E 4423
Microwave design and matching of coaxial and waveguide devices, transmission lines and systems. Devices include attenuators, directional couplers, antennas, ferrites, detectors, mixers, oscillators and amplifiers. Systems are represented by modern X-band transceivers and multi-band satellite systems. Project in microwave computer-aided design of microwave transistor amplifiers. Prereq: ELEC 3225, 3735 and 3133. Semester Hours: 1to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
ELEC 4435 - Advanced Electronics Laboratory

Summer 2010 Registration E E 4435
Projects related to digital logic, analog and digital switches, A/D and D/A converters, and design of signal filters. Prereq: ELEC 3225 and 3735; Prereq or Coreq: ELEC 4225. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 4444 - Power Systems Laboratory

Summer 2010 Registration E E 4444
This lab introduces the student to modern computational tools used in power system analysis. Algorithms to solve the "power flow problem," the "economic dispatch problem," and the "optimal power flow problem" are discussed and implemented in the Matlab-Simulink mathematical analysis software package. Prereq: ELEC 4184. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 4466 - Adaptive Control System Design

Summer 2010 Registration E E 4466
Basic concepts in adaptive feedback control. Overview of application areas. Stability of non-linear systems and hyperstability approach to the design of adaptive controllers. Passivity concept and Liapunoy stability. Design of model reference adaptive systems, self-tuning regulators, stochastic adaptive, and dual control systems. Computer-based design applications. Emphasis is placed on design projects. Prereq: ELEC 4136 or 4276. Cross-listed with ELEC 5466. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 4467 - Communications Laboratory

Summer 2010 Registration E E 4467
Analysis and design in three main areas: traditional analog communications at low and medium frequencies, digital communications, and microwave communications systems. Extensive use of spectrum analysis from low frequencies up to microwave range. Projects include noise, AM, FN, PM, PLL, sampling, quantizing, encoding, TDM, FSK, QPSK, 16QAM, receivers, and satellite communications systems. Prereq: ELEC 3735; Prereq or Coreq: ELEC 4247 or ELEC 4248. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 4501 - Microprocessor Based Design

Summer 2010 Registration E E 4501
Covers advanced treatment of embedded system design using microprocessors. Analog input circuitry is interfaced to a microprocessor, and a PC board layout is created to develop a complete system design. Software/Operating System is implemented for real time I/O. Prereq: ELEC 3225, ELEC 3133 and ELEC 3735. Coreq: ELEC 3651. Cross-listed with ELEC 5501. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 4511 - Hardware-Software Interface

Summer 2010 Registration E E 4511
Computer engineering methods in hardware and software design applied to problems drawn from the mini- and micro-computer systems field. Hardware and software techniques for the design of combined hardware or software are developed. Interface and real-time programming techniques are considered. Graduate level requires additional projects and homework. Prereq: ELEC 3651 and ELEC 3735. Cross-listed with ELEC 5511. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 4521 - Microprocessor Laboratory

Summer 2010 Registration E E 4521
Provides support for the projects assigned in ELEC 4501 - a complete embedded system is designed, built and tested. Coreq: ELEC 4501. Semester Hours: 1 to 1 Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 4555 - VLSI Circuit Simulation

Summer 2010 Registration E E 4555

ELEC 4561 - Hardware-Software Lab

Summer 2010 Registration E E 4561
Projects related to the software interface of a processor to external devices. Topics include A/D converters, serial and parallel interfaces. Coreq: ELEC 4511. Semester Hours: 1 to 1 Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 4637 - Digital Signal Processing
Summer 2010 Registration E E 4637
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 4644 - Introduction to Biomedical Imaging

Summer 2010 Registration E E 4644
An important component of the recent expansion in biomedical engineering is the area of biomedical imaging. This ELEC 4644/5644 course is an introduction to biomedical imaging systems, not only covering the fundamentals of imaging physics but also the applications of four primary biomedical imaging modalities: X-Ray Computed Tomography (CT), Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI), Nuclear Medicine (i.e. PET, SPECT), and Ultrasound Imaging. Prereq: ELEC 3316 and ELEC 4637. Cross-listed with ELEC 5644. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 4678 - Quantum Electronics

Summer 2010 Registration E E 4678
The course teaches students to understand the basic concepts of quantum mechanics and to learn the mathematical tools needed and to be familiar with some of the technical knowledge that applies quantum mechanics to various advanced problems in engineering. Prereq: PHYS 2331 and MATH 3195. Cross-listed with ELEC 5678. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 4688 - Introduction to Nondestructive Testing

Summer 2010 Registration E E 4688
A basic, broad understanding of the principles of nondestructive testing and evaluation is provided. The main objective of this course is to attract students to NDT fields and eventually help address the increasing needs of NDT engineers and technicians. Interaction and collaboration with local NDT industries will also be emphasized. As an introductory course, a broad interdisciplinary knowledge of NDT will be covered in the following sub-areas: Visual, Penetrant, Magnetic Particle, Eddy Current, Microwave, Ultrasonic, and Radiography. Prereq: ELEC 1201 and ELEC 3316. Cross-listed with ELEC 5688. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
ELEC 4755 - Renewable Energy Systems

Summer 2010 Registration E E 4755
This course considers electrical generation using renewable energy sources of a variety of types. While examining many developing technologies, it concentrates on the design and application of photovoltaic and wind electrical generation. It examines current methods of classification of wind and solar sites, and discussed aspects which must be considered when choosing sites for wind or solar installations. It examines photovoltaic and thermal solar technologies, inverter technologies, and their integration into the power grid. Also considered are micro-hydro and fuel cell technologies. Renewable system economics and legislative effects are also discussed. Cross-listed with ELEC 5755.Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 4800 - Special Topics: 4800-4839

Summer 2010 Registration E E 4800
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 4840 - Independent Study: ELEC

Summer 2010 Registration E E 4840
An opportunity for independent creative work. Prereq: Permission of instructor.Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5005 - VLSI Device Modeling

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5005
Explores digital integrated circuit design including MOS processing steps, physical operation, building blocks of digital circuits, advanced nMOS, pMOS and CMOS circuit design, silicon VLSI technology and circuit and chip level. Spice and lay-out Editor are used. The physical relationship between circuit design and actual silicon layout and structure and technology are emphasized. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor.Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5025 - Device Electronics

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5025
A course relating performance and limitations of solid state devices to their structures and technology. For both advanced circuit and device engineers. Semiconductor physics and technology, pn-junction and MOS devices used in modern integrated circuits.
Prereq: ELEC 3225 and senior standing. Cross-listed with ELEC 4025. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5133 - Electromagnetic Radiation and Antenna

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5133
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5174 - Power Electronic Systems

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5174
Topics to be covered include: power electronics fundamentals and applications in power systems; uncontrolled, semi-controlled and fully controlled power semiconductors; converters design and control. Prereq: ELEC 3164 and graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with ELEC 4174. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5184 - Power Systems Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5184
Topics to be covered include: complex power; per-unit quantities; modeling of generators, transformers and transmission lines; power flow problem; economic dispatch; faults and sequence networks; and an introduction to power system protection and dynamics. Prereq: ELEC 3164 and graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with ELEC 4184. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5194 - Power Systems Operation and Control

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5194
This course introduces the student to various operational strategies the power industry uses today to operate the power system. Topics to be covered include: economic dispatch, unit commitment, optimal power flow (linear and nonlinear), transmission congestion, control areas, state estimation, and an introduction to power markets. Prereq: ELEC 4184 or ELEC 5184 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
ELEC 5210 - Optimization Methods in Engineering

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5210
Unconstrained optimization, gradient methods, conjugate direction methods, data fitting and function estimation. Applications in control, system identification and radar systems. Optimization over a convex set, LMS algorithms in adaptive systems, convergence properties. Nonlinear programming, Lagrange multipliers, projection algorithms, games and minimax theorem, application to H infinity control, communication and signal processing. Prereq: MATH 3191 and 3200/3195. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5220 - Methods of Engineering Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5220
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5230 - Advanced Linear Systems

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5230
Mathematical description of both continuous and discrete-time systems; vector, normed and inner-product spaces; state-space, impulse response and transfer function descriptions; state-transition response matrices; eigen values and eigen functions; controllability; canonical form; state feedback; observers; realization theory. Prereq: MATH 3191, MATH 3200/3195 and permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5236 - Computer-Controlled Systems

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5236
Analysis and design of discrete-time systems, as occurs when a digital computer is used to control physical systems. Topics include difference equations, Z-transform, sampled-data system modeling, sampling, discrete equivalents, stability, and discrete control design by root locus, direct design, frequency-response, and state space. Prereq: ELEC 4136 and Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5248 - Digital Communication Systems
Summer 2010 Registration E E 5248
Introduces digital communication systems covering elements of information theory; mathematical representation of signals and systems; modulation and demodulation for the additive Gaussian noise channel; Performance analysis of various transmission formats; synchronization; coded waveforms; decoding algorithms; and other related topics. Prereq: ELEC 3316, 3817; recommended ELEC 4247. Cross-listed with ELEC 4248. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5249 - Space Communications Systems

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5249
Presents the art of space communications system design around the framework of the link budget and the essential analysis tool of the radio system designer. The budget is examined from theoretical and practical viewpoints. Pointers and motivation for further study in each of the related engineering disciplines are provided. Topics to be examined include satellite orbits, propagation, antennas, noise, modulation, coding and hardware or software. Prereq: permission of instructor and graduate standing. Cross-listed with ELEC 4249. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5250 - Information Theory

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5250
Introduces information theory and its application in computer science, communication theory, coding and applied mathematics. Entropy, mutual information, data compression and storage, channel capacity, rate distortion, hypothesis testing. Error detecting and correcting codes, block codes and sequential codes. Prereq: ELEC 3817 or CSCI 4535 or MATH 3800. Cross-listed with CSCI 5217. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5252 - Computer Communication Networks

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5252
Comprehensive study of issues arising in modern computer-communication networks, both wire-line and wireless, carrying traffics with heterogeneous characteristics. A conceptual and analytical approach to the design of network protocols in harmony with the appropriate modeling of the traffic and network environments. Issues covered include routing, transmission, performance monitoring, as well as and network management in ATM multi-media networks. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
ELEC 5294 - Advanced Power Electronic Systems

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5294
Topics to be covered include: three-phase diode/thyristor bridge rectifiers; three-phase voltage source converters; matrix converters; FACTS devices; Custom Power devices; converter's design, control and modulation strategies. Prereq: ELEC 4174 or ELEC 5174.Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5373 - Optical Engineering

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5373
This course introduces some of the most important concepts in optical engineering and prepares students a solid foundation to apply them to applications in the industry and academic research. Prereq: ELEC 4133 Advanced Electromagnetic Fields. Cross-listed with ELEC 4373.Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5436 - Nonlinear Control Systems I

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5436
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5446 - Introduction to Modern Control Theory

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5446
State space representation of dynamic systems. Canonical forms. Frequency domain analysis. Controllability and observability. Design by state space methods: pole-placement, linear observers, separation principle, robustness. Linear, quadratic optimum control. Prereq: ELEC 4136 or 4276.Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5455 - Numerical Analysis of Semiconductor Devices

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5455
ELEC 5456 - Sampled Data and Digital Control Systems

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5456
Elements of sampling theory. Overview of design approaches via transform methods. Analysis and design in state space. Optimal control systems. Emphasis placed on computer-aided design projects. Prereq: ELEC 4276. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5466 - Adaptive Control System Design

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5466
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5476 - Optimal Control Systems

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5476
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5486 - Modeling and System Identification

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5486
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
ELEC 5496 - Robust Control

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5496
Background mathematics: function spaces and operators, and factorization theory. Stability theory: stability and stabilizability parameterization, closed-loop transfer matrices. Model-Matching Theory: solution existence, SISO Design, the Nehari problem. Performance bounds. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3to3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5501 - Microprocessor-Based Design

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5501
Covers advanced treatment of embedded system design using microprocessors. Analog input circuitry is interfaced to a microprocessor, and a PC board layout is created to develop a complete system design. Software/Operating System is implemented for real time I/O. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with ELEC 4501. Semester Hours: 3to3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5511 - Hardware-Software Interface

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5511
Computer engineering methods in hardware and software design applied to problems drawn from the mini- and micro-computer systems field. Hardware and software techniques for the design of combined hardware or software are developed. Interface and real-time programming techniques are considered. Graduate level requires additional projects and homework. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with ELEC 4511. Semester Hours: 3to3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5521 - Design and Test of Digital Systems

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5521
Application of hardware description languages to the design, synthesis, analysis, and testing of digital and computer systems; modeling and simulation constructs; modern hardware description languages, including VHDL, logic and behavioral synthesis; rapid-prototyping; FPGA and standard-cell ASIC design; design for testability; and electronic design automation. Prereq: ELEC 3651 or graduate standing. Semester Hours: 3to3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5522 - VLSI Systems
Summer 2010 Registration E E 5522
Examines the design of very large-scale integrated (VLSI) systems from the logic to physical levels, including MOS transistor design, CMOS fabrication and design rules, device and wafer processing, inverter and complex gate design, mask level layout, VLSI system components and architectures, algorithms for VLSI computer-aided design, and testability. Prereq: ELEC 3215 and 3651 or graduate standing. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5551 - Pattern Recognition

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5551
Pattern recognition techniques from image processing and artificial intelligence are explored. Topics include neural networks, morphological processing, wavelets, fractals, and basic image understanding. Prereq: ELEC 3316 and 3651. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5555 - VLSI Circuit Simulation

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5555
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5593 - Advanced Computer Architecture

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5593
Important concepts in the structural design of computer systems are covered. Topics include memory hierarchy, super pipelining and super scalar techniques, dynamic execution, vector computers and multiprocessors. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with CSCI 5593. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5617 - Random Processes for Engineers

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5617
Probability, sequences of random variables, specification of stochastic processes, stationarity, correlation functions and spectral densities, linear mean-square estimation, central limit theorems, law of large numbers, non-stationary random processes, stochastic differential equations and Karhunen-Loeve expansion, Kalman filtering. Prereq: ELEC 3316 and ELEC 3817 and permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
ELEC 5627 - Stochastic Point Processes

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5627
Presents modeling physical phenomena characterized by highly localized events distributed randomly in a continuum. Applications include optical communications, queuing theory, decision theory, nuclear medicine and electron microscopy. Topics include Poisson counting processes and its generalizations; stochastic differential equations used in filtering; martingales and Brownian motion. Prereq: ELEC 3817 or ELEC 5617. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5637 - Digital Signal Processing

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5637
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5638 - Digital Image Processing

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5638
Basics of two-dimensional (2-D) systems theory, including 2-D Fourier transform, Z-transform, and difference equations. Design of 2-D filters for image processing applications. Image transforms, including the 2-D Fft, cosine, Hadamard and Kl. Image enhancement and restoration techniques. Method of image coding and compression. Prereq: ELEC 5637. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5644 - Introduction to Biomedical Imaging

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5644
An important component of the recent expansion in biomedical engineering is the area of biomedical imaging. This ELEC 4644/5644 course is an introduction to biomedical imaging systems, not only covering the fundamentals of imaging physics but also the applications of four primary biomedical imaging modalities: X-Ray Computed Tomography (CT), Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI), Nuclear Medicine (i.e. PET, SPECT), and Ultrasound Imaging. Prereq: Graduate standing, or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with ELEC 4644. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
ELEC 5647 - Adaptive Signal Processing

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5647
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5648 - Blind Signal Processing

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5648
Introduction to gradient optimization methods. Introduction to adaptive filtering. Principal component analysis and whitening. Robust and adaptive PCA. Blind SOS parameter estimation and deconvolution. Fundamentals of independent component analysis. Blind equalization of SIMO and MIMO systems. ICA by maximization of nongaussianity. ICA by MLE and minimization of mutual information. Applications and practical considerations. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5657 - Detection and Estimation Theory

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5657
Introduces detection and extraction methods used in signal processing, including decision theory; detection of known and random signals; optimum receiver design; estimation theory; Wiener filtering; Kalman-Bucy filtering; and applications to communication systems. Prereq: ELEC 5617. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5667 - Wavelet Theory and Applications

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5667
Topics include: fundamentals of signal decomposition; theory of filter banks; multi-resolution analysis and fast wavelet transforms; applications image and video image and video compression; and denoising and feature detection. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5678 - Quantum Electronics

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5678
The course teaches students to understand the basic concepts of quantum mechanics and to learn the mathematical tools needed and to be familiar with some of the technical knowledge that applies quantum mechanics to various advanced problems in engineering. Prereq: PHYS 2331 and MATH 3195. Cross-listed with ELEC 4678. Semester Hours: 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5687 - Optical Communication Systems

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5687

System aspects of optical communication system design. Basic principles of sources, channels, detectors, counting statistics, amplifiers, and coding with regard to the performance limitations they place on the communication system. Prereq: ELEC 4247. Semester Hours: 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5688 - Introduction to Nondestructive Testing

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5688

A basic, broad understanding of the principles of nondestructive testing and evaluation is provided. The main objective of this course is to attract students to NDT fields and eventually help address the increasing needs of NDT engineers and technicians. Interaction and collaboration with local NDT industries will also be emphasized. As an introductory course, a broad interdisciplinary knowledge of NDT will be covered in the following sub-areas: Visual, Penetrant, Magnetic Particle, Eddy Current, Microwave, Ultrasonic, and Radiography. Prereq: Graduate standing, or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with ELEC 4688. Semester Hours: 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5697 - Optical and Spatial Information Processing

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5697

Processing of two- and three-dimensional spatial information. The scalar diffraction theory necessary to describe the information-bearing wave-front. Wave-front recording, modulations, and reconstruction. Holography, Fourier transform properties of lenses, two-dimensional convolution and correlation, pattern recognition, and optical information processing. Prereq: ELEC 3316. Semester Hours: 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5714 - Energy Systems Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5714

Transmission line constants, including details of GMD methods, skin effect. Analysis of balanced and unbalanced line using distributed parameters, energy flow from circle diagram approach, traveling-wave phenomena, corona, power cables and fundamentals of DC transmission. Prereq: ELEC 4184. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5755 - Renewable Energy Systems

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5755
This course considers electrical generation using renewable energy sources of a variety of types. While examining many developing technologies, it concentrates on the design and application of photovoltaic and wind electrical generation. It examines current methods of classification of wind and solar sites, and discussed aspects which must be considered when choosing sites for wind or solar installations. Renewable system economics and legislative effects are also discussed. Cross-listed with ELEC 4755. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5764 - Power Distribution Systems

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5764
Use of per-unit methods to find transient voltage behavior of industrial power systems resulting from motor starting, spot welders and similar stimuli. System and device responses due to series and shunt capacitors and problems of subharmonics and over-excitation on induction motors. Design of power distribution systems. Prereq: ELEC 4184. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5774 - Power Systems Dynamics and Protection

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5774
Topics to be covered include: power system dynamic fundamentals, various stability problems, such as angle, frequency and voltage stability; protection of power systems apparatus and protective relays coordination. Prereq: ELEC 4184/5184 or graduate standing. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5800 - Special Topics: 5800-5839

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5800
Intermediate courses of variable title and variable credit, usually offered once by guest lecturers. See current departmental notices for details. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
ELEC 5840 - Independent Study: ELEC

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5840
Offers the opportunity for independent, creative work. Prereq: Permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 5980 - Statistical Quality Control

Summer 2010 Registration E E 5980
Introduces statistical methods of quality control. Statistical process control, process capability, statistical design of experiments and total quality management. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ELEC 6800 - Special Topics

Prereq: Introductory college-level physical geography or environmental science course or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOG 4010/GEOL 4010. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ENVS 5020 - Earth Environments and Human Impacts

Summer 2010 Registration ENVS 5020
Basic concepts describing earth's biomes and physical environment are presented in a systems context. Global warming assessment, from both political and scientific perspectives, is then presented. Model visualization of these concepts to consider human impacts on Earth's biomes is discussed. Earth system viewpoint, having links of Earth's biomes to oceans and atmosphere, completes the course discussion. Cross-listed with GEOG 4020, GEOL 4020. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ENVS 5030 - Environmental Geology

Summer 2010 Registration ENVS 5030
Applies geological information to interactions between people and the physical environment. Increasing awareness of its importance in our society means that this is an expanding field as companies are required to address the environmental consequences of their actions. Prereq: Entry into MSES program, senior standing in sciences or geography, or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOL 4030 and 5030. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ENVS 5340 - Multicultural Science Education

Summer 2010 Registration ENVS 5340
This course examines literature in science education related to multicultural issues. Topics will be framed by an understanding of equity in diverse, urban classrooms and how it informs curriculum and instruction. Cross-listed with ELED/SECE 5340. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
ENVS 5403 - Unsaturated Zone Hydrology

Summer 2010 Registration ENVS 5403
Focuses on water and contaminant transport through the unsaturated zone, infiltration and drainage, and heat and gas transport. Students learn to design, perform field installation, and collect data in order to model and predict contaminant movement on/off site. Prereq: Chemistry, physics, calculus or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOL 4402. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ENVS 5410 - Aquatic Chemistry

Summer 2010 Registration ENVS 5410
Course objectives are to: (1) identify and understand chemical and physical principles and processes that control the composition of natural water, (2) prepare students to critically evaluate scientific literature and experimental design related to water quality and environmental remediation, and (3) examine the validity of environmental water data. Prereq: Graduate status and general chemistry and/or CHEM 4700. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ENVS 5500 - Topics in Environmental Sciences

Summer 2010 Registration ENVS 5500
Topics may vary from one offering to the next. Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ENVS 5600 - Applied Statistics for the Natural Sciences

Summer 2010 Registration ENVS 5600
Surveys statistical techniques including: quick review of basic statistics, tests for normality and outliers, display of data; simple and multiple regression; ANOVA and its relation to regression. Emphasis on computer or stat-pak analysis and interpretation of statistical results. Prereq: College algebra and GEOG 3080, or consent of an instructor. Cross-listed with GEOG 4770, GEOL 4770, 5770. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ENVS 5620 - Health Risk Communication

Summer 2010 Registration ENVS 5620
Acquaints students with contemporary theory, research, and practice in health risk communication. Cross-listed with COMM 5620, 4620, HBSC 5620, 4620. Semester
Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ENVS 5730 - Air Quality Modeling and Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration ENVS 5730
Emphasizes the use of air dispersion modeling tools. Topics include: sources and effects of air pollution, use of the WWW, and analysis of modeling results. Note: For graduate students in environmental sciences or engineering, and for those working in the environmental field. Prereq: Graduate standing. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ENVS 5840 - Independent Study: ENVS

Summer 2010 Registration ENVS 5840
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ENVS 5939 - Cooperative Education

Summer 2010 Registration ENVS 5939
Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ENVS 5995 - Travel Study

Summer 2010 Registration ENVS 5995
Rigorous yet flexible fieldwork-based experience exploring geographical and environmental phenomena in diverse world locations. Course begins with intensive regional and methodological introductions, followed by on-location field investigations in environmental analyses, cultural studies, GIS applications, tourism evaluation and/or hazards assessment. Prereq: GEOG 1202 and GEOG 1302, or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with ENVS 4995, GEOG 4995, and GEOG 5995. Semester Hours: 3 to 9
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ENVS 6000 - Environmental Sciences Seminar

Summer 2010 Registration ENVS 6000
Student and faculty presentations of UCDHSC research projects and other current environmental sciences topics. All environmental sciences students are encouraged to attend, but credit is given only to students who present seminars. Two semesters of this course are required to receive a M.S. in Environmental Science degree: these students must register for this seminar and give presentations the first semester they are in the M.S.E.S. program and the semester in which they defend their master's project. Prereq:
Must be an M.S. in Environmental Science student. Semester Hours: 1to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ENVS 6002 - Environmental Sciences Seminar

Summer 2010 Registration ENVS 6002
Introduces research and professional development in the environmental sciences, focusing on current issues and trends in the field, methods of developing research and project proposals, and defense of a proposal written during the semester. Students are introduced to the environmental sciences faculty and their research programs. Prereq: Must be an MS Environmental Science student or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ENVS 6200 - Risk Assessment

Summer 2010 Registration ENVS 6200
The process of determining the likelihood and extent of harm that may result from an activity or event. Topics covered are: hazard identification, dose-response evaluation, exposure assessment, and risk characterization. The subjects of risk management, risk perception, and risk communication are also discussed. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with CVEN 5494, HBSC 7340. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ENVS 6210 - Human Health and Environmental Pollution

Summer 2010 Registration ENVS 6210
Examines the roles of technology and society in the etiology and control/prevention of adverse health outcomes associated with releases of toxic substances. Examples come from experience and the literature on occupational cancer and reproductive hazards, occupational and environmental regulation of hazardous wastes, air, and water pollution. Cross-listed with HBSC 7210. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ENVS 6220 - Toxicology

Summer 2010 Registration ENVS 6220
Introduces the field of toxicology. Emphasizes the mechanisms by which chemicals produce toxic effects and the methods for assessing toxicity. Note: Designed for students in the environmental sciences and occupational health fields. Prereq: One year college chemistry and one year college biology. Cross-listed with HBSC 7360. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
ENVS 6230 - Environmental Epidemiology

Summer 2010 Registration ENVS 6230
Provides a basic understanding of the methods used to study the effects on human health of exposures to physical, chemical, or biological factors in the external environment. The course explains the use of epidemiologic methods through a problem solving approach to investigating environmental health case studies. Prereq: A basic statistics course and graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with HBSC 7310. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Summer 2010 Registration F A 3342
Semester Hours: 1to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 3343 - Topics in Studio Art

Summer 2010 Registration F A 3343
Semester Hours: 1to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 3350 - Topics in Multimedia

Summer 2010 Registration F A 3350
Specialized topics are offered in new multimedia technologies, theories, processes and conceptual thinking. Course titles are unique and changing semester to semester. Prereq: Multimedia majors must have completed all FINE 2000 level classes with a 2.75 GPA or have passed portfolio review. Other majors must have permission of instructor. (Priority seating given to multimedia majors.) Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 3400 - Web Design and Digital Imaging for Non-Majors

Summer 2010 Registration F A 3400
A studio course for non-design-majors that explores the design and creation of web sites for personal and professional use. Through critiques, discussion and research, students learn the basics of digital imaging and illustration as well as principles of user-interface design. Note: class may not be taken by Digital Design majors for credit toward degree. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 3405 - Digital Video for Non-Majors

Summer 2010 Registration F A 3405
A studio course for non-design-majors that focuses on the basics of storytelling using digital video. Through class projects, screenings, discussions and readings, students explore the concepts of montage and strategies to develop compelling video for artistic and commercial purposes. Note: class may not be taken by Digital Design or Transmedia majors for credit toward degree. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 3414 - Motion Design I

Summer 2010 Registration F A 3414
A workshop devoted to understanding time based imagery that focuses on utilizing video and motion graphics as a creative communication tool. Students will create projects that explore topics using video, animation, time and motion using a non-linear digital editing software. Note: Priority seating given to Digital Design and Transmedia majors. Prereq: Digital Design majors: passed portfolio review, FINE 2405 and 2415. Digital Design minors: FINE 2405 and 2415. Transmedia: FINE 2405, 2510, 3505 - can be taken concurrently with 3424 and 3438, or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 3415 - Design Studio I

Summer 2010 Registration F A 3415
In a design laboratory students learn to turn ideas into visual solutions through the application of design principles. Through lectures, writings, readings, discussion and critiques of projects assigned students will build visual literacy in relation to digital design. Note: Priority seating given to digital design majors. Prereq: Digital Design majors: passed portfolio review, FINE 2405, 2415 can be taken concurrently with 3414 and 3424. Digital Design minors: FINE 2405 and 2415 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 3424 - Interactive Media

Summer 2010 Registration F A 3424
A workshop exploring how interactive media can be used to convey a message and deliver information. Through critiques of projects, discussion and research, students will learn principles of user interface design, aesthetics and structure including their potential cultural impact. Note: priority seating given to Digital Design and Transmedia majors. Prereq: Digital Design majors: passed portfolio review, FINE 2405 and 2415. Digital Design minors: FINE 2405 and 2415. Transmedia: FINE 2405, 2510, 3505 - can be taken concurrently with 3414 and 3438 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 3428 - Design Studio II
Summer 2010 Registration F A 3428

In a studio environment students will develop advanced projects using animation, interactivity and motion graphics to create innovative solutions to design problems. Students will learn to apply design theory to practice through discussion, critiques and assigned projects throughout the semester. Prereq: FINE 3410, 3414, 3424 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 3434 - 3D Motion Design

Summer 2010 Registration F A 3434

A workshop devoted to 3D as a medium for creating works of art. Through demonstration, discussion, readings and project based explorations, students will learn to navigate and create in the 3D digital environment. Note: Priority seating given to Digital Design and Transmedia majors. Prereq: Digital Design majors: FINE 3410, FINE 3414 and FINE 3424; Digital Design minors and Transmedia majors: FINE 2405, FINE 3414 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 3438 - Text, Image and Electronic Art

Summer 2010 Registration F A 3438

A workshop-laboratory devoted to examining advanced concepts concerning the role of image and text within time-based and interactive media in design/artistic practices. Through creative investigations, readings and discussion students consider the new and expanding roles of text and image within the electronic sphere. Note: priority is given to Digital Design and Transmedia majors. Prereq: Digital Design majors: FINE 3410, 3414, 3424 and portfolio review. Transmedia: FINE 2405,2510, 3505 - can be taken concurrently with 3414 and 3424. Other: Permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 3441 - Narrative and Experience

Summer 2010 Registration F A 3441

A workshop-laboratory that focuses on narrative structure and its ability to create, control and manipulate viewer and user-experience. Through creative explorations, students will examine issues of narrative, identity, reception and audience and private/public space and develop approaches to creating user-centered works of art and design. Note: Priority seating is given to Digital Design and Transmedia majors. Prereq: Digital Design majors: FINE 3410, FINE 3414 and FINE 3424; Transmedia majors: FINE 3414, FINE 3424 and FINE 3438; Other: Permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
FINE 3444 - Interactive Media II

Summer 2010 Registration F A 3444
An intense workshop-laboratory devoted to using interactivity as a medium for communicating ideas and information. Through creative investigations, readings and discussions, students will create projects that explore active viewer participation using vector and raster animation, non-linear editing and viewer interaction. Prereq: Digital Design majors: FINE 3410, FINE 3414, FINE 3424, can be taken concurrently with FINE 3434; Transmedia majors: FINE 3414, FINE 3424 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 3450 - Digital Painting

Summer 2010 Registration F A 3450
Digital Painting is a studio designed for student exploration of artistic expression using digital tools for traditional painting and illustration techniques. Prereq: FINE 1100 and all FINE foundation classes. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 3454 - Motion Design II

Summer 2010 Registration F A 3454
An intense workshop-laboratory devoted to using time and motion as a medium for communicating ideas and information. Through creative investigations, readings and discussions students will explore linkages between non-linear editing, animation and 3-dimensional animation as used in motion graphics. Prereq: FINE 3434, 3444, and portfolio review. Can be taken concurrently with FINE 3428/3444/3454. Transmedia: FINE 3414, 3424 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 3500 - Modeling and Casting the Figure

Summer 2010 Registration F A 3500
Study of the human figure from life and imagination directs visual vocabulary towards expression three dimensionally. Mold making using rubber, alginate and plaster is introduced for casting in metal, resin, synthetics, plastic, paper and biodegradable materials. Drawing is included. Prereq: FINE 1015, FINE 1100, FINE 1400, FINE 1500, FINE 2015, FINE 2600, FINE 2610, FINE 2500, FINE 2510. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 3505 - Sculpture Topics
Summer 2010 Registration F A 3505
Developed to cover new technical and conceptual areas of sculpture. Some topics may expand traditional processes, others may introduce new processes and ideas. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 3510 - Installation Art

Summer 2010 Registration F A 3510
Students learn to modify the way a particular space is experienced through material intervention in everyday public or private spaces. Material use ranges from everyday and natural materials to new media such as video, sound, performance, computers and the Internet. Prereq: FINE 1015, FINE 1100, FINE 1400, FINE 1500, FINE 2015, FINE 2500, FINE 2510, FINE 2600, FINE 2610. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 3515 - Public Art

Summer 2010 Registration F A 3515
Students connect with professional/visiting artists installing public art works on campus for the Auraria Sculpture Park. Public relations, installation techniques, curatorial and administration skills are developed. Students learn to establish, maintain and promote the current sculpture collection on campus. Prereq: FINE 1015, FINE 1100, FINE 1400, FINE 1500, FINE 2015, FINE 2500, FINE 2510, FINE 2600, FINE 2610. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 3520 - Sculpture: Contemporary Artists and Concepts

Summer 2010 Registration F A 3520
Provides the art student (sculpture majors and non-majors) with a focused opportunity to look at contemporary sculpture, installation and performance art, and to examine the philosophical issues, processes, and methods, motivating practicing artists today. Prereq: FINE 1100, 1500, 2600 and 2610. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 3525 - Environmental Sculpture

Summer 2010 Registration F A 3525
Students create environmental site-specific work to exist in a certain place. This involves temporary outdoor landscaping combined with permanently site sculptured elements. The format, the political, the historical, or the social context of the natural environment will be explored. Prereq: FINE 1015, FINE 1100, FINE 1400, FINE 1500, FINE 2500,
FINE 2510, FINE 2600, FINE 2610, FINE 3500, FINE 3510. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 3530 - Iron Casting

Summer 2010 Registration F A 3530
Students will learn traditional and innovative mold making techniques for casting iron. Working with lost wax, sand molds and space age materials students will cast ingots molds to final object. Furnace and Cupola design and fabrication techniques are researched. Prereq: FINE 1015, FINE 1100, FINE 1400, FINE 1500, FINE 2015, FINE 2500, FINE 2510, FINE 2600, FINE 2610. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 3535 - Sculpture Rendering

Summer 2010 Registration F A 3535
Students apply traditional and mixed media drawing skills, photography and digital reproduction to depict the sculptural object in two and three-dimensional space. Students learn to construct small-scale models and develop sculpture proposals. Drawing as sculpture medium is explored. Prereq: FINE 1015, FINE 1100, FINE 1400, FINE 1500, FINE 2015, FINE 2500, FINE 2510, FINE 2600, FINE 2610. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 3600 - Art History Survey III: Non-Western Art

Summer 2010 Registration F A 3600
Introduces the art of non-western cultures through a survey of diverse cultures. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 3810 - Digital Animation Studio: Set/Environment Design

Summer 2010 Registration F A 3810
A mid-program capstone studio course focuses on developing a project from preproduction through final product using a standard production pipeline model within a collaborative work environment. Students will design and create high-production value CG set/environment utilizing current 3D technologies. Note: This course is required for all DAC students entering year four of the animation emphasis. It is also open to all visual arts students, subject to course instructor approval, with a sophomore or greater standing. Coreq: FINE 2830, 2850 and Acceptance into the Digital Animation Center Animation Program. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 3820 - Digital Animation Techniques: Rigging and Animation

Summer 2010 Registration F A 3820
A lecture/lab course focused on mastery of skills for rigging and animating digital 3D objects/characters. Students explore the processes/techniques of animation rigging, its relationship to the skeletal/muscular system, articulated joints for manipulating character bones, muscle deformations, clothes and facial features. Note: Offered through Extended Studies (Continuing and Professional Education) due to separate tuition structure. Acceptance to the Digital Animation Center is competitive by interview/portfolio review with the Area Head for the program. Prereq: FINE 2830, 2840 and acceptance into the Digital Animation Center Animation Program. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 3830 - Digital Animation Technique: Character Animation

Summer 2010 Registration F A 3830
A lecture/lab course focused on mastery of skills for animating digital 3D objects/characters. Students explore the process/techniques of key frame/pose-to-pose animating considering character performance, thought, constraints and velocity with an emphasis on artistic excellence through applications of current 3D technologies. Note: Offered through Extended Studies (Continuing and Professional Education) due to separate tuition structure. Acceptance to the Digital Animation Center is competitive by interview/portfolio review with the Area Head for the program. Prereq: FINE 3810, 3820 and acceptance into the Digital Animation Center Animation Program. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 3845 - Digital Animation Discovery and Preproduction Seminar

Summer 2010 Registration F A 3845

A seminar course focused on the development and preproduction phases for the DAC senior thesis short. The principle focus of the course will be story development, preproduction activities and organizing the production team and production pipeline for the thesis short. Note: this course is required for all DAC students entering year four of the animation emphasis. It is also open to all visual arts students, subject to course instructor approval, with a sophomore or greater standing. Coreq: FINE 3830 and 3850 for all DAC thesis students. All other visual arts students, sophomore or greater, with permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 3850 - Digital Animation Techniques: Dynamic Simulation

Summer 2010 Registration F A 3850

A lecture/lab course exploring the theory/techniques of dynamic and particle simulations for 3D content. Students explore how to develop effects (smoke, fire, steam, explosions) and dynamic materials (cloth), with an emphasis on artistic excellence through application of current 3D technologies. Note: Offered through Extended Studies (Continuing and Professional Education) due to separate tuition structure. Acceptance to the Digital Animation Center is competitive by interview/portfolio review with the Area Head for the program. Prereq: FINE 3810, 3820 and acceptance into the Digital Animation Center Animation Program. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 3939 - Internship/Cooperative Education

Summer 2010 Registration F A 3939

Designed experiences involving application of specific, relevant concepts and skills in supervised employment situations. Prereq: Junior standing and 2.75 GPA. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 3995 - Travel Study Topics

Summer 2010 Registration F A 3995

Created for students doing travel study in a foreign country. Students register through the Office of International Education. Semester Hours: 1 to 15
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
FINE 4000 - Advanced Drawing I

Summer 2010 Registration  F  A  4000
This course is the first advanced level study of drawing. Students will explore techniques and develop a rigorous body of drawings that express their concepts and theories through various processes needed in creating an independent body of work. Note: Students missing the first 2 classes of this course may be administratively dropped. Students will not be allowed to add course if they have missed the first 2 classes. Prereq: FINE 1015, 1100, 1400, 1500, 1600, 2000, 2015, 2020, 2100, 2600, 2610, 3000, 3230, 3310. Cross-listed with FINE 5000. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 4010 - Advanced Drawing II

Summer 2010 Registration  F  A  4010
This course is the second advanced level study of drawing. Students will create a more rigorous and challenging body of work that emphasizes a stylistic development of critical ideas and methodologies that were developed in the first level of advanced drawing. Note: Students missing the first 2 classes of this course may be administratively dropped. Students will not be allowed to add course if they have missed the first 2 classes. Prereq: FINE 1015, 1100, 1400, 1500, 1600, 2000, 2015, 2020, 2100, 2600, 2610, 3000, 3230, 3310, 4020, 4000, 4100. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 4020 - Anatomy for the Artist

Summer 2010 Registration  F  A  4020
An intensive study of the human figure, focusing on its structure, movement and proportions. Skeletal and muscular systems are explored in depth using the classic texts of artistic anatomy to enhance students' drawings from observation. Note: Students missing the first 2 classes of this course may be administratively dropped. Students will not be allowed to add course if they have missed the first 2 classes. Prereq: FINE 1015, 1100, 1400, 1500, 1600, 2000, 2015, 2020, 2100, 2600, 2610, 3000, 3310. Cross-listed with FINE 5020. Semester Hours: 3to 3When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 4100 - Painting & Drawing Theory & Practice

Summer 2010 Registration  F  A  4100
This course focuses on a study of critical art theory from 1900 to now and its effects on art practice. Students read, research, discuss writing, and produce artwork while forming connections between published critical theory and their own creative ideas. Note: Students missing the first 2 classes of this course may be administratively dropped. Students will not be allowed to add course if they have missed the first 2 classes.
Prereq: FINE 1015, 1100, 1400, 1500, 1600, 2000, 2015, 2600, 2610, must have Junior standing, 90 credits completed. Semester Hours: 3to 3 When Offered: FALL
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FINE 4110 - Science Visualization Projects

FREN 5840 - Independent Study: FREN

Summer 2010 Registration FR 5840
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

FREN 5995 - Travel Study Topics

Summer 2010 Registration FR 5995
For students doing travel study in France; register through the Office of International Education. Cross-listed with FREN 4995. Semester Hours: 0 to 15
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEMM 6000 - 21st Century Global Energy Issues and Realities

Summer 2010 Registration GEMM 6000
Introduction to the global energy industry's past, present and future. Current and historical issues in regions such as: Atlantic Basin, former Soviet Union, East of Suez, North and South America will be covered. World production centers and markets are discussed to include relevant energy security, scenario planning, risk management and regulation, deregulation, and environmental concerns. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEMM 6100 - Global Energy Economics and Geography
Summer 2010 Registration GEMM 6100
Introduction to managerial tools of trade including energy geo-economic. Topics discussed are: world energy markets, demand, supply, refining, marketing, forecasting, national v. international oil companies, transportation. An introduction to environmental economics will help connect energy industry to sustainable work practices, which include geographic distribution and political and governmental systems associated with the resources. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEMM 6200 - Environmental, Regulatory, Legal & Political Environment in the Energy Industry

Summer 2010 Registration GEMM 6200
Exploration of current political situations regarding the energy industry, its environmental impact in the short and long term. Topics include climate change, pollution, solid wastes and conversions to natural resources. Students will become familiar with national and international energy laws and regulations, financial arrangements, confidentiality, and bidding agreements. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEMM 6210 - Land Management and Energy Contracts

Summer 2010 Registration GEMM 6210
The elective will focus on the process of managing the use and development of land resources in a sustainable way. Topics such as; public controls, powers used for land regulation, and an intro to real estate will be covered to enhance students understanding of land management and its application to the energy industry. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEMM 6300 - Renewable and Alternative Energy: Opportunities & Challenges

Summer 2010 Registration GEMM 6300
This course will familiarize students with the newest renewable and alternative energy sources. The course does not focus on hydrocarbon sources but examines challenges and opportunities that exist for the establishment of the new energy sources to become viable in the industry. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEMM 6400 - Leadership and Decision Making in the Global Energy Environment

Summer 2010 Registration GEMM 6400
Students will examine leadership from an energy executive perspective. Topics include: how execs lead, change, innovation, interacting with top management teams, the board, leadership issues involved with governance of the firm, strategies for enhancing executive influence and ethics and responsibilities associated with exec. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEMM 6410 - People Management in the Global Energy Environment

Summer 2010 Registration GEMM 6410
Explains that people are energy's most important asset. Students will learn the latest research in human resource theories, study models, and learn how to develop organizational effectiveness from the firm's human capital. Concepts on: effective teamwork, attracting and retaining talent and using HR processes such as performance management and development to drive engagement will be discussed. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEMM 6430 - Organizational Behavior in the Energy Industry

Summer 2010 Registration GEMM 6430
Students will learn how to lead and manage human assets inside energy industries. Students will be exposed to fundamental principles of human behavior and increase their competence of working in diverse settings. Proper management can lead to a sustainable competitive advantage, because of management of employees and developing them into enthusiasts of your firm. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEMM 6450 - Strategic Management of the Energy Industry

Summer 2010 Registration GEMM 6450
The course focuses on how to improve an organization's competitiveness in a changing global environment. Emphasis on sustainable strategies, students develop skills to formulate, implement and evaluate organizational strategies in the rapidly changing environment. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEMM 6460 - Integrated Information Management for Energy Firms

Summer 2010 Registration GEMM 6460
This course covers issues associated with developing an integrated information managing strategy to identify major information categories used with an energy firm. It covers relationships to business processes to guide applications development and facilitate the integration and sharing of data. Using case studies from energy firms operational, administrative and strategic systems will be discussed. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
GEMM 6470 - Energy Marketing

Summer 2010 Registration GEMM 6470
This course covers the challenges faced by energy industries in developing branding, and developing new markets. Marketing both products and the company to its stakeholders, in the face of competitive pressures, students learn practical marketing tools and how they can be used to effect corporate strategy. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEMM 6500 - Energy Accounting in Global Markets

Summer 2010 Registration GEMM 6500
The course builds a basic understanding of how to convey to decision makers, in and out of the firm, information about its resources. Emphasis on; analysis of income statements, balance sheet, statement and cash flows (historical financial accounting information) with specific coverage of cost-volume-profit, variance, forecasting, joint interest accounting and measurement of divisional performance. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEMM 6600 - Financial Management and Hedging in the Global Energy Markets

Summer 2010 Registration GEMM 6600
Introduction to fundamental principal of asset valuation and financing in competitive global markets. Providing the tools necessary to analyze day-to-day financial issues in the energy industry (time value of money, valuation of income streams, risk weighted investment returns.) Topics such as: risk management, arbitrage, hedging and foreign exchange will be covered. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEMM 6610 - Advanced Financial Management in the Energy Industry

Summer 2010 Registration GEMM 6610
This course is focused on understanding the costs and benefits of various forms of capital. By examining internal and external managers, students will be able to assess alternative capital sources to achieve their strategic objectives. The course will introduce effective investor communication techniques. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEMM 6620 - Energy Asset Management

Summer 2010 Registration GEMM 6620
The course covers management of an organization's energy resources and facilities as well as broader coverage of project management. Portfolio strategy, planning, scope, time, cost, quality and organizational effectiveness will be addressed. Also when budget, material, vendor relations or other factors disrupt a project, students will be prepared on how to react. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEMM 6630 - Production and Supply Chain Management for the Energy Industry

Summer 2010 Registration GEMM 6630
This course will focus on the business aspects running a renewable energy entity either as a separate company or sector within an established company. Students taking this course have completed a previous course on the basic science of renewable energy. This course is intended to focus on leadership issues and decision making regarding renewable energy. As a significant part of the course, students will learn how to review information and data supplied to them by engineers, accountants, finance, marketing, scientists, and other stakeholders within and outside their company including federal, state, and local governments and regulatory agencies to make sound business decisions. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 1102 - World Regional Geography

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 1102
Analysis of the relationships of man and the landscape based on geographic distributions in the world. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
GT Pathways Category Key: GT-SS2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 1111 - Freshman Seminar

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 1111
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 1202 - Introduction to Physical Geography

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 1202
The science that studies the processes, forms, and spatial or geographic structures of natural systems operating at or near the earth's surface, including weather, climate, and landform processes. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
GT Pathways Category Key: GT-SC2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 1302 - Introduction to Human Geography

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 1302
Systematic introduction to basic concepts and approaches in human geographic GEOG 1332 - Topics in Science

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 1332

A series of five-week modules on various topics in physical geography. Section 001. Violent Storms. Analysis of the causes, characteristics, and regional patterns of thunderstorms, tomatoes and hurricanes, emphasizing the hazards associated with each type of storm. Section 002. Elementary Surveying. Introduces the various techniques of running a traverse, location of points by intersection and resection, determination of distance by pacing, chaining, stadia and trigonometry and carrying of elevations. Section 003. Basic Navigation. Introduces the principles of navigation using the sun as the celestial body. Emphasis is on determining latitude and longitude at solar noon. Section 004. Earthquakes. The characteristics, causes, and results of earth movements along faults. Section 005. Waves and Beaches. Analysis of wind-generated waves in the open ocean and the changes that occur as waves enter shallow water, forming surf. The tides and seismic sea waves are discussed for comparison. Section 006. Rivers and Flood Plains. Introduces the nature of stream channels and stream landscapes, with emphasis on the problems associated with man's occupation of such landscapes. Section 007. World Food and Hunger. Analysis of the world food problem with emphasis on the nutritional characteristics of major foods, the physical factors affecting food production, and the potential of the world's land for producing food. Section 008. Volcanoes. Why do some volcanoes erupt and some flow? Why do they occur where they do? How do they affect the environment and man? We discuss these aspects and other characteristics of volcanoes in this course section. Semester Hours: 1 to 1

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 1602 - Introduction to Urban Studies

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 1602

Surveys the process of urbanization, emphasizing the development of American cities and using Denver as an example. Topics covered include the evolution of metropolitan form and land use patterns, cultural landscape formation, city planning and architectural design, and urban social and policy issues. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 GT Pathways

Category Key: GT-SS2

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 2080 - Introduction to Mapping and Map Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 2080

Studies major elements in the preparation of thematic maps, including sources of data collection and manipulation of data, and cartographic techniques for display of
GEOG 2202 - Natural Hazards

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 2202
Surveys those physical phenomena that often cause substantial damage when they occur in areas of human settlement. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

GT Pathways Category Key: GT-SS2

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 2939 - Internship/Cooperative Education

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 2939
Experiences involving application of specific, relevant concepts and skills in supervised employment situations. Prereq: 15 hours of 2.75 Gpa. Semester Hours: 1 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 3100 - Geography of Colorado

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 3100
An analysis of the physical environment, history of settlement, and resource base of Colorado in relation to present economic patterns of the state. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 3120 - Geography of Europe

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 3120
An analysis of the physical environment, resource utilization, economic development and cooperation in Europe. A cultural and political geography which focuses on continuity and change in Eastern and Western Europe. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 3130 - Central America and the Caribbean

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 3130
Surveys the physical environment and cultural development of Central America and the Caribbean Islands. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 3140 - Geography of South America

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 3140
The physical environment, cultural development, and political instability within the area are analyzed. Influence of the landscape and climate, as well as Iberian cultural and land tenure patterns on historic settlement and modern growth are discussed. Problems associated with population, economics, politics, education, and geography are emphasized. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 3150 - Middle East

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 3150
Physical, cultural, and economic approach to the arid lands of the Middle East, including Arab land of the Sahara. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 3160 - Geography of China

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 3160
Geographic survey of the physical, cultural, and economic features characterizing the geography of China. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 3232 - Weather and Climate

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 3232
Introduces the processes and systems that govern both day-to-day weather and longer-term climate variations. Covers instrumentation and weather forecasting techniques. Prereq: GEOG 1202 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 3240 - Colorado Climates

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 3240
Provides a broad overview of the various weather and climate patterns that are found within the state of Colorado. To accomplish this, the state of Colorado will be divided into regions which (hopefully) have a large degree of homogeneity in terms of weather and climate controls. Note: Taught in a seminar style with students giving presentations and reports on their findings about a given region. Prereq: GEOG 1202 and/or GEOG 3232 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 3300 - Population and Resources in the World Environment

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 3300
Increasing world human populations are examined in the context of regional and global resources. Opposing viewpoints are studied, and students are required to complete a case study of a self-selected issue analyzing viewpoints associated with relevant opposing opinions. Prereq: upper division standing. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 3302 - Water Resources

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 3302
Introduces water resources aimed at students with little or no background in the field. This is a broad course covering topics ranging from the physical aspects of water to water politics and international law. While the course is largely a lecture format, discussion of current issues is a significant part of the class. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 3411 - Globalization and Regional Development

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 3411
Addresses global political-restructuring and its implications for regional development in the U.S. Both historical and contemporary processes of globalization are examined. Topics include: the environmental basis of American industrial growth, the relationship between technological change and geographical shifts, the rise and decline of Fordism, the transfer of Japanese manufacturing methods to the U.S., the role of regional and national industrial policy, and the social consequences of globalization for labor and communities. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 3420 - Political Ecology

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 3420
Addresses the political economy of development in the third world, focusing on contemporary issues of agrarian change, ecological degradation, deforestation and urbanization. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 3430 - Geography of Tourism

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 3430
Geographic analysis of trends in recreation, travel, and tourism, and their economic, social, and environmental impacts. Examines growth and change in resorts and tourist destination areas. Prereq: GEOG 1302 or 3411. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 3501 - Geography of Health
Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 3501
Offers a critical geographic perspective to human health issues, examining disease distributions, how changing relationships between people and their environments (natural, built, and social environments) influence health, and different approaches to the study of health in geography. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 3770 - Geography and Film

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 3770
Geographic analysis of past and current film production and distribution systems and the complex relationships between film making and place in feature, documentary and educational film. Prereq: GEOG 1302 or 2411. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 3840 - Independent Study: GEOG

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 3840
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 3939 - Internship/Cooperative Education

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 3939
Designed experiences involving application of specific, relevant concepts and skills in supervised employment situations. Prereq: Junior standing and 2.75 Gpa. Semester
Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 3990 - Special Topics

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 3990
Investigation of current topics in geography such as analysis of issues (crime, public transportation), techniques (socioeconomic impact analysis), or areas of specialization (climatology). Prereq: Vary with each topic, but no less than six hours in relevant social or physical science. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 4000 - Planning Methods I

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4000
Focuses on the application of statistical, quantitative, and mathematical techniques and computer applications for urban and regional planning and policy development. Major topics include types of data, sampling, basic probability distributions, hypothesis testing, regression and correlation, and an introduction to multivariate and cluster analysis. Applications in planning and development are emphasized. Cross-listed with URPL 5510.

Semester Hours: 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 4010 - Landscape Geochemistry

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4010

A holistic approach to studying the role chemical elements play in synthesis/decomposition cycles, and the resultant environment from interaction of the lithosphere with the hydrosphere, atmosphere, biosphere, and pedosphere during geological and ecological timeframes, together with anthropogenic activities. Prereq: Introductory college-level physical geography or environmental science course or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOL 4010/ENVS 5010.

Semester Hours: 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 4020 - Earth Environments and Human Impacts

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4020

Basic concepts describing earth's biomes and physical environment are presented in a systems context. Global warming assessment, from both political and scientific perspectives, is then presented. Model visualization of these concepts to consider human impacts on Earth's biomes is discussed. Earth system viewpoint, having links of Earth's biomes to oceans and atmosphere, completes the course discussion. Prereq: GEOG 1202 and 3232 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with ENVS 5020, GEOL 4020.

Semester Hours: 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 4060 - Remote Sensing I: Introduction to Environmental Remote Sensing

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4060

An in-depth treatment of the use of aerial photographs and other forms of imagery for the analysis of urban-industrial patterns, vegetation, agriculture, landforms, and geologic structure. Prereq: GEOG 3080 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOG 5060, GEOL 4060, GEOL 5060.

Semester Hours: 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 4070 - Remote Sensing II: Advanced Remote Sensing

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4070

Focuses on digital image processing of satellite and aerial images. Students explore the nature of digital image data, gain an understanding of image analysis using PCs, and learn about the use of analysis products in the development of GIS databases. Prereq:
GEOG 4060/5060 or GEOL 4060/5060 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOG 5070, GEOL 4070, 5070. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 4080 - Introduction to GIS

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4080
Introduces various aspects of geographic information systems (GIS), including justification, definition of hardware/software, database design, and data conversion. GIS is a computer-based mapping system providing a graphical interface to locational and relational attribute data on facilities and land. Includes hands-on use of a geographic information system workstation. Prereq: GEOG 3080 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOG 5080. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 4081 - Introduction to Cartography and Computer Mapping

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4081
Provides an introduction to the art and science of cartography (map making). Students will learn about design principles, tools and techniques of map production, culminating in the creation of a high-quality map through hands-on exercises. Prereq: GEOG 3080. Cross-listed with GEOG 5081. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 4085 - GIS Applications for the Urban Environment

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4085
Takes a more detailed look at basic concepts presented in the introductory GIS course, concentrating on how GIS is used to solve real-world geographic problems. Various GIS applications within both the natural and social sciences are highlighted. The selection of specific topics is flexible, based on the interests of enrolled students. Prereq: GEOG 4080 or GEOG 5080 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOG 5085. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 4090 - Environmental Modeling with Geographic Information Systems

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4090
Expands the basic knowledge of GIS to spatial models. Establishes a comprehensive framework that can be used to address a wide range of applications in natural and built environments. Prereq: GEOG 4080 or GEOG 5080 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOG 5090. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
GEOG 4095 - Deploying GIS Functionality on the Web

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4095
Covers the core principles and technologies that allow the deployment of geographic information system (GIS) functionality over the World Wide Web. Hands-on exercises make use of the latest commercial software as well as open source technologies. Prereq: GEOG 4080 or GEOG 5080, computer science background, or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOG 5095. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 4220 - Environmental Impact Assessment

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4220
The objective of this course is to provide the foundation for understanding the environmental impact assessment process, its legal context, and the criteria and methods for procedural and substantive compliance. Prereq: URPL 5530 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOG 5220, URPL 6651. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 4230 - Hazard Mitigation and Vulnerability Assessment

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4230
Examines hazard mitigation and its planning and policy implications, emphasizing how vulnerability assessments play an integral role. Students explore how mitigation minimizes the impacts from hazards and use GIS to conduct a local study. Prereq: GEOG 2202 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOG 5230. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 4235 - GIS Applications in the Health Sciences

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4235
Examines how GIS is used throughout the health care industry and public health. Covers environmental health, disease surveillance, and health services research. Students critically review current literature and gain hands-on experience with GIS software. Prereq: GEOG 4080 or GEOG 5080, public health background, or consent of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOG 5235, HBSC 7235. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 4240 - Principles of Geomorphology

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4240
Systematic study of processes associated with rock structures, weathering, mass wasting, fluvial, wind, glacial, and shorelines, and the resultant landforms they can produce, influence, and change over time. Course includes field trips and in-class exercises to help solidify concepts. Cross-listed with GEOL 4630 and GEOG 5240. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 4260 - Natural Resource Planning and Management

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4260

Considers methods for managing renewable and non-renewable resources using both legislative and economic controls. The role of technology, ideologies, and equity are discussed. Decision making techniques are applied to problems of resource and environmental management. The ability to allocate and control resource usage to ensure sustainability are discussed. Cross-listed with URPL 6653. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 4265 - Sustainability in Resources Management

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4265

Sustainability and sustainable development are the dominant economic, environmental and social issues of the 21st century. Follows a multi-disciplinary approach to these concepts. Case studies demonstrate their implementation in different geographical, ecological and socio-economic conditions worldwide. Prereq: ENVS 1042 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOG 5265. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 4270 - Glacial Geomorphology

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4270

Provides an in-depth view of the processes and systems found in glacial environments. Topics include: evidence of past glaciation; present-day glacial extent; glacier dynamics; glacial erosional processes and landforms; glacial depositional processes and landforms. Prereq: GEOG 1202 or GEOL 1072. Cross-listed with GEOG/GEOL 4270/5270. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 4335 - Contemporary Environmental Issues

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4335

Provides an overview of environmental challenges facing society today, focusing on how humans impact and change the environment. Opposing views and environmental policy at the local, state, national, and international levels are explored. Cross-listed with GEOG 5335. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
GEOG 4350 - Environment and Society in the American Past

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4350
Overview of the geographical development of North American society from the late 15th century to the mid-20th century. A comparative regional approach emphasizing relationships between natural resource exploitation, cultural landscape formation and environmental change. Cross-listed with GEOG 5350. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 4400 - Regional Economic Development

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4400
Examines the economies of metropolitan, rural, state, and national regions, placing each within the fabric of global relations that direct capital, manage productive activities, and govern prosperity's geography. Organized both sectorally and spatially, the course addresses key sectors of the emerging global economy, as well as the rationale of the "entrepreneurial" state at the public-private interface. Posits institutional approaches and professional roles in the management of regional economies. Seeks in theory a template of regional change, and both the means and purpose of policy intervention. Finds in strategic planning, an integration of developmental and environmental perspectives. Prereq: URPL 5520 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with URPL 6671. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 4630 - Transportation Planning I: Transport Network Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4630
Examines several important aspects of the transport network: accessibility and connectivity of nodes and linkages and the volume and direction of the flow of a transport network. Descriptive, predictive, and planning methods and models discussed include graph theoretical measures, connectivity matrices, gravity model, abstract mode model, entropy-maximization, trip generation model and flow allocation models. Prereq: URPL 5510 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with URPL 6673. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 4640 - Urban Geography: Denver and the U.S.

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4640
Uses a combined lecture/seminar format to explore research themes in urban geography. Topics covered include both historical and contemporary processes of urban development and transformation. Particular emphasis is placed on the U.S. and Colorado's Front Range. Cross-listed with GEOG 5640. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 4670 - Transportation Planning II: Urban Transportation Planning

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4670
Examines major issues of transportation in urban development, the urban transportation system, the relationship between land use planning and transportation planning, urban transportation planning processes and selected issues. Introduces the use of two state-of-the-art multi-modal transportation computer programs - EMME2 and TransCAD. Prereq: URPL 6673. Cross-listed with URPL 6674. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 4710 - Disasters, Climate Change, and Health

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4710
Provides a review of the impacts of disasters and climate change on human health, using a broad framework of preparedness, mitigation, response, recovery, and adaptation. Prereq: GEOG 2202 or GEOG 3501. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 4770 - Applied Statistics for the Natural Sciences

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4770
Surveys statistical techniques including: quick review of basic statistics, tests for normality and outliers, display of data; simple and multiple regression; ANOVA and its relation to regression. Emphasis on computer or stat-pak analysis and interpretation of statistical results. Prereq: College algebra and GEOG 3080, or consent of instructor. Cross-listed with ENVS 5600, GEOL 4770, 5770. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 4840 - Independent Study: GEOG

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4840
Independent research primarily for undergraduate majors. Prereq: Permission of department. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 4940 - Senior Seminar

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4940
Introduces students to the professional literature in the field. Various professionals and faculty lecture about geography/planning research and careers. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
GEOG 4950 - Honors Thesis

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4950
A capstone course designed to promote critical thinking, research methodology, and writing/oral presentation skills. Students design and develop a research project under the supervision of a faculty advisor. Each student gives an oral presentation or defense of his or her thesis at the end of the semester in which they enroll. Prereq: GEOG 4940 and junior or senior standing. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 4990 - Special Topics

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4990
Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 4995 - Travel Study

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 4995
Rigorous yet flexible fieldwork-based experience exploring geographical and environmental phenomena in diverse world locations. Course begins with intensive regional and methodological introductions, followed by on-location field investigations in environmental analyses, cultural studies, GIS applications, tourism evaluation and/or hazards assessment. Prereq: GEOG 1202 and GEOG 1302, or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with ENVS 4995, ENVS 5995, and GEOG 5995. Semester Hours: 3 to 9
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 5060 - Remote Sensing I: Introduction to Environmental Remote Sensing

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 5060
An in-depth treatment of the use of aerial photographs and other forms of imagery for the analysis of urban-industrial patterns, vegetation, agriculture, landforms, and geologic structure. Prereq: GEOG 3080 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOG 4060, GEOL 4060, 5060. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 5070 - Remote Sensing II: Advanced Remote Sensing

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 5070
Focuses on digital image processing of satellite and aerial images. Students explore the nature of digital image data, gain an understanding of image analysis using PCs, and learn about the use of analysis products in the development of GIS databases. Prereq: GEOG 5060/4060 or GEOL 5060/4060 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with
GEOG 4070, GEOL 5070, 4070. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 5080 - Introduction to GIS

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 5080
Introduces various aspects of geographic information systems (GIS), including justification, definition of hardware/software, database design, and data conversion. GIS is a computer-based mapping system providing a graphical interface to locational and relational attribute data on facilities and land. Includes hands-on use of a geographic information system workstation. Cross-listed with GEOG 4080. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 5081 - Introduction to Cartography and Computer Mapping

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 5081
Provides an introduction to the art and science of cartography (map making). Students will learn about design principles, tools and techniques of map production, culminating in the creation of a high-quality map through hands-on exercises. Prereq: GEOG 3080. Cross-listed with GEOG 4081. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 5085 - GIS Applications for the Urban Environment

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 5085
Takes a more detailed look at basic concepts presented in the introductory GIS course, concentrating on how GIS is used to solve real-world geographic problems. Various GIS applications within both the natural and social sciences are highlighted. The selection of specific topics is flexible, based on the interests of enrolled students. Prereq: GEOG 4080 or GEOG 5080 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOG 4085. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 5090 - Environmental Modeling with Geographic Information Systems

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 5090
Expands the basic knowledge of GIS to spatial models. Establishes a comprehensive framework that can be used to address a wide range of applications in natural and built environments. Prereq: GEOG 4080 or GEOG 5080 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOG 4090. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 5095 - Deploying GIS Functionality on the Web
Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 5095
Covers the core principles and technologies that allow the deployment of geographic information system (GIS) functionality over the World Wide Web. Hands-on exercises make use of the latest commercial software as well as open source technologies. Prereq: GEOG 4080 or GEOG 5080, computer science background, or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOG 4095. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 5220 - Environmental Impact Assessment

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 5220
The objective of this course is to provide the foundation for understanding the environmental impact assessment process, its legal context, and the criteria and methods for procedural and substantive compliance. Prereq: URPL 5530 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOG 4220, URPL 6651. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 5230 - Hazard Mitigation and Vulnerability Assessment

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 5230
Examines hazard mitigation and its planning and policy implications, emphasizing how vulnerability assessments play an integral role. Students explore how mitigation minimizes the impacts from hazards and use GIS to conduct a local study. Prereq: GEOG 2202 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOG 4230. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 5235 - GIS Applications in the Health Sciences

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 5235
Examines how GIS is used throughout the health care industry and public health. Covers environmental health, disease surveillance, and health services research. Students critically review current literature and gain hands-on experience with GIS software. Prereq: GEOG 4080 or GEOG 5080, public health background, or consent of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOG 4235, HBSC 7235. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 5240 - Principles of Geomorphology

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 5240
Systematic study of processes associated with rock structures, weathering, mass wasting, fluvial, wind, glacial, and shorelines, and the resultant landforms they can produce, influence, and change over time. Course includes field trips and in-class exercises to help solidify concepts. Cross-listed with GEOG 4240 and GEOL
GEOG 5265 - Sustainability in Resources Management

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 5265
Sustainability and sustainable development are the dominant economic, environmental and social issues of the 21st century. Follows a multi-disciplinary approach to these concepts. Case studies demonstrate their implementation in different geographical, ecological and socio-economic conditions worldwide. Prereq: ENVS 1042 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOG 4265. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 5270 - Glacial Geomorphology

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 5270
Provides an in-depth view of the processes and systems found in glacial environments. Topics include: evidence of past glaciation; present-day glacial extent; glacier dynamics; glacial erosional processes and landforms; glacial depositional processes and landforms. Prereq: GEOG 1202 or GEOL 1072. Cross-listed with GEOG/GEOL 4270/5270. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 5335 - Contemporary Environmental Issues

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 5335
Provides an overview of environmental challenges facing society today, focusing on how humans impact and change the environment. Opposing views and environmental policy at the local, state, national, and international levels are explored. Cross-listed with GEOG 4335. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 5350 - Environment and Society in the American Past

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 5350
Overview of the geographical development of North American society from the late 15th century to the mid-20th century. A comparative regional approach emphasizing relationships between natural resource exploitation, cultural landscape formation and environmental change. Cross-listed with GEOG 4350. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 5640 - Urban Geography: Denver and the U.S.
Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 5640
Uses a combined lecture/seminar format to explore research themes in urban geography. Topics covered include both historical and contemporary processes of urban development and transformation. Particular emphasis is placed on the U.S. and Colorado's Front Range. Cross-listed with GEOG 4640. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 5710 - Disasters, Climate Change, and Health

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 5710
Provides a review of the impacts of disasters and climate change on human health, using a broad framework of preparedness, mitigation, response, recovery, and adaptation. Prereq: GEOG 2202 or GEOG 3501. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 5840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 5840
Section 1, economic; 2, physical; 3, urban; 4, social; 5, quantitative; 6, transportation. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 5939 - Internship/Cooperative Education

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 5939
Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 5990 - Special Topics In Geography

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 5990
Course content varies from semester to semester, depending on faculty member teaching the course. Prereq: Graduate standing. Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 5995 - Travel Study

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 5995
Rigorous yet flexible fieldwork-based experience exploring geographical and environmental phenomena in diverse world locations. Course begins with intensive regional and methodological introductions, followed by on-location field investigations in environmental analyses, cultural studies, GIS applications, tourism evaluation and/or hazards assessment. Prereq: GEOG 1202 and GEOG 1302, or permission of instructor.
Cross-listed with ENVS 4995, ENVS 5995, and GEOG 4995. Semester Hours: 3 to 9
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 6840 - Independent Study: GEOG

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 6840
Independent research for graduate major students. Prereq: Permission of department. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 6950 - Master's Thesis

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 6950
Semester Hours: 6 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOG 8990 - Doctor's Thesis

Summer 2010 Registration GEOG 8990
Semester Hours: 1 to 8
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 1022 - History of Life

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 1022
Non-technical study of fossils through time and their relationships to environments through earth history. Includes discussion of evolution and extinction events and current controversies. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 1072 - Physical Geology: Surface Processes

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 1072
Introductory course in physical geology that covers surface processes and landforms, and includes one all-day field trip. Note: Required for geology majors. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
GT Pathways Category Key: GT-SC1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 1082 - Physical Geology: Internal Processes

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 1082
Introductory course in physical geology that covers internal processes and properties of the earth’s interior, with plate tectonics as the underlying theme. Includes one all-day field trip. Note: Required for geology majors. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
GT Pathways Category Key: GT-SC1
Category Key: GT-SC1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 1111 - Freshman Seminar

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 1111

Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 1115 - Earth Sciences Content

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 1115
Covers content areas of undergraduate earth sciences. Topics include physical geology; historical geology; oceanography; meteorology; and astronomy. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 1202 - Introduction to Oceanography

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 1202
Surveys modern scientific knowledge of the world's oceans. Intended for non-science students, the course offers a non-quantitative introduction to the major facts and principles of physical, chemical, biological, and geological oceanography. The impact of natural and anthropic events on the marine environment are included. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 1302 - Introduction to Astrogeology

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 1302
Surveys the geology of the planets and their environments in space, including the origin and destiny of the universe. Intended for non-majors, the course provides an introduction to the geological origin, evolution, structure, and geomorphology of the planets. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 1400 - Geology of the National Parks

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 1400
Combines lecture and laboratory exercises to help students interpret Earth history using the national parks as examples. Students learn to identify the common rocks and minerals, and how to interpret topographic and geologic maps. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
GEOL 1402 - Introduction to the Ice Ages

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 1402
Surveys the natural history of earth’s ice ages, the processes that led to paleoclimatic change, environmental changes, and the effects on the geological earth. Included are topics in ocean-atmosphere influences, glaciers, glacial geology, influences on world flora and fauna, extinction of pleistocene mammal populations and the emergence of hominids. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 1840 - Independent Study: GEOL

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 1840
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 2939 - Internship/Cooperative Education

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 2939
Experiences involving application of specific, relevant concepts and skills in supervised employment situations. Prereq: 15 hours of 2.75 GPA. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 3011 - Mineralogy

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 3011
Principles of mineralogy, including crystallography, crystal chemistry, and a systematic study of the more important nonsilicate and silicate minerals. Origins and occurrences of minerals. Prereq: Physical geology and college-level chemistry. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 3032 - Geology of Colorado

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 3032
Introductory course focused on the geology of Colorado. The course is divided into two parts: the first half covers general principles of geology, and the second is devoted to the observation of rock types, structures, and geologic relationships in the field. Discussion of plate tectonics, rock formation, construction and interpretation of geologic maps, the geologic time scale, geologic provinces of Colorado, evolution of major landforms, formation and development of mineral resources of Colorado, and current topics in environmental geology. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
GEOL 3100 - Current Perspectives on the Evolution of Consciousness and Culture

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 3100
Studies of evolution traditionally regard morphology (anatomy)/behavior and mind/consciousness as separate fields that belong either in biology/paleontology or in psychology/philosophy. The "middle ground" behavior, anthropology, social systems, is also treated separately in most cases. Recent approaches tend toward a more holistic view using unifying principles and "laws of nature" that show similar processes (dissipative effects, information theory, development theory) operating across all fields. Examines the relationships and common threads between the physical anatomical evolution of organisms and their behavior perception and consciousness. Prereq: Introductory course in evolution (biology/paleontology), psychology, philosophy, anthropology or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with PHIL 3100 and RLST 4280.Semester Hours: 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 3102 - Dinosaurs Past and Present

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 3102
A broad-based, non-technical new look at the world's most popular prehistoric animals. Stresses the rapid and perennial growth of knowledge about dinosaurs and the relevance of such knowledge in the 20th century. Prereq: Introductory geology and/or biology are recommended.Semester Hours: 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 3231 - Introductory Petrology

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 3231
Introduces classification, distribution, and origin of igneous, metamorphic, and sedimentary rocks, including their identification in hand-held specimens. Prereq: Physical geology and mineralogy.Semester Hours: 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 3411 - Introductory Paleontology

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 3411
Studies invertebrate fossils, including a survey of the organic world and its history in the geological past. Includes an introduction to evolution and paleoecology, and discussion of the uses of fossils in geologic correlations. Prereq: Introductory geology-surface processes, or an introductory biology class.Semester Hours: 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 3415 - Museum Studies in Paleontology
Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 3415
A practical laboratory-based course covering aspects of museum studies related to paleontological collections. Students learn how to stabilize and prepare bones removed from fossil quarries; learn molding and casting techniques for bones and fossils; assist with the cataloging and curation of the collection; and participate in designing museum displays. Prereq: At least one science class. Cross-listed with ELED 5480, SECE 5480. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 3418 - Field Paleontology

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 3418
Introduces methods of paleontological field techniques, including care and maintenance of a late Jurassic dinosaur quarry, field conservation techniques, quarry map-making and surveying, paleontological sampling, and fossil extraction. Students also contribute to research and fossil collections at CU-Denver. Prereq: At least one science class. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 3421 - Sedimentation and Stratigraphy

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 3421
Introduces the principles of sedimentology and stratigraphy. Emphasis is on dynamic processes within sedimentary environments and the resulting stratigraphic record. Prereq: GEOL 1082 or equivalent. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 3840 - Independent Study: GEOL

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 3840
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 3939 - Internship/Cooperative Education

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 3939
Designed experiences involving application of specific, relevant concepts and skills in supervised employment situations. Prereq: Junior standing and 2.75 GPA. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 4010 - Landscape Geochemistry
Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 4010
A holistic approach to studying the role chemical elements play in synthesis/decomposition cycles, and the resultant environment from interaction of the lithosphere with the hydrosphere, atmosphere, biosphere, and pedosphere during geological and ecological timeframes, together with anthropogenic activities. Prereq: Introductory college-level physical geography or environmental science course or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOG 4010/ENVS 5010. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 4020 - Earth Environments and Human Impacts

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 4020
Basic concepts describing earth's biomes and physical environment are presented in a systems context. Global warming assessment, from both political and scientific perspectives, is then presented. Model visualization of these concepts to consider human impacts on Earth's biomes is discussed. Earth system viewpoint, having links of Earth's biomes to oceans and atmosphere, completes the course discussion. Cross-listed with ENVS 5020, GEOG 4020. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 4030 - Environmental Geology

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 4030
Applies geological information to interactions between people and the physical environment. Increasing awareness of its importance in our society means that this is an expanding field as companies are required to address the environmental consequences of their actions. Prereq: Entry into MSES program, senior standing in sciences or geography, or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with ENVS 5030 and GEOL 5030. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 4060 - Remote Sensing I: Introduction to Environmental Remote Sensing

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 4060
An in-depth treatment of the use of aerial photographs and other forms of imagery for the analysis of urban-industrial patterns, vegetation, agriculture, landforms, and geologic structure. Prereq: GEOG 3080 or consent of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOL 5060, GEOG 4060, 5060. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 4111 - Field Geology
Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 4111
Introduces methods of geologic mapping in sedimentary, igneous and metamorphic rocks. Includes plane table surveying, brunton and pace methods, and the use of aerial photographs. Prereq: GEOL 3011; GEOL 3231 and 3421 strongly recommended. Semester Hours: 5 to 5
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 4270 - Glacial Geomorphology

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 4270
Provides an in-depth view of the processes and systems found in glacial environments. Topics include: evidence of past glaciation; present-day glacial extent; glacier dynamics; glacial erosional processes and landforms; glacial depositional processes and landforms. Prereq: GEOG 1202 or GEOL 1072. Cross-listed with GEOG/GEOL 4270/5270. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 4402 - Unsaturated Zone Hydrology

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 4402
Focuses on water and contaminant transport through the unsaturated zone, infiltration and drainage, and heat and gas transport. Students learn to design, perform field installation, and collect data in order to model and predict contaminant movement on/off site. Prereq: Chemistry, physics, calculus or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with ENVS 5403. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 4460 - Vertebrate Paleontology and Evolution

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 4460
Surveys the evolutionary history of the backboned animals from primitive fish through dinosaurs to man. Includes paleoecology, functional morphology, and uses of vertebrate fossils in geologic correlations. Prereq: Introductory geology, biology or anthropology. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 4513 - Geology of the Grand Canyon

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 4513
Raft down the Grand Canyon and examine the geology of igneous, sedimentary and metamorphic rocks from the Precambrian to the Holocene. Study marine and terrestrial fossils, migmatisation and observe modern sedimentary processes. Prereq: Introduction to geology. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
GEOL 4630 - Principles of Geomorphology

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 4630
Systematic study of rock structures, weathering, mass wasting, fluvial, wind, glacial, shoreline processes, and the landforms they produce. Prereq: Introductory college-level geology or physical geography. Cross-listed with GEOG 4240. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 4770 - Applied Statistics for the Natural Sciences

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 4770
Surveys statistical techniques including: quick review of basic statistics, tests for normality and outliers, display of data; simple and multiple regression; Anova and its relation to regression. Emphasis on computer or stat-pak analysis and interpretation of statistical results. Prereq: College algebra and GEOG 3080, or consent of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOL 5770, GEOG 4770, ENVS 5600. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 4780 - Engineering Geology

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 4780
Studies geology as utilized in engineering and environmental practice. Emphasizes a conceptual integration of geologic materials, processes, and rates of change as a basis for successful application of geologic knowledge to environmental planning and engineering design projects. Prereq: MATH 2411 and CVEN 2121. Cross-listed with GEOL 5780 and CVEN 4780. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 4840
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 5001 - RM-MSMSP: Earth Processes I

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 5001
Systematic study of geological concepts, rock and mineral formation, plate tectonics, volcanism and earthquakes, landforms and weathering, historical environmental interpretation. Includes a field component. This course is not applicable toward any degree in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Prereq: Permission of project director. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
GEOL 5002 - RM-MSMSP: Earth Sciences II - Sedimentology and Paleontology

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 5002
Field and lecture course building on Earth Sciences I, which covers internal earth processes. Students learn about erosional processes and how sedimentary rocks are deposited and may be preserved; the different ways fossils are preserved; describing rocks in the field; and collecting, preparing and describing fossils. Provides an overview of the geology of the area so that students can place the detailed studies in context. This course is not applicable toward any degree in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Prereq: GEOL 5001 (or equivalent) or permission of project director. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 5003 - RM-MSMSP: Earth Science in Context

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 5003
Designed for teachers in the RM-MSMSP program. Topics include global climate change, glaciers, coastal geology, volcanism, and their effects on culture. Monuments such as Florissant Fossil Beds, Ice Core, Cave of the Winds and a quarry will be visited. Note: This course is not applicable toward any degree in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 5030 - Environmental Geology

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 5030
Applies geological information to interactions between people and the physical environment. Increasing awareness of its importance in our society means that this is an expanding field as companies are required to address the environmental consequences of their actions. Prereq: Entry into MSES program, senior standing in sciences or geography, or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOL 4030 and ENVS 5030. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 5060 - Remote Sensing I: Introduction to Environmental Remote Sensing

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 5060
An in-depth treatment of the use of aerial photographs and other forms of imagery for the analysis of urban-industrial patterns, vegetation, agriculture, landforms, and geologic structure. Prereq: GEOG 3080 or consent of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOL 4060, GEOG 4060, 5060. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
GEOL 5270 - Glacial Geomorphology

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 5270

Provides an in-depth view of the processes and systems found in glacial environments. Topics include: evidence of past glaciation; present-day glacial extent; glacier dynamics; glacial erosional processes and landforms; glacial depositional processes and landforms. Prereq: GEOG 1202 or GEOL 1072. Cross-listed with GEOG/GEOL 4270/5270. Semester Hours: 3to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 5770 - Applied Statistics for the Natural Sciences

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 5770

Surveys statistical techniques including: quick review of basic statistics, tests for normality and outliers, display of data; simple and multiple regression; Anova and its relation to regression. Emphasis on computer or stat-pak analysis and interpretation of statistical results. Prereq: College algebra and GEOG 3080, or consent of an instructor. Cross-listed with GEOL 4770, GEOG 4770, ENVS 5600. Semester Hours: 3to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

GEOL 5780 - Engineering Geology

Summer 2010 Registration GEOL 5780

Studies geology as utilized in engineering and environmental practice. Emphasizes a conceptual integration of geologic materials, processes, and rates of change as a basis for successful application of geologic knowledge to environmental planning and engineering design projects. Cross-listed with GEOL 4780 and CVEN 5780. Semester Hours: 4to 4

Using a wide variety of technological tools, including word processing, database, spreadsheet, graphics, presentation, and communications software, facilitate learning and manage the instructional process. Semester Hours: 1to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

INTE 5600 - Multimedia Authoring
Summer 2010 Registration IT 5600
Teaches the use of multimedia authoring tools to develop multimedia instruction or World Wide Web resources. Skills include: producing programs to meet educational needs; integrating digital content into office applications and multimedia resources. Prereq: Basic computer experience with word processing, database or spreadsheet programs. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

INTE 5610 - Principles for Designing Multimedia

Summer 2010 Registration IT 5610
Theory and practice of designing effective instruction for World Wide Web and multimedia delivery. Prereq: INTE 5600. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

INTE 5640 - Technology of Student-Centered Learning Environments

Summer 2010 Registration IT 5640
Theory and principles behind complex learning environments aimed at developing student responsibility, collaborative learning, and higher order thinking methods for technology support are examined. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

INTE 5650 - Policies and Planning for eLearning Programs

Summer 2010 Registration IT 5650
Methods and strategies for planning, implementing and evaluating distance-learning programs. Review of trends and issues currently affecting distance-learning programs and delivery of online education. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

INTE 5660 - Designing and Teaching in eLearning Environments

Summer 2010 Registration IT 5660
In this hands-on course, students will learn to use tools and strategies to design and teach in eLearning environments. The course covers critical aspects of designing and teaching an online course, such as planning a successful online learning experience (both group-paced and self-paced instruction); designing eLearning materials and resources; being an effective online teacher, including leading, managing and assessing online discussions (both asynchronous and synchronous); getting the most out of a course management system; and assessing course effectiveness. Semester Hours: 6 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
INTE 5670 - Developing eLearning Instruction

Summer 2010 Registration IT 5670
In this applied course, students will build an online learning course (as planned during INTE 5660) while developing basic skills with XHTML, CSS and Web and multimedia eLearning authoring tools. Students will learn how to enhance online courses by incorporating interactivity, content management and multimedia design strategies. Prereq: INTE 5660 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 6 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

INTE 5680 - Integrating Media in eLearning Environments

Summer 2010 Registration IT 5680
Students develop and integrate media resources into eLearning environments, applying principles of media selection and multimedia learning. Students survey and sample a variety of tools for production of audio, video, and multimedia content and examine ways to enhance eLearning courses through multimedia presentation and engagement resources. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

INTE 5690 - Enhancing Web-based Learning Environments with JavaScript and PHP Programming

Summer 2010 Registration IT 5690
Using JavaScript and PHP, this course teaches the technologies behind Web design that turn static HTML pages into interactive Web applications. Issues to consider with each technology are explored so intelligent decisions can be made when adopting a particular technology for use in a Web site. Prereq: INTE 5660, 5670 and 5680 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

INTE 5710 - Telecommunications and Networking in Education

Summer 2010 Registration IT 5710
Overview of computer-mediated communications (CMC) and networking and applications to education. Topics include: operating systems; hardware/software troubleshooting; networking in education and classroom and lab management. Prereq: Basic computer experience with word processing, database or spreadsheet programs. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

INTE 5830 - Information and Learning Technologies Workshop
Specific titles vary depending upon the specific skill areas within information and learning technologies. Semester Hours: 0.5 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

INTE 5840 - Independent Study: INTE

Summer 2010 Registration IT 5840

Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

INTE 5998 - Professional Development Activities

Summer 2010 Registration IT 5998
Provides guidance for professional development through participation in appropriate state, regional, and national conferences for meeting leaders and colleagues while upgrading professional knowledge and skills in the field. Prereq: Enrollment in a graduate INTE program or a professional in a field related to the conference. Semester Hours: 1 to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

INTE 6110 - Managing Instructional Development

Summer 2010 Registration IT 6110
Organization, supervision and budgeting of instructional development projects in training and education. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

INTE 6120 - Design Studio For Project Management and Collaboration

Summer 2010 Registration IT 6120
Collaborative management of instructional-design projects meeting demonstrated needs in real-life settings. Skills include: management of time, personnel and resources; meeting client needs and expectations; communication with team and client; information design; interaction design and project problem solving. Prereq: INTE 5110 and 5120 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 2 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
INTE 6130 - Implementing and Evaluating Instruction

Summer 2010 Registration I T 6130
Methods for implementing instructional materials in field settings; evaluating materials for learning impact and program revision. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

INTE 6515 - Leadership for Learning Technologies Integration

Summer 2010 Registration I T 6515
Leadership for integrating technology into a standards-based curriculum. Through mentoring, service, or training, model and assist teachers and administrators in adopting technologies and information resources to support learning and assessment activities. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

INTE 6530 - Development Projects in Information and Learning Technologies

Summer 2010 Registration I T 6530
The creation and application of instructional systems combining unique instructional advantages of technologies to emphasize high levels of interactivity. Advanced projects must meet specific objectives to cover program design and development, hardware and software configurations, delivery systems and learners. Project topics vary. Prereq: INTE 5110 and 5600. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

INTE 6710 - Creative Designs for Instructional Materials

Summer 2010 Registration I T 6710
This course is a project-based exploration of instructional-materials design theories, principles, and best practices used to communicate complex information to a diverse audience for the purpose of teaching and learning. You will apply unique design approaches and formats to the creation of print- and presentation-based instructional materials. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

INTE 6720 - Research in Information and Learning Technologies

Summer 2010 Registration I T 6720
Analysis, evaluation, and production of research in instructional technology. Develop recommendations for action based on research findings. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
INTE 6730 - Comparative Models of Instructional Design

Summer 2010 Registration I T 6730
Advanced seminar in analyzing the theoretical foundations and the instructional implications of different models and theories of instructional design. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

INTE 6740 - Learning Processes Applied to Instructional Technology

Summer 2010 Registration I T 6740
Principles of learning and instruction for technology-mediated learning. Topics include case-based and project-based teaching and other inquiry-learning strategies; tutorial and direct-instruction; and self-directed learning. Semester Hours: 2 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

INTE 6750 - Current Trends and Issues in Instructional Technology

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

INTE 6999 - Leadership and Practice in Information and Learning Technologies

Summer 2010 Registration I T 6999
Reflective examination of the adoption and use of information and learning technologies in applied settings. Topics include change strategies, system analysis, planning and evaluating technology use, and roles of technology specialists. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

IPTE 4000 - Elementary Literacy Instruction and Assessment

Summer 2010 Registration IPTE 4000
Designed to prepare teacher candidates to develop an appreciation, understanding, and application of literacy assessment and instruction in the elementary classroom. Teachers learn how to use the results of various types of assessment to create a reading and writing program that addresses the literacy needs of all children. The course assists teachers in learning how to integrate the teaching of reading and writing across content areas. Prereq: Concurrent enrollment in an internship or permission of instructor is required. Admission into the IPTE Program. Cross-listed with IPTE 5000. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

IPTE 4001 - Elementary Literacy Assessment and Instruction Teaching Lab

Summer 2010 Registration IPTE 4001
Designed to support novice and experienced teachers in examining student reading and writing performance data and using the data to plan instruction that assist students meeting reading and writing standards. Conducted by teacher experts in literacy; labs utilize classroom data from the elementary students the lab participants are teaching. Prereq: Concurrent enrollment in an internship or IPTE 4000 or IPTE 5000 or permission of instructor is required. Admission into the IPTE Program. Cross-listed with IPTE 5001. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

IPTE 4002 - Math Instruction and Assessment

Summer 2010 Registration IPTE 4002
Designed to prepare elementary teachers to teach mathematics in elementary school and to apply the six principles of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics (NCTM) (equity, curriculum, teaching, learning, assessment and technology) to the four areas of mathematical learning (number sense, statistics and probability, geometry and measurement, and mathematical functions). Teachers explore ways to help all elementary students become flexible and resourceful problem solvers in mathematics. Prereq: MATH 3040. Concurrent enrollment in an internship or permission of an instructor is required. Admission into the IPTE Program. Cross-listed with IPTE 5002. Semester Hours: 2 to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

IPTE 4004 - Science in the Elementary Curriculum

Summer 2010 Registration IPTE 4004
Designed to support elementary teachers in developing an understanding and appreciation of active science explorations in elementary classrooms, learning various methods of teaching and assessing science that prepare students to meet science content standards, developing authentic applications of science, and integrating science with other elementary content areas, including literacy and math, to support more holistic learning. Cross-listed with IPTE 5004. Semester Hours: 2 to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

IPTE 4005 - Social Studies in the Elementary Curriculum

Summer 2010 Registration IPTE 4005
Designed to prepare elementary teachers to support students' learning related to the Colorado social studies standards. The course includes attention to social studies curriculum and teaching resources, approaches and strategies for effective teaching and assessment of social studies content, and to the teaching of literacy and math within social studies content. The course also helps teachers understand how to model democratic ideals in a classroom. Cross-listed with IPTE 5005. Semester Hours: 2 to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

IPTE 4006 - Integrated Science and Social Studies in the Elementary Curriculum
Summer 2010 Registration
IPTE 4006
Designed to support elementary teachers in developing an understanding and appreciation of active science and social studies explorations in elementary classrooms, learning various methods of teaching and assessing science and social studies that prepare students to meet content standards, developing authentic applications and integrating with other elementary content areas, including literacy and math, to support more holistic learning. Cross-listed with IPTE 5006. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

IPTE 4020 - Exploring Diversity in Content and Pedagogy I
Summer 2010 Registration
IPTE 4020
An essential feature of standards-based curriculum design and instruction is the ability of teachers to draw from students' previous experience, help students make connections between new information and previous knowledge and skills, and support students in transferring new information to real-life contexts and environments. The purpose of the year-long two-part workshop is to guide teacher candidates through a process for achieving these outcomes for all students utilizing curriculum that integrates reading, writing, math, science, social students, movement, and the expressive arts. Prereq: Concurrent enrollment in an internship. Admission into the IPTE Program. Cross-listed with IPTE 5020. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

IPTE 4025 - Secondary Literacy Instruction and Assessment
Summer 2010 Registration
IPTE 4025
Provides knowledge and practice in using specific literacy methods to enhance students' content learning and literacy development in middle schools and high schools. Various methods of literacy assessment are emphasized as is the use of assessment information to guide instruction for students. Instructional strategies for special populations, especially speakers of English as a second language, are also addressed. Prereq: Concurrent enrollment in an internship or permission of instructor required. Admission into the IPTE Program. Cross-listed with IPTE 5025. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

IPTE 4026 - Content Literacy Assessment and Instruction Teaching Lab
Summer 2010 Registration
IPTE 4026
The secondary literacy teaching lab is designed to support novice and experienced teachers from all content areas in examining students' reading and writing performance data and using the data to plan instruction that assist secondary students in meeting reading and writing standards through work in content area classes. Conducted by teacher experts who possess knowledge of literacy strategies useful in content area teaching, labs utilize the data from the students that the lab participants are teaching.
Prereq: IPTE 4025 and IPTE 4910 or teaching experience. Concurrent enrollment in an internship or permission of instructor required. Admission into the IPTE Program. Cross-listed with IPTE 5026. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

IPTE 4050 - Planning for the First Year of Teaching

Summer 2010 Registration IPTE 4050
Designed to assist those who are about to enter into their first year of teaching in planning for the first year, with a focus on: 1) creating community; 2) professional learning; and 3) curriculum and instruction. Cross-listed with IPTE 5050. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

IPTE 4300 - Curriculum and Methods in Secondary Math

Summer 2010 Registration IPTE 4300
Investigates curriculum in middle and high school mathematics, development, history and trends, and pertinent research. Participants construct and share curriculum relevant to their interest. Cross-listed with IPTE 5300. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

IPTE 4350 - Modern Trends in Science Education

Summer 2010 Registration IPTE 4350
Recent developments in theory, curriculum, methods, politics, and materials in secondary science are examined for their contribution to the objectives of science education. Prereq: Concurrent enrollment in an internship or permission of instructor is required. Admission into the IPTE Program. Cross-listed with IPTE 5350. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

IPTE 4351 - Inquiry Science Methods

Summer 2010 Registration IPTE 4351
Designed to provide an in-depth study of inquiry science methods and how inquiry science supports standards-based education. The course provides a review of research on the pedagogy that supports student understanding, problem solving and creativity through the use of inquiry science. Participants learn a variety of methods, techniques and resources for teaching inquiry science, understand the processes of "doing" science, and develop lessons that actively engage students in science in their own classrooms. Prereq: Concurrent enrollment in an internship or permission of instructor is required. Admission into the IPTE Program. Cross-listed with IPTE 5351. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

IPTE 4401 - Assessment In Math Education

Summer 2010 Registration IPTE 4401
Applied examination of traditional and alternative assessment techniques and practices in mathematics. Primary focus of the course is the questions teachers ask to probe mastery and understanding of standards-based mathematics and what to look for in student responses to those questions. Topics including the history of assessment of mathematical understanding, types of mathematical knowledge, performance, authentic assessment, traditional assessment techniques, interactive interviews, CSAP math tests, language and culture as factors in mathematics, recent research, and the influence of technology on assessment. Prereq: Concurrent enrollment in an internship or permission of instructor required. Admission into the IPTE Program. Cross-listed with IPTE 5401. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

IPTE 4460 - Thoughtful Inquiry in Teaching Social Studies: Culture, People and Change

Summer 2010 Registration IPTE 4460

ISMG 2050 - Introduction to Business Problem Solving

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 2050
Focuses on the technology and problem solving skills necessary for students to succeed both at school and in the business world. Focuses on business decision making using spreadsheets, database and web tools. Students solve problems in statistics, accounting, finance, marketing, management and information systems. The objective is to provide problem solving methods necessary for students to succeed in the business community. This is a business core course therefore a grade of a 'C' or better must be earned to satisfy Business graduation and prerequisites for other business
ISMG 2075 - Introduction to Microsoft Access

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 2075
Introduction to Microsoft Access prepares students to use databases to analyze data and solve real-life business problems. It challenges students to use critical thinking and analysis to find efficient and effective solutions to real-life business situations. Students will use databases to solve problems in accounting, finance, and information systems. Prereq: Computer Competency. Semester Hours: 1to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 2200 - Introduction to Business Programming

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 2200
Examines how business applications are developed. Emphasis is placed on developing complete and user-friendly programming solutions to business problems. Students are introduced to an object-oriented programming language for implementing event-driven business problem solutions. Prereq: ISMG 2050. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 2800 - Designing for the Web

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 2800
Students examine how the Web is evolving to support a variety of business needs. The course covers the design and usability principals necessary for improving online interactions via traditional websites as well as using technologies promoting collaboration and information sharing (e.g. social networks, blogs, wikis, forms). Topics include: the principles of web page and web site design; hypertext markup language, cascading style sheets, streaming video, online collaboration technologies; client and server scripting; and the process of testing and publishing web sites. Prereq: ISMG 2050 or taken concurrently with ISMG 2050. Semester Hours: 3to 3 When Offered: SPRING Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 3000 - Principles of Information Systems

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 3000
Covers the role of information technology in business organizations. It exposes students to innovative and interesting technologies and illustrates how those technologies are changing the way businesses operate. It highlights the importance of IT in organizations, including the relationship between technology & competitiveness, the alignment of business and IT strategy, the development and management of an effective IT infrastructure and the use of IT strategy, the development and management of an effective IT infrastructure and the use of IT-enabled organizational processes. Topics include: coping with information intensity, web sites, social networks and blogs; business intelligence at each level of management; IT based reports and data; collaboration and the impact of technology on organizational interaction; the use of IT for controlling and enhancing business processes; security, privacy & disaster recovery; and emerging technologies. Note: Business core course therefore a grade of a “C” or better must be earned to satisfy graduation requirements. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

When Offered: FALL SPR

ISMG 3100 - Information Technology Hardware and Software

Summer 2010 Registration I$$SMG 3100$$

Provides the hardware/software technology background to enable systems development personnel to understand tradeoffs in computer architecture for effective use in business environment. System architecture for single user, central, and networked computing systems; single and multi-user operating systems. Prereq: I$$SMG 3000$$. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 3200 - Programming, Data, File and Object Structures

Summer 2010 Registration I$$SMG 3200$$

Provides an understanding of algorithm development, programming, computer concepts, and the design and application of data and file structures. Includes an understanding of the logical and physical structure of both programs and data. The "JAVA" programming language will be used as the vehicle for investigating a variety of data structure topics. Topics include: data structures and representation; characters, records, files and multimedia; precision of data; information representation, organization and storage; algorithm development; object representation compared to conventional data flow notation; programming control structures; program correctness, verification, and validation; file structures and representation. Prereq: I$$SMG 2200$. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 3500 - Enterprise Data and Content Management

Summer 2010 Registration I$$SMG 3500$$

The success of today’s business often hinges on the ability to turn mountains of data into critical information to make right decisions quickly and efficiently. This course introduces students to data, content and multimedia management using current enterprise data management tools. Topics include: Oracle SQL for relational database and for multimedia content; Oracle forms and reports, XML, and content management. Prereq: I$$SMG 2050$ or equivalent, transfer credit VALIDATION (may need I$$SMG 2075 - 1$
ISMG 3600 - System Strategy, Architecture and Design

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 3600

This course is designed to provide the understanding of current concepts related to information systems development in an organizational context. It emphasizes the interactive nature of the analysis and design process. Topics include: requirements analysis, model based analysis and design; evaluating outsourcing, COTS and other systems acquisition options; and quality, six-sigma, and ethics in design. New concepts such as agile modeling and extreme programming are covered. Prereq: ISMG 2050 or equivalent, transfer credit VALIDATION (may need ISMG 2075 - 1 credit).Semester Hours: 3to 3When Offered: FALL

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 3939 - Internship/Cooperative Education

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 3939

Supervised experiences involving the application of concepts and skills in an employment situation. Prereq: Senior standing and 3.5 GPA.Semester Hours: 1to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 4200 - Building Business Applications

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 4200

Examines how business technologies are designed and implemented. Usability, logic, and platform selection issues are highlighted through the development of simple business systems. Includes Windows interface design; storing, retrieving, and manipulating information; real time decision making; task automation through iteration; platform selection (mobile, desktop or web); and web programming. Prereq: ISMG 2800.Semester Hours: 3to 3When Offered: FALL

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 4300 - Information Security and Compliance

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 4300

This course covers information security threats and various mechanisms available to organizations to defend against information compromise. It offers thorough analysis of state, national, and international information security regulations with which businesses must comply, including the Sarbanes-Oxley, Gramm-Leach-Billey and Hipaa Acts. The regulatory compliance analysis will include measures the organizations must and should perform to be in compliance.Semester Hours: 3to 3When Offered: SPRING

ISMG 4500 - Database Management and Applications

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 4500
The success of today's business often hinges on the ability to turn mountains of data into critical information and to utilize the critical information to make the right decisions quickly and efficiently. This course introduces students to the basic principles of data management and utilization. Topics include data modeling, normalization and database design, query formulation using SQL and QBE and interface design. Actual database management systems products (e.g. Oracle and Access) are utilized to demonstrate the design of database applications in management, marketing, finance, accounting and other business areas. Each student will also design a working database system as a project. Prereq: ISMG 3000. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 4600 - Systems Analysis and Design

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 4600
Provides an understanding of the system development and maintenance process. It enables students to evaluate and choose a system development methodology. Topics include: systems development life cycle phases, structured analysis and design, object-oriented analysis and design; prototyping, joint application development (JAD) and structured walk-through; communication, interviewing, interpersonal and presentation skills; risk and feasibility analysis, project management, systems operations and support. Prereq: ISMG 3000. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 4700 - Business Data Communications and Networking

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 4700
Provides an in-depth knowledge of data communications and networking requirements including: networking and telecommunications technologies, hardware, and software. Emphasis is upon the analysis and design of networking applications in organizations. Management of telecommunications networks, cost-benefit analysis, and evaluation of connectivity options are also covered. Students learn to evaluate, select, and implement different communication options within an organization. Topics include: network hardware and software; network configuration; network applications; distributed versus centralized systems; network architectures, topologies and protocols; network performance analysis; privacy, security, reliability; management of telecommunications, and communications standards. Prereq: Jr. Standing. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 4750 - Business Intelligence and Financial Modeling
ISMG 4750

In this course, the student learns to analyze and solve financial problems with spreadsheet models, apply Oracle Financial and Business Intelligence software that is widely used in corporate financial operations and model risk and uncertainty with Monte Carlo software. Prereq: ISMG 2050, FNCE 3000 and ISMG 3000 (or ACCT 3054) with a grade of 'C' or better. Cross-listed with FNCE 4750. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 4760 - Customer Relationship Management

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 4760

This marketing-theory driven course examines customer relationship management (CRM) as a key strategic process for organizations. Composed of people, technology and processes, effective CRM optimizes the selection or identification, acquisition, growth and retention of desired customers to maximize profit. Besides presenting an overview of the CRM process, its strategic role in the organization and its place in marketing, students have an opportunity to create simulated CRM database using popular software package that help to illustrate what CRM can do, its advantages and limitations. Prereq: MKTG 3000 and ISMG 3000. Cross-listed with MKTG 4760. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 4780 - Accounting and Information Systems Processes and Controls

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 4780

The course is designed to develop knowledge and skills used to understand and evaluate corporate accounting processes and systems. It focuses on financial and information system internal controls and the flow of corporate information through accounting system. A financial system objective and risk assessment approach is used to present concepts and techniques for evaluating the adequacy of system processes and controls. Prereq: Completion of ACCT 2200 and 2220 with a grade of 'C' or better. Strictly enforced. Cross-listed with ACCT 4780, 6510 and ISMG 6510. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 4800 - eBusiness Systems Development

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 4800

Students analyze business problems and develop data-driven eBusiness applications to solve them. Development skills include presenting and receiving information through a web site, validating entered information and storing entered information in text files or databases. Students develop an understanding of the principles of web page and web site design; standard object models, Hypertext Markup Language, client scripting and server programs for database and file access; testing, software quality assurance; and the process of publishing Web pages. Prereq: ISMG 2200. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 6020 - .Net Programming Fundamentals
ISMG 6020
This course is designed to provide a thorough introduction to the .Net programming environment. C# is studied as the target object-oriented programming language. Principles of object-oriented programming are demonstrated using programming constructs taken from the business domain. Students are required to apply this knowledge through a series of C# programming exercises, which includes developing Windows Forms applications for the desktop and mobile platforms. Prereq: Basic knowledge of a programming language such as JAVA, C, or Basic. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
When Offered: SPRING

ISMG 6040 - Business Process Management
Designing effective information systems for business requires an awareness of the organization(s) business processes and how to manage and streamline them. The objectives of the course are for students to understand the importance of business processes; the main types of business processes; and the evolution of business process management; business process outsourcing; business process re-engineering; business process redesign; technology enabled business processes; and automated workflow. An important activity is graphically mapping business processes, which are transformed into an application or set of applications. The organization needs to manage the electronic workflow to monitor that the work gets done and allow changes to the workflow. Case studies of organizations are studied for most topics to enhance understanding. The group projects let students apply their knowledge of the course to a specific organization. By the end of this course students should have an appreciation of the important process-centric issues in business systems design. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 6060 - Analysis, Modeling and Design
Spring. Provides an understanding and application of systems analysis and design processes. Students are exposed to system development life cycle (SDLC), structured systems analysis and design methods, object-oriented analysis and design methods, prototyping and commercial off-the-shelf package software approaches, and joint and rapid application development. Emphasizes the skills required for system analysts such as analytical, interpersonal, technical, fact-finding, and project management skills. Topics include data, process and object modeling, input-output and user interface design, and systems implementation and support. To provide an opportunity to develop these skills, an information system project is completed by a group of students. Students use a Case tool for their group project. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
ISMG 6071 - Introduction to Health Information Technology

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 6071
Examines what needs transforming in healthcare to improve value, safety and appropriateness of care, and what the role of IT is in that transformation. It also examines the challenges of cultural change and IT strategy in succeeding with clinical information projects. Differences between installation, implementation, transition and actual transformation are suggested and methods for managing subcultures in healthcare (IT, clinical, administrative) are reviewed. Cross-listed with HLTH 6071. Semester Hours: 3
When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 6072 - Fundamentals of Health Information Technology Management

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 6072
Provides an introduction to the management of information technology in healthcare. A description of information processing, the origin, content, evolution of healthcare information systems and the methodologies deployed to acquire and manage information requirements are discussed. Cross-listed with HLTH 6072. Semester Hours: 3
When Offered: FALL
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 6080 - Database Management Systems

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 6080
The success of today's business often hinges on the ability to utilize critical information to make the right decisions quickly and efficiently. Transforming mountains of data into critical information to improve decision making is a skill every business decision maker must possess. This focus course covers the database design topics with a focus on enabling business decision making. Detailed topics include collecting, capturing, querying and manipulating data (using SQL and QBE) for simple to medium complex business applications. Commercial database products (e.g. ORACLE and ACCESS) are utilized to demonstrate the design of database applications in management, marketing, finance, accounting, and other business areas. Students will be able to design and implement simple to medium complex database applications after successful completion of this course. Semester Hours: 3
When Offered: FALL
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 6120 - Internet and Mobile Technologies

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 6120
Communication, knowledge sharing, and information acquisition within and between businesses are critical for long term strategic business success. Technological advancements are radically changing the way business communication and knowledge sharing is performed. This course will briefly examine traditional concepts of wired local area networks for reference purposes, but then will focus on how newer mobile technologies are changing the way business communication and knowledge transfer are conducted. Mobile technologies that will be examined in this course include: WiFi wide area networks, wireless local area networks, cellular telephones, smart phones, and other portable computing devices. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 When Offered: FALL

ISMG 6180 - Information Systems Management and Strategy

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 6180
The effective use of information technology requires the alignment of competitive strategies, business processes, and IT applications. In this course, we take a top management perspective to the development of policies and plans that maximize the contribution of IT to organizational goals. We begin by examining the systems that support the operational, administrative, and strategic needs of organizations. We then investigate the approaches used to manage the IT function, taking into account legacy and emerging technologies. The vital role of the CIO and project champions are explored. Note: Students cannot receive credit for both ISMG 6180 and BUSN 6610. Cross-listed with BUSN 6610. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 When Offered: FASPRSUM
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 6200 - Global Information Systems

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 6200
Will focus on managing information technology globally and the new organizational and information technology designs that firms are establishing to meet the ever-growing global requirements. The course will cover such issues as how information is used and how information technology is deployed by multinationals in different countries, the state of information technology and telecommunication industries in countries around the world, how global firms gain strategic benefits from information technology, and how firms manage and use global virtual teams. Prereq: ISMG 6040 or 6120 or BUSN 6610. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 When Offered: FALL
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 6220 - Business Intelligence Systems

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 6220
This course covers technical and managerial issues associated with the development and use of decision support systems, expert systems, executive information systems, and advanced intelligent systems. The DSS component covers decision theory, model management, and business intelligence with an emphasis on how decision-making can be supported using data warehouses, OLAP, and data mining and visualization tools. The ES component focuses on knowledge acquisition, representation, reasoning, and using advanced intelligent systems, over the web. In addition, collaboration, communication, enterprise decision support system integration, impacts, and the future of MSS are discussed. The use of DSS and online analytical processing (OLAP) and the selection of decision support applications and tools are important learning objectives for this course. Critical to the success of DSS is the use of data warehouses. The basics of data warehousing are covered through a variety of companies' experiences. The course also covers Business Performance Management (BPM) and the use of digital dashboards and balanced scorecards as evolution of EIS. Hands-on experience is provided through the use of leading-edge technologies including MicroStrategy business intelligence tool. Prereqs: ISMG 6080. Semester Hours: 3to 3When Offered: SPR SUM Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 6240 - Website Development Practice and Technologies

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 6240
Presents a broad coverage of design principles and techniques to develop effective web sites. The course emphasizes: (1) understanding the principles of web page and web site design and the process of publishing web pages, (2) developing client-side scripts for use in web sites, (3) using server-side programs or scripts to develop dynamic web sites using databases, and (4) understanding technologies for managing large web sites including XML schemas, content management systems and web services. Prereq: ISMG 6080. Semester Hours: 3to 3When Offered: FALL
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 6280 - Service Oriented Architecture

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 6280
Explores "Service Oriented Architecture" (SOA), which refers to a design pattern made up of components and interconnections that stress interoperability and location transparency. Covers the latest heterogeneous models for carrying out large scale distributed computing using Web services. The fundamentals of defining, designing, building, testing and rolling-out a SOA system are explored using tools from major Web service vendors. Also, looks at the impact of SOA on software quality, efficiency, performance and flexibility. Prereq: ISMG 6060. Semester Hours: 3to 3When Offered: FALL
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 6420 - Global Enterprise Systems

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 6420
Examines the evolution of global enterprise systems - from internally focused enterprise resource planning (ERP) client or server systems to externally focused eBusiness. Studies the types of issues managers need to consider in implementing cross-functional integrated enterprise systems. Examines the general nature of global enterprise computing, re-engineering principles and the technical foundations of client or server systems and enterprise information architectures. Students learn about the global enterprise systems marketplace. Topics include the tools and methodology, modules, processes and industry initiatives. Finally, the course looks into the future and predicts enterprise system trends. The objective of the course is to make students aware of the potential and limitations of global enterprise systems. The objective will be reached through case studies, lectures, guest speakers and a group project. Prereq: ISMG 6180 or BUSN 6610 (6810). Semester Hours: 3 When Offered: FALL
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 6430 - Information Systems Security and Privacy

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 6430
Designed to develop knowledge and skills for security of information and information systems within organizations. Focuses on concepts and methods associated with planning, designing, implementing, managing, and auditing security at all levels and on all systems platforms, including enterprise systems. This course presents techniques for assessing risk associated with accidental and intentional breaches of security as well as disaster recovery planning. Prereq: ISMG 6180 or BUSN 6610 (6810). Semester Hours: 3 When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 6450 - IT Project Management

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 6450
Focuses on how firms successfully manage the adoption of IT. Projects and program management principles are the primary focus of this course. Topics covered include approaches to prioritizing projects, estimating cost and time-to-market, build vs. buy decision, planning, monitoring and controlling implementation, measurement, total cost of ownership, effective management of both behavioral and technical aspects of the project and change management. Prereq: ISMG 6180 or BUSN 6610 (6810). Semester Hours: 3 When Offered: FALL
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 6460 - Emerging Technologies

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 6460
Provides an introduction to the expansive array of information technologies that form the infrastructure of a modern business enterprise. Emphasis is placed on learning conceptual technological foundations and understanding the business value of the various technologies. The purpose of the course is to develop the student's ability to discuss recent technological advancements with other IT professionals and management. Technology assessment is emphasized. Prereq: ISMG 6180 or BUSN 6610 (6810).
Cross-listed with BUSN 6800. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

ISMG 6480 - Data Warehouse and Administration

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 6480
Management of large, complex data warehouses and operational databases involves technical skills and background needed by information systems professionals as well as tactical and strategic issues faced by information technology managers. This course provides conceptual knowledge, practical skills, and policy background for prospective information systems professionals and information technology managers. The course covers business aspects, conceptual background, and product material about management of data warehouses and operational databases. Assignments and projects involve Oracle skills for database administration and tactical or strategic issues faced by information technology management. Prereq: ISMG 6080. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 6510 - Accounting and Information Systems Processes and Controls

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 6510
Designed to develop knowledge and skills used to understand and evaluate corporate accounting processes and systems. Focuses on financial and information system internal controls and the flow of corporate information through an accounting system. A financial system objective and risk assessment approach issued to present concepts and techniques for evaluating the adequacy of system processes and controls. Cross-listed with ACCT 6510, 4780 and ISMG 4780. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 6800 - Special Topics

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 6800
A variety of advanced topics are offered in this course. Past topics include the human-computer interface, software engineering, artificial intelligence, graphical user interface, project management and electronic commerce. Consult the current ‘Schedule Planner’ for semester offerings. Note: Seldom offered. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

ISMG 6820 - Business Intelligence and Financial Modeling

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 6820
This course will introduce students to the application of business intelligence in a corporate finance setting. Financial data intelligence is essential for effective decision making throughout the firm, in finance directly and in other functions supported by the finance department. Strategy setting, budgeting, and new product development are just a few decision areas where finance personnel play an active role. In this course, we learn how to apply Oracle e-Business Suite, a finance and business intelligence software tool that provides modules for financial reporting, analysis, budgeting, and planning. These tools enable finance personnel to access and analyze corporate data in support of critical decision making across the enterprise. Students will also analyze data through the use of financial models built in Microsoft Excel. The development of complex financial models will provide students with valuable hands-on experience with a software tool used widely incorporate finance departments. Semester Hours: 3 to 3  When Offered: SPRING  Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 6840 - Independent Study: ISMG

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 6840
Instructor approval required. Allowed only under special and unusual circumstances. Regularly scheduled courses cannot be taken as independent study. Semester Hours: 1 to 8  Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 6950 - Master’s Thesis

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 6950
Semester Hours: 1 to 8  Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 7001 - AI-Based Decision Making

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 7001
Introduces decision making concepts. It covers a range of approaches, techniques and tools for decision aiding and describes how they can be used to support decision processes. The topics include human decision making, decision support systems, knowledge-based systems, and AI methods that support decision making, like machine learning, Bayesian networks and association rules. Prereq: MS in C.S.E. or I.S. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 7002 - Computer Security

Summer 2010 Registration IMSG 7002
A broad overview of computer security, roughly divided into three unequal components: a) the history of codes and ciphers; b) basic cryptographic techniques, for example, symmetric cryptography, authentication techniques, and asymmetric cryptosystems, and: c) applications to current and future computer-related technologies, for example, network security, wireless communication, quantum cryptography, and more. Prereq: CSCI 5451. Cross-listed with CSCI 7002. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 7200 - Advances In Management Information Systems

Summer 2010 Registration IMSG 7200
Provides an introduction to research methodologies engaged in Management Information System Research, including measurement, sampling, survey research, experiments, quasi-experiments and some qualitative research methods. Prereq: admission into the CSIS Ph.D. program and knowledge of basic statistics. Cross-listed with CSCI 7200. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 When Offered: FALL
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 7210 - Topics In Analytical Research In Management Information Systems

Summer 2010 Registration IMSG 7210
Provides a detailed coverage of selected analytical research in information systems. Prereq: admission to the CSIS Ph.D. program. Cross-listed with CSCI 7210. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 7211 - Topics In Behavioral and Organizational Research In Management Information Systems

Summer 2010 Registration IMSG 7211
Provides a detailed coverage of selected behavioral and organizational research in information systems. Prereq: admission to the CSIS Ph.D. program. Cross-listed with CSCI 7211. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 7220 - Research methods: Design and Analysis
Summer 2010 Registration  ISMG 7220
Research methods: Design and Analysis. Topics include: research design, approaches to gathering data; sampling methods; linear multivariate analysis methods emphasizing structural equations models; and a brief survey of other methods such as cluster analysis, multidimensional scaling, methods such as neural nets, CART and/or genetic algorithms. While much of the material is of general interest, the course emphasizes methods and situations to prepare students in the CS/IS Ph.D. program for research in their field(s). The course includes student projects involving the analysis of data using appropriate software, whose results are presented to the class. Prereq: BUSN 6530 (or equivalent) and either Ph.D. student status or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with DSCI 6220. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 7551 - Parallel and Distributed Systems

Summer 2010 Registration  ISMG 7551
Examines a range of topics involving parallel and distributed systems to improve computational performance. Topics include parallel and distributed programming languages, architectures, networks, algorithms and applications. Prereqs: Graduate Standing. Cross-listed with CSCI 7551. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 7552 - Advanced Topics in Parallel Processing

Summer 2010 Registration  ISMG 7552
Examines the advances of sequential computers for gaining speed and application of these techniques to high-speed supercomputers of today. Programming methodologies of distributed and shared memory multiprocessors, vector processors and systolic arrays are compared. Performance analysis methods for architectures and programs are described. Cross-listed with CSCI 7552. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 7574 - Advanced Topics in Operating Systems

Summer 2010 Registration  ISMG 7574
Covers the advanced topics in operating systems by examining functionality and performance issues in CPU Scheduling, communications, distributed file systems, distributed operating systems, shared-memory multiprocessors and real-time operating systems. In addition to studying papers, reviews, and presentations, students carry out a semester long team project within the scope of one of the above topics. Prereqs: CSCI 3453 or CSCI 5573. Cross-listed with CSCI 7574. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
ISMG 7582 - Artificial Intelligence

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 7582
Approaches to design of systems for solving problems usually solved by humans, especially those related to intelligent decision making. Emphasis on various types of knowledge representation. Cross-listed with CSCI 7582. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 7654 - Algorithms For Communication Networks

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 7654
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 7765 - Computer Networks

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 7765
An in-depth study of active research topics in computer networks. Topics include: Internet protocols, TCP/UDP, congestion and flow control, IP routings, mobile IP, P2P overlay networks, network security, performance, and other current research topics. Prereq: Graduate Standing. Cross-listed with CSCI 7765. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 7799 - Topics in Network Computing

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 7799
Studies the active research topics in network based computing such as Cluster, Grid computing, P2P Computing, Pervasive Computing. Workflow system and Cloud Computing. Students will study key papers in the literature, and submit a research term project. Prereq: Graduate Standing. Cross-listed with CSCI 7799. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 7800 - Special Topics

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 7800
A variety of advanced topics are offered at the Ph.D. level in this course. Consult the current 'Schedule Planner' for semester offering. Semester Hours: 3to 3
When Offered:
SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 7840 - Independent Study: Pre-Dissertation Research

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 7840
Conduct pre-dissertation research under the supervision of a faculty member. Prereq: BUSN 6530. Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ISMG 8990 - Dissertation Development

Summer 2010 Registration ISMG 8990
Supports development of a dissertation in conjunction with a student's advisor. Prereq: Completion of first year and second year papers (ISMG 7840). Semester Hours: 1 to 15
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ITED 4700 - Instructional Teamwork Academy

Summer 2010 Registration ITE 4700
The academy consists of four modules of varying length for a total of 15 clock hours of instructional time. The course consists of introductory material regarding teamwork, delineation of roles and responsibilities, classroom instruction, and behavior management. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ITED 4710 - Student Supervision Academy

Summer 2010 Registration ITE 4710
The focus of the 15 clock hour academy is the effective management of large groups of students on playgrounds, in lunchrooms, halls, locker rooms, parking lots where buses are loading, on buses and in other instructional settings. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ITED 4720 - Interpersonal Skills Academy

Summer 2010 Registration ITE 4720
The focus of this 15 hour academy is on developing effective interpersonal skills that are necessary for working as part of a team. Throughout this academy importance of issues of diversity based on culture, experience and gender in communication and conflict resolution processes is highlighted. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
ITED 4730 - Personal Growth and Development Academy

Summer 2010 Registration ITE 4730
This 15 contact hour academy covers self-appraisals, participation in the evaluation process and plan for continued professional growth and development, stress-management strategies and using creativity in dealing with problematic situations. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ITED 4740 - Behavior Management

Summer 2010 Registration ITE 4740
This academy gives the paraeducator knowledge and skill in instructional methods that support students who have challenging behaviors in inclusive classrooms, resource rooms, self-contained classrooms, domestic settings, and in the community. These modules focus on the interactions that paraeducators have with students whose behaviors are challenging and on the role they play in assisting the professional members of their team with behavior challenges. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ITED 4750 - Instructional Strategies Academy

Summer 2010 Registration ITE 4750
This academy gives the paraeducator knowledge and skills in analyzing the teaching environment and individual student needs for the particular level of support, degree of adaptation or accommodation or modification and instructional method that would best facilitate learning. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ITED 4760 - Instructional Technology Academy

Summer 2010 Registration ITE 4760
This 15 contact hour academy is intended to provide paraeducators with skills in operating typical school-wide technologies. The focus is on examining the types of technology used daily, as well as those types that they may not currently have skills in using but which can broaden their repertoire of available skills. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ITED 4770 - Vocabulary and Comprehension

Summer 2010 Registration ITE 4770
Paraeducators are provided with the skills needed to assist classroom teachers in meeting literacy needs of students in the areas of vocabulary and comprehension. Skills applicable to assisting diverse populations such as special education, Title 1, ELA, and General Education. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ITED 4780 - Assisting with Phonemic Awareness and Phonics in the Classroom

Summer 2010 Registration ITE 4780
This academy provides the paraeducator with skills and techniques needed to assist literacy needs of diverse populations of students with phonemic awareness and phonics as it relates to the early, emergent and fluent reader. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ITED 4790 - Assisting with Reading Fluency in the Classroom

Summer 2010 Registration ITE 4790
This academy provides the paraeducator with skills needed to assist literacy needs of diverse populations of students in the area of reading fluency. It covers important fluency concepts and terms and the use of a variety of research-based instructional techniques that improve fluency at the word, phrase, sentence and connected text levels. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ITED 4800 - Grades K-4 Mathematics

Summer 2010 Registration ITE 4800
This academy is designed to provide paraeducators with the skills and knowledge needed to assist students, grades K through four, with mathematics skills taught in the classroom. The course content is designed and adapted from standards recommended by the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics. It includes the specific skill building area of number sense, computational techniques, algebraic thinking, geometry, measurement, data and probability as they apply to grades K-4 learners. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ITED 4810 - Number Theory and Rational Numbers

Summer 2010 Registration ITE 4810
This academy provides paraeducators with the skills and knowledge needed to assist students with specific mathematics skills typically taught in grades five through eight. This academy solidifies the concepts learned in assisting with K-4 math and provides a base for assisting with high school mathematics. It includes the specific skill building areas of number sense; computational techniques for fractions, decimals and percents and their related applications as they apply to intermediate and middle school learners. The course content is designed and adapted from the standards recommended by the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ITED 4820 - Algebraic Concepts and Spatial Reasoning

Summer 2010 Registration ITE 4820
This academy provides paraeducators with the skills and knowledge needed to assist students, grades 5-8, with the mathematics skills taught in the classroom. The course content is designed and adapted from standards recommended by the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics. It includes the specific skill building areas of real number building properties; graphical representations; algebraic concepts and problem solving; data and probability; and spatial reasoning skills as they apply to intermediate and middle school learners. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ITED 5022 - Learning and Classroom Management Strategies for Secondary Schools

Summer 2010 Registration ITE 5022
Provides knowledge to create and manage classrooms conducive to the well-being and learning of a diverse student population. Included are instructional strategies for addressing content standards, managing curriculum, instruction, assessments, classrooms, and individual behaviors. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ITED 5023 - Literacy Strategies for Secondary Schools

Summer 2010 Registration ITE 5023
Provides knowledge and practice using specific literacy methods and assessment, to enhance content learning, and meet reading and writing standards. Instructional strategies for special needs and language-minority students are also emphasized. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

ITED 5025 - Reading Instruction and Assessment K-5

Summer 2010 Registration ITE 5025
Using and expanding upon background knowledge from prerequisites, participants learn about specific reading instruction and assessment routines and techniques. Through guided in-school placements, student's link course readings, discussion and practice, focus on improving their instruction, and the assessment or instruction cycle. Prereq: ITED 5000, 5010 and 5020. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
ITED 5800 - Special Topics in Education

Importance is placed on putting new teaching practices in place. Attention is given to both reading and writing with emphasis on before and during strategies and supports. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LALC 5029 - Adolescent Literacy, Part II

Summer 2010 Registration LLC 5029
The second in a sequence of courses focusing on adolescents' developing literacy understandings across content areas in upper elementary grades through high school. Attention is given to comprehension and critical thinking including revision and editing strategies, assessment, unit planning, the research cycle, using technology, and putting new teaching practices in place. Semester Hours: 3to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LALC 5030 - Language/Literacy Acquisition Part I

Summer 2010 Registration LLC 5030

This course is designed to help teachers understand the relationship between language and literacy acquisition. The focus is on both first and second language acquisition and the interaction of two languages and its impact on the acquisition of literacy in young children. The course lays the foundation for an understanding of the nature of the relationship between cognition and language; language acquisition from the perspective of the individuals within their respective linguistic communities and how literacy is acquired within increasingly broader sociolinguistic contexts. Students explore areas of literacy (reading and writing) and responsive teaching, particularly in diverse school settings with the understanding that diversity of culture, language, gender orientation, abilities and economics is the growing norm in our schools. Topics of interest to the lab are literacy development, language acquisition, assessment, culturally responsive teaching practices, professional development and school reform. Semester Hours: 3to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LALC 5035 - Language and Literacy: Acquisition, Processes, and Cognition, Part II

Summer 2010 Registration LLC 5035

This course is the second of a two-part sequence in language and literacy. Students examine research and develop practices relating to language and literacy acquisition, in particular by linguistically diverse learners in community and classroom contexts. Focuses on learners' development of academic literacy and participation in a second language and culture. Prereq: LALC 5030. Semester Hours: 3to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LALC 5050 - Linguistic and Cultural Issues in Linking Assessment and Instruction

Summer 2010 Registration LLC 5050

This course provides general orientation to the assessment of linguistically and culturally diverse students. Focus is on using assessment to guide and instruction and includes examination of assessment of oral and written language, attitude and classroom arrangements. Includes analysis of assessment tools used to assess gifted and talented students and those used with students during the special education testing procedure. Semester Hours: 3to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
LALC 5055 - Linking Assessment and Instruction in Language and Literacy, Part I

Summer 2010 Registration LLC 5055
This is the first of a two-part sequence on linking assessment to curriculum and instruction. Focus is on both monolingual speakers of English and second language learners. Assessments include both oral and written language (reading and writing) as well as attitudinal measures and classroom arrangements. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LALC 5060 - Linking Assessment and Instruction in Language and Literacy, Part II

Summer 2010 Registration LLC 5060
This is the second of a two-part sequence on linking assessment to curriculum development and instruction. The focus is on both monolingual speakers of English and second language learners. Prereq: LALC 5030, 5055 and 5140. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LALC 5070 - Linguistic Analysis of English: Implications for Teaching

Summer 2010 Registration LLC 5070
A descriptive linguistic approach to English grammar with a functionalist view of language and discourse processing. The course examines the historical evolution of English from its origins and the impact this has had on its grammar and syntax. A sociolinguistic perspective is included focusing on language variation and status. Provides a framework for understanding, identifying and describing the major features of English (in particular) and language (in general). Students gain a working knowledge of English grammar, including grammatical terms, categories, patterns and rules - especially those forms and functions that are important and/or problematic for second language learners of English. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LALC 5080 - Teachers as Readers and Writers

Summer 2010 Registration LLC 5080
Teachers engage in experiences designed to expand and improve their own literacy interests, abilities, and attitudes. Literacy experiences include readers' workshop, writers' workshop, literature studies, and authors' circles. In addition, teachers reflect on their own and classmates' experiences as a basis for planning literacy experiences in school classrooms. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LALC 5100 - Theories and Methods of Second Language Teaching
Summer 2010 Registration LLC 5100
Provides an overview of approaches to second language teaching. Emphasis is on development of a personal philosophy of second language teaching. Topics covered include first and second language acquisition, contributions of psychology and linguistics, and current practices and trends in language teaching. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LALC 5140 - Multicultural Education

Summer 2010 Registration LLC 5140
Develops an understanding of the pluralistic nature of U.S. society and the role of the school within this social context. Examines the legal and cultural history of language education in Colorado and the U.S. as well as the impact of changing demographics on schools. Participants study themselves and their students as cultural beings and develop an understanding of how their own cultural identity affects their teaching. This course fulfills the culture requirement for SEHD "core courses". It also fulfills the culture requirement for the Colorado LDE Endorsement and the LDE Master's Concentration. It may also serve as an elective in the LDE Master's concentration. Note: LALC 5140, 5150, 5160. Each of these three courses satisfies the requirements for the Colorado
Endorsement in Linguistically Diverse Education and the LDE Master's concentration.
The content of the courses are related, but the focus of each course is sufficiently different that students in the Master's program may use a second or third course in the sequence as an elective. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LALC 5150 - Culture of the Classroom

Summer 2010 Registration LLC 5150
Provides a classroom-focused examination on linguistic and cultural diversity. The legal history of language and literacy education in the U.S., Colorado and local school districts is studied with a focus on implications for instructional practice. Participants become familiar with research and theory on the roles of cultures in the classroom and gain skills that support differentiated instruction for diverse students. This course fulfills the culture requirement for the Colorado LDE Endorsement and the BESL Master's concentration. It may also serve as an elective in the BESL Master's concentration. Note: LALC 5140, 5150, 5160. Each of these three courses satisfies the requirements for the Colorado
Endorsement in Linguistically Diverse Education and the BESL Master's concentration.
The content of the courses are related, but the focus of each course is sufficiently different that students in the Master's program may use a second or third course in the sequence as an elective. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
LALC 5160 - Historical and Legal Foundations of Bilingual Education

Summer 2010 Registration LLC 5160
Comprehensive survey of education programs for language minority students. Includes an overview of U.S. and Colorado history and legislation related to bilingual education and second language education. Presents various models, philosophies and theoretical underpinnings of education for language minority students. Develops skills in critical comparison of approaches to second language education in relation to student populations. This course fulfills the culture requirement for the Colorado LDE Endorsement and the LDE Master's concentration. It may also serve as an elective in the LDE Master's concentration. Note: LALC 5140, 5150, 5160. Each of these three courses satisfies the requirements for the Colorado Endorsement in Linguistically Diverse Education and the LDE Master's concentration. The content of the courses are related, but the focus of each course is sufficiently different that students in the Master's program may use a second or third course in the sequence as an elective. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LALC 5170 - Race, Class and Culture in Public Schools

Summer 2010 Registration LLC 5170
This course will focus on understanding culture and diversity, recognizing the role of inherited power and privilege in both individual and institutional interactions and developing a philosophy of social justice and equity in education. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LALC 5180 - Working with Communities and Families

Summer 2010 Registration LLC 5180
This course will focus on the importance of understanding and connecting with the community and families of the students in a school, by exploring the socio-cultural histories of students and communities. We will develop practical strategies and activities to uncover the rich resources that diverse students and families bring to schools as well as to connect and collaborate with the community organizations and activities to increase student engagement and relevance. Prereq: LALC 5170. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LALC 5190 - Culturally Responsive Pedagogy and Practices

Summer 2010 Registration LLC 5190
This course focuses on developing practical tools for culturally responsive, inclusive instructional strategies, classroom management and curriculum and lesson planning.
Prereq: LALC 5170 and 5180. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LALC 5825 - Methods and Materials of Language Teaching

Summer 2010 Registration LLC 5825
Provides an in-depth study of curriculum options for learners of English as a second language. Participants examine and apply strategies and materials for developing linguistic and academic capabilities of language learners. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LALC 5826 - Language Teaching Lab

Summer 2010 Registration LLC 5826
Provides participants with a classroom-based examination of language teaching based on theoretical tenets of language acquisition and language teaching methods. Students develop lessons around particular language points and work with the professor and peers to implement insights in their classrooms or the classrooms of collaborating language teachers. Language focus varies from phonology, morphology, syntax and discourse features. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LALC 5830 - Workshop in Multicultural Education

Summer 2010 Registration LLC 5830
Provides students with the experiences in multicultural methodology training. How to utilize community members, para-professionals, and peers to facilitate learning in a multicultural environment. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LALC 5831 - Reading Recovery: Observation Survey
Summer 2010 Registration LLC 5831
A workshop class which introduces the participants to an understanding of literacy acquisition and prepares them to implement the Reading Recovery Program within their school or district. Prereq: reading and language arts methods. A minimum of three years primary teaching or reading teaching experience. Semester Hours: 2 to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LALC 5835 - Special Topics: Literacy and Language

Summer 2010 Registration LLC 5835
Specific topics vary but will include the exploration of literacy development and instruction in particular populations or with specific focuses. Semester Hours: 0.5 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LALC 5840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration LLC 5840

LDAR 5501 - Landscape Architecture Design Studio 1

Summer 2010 Registration LDAR 5501
Introduction to basic strategies, methods and techniques of landscape architectural design with emphasis in theory, history, analysis and criticism. First in a three studio
LDAR 5502 - Landscape Architecture Design Studio 2

Summer 2010 Registration L A 5502

Strategies, methods and techniques of landscape architectural design with emphasis in more complex issues, design processes and development and the application of theory and research. Second in a three studio course sequence. Prereq: LDAR 5501 or permission of department chair. Semester Hours: 6to 6

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 5503 - Landscape Architecture Design Studio 3

Summer 2010 Registration L A 5503

Problem-based studio covering the approaches, technologies and means for planning and designing sites to accommodate an intensive development program on a particular site within a regional context. Covers issues definition, site analysis, programming, development of design strategies, evaluation site planning, placemaking, regionalism and communication. Prereq: LDAR 5501 and LDAR 5502 or permission of department chair. Semester Hours: 6to 6

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 5510 - Graphic Media in Landscape Architecture

Summer 2010 Registration L A 5510

Introduces basic principles and methods associated with analog and digital drawing-plan, sections, perspectives, color, shading, composition and projection. Semester Hours: 3to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 5521 - History of Landscape Architecture

Summer 2010 Registration L A 5521

LDAR 5532 - Landform Manipulation
Summer 2010 Registration L A 5532
Focuses on the fundamental technical aspects of landscape architectural design and implementation of related topography, grading and drainage design, landform manipulation, earthwork calculations, and road alignment. Note: course is to be taken with LDAR 6641, Computer Applications in Landscape Architecture. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 5572 - Landscape Ecology

Summer 2010 Registration L A 5572
Focuses on the study of physiography, cultural factors, and aesthetic criteria in relation to landscape, spatial organization, and urban and regional structure. Emphasizes continuity and change in an ecology of both natural and man-made landscape. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 5573 - Applied Advanced Landscape Ecology Workshop

Summer 2010 Registration L A 5573
Issues of sustainability and designing or planning at multiple and temporal scales (watershed, regional, site) provides basis for advanced studies in ecological-based design, planning, and restoration to accomplish project goals with minimal ecological impact. Prereq: LDAR 5572. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 6520 - Landscape Architecture in Other Cultures

Summer 2010 Registration L A 6520
Various studies of landscape architecture and urbanism in foreign countries. Semester Hours: 1 to 9
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 6604 - Landscape Architecture Design Studio 4

Summer 2010 Registration L A 6604
Advanced landscape architecture design studio covering situations of urbanization and change of various scales and complexities. This is the first in a two studio course sequence. Prereq: LDAR 5501, 5502, 5503 or permission of department chair. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 6605 - Landscape Architecture Design Studio 5
Summer 2010 Registration L A 6605
Advanced landscape architecture design studio covering situations of urbanization and change of various scales and complexities. This is the second in a two studio course sequence. Prereq: LDAR 5501, 5502, 5503, 6604 or permission of department chair. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 6606 - Landscape Architecture Design Studio 6

Summer 2010 Registration L A 6606
Advanced landscape architecture design studio covering situations of urbanization and change of various scales and complexities. This is the first in a two studio course sequence. Prereq: LDAR 5501, 5502, 5503, 6604, 6605 or permission of department chair. Semester Hours: 6to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 6607 - Landscape Architecture Design Studio 7

Summer 2010 Registration L A 6607
Advanced landscape architecture design studio covering situations of urbanization and change of various scales and complexities. This is the second in a two studio course sequence. Prereq: LDAR 5501, 5502, 5503, 6604, 6605, 6606 or permission of department chair. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 6608 - Landscape Architecture Design Studio 8

Summer 2010 Registration L A 6608
Advanced design studio that reflects topical situations in landscape architectural practice and/or applied research interests of instructor. This is the first in a two studio sequence. Prereq: LDAR 5501, 5502, 5503, 6604, 6605, 6606, 6607 or permission of department chair. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 6620 - Landscape Architecture Theory and Criticism

Summer 2010 Registration L A 6620
Focuses on exploring and assessing current state of theory in landscape architecture and related design disciplines and the ideas undergoing contemporary design approaches. Narrative and explanatory theories are the objects of study. Emphasis is placed on history and pedagogic theories and their theories and relationships to other disciplines such as art, ecology, geography, architecture and anthropology. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
LDAR 6622 - Visual Quality Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration L A 6622
Introduces a range of philosophies, methods, and techniques in visual landscape analysis. Emphasis is placed on application of methods and techniques, urban and regional context and scale, as well as visual impact assessment and simulation. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 6624 - The Built Environment in Other Cultures I: Research Design

Summer 2010 Registration L A 6624
Intends to broaden students' perspectives by asking them to examine design within another culture. Students prepare a proposal of study including a statement of the problem to be addressed, the type of field research to be undertaken, and the nature of the report to be produced. Cross-listed with ARCH 6624. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 6625 - Landscape Architecture Field Studies

Summer 2010 Registration L A 6625
Critical field evaluation of built works of landscape architecture including field measurement, mappings, sketches, photography, written evaluations and applied projects. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 6631 - Landscape Construction Materials and Methods

Summer 2010 Registration L A 6631
Develops understanding of detailed design processes, construction materials and selection of construction methods and documents. Typically taken with LDAR 6605 and 6606 (LDAR Design Studios 5 and 6). Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 6632 - Site Planning

Summer 2010 Registration L A 6632
Focuses on the site planning process, including research and data gathering, data analysis and synthesis, design analysis and its relationship to building program and concept, and design synthesis of site and preparation of site plan. Design through grading, representation, manipulation and calculation of road work, utilities, and other site features. Vertical and horizontal alignment, earthwork and cost computation, and integration with existing and proposed features or systems are covered. Semester
LDAR 6641 - Computer Applications in Landscape Architecture

Summer 2010 Registration L A 6641
Introduces digital technologies and methods commonly used in Landscape Architecture including primarily CADD, visualization, simulation, graphic design, GIS and other emerging applications. Includes hands-on exercises. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 6642 - Landscape Architecture Digital Design Workshop

Summer 2010 Registration L A 6642
Introduces surveys, and provides hands-on experiences in the disciplines, principles, software, and theories for engaging digital design in landscape architectural practice and research. Prereq: LDAR 6641. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 6670 - Plants in Design

Summer 2010 Registration L A 6670
Focuses on the study of design methods used in landscape architecture. Formal design principles, spatial sequencing, and plant functions are applied in design studies, based on botanical aesthetic traits and physical requirements of a wide variety of plant material. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 6671 - Plant Material Identification

Summer 2010 Registration L A 6671
Students learn the names, characteristics and site requirements of plants including trees, shrubs, ground covers and perennials commonly used in built works in the Colorado region. Methods are transferable to other regions. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 6686 - Special Topics: Landscape Architecture

Summer 2010 Registration L A 6686
Various topical concerns are offered in landscape architecture history, theory, elements, concepts, methods, implementation strategies, and other related areas. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
LDAR 6710 - Landscape Representation

Summer 2010 Registration L A 6710
Focuses on developing understanding of various advanced analog and digital techniques for application in landscape analysis and design. Prereq: LDAR 5510. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 6711 - Advanced Landscape Architectural Graphics Workshop

Summer 2010 Registration L A 6711
Focuses on developing expertise in various drawing, reprographics, digital, and photographic techniques used in practice for enhanced effectiveness in graphic communication. Prereq: LDAR 5510. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 6712 - Green Roof-Design

Summer 2010 Registration L A 6712
The primary objective for this seminar is to give students a general understanding of green roof systems, vegetated roofs above underground architecture and vertical vegetated systems. The seminar will engage in critiques and discussions using international, national and local case studies, covering history, typologies, function, design, master planning and costs. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 6720 - Finding Common Ground

Summer 2010 Registration L A 6720
Focuses on principles and societal variables that influence the structure of urban neighborhood space through research application. Prereq: LDAR 6640. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 6721 - Regionalism

Summer 2010 Registration L A 6721
Explores environmental and cultural factors that shape regionally responsive design. Prereq: LDAR 5521 and 6620 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 6722 - Contested Terrains
Explores the different processes, factors and forces and determines and influences occupation, land use and built form through the phenomena of conflict and contestation. Design is inherently located within the disputes and discourses involving landscape as location and resource. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 6723 - Cinema and the Landscape

Explores landscapes in conjunction with cinema, examining the processes, images, stereotypes, and myths associated with the historical development of film and the creation of film theory within a context of space, race and representation. Interconnects film theory and criticism and landscape architecture, through the creation of short digital essays that examine the complexity of issues related to spatial meaning. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 6724 - American Landscape Arch

Introduces the origins, theories and practitioners of landscape architecture in the United States from the founding of the ASLA in 1899 through the present. This period drew from many realms, including the arts, land ethics, political ideologies, and social agendas. The material covered offers a base for understanding trends and ideas embedded within or underpinning the contemporary American landscape. Prereq: LDAR 5521 Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 6750 - Professional Practice

Focuses on studies in the professional practice of landscape architecture and related professions and case problems in initiating and managing a professional practice. Explores the essential elements of professional practice and equips students with the fundamental knowledge and skills requisite to an understanding of and participation in the conduct of practice in landscape architecture. Covers organization of the landscape office, professional services of landscape architects, fee structures and fee management, contracts, legal rights and responsibilities, management, marketing, and delivery of professional services. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 6840 - Independent Study
Summer 2010 Registration L A 6840
Studies initiated by students or faculty and sponsored by a faculty member to investigate a special topic or problem related to landscape architecture or urban design. Prereq: permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 6910 - Teaching Assistantship

Summer 2010 Registration L A 6910
Work with a faculty member in a course to assist with course preparation and delivery. Prereq: Permission of program chair and instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 6930 - Landscape Architecture Internship

Summer 2010 Registration L A 6930
Designed to provide professional practice experience. The student is placed in a landscape architectural and/or design office by the College and receive credit instead of pay. Must complete the second-year level before taking this course. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 6949 - Research Tools, Strategies and Methods

Summer 2010 Registration L A 6949
Introduces the thesis in landscape architecture and establishes the scholarly basis for the research and construction of a Master's Thesis project. This course will provide the student with the research practices and methodologies to develop the scholarship and products required to produce a Thesis Project Proposal. Completion of this course is a prerequisite for the student to submit the Thesis Proposal for departmental approval to continue with the remaining 9 credits of thesis to be undertaken in their final semester in the program. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

LDAR 6950 - Thesis Research

Summer 2010 Registration L A 6950
The student works closely with a landscape architecture faculty advisor and thesis committee to develop the thesis proposal through focused research. Research might entail both written and graphic inquiry leading to specific products with conclusive ideas that set the stage for the completion of the thesis in the following semester. Part of the Landscape Architecture Thesis sequence. Prereq: LDAR 6949 and permission of department chair. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
LDAR 6951 - Landscape Architecture Thesis

Summer 2010 Registration L A 6951
The Landscape Architecture thesis is expected to advance the field of landscape architecture by offering new insights into aspects of design, technology, history or professional principles. In this course, the student continues to work independently, but closely with a landscape architecture faculty advisor and thesis committee to complete the thesis. The thesis might take on different final forms (written volume, drawings, maps, digital images), depending on the subject inquiry. For further information on the Landscape Architecture Thesis Track consult the Landscape Architecture Thesis Guidelines. Prereq: LDAR 6949 and 6950. Semester Hours: 6 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 1009 - Computer-Based Algebraic Problem Solving

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 1009
A laboratory-based problem solving course focused on personal computing applications. Topics include general problem solving techniques, deductive reasoning, elementary probability, computer algebraic software, optimization, graphical analysis, systems of equations, spreadsheets, functions, descriptive statistics, linear programming and elementary programming logic. Prereq: basic high school algebra and some familiarity with Microsoft Windows. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 1010 - Mathematics for the Liberal Arts

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 1010
Designed to give liberal arts students the skills required to understand and interpret quantitative information that they encounter in the news and in their studies, and to make quantitatively-based decisions in their lives. Topics include a survey of logic and analysis of arguments, identifying fallacies in reasoning, working with numbers and units, linear and exponential relations and essentials of probability and statistics. The emphasis is on applications with case studies in economics, finance, environmental sciences, health, music and science. Prereq: three years of high school mathematics. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 GT Pathways Category Key: GT-MA1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 1070 - Algebra for Social Sciences and Business

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 1070
Topics in algebra designed for students who intend to take business calculus. Functions, graphs, scatter plots, curve-fitting, solving systems of equations, polynomial and rational functions, and selected other topics. Note: Graphics calculator required. No co-credit with MATH 1110 or MATH 1130. Prereq: intermediate algebra and satisfactory score on the placement exam. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 GT Pathways Category Key: GT-MA1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 1075 - Linear Programming and Probability

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 1075
Designed to fulfill College of Business requirements for students who have had college algebra but not MATH 1070. Emphasis is on applications of linear programming and probability. Prereq: MATH 1110. No co-credit with MATH 1070. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 1080 - Polynomial Calculus

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 1080
A one-semester course in single-variable calculus. Topics include limits, derivatives, differentiation rules, integration and integration rules. Emphasis is on applications to business and social sciences. Note: No knowledge of trigonometry is required. Those planning to take more than one semester of calculus should take MATH 1401 instead of MATH 1080. Prereq: MATH 1070 or 1110. No co-credit with MATH 1401. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 GT Pathways Category Key: GT-MA1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 1110 - College Algebra

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 1110
Topics in algebra designed for students who intend to take the calculus sequence. Functions, domains, ranges, graphs, data scatter plots and curve fitting, solving equations and systems of equations, polynomial functions, rational functions, and selected other topics. Graphic calculators and/or computer algebra systems are used extensively. Applications are emphasized. Note: No co-credit with either MATH 1070 or 1130. Prereq: intermediate algebra and satisfactory score on the placement exam. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 GT Pathways Category Key: GT-MA1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 1111 - Freshman Seminar

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 1111
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 1120 - College Trigonometry

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 1120
Topics in trigonometry, analytic geometry, and elementary functions designed for students who intend to take the calculus sequence. Angles and trigonometry functions of acute angles, analytic trigonometry, fundamental trigonometric functions and identities including hyperbolic trigonometry, parametric equations, and polar coordinate system. Graphic calculators and/or computer algebra systems are used extensively. Applications are emphasized. Prereq: MATH 1110 and placement test. No joint credit with MATH 1130.

Semester Hours: 3 to 3

GT Pathways Category Key: GT-MA1

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 1130 - Precalculus Mathematics

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 1130

Condensed treatment of the topics in MATH 1110 and 1120. Prereq: satisfactory score on the placement exam. No co-credit with MATH 1070, 1110 or 1120.

Semester Hours: 4 to 4

GT Pathways Category Key: GT-MA1

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 1401 - Calculus I

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 1401

First course of a three-semester sequence (MATH 1401, 2411, 2421) in calculus. Topics covered include limits, derivatives, applications of derivatives, and the definite integral. Note: Students cannot receive credit for both MATH 1080 and 1401. Prereq: MATH 1120 or 1130 and satisfactory score on the placement exam.

Semester Hours: 4 to 4

GT Pathways Category Key: GT-MA1

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 2411 - Calculus II

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 2411

The second of a three-semester sequence (MATH 1401, 2411, 2421) in calculus. Topics covered include exponential, logarithmic, and trigonometric functions, techniques of integration, indeterminate forms, improper integrals and infinite series. Prereq: MATH 1401.

Semester Hours: 4 to 4

GT Pathways Category Key: GT-MA1

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 2421 - Calculus III

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 2421

The third of a three-semester sequence in calculus (MATH 1401, 2411 and 2421). Topics include vectors, vector-valued functions, partial differentiation, differentiation, multiple integration, and vector calculus. Prereq: MATH 2411.

Semester Hours: 4 to 4

GT Pathways Category Key: GT-MA1

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
MATH 2511 - Discrete Structures

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 2511
Covers the fundamentals of discrete mathematics, including: logic, sets, functions, growth of functions, algorithms, matrices, mathematical reasoning, proofs, induction, relations, graphs, trees and combinatorics. There is an emphasis on how discrete mathematics applies to computer science in general, and algorithm analysis in particular. Prereq: CSCI 2421. Cross-listed with CSCI 2511. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 2810 - Topics

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 2810
Topics in mathematics with various subtitles reflecting course content. Prereq: permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 2830 - Introductory Statistics

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 2830
Basic statistical concepts, summarizing data, probability concepts, distributions, confidence intervals, hypothesis testing. Prereq: intermediate algebra. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
GT Pathways Category Key: GT-MA1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 2939 - Internship/Cooperative Education

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 2939
Experiences involving application of specific, relevant concepts and skills in supervised employment situations. Prereq: 15 hours of 2.75 GPA. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 3000 - Introduction to Abstract Mathematics

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 3000
Students learn to prove and critique proofs of theorems by studying elementary topics in abstract mathematics, including logic, sets, functions, equivalence relations and elementary combinatorics. Prereq: MATH 1401. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 3040 - Mathematics for Elementary Teachers

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 3040
Topics include intuitive and logical development of geometric ideas relevant to K-6 curriculum; measurement of length, area, volume, mass, angle, temperature, time and the metric system. Further study of the rational number system, probably and statics, applications and problem solving. Note: Carries credit only for elementary education majors. Prereq: 3 years of high school mathematics. Cross-listed with ELED 5400. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 3140 - Introduction to Modern Algebra

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 3140
Studies the fundamental algebraic structures used in modern mathematics. Topics include groups, rings, fields and polynomials. Prereq: MATH 3000. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 3191 - Applied Linear Algebra

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 3191
Topics include systems of equations, Gaussian elimination with partial pivoting, LU-decomposition of matrices, matrix algebra, determinants, vector spaces, linear transformations, eigenvalues and applications. Note: No co-credit with MATH 3195. Prereq: MATH 2411. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 3195 - Linear Algebra and Differential Equations

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 3195
Presents the essential ideas and methods of linear algebra and differential equations, emphasizing the connections between and the applications of both subjects. The course is designed for students in the sciences and engineering. Note: No co-credit with MATH 3200 and MATH 3191. Prereq: MATH 2411. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 3200 - Elementary Differential Equations

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 3200
First and second order differential equations, Laplace transforms, systems of equations, with an emphasis on modeling and applications. Note: No co-credit with MATH 3195. Prereq: MATH 2411; coreq is MATH 3191. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 3210 - Higher Geometry I
MATH 3210 - Summer 2010 Registration
Studied the foundations of modern geometry by examining axiomatic systems for various geometrics, with an emphasis on non-Euclidean hyperbolic geometry. Prereq: MATH 3000. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 3250 - Problem Solving Tools
Summer 2010 Registration
Students learn and refine both problem solving techniques and computer programming skills. Examples, exercises, and projects are taken from a wide range of mathematical topics including algebra, calculus, linear algebra and probability. Note: This course will not count toward a graduate degree in applied mathematics. Prereq: MATH 2421. Cross-listed with MATH 5250. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 3301 - Introduction to Operations Research I - Deterministic Systems
Summer 2010 Registration
A mathematical approach to decision making based on optimization. Topics include linear programming, network flows and production models. Prereq: MATH 3191 or 3195. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 3302 - Operations Research II
Summer 2010 Registration
Elementary stochastic processes and standard nondeterministic operations research models: Markov chains, Poisson processes, renewal processes, queuing theory, inventory models, Markov decision processes, simulation. Prereq: MATH 3191 and 3800. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 3440 - Introduction to Symbolic Logic
Summer 2010 Registration
Covers truth functional and quantificational logic through polyadic first order predicate calculus and theory of identity. Attention is given to such problems in metatheory as proofs of the completeness and consistency of systems of logic. Prereq: MATH 3000. Cross-listed with PHIL 3440. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 3511 - Mathematics of Chemistry
Summer 2010 Registration MATH 3511
Multivariate functions, probability and statistics for chemistry, matrices and vectors, mathematics of reaction kinetics and symmetry point groups. Course covers mathematics needed for CHEM 4511 and 4521. Can also be an elective for the mathematics minor. Prereq: MATH 2411, CHEM 2031, CHEM 2061. Semester Hours: 4
When Offered: FALL
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 3800 - Probability and Statistics for Engineers
Summer 2010 Registration MATH 3800
Basic probability theory, discrete and continuous random variables, point and interval estimation, test of hypotheses, one-way analysis of variance, and simple linear regression. Note: no co-credit with MATH 4810. Prereq: MATH 2411; coreq: MATH 2421. Semester Hours: 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 3939 - Internship/Cooperative Education
Summer 2010 Registration MATH 3939
Designed experiences involving application of specific, relevant concepts and skills in supervised employment situations. Prereq: junior standing and 2.75 GPA. Semester Hours: 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 4010 - History of Mathematics
Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4010
A history of the development of mathematical techniques and ideas from early civilization to the present, including the inter-relationships of mathematics and sciences. Prereq: MATH 1401. Cross-listed with MATH 5010. Semester Hours: 3
When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 4027 - Topics in Mathematics
Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4027
Special topics in mathematics will be covered; consult 'Schedule Planner' for current topics and prerequisites. Semester Hours: 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 4101 - Applied Statistics Using SAS and SPSS I
Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4101
Teaches the practical statistical tools social scientists use to analyze real-world problems. Course split into four modules, each taught by a different instructor. The first module introduces SAS and SPSS; modules 2-4 are problem-based and cover topics such as ANOVA, multivariate regression, and cluster analysis. Prereq: any statistics course. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 4102 - Applied Statistics Using SAS and SPSS II

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4102
(Continuation of MATH 4101.) Students use the skills they learned in the previous semester to analyze a social issue of their choosing and present their findings. In addition to lectures, weekly one-on-one meetings between faculty and student are required. Prereq: MATH 4101. Semester Hours: 3to 3 When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 4110 - Theory of Numbers

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4110
Every other year. Topics include divisibility, prime numbers, congruencies, number theoretic functions, quadratic reciprocity, and special diophantine equations, with applications in engineering. Prereq: MATH 3000. Cross-listed with MATH 5110. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 4201 - Topology

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4201
Metric spaces and topological spaces, compactness, separation properties, and connectedness. Prereq: MATH 3000. Semester Hours: 3to 3 When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 4220 - Higher Geometry II

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4220
Studies affine and projective geometries. Coordinates are introduced in this framework. Planes and higher dimensional spaces are examined. Prereq: MATH 3191. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 4310 - Introduction to Real Analysis I
Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4310
Calculus of one variable, the real number system, continuity, differentiation, integration theory, sequence and series. Prereq: MATH 2421 and 3000. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
When Offered: FALL
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 4320 - Introduction to Real Analysis II

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4320
Convergence, uniform convergence; Taylor's theorem; calculus of several variables including continuity, differentiation and integration; Picard's theorem in ordinary differential equations and Fourier series. Prereq: MATH 4310. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 4387 - Regression Analysis, Modeling and Time Series

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4387
Topics include linear and multiple regression, basic experimental designs, one-way analysis of variance. Emphasis is on practical aspects and applications of linear models to the analysis of data in business engineering, behavioral, biological and physical sciences. Prereq: MATH 3191 and 3800/4820. Cross-listed with MATH 5387. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
When Offered: FALL
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 4390 - Game Theory

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4390
Begins with an introduction to the mathematical theory of games and the definition of a solution, including extensive and normal forms of representation. The fundamental minimax theorem is presented first as the foundation for two-person matrix games, then extended with fixed point theory to other games. Principles of dominance and solution methods are presented, plus applications to economics, political science, engineering, and other fields. An introduction to n-person game theory is included, with basic terms and concepts. Prereq: MATH 2421, 3191 and 3800/4810. Cross-listed with MATH 5390. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
When Offered: FASPRSUM
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 4394 - Experimental Designs

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4394
Infrequent. Completely randomized block designs factorial and fractional factorial experiments, balanced incomplete block designs, responses surface methods. Prereq:
MATH 4387. Cross-listed with MATH 5394. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 4408 - Applied Graph Theory

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4408
Introduces discrete structures and applications of graph theory to computer science, engineering, operations research, social science, and biology. Topics include connectivity, coloring, trees, Euler and Hamiltonian paths and circuits, matching and covering problems, shortest route and network flows. Prereq: CSCI/MATH 2511 or MATH 3000. Cross-listed with CSCI 4408. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 4409 - Applied Combinatorics

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4409
Every other year. Major emphasis is on applied combinatorics and combinatorial algorithms, with applications in computer science and operations. Topics include general counting methods, generating functions, recurrence relations, inclusion-exclusion, and block designs. Prereq: MATH 4408 and 3140. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 4450 - Complex Variables

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4450
Infrequent. Topics include complex algebra, Cauchy-Riemann equations, Laurent expansions, theory of residues, complex integration, and introduction to conformal mapping. Prereq: MATH 2421 and MATH 3000. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 4576 - Mathematical Foundations of Artificial Intelligence I

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4576
Infrequent. Fundamentals course that complements other approaches, such as in engineering, psychology, and business administration. Here, the emphasis is on the mathematical foundations. Topics include logical inference, problem solving, heuristic search, neural search, neural nets, analogical reasoning and learning. Models and paradigms also consider different measures of uncertainty. Prereq: CSCI 2511, MATH 2511/3000 and 3191. Cross-listed with MATH 5576. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 4590 - Applied Math Senior Sem
Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4590

Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

---

MATH 4650 - Numerical Analysis I

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4650
Methods and analysis of techniques used to resolve continuous mathematical problems on the computer. Solution of linear and nonlinear equations, interpolation and integration. Prereq: MATH 2411, 3191 or 3195, and programming experience. Cross-listed with CSCI 4650, 5660, and MATH 5660. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

---

MATH 4660 - Numerical Analysis II

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4660
Numerical differentiation and integration, numerical solution of ordinary differential equations, and numerical solutions of partial differential equations as time allows. Prereq: MATH 3195 or both 3191 and 3200; MATH or CSCI 4650 or 5660; or programming experience. Cross-listed with MATH 5661, CSCI 4660 and 5661. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
When Offered: FALL SUM
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

---

MATH 4674 - Parallel Computing and Architectures

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4674
Infrequent. Examines a range of topics involved in using parallel operations to improve computational performance. Parallel architectures, parallel algorithms, parallel programming languages, interconnection networks, and their relation to specific computer architectures. Prereq: MATH 4650. Cross-listed with MATH 5674. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

---

MATH 4733 - Partial Differential Equations

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4733
Infrequent. Initial/Boundary value problems for first-order, wave, heat and Laplace Equations; maximum principles; Fourier Series and applications. Prereq: MATH 2421 and 3200. Cross-listed with MATH 5733. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

---

MATH 4779 - Math Clinic
Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4779
The clinic is intended to illustrate the applicability and utility of mathematical concepts. Research problems investigated originate from a variety of sources--industry, government agencies, educational institutions, or nonprofit organizations. Prereq: consult Schedule Planner or instructor. Cross-listed with MATH 5779. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 4788 - Bioinformatics

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4788
Provides a broad exposure to the basic concepts and methodologies of bioinformatics and their application to analyzing genomic and proteomic data. Topics may include dynamic programming algorithms, graph theoretic techniques, hidden Markov models, phylogenetic trees, RNA/protein structure prediction and microarray analysis. Prereq: CSCI 1410 and MATH 3191 or 3195. Cross-listed with CSCI 4788, PHYS 4788. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 4791 - Continuous Modeling

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4791
Every other year. Surveys mathematical problems that arise in natural sciences and engineering. Topics may include population models, epidemic models, mechanics, heat transfer and diffusion, tomography, pharmaco-kinetics, traffic flow, fractal models, wave phenomena, and natural resource management. Most models discussed are based on differential and integral equations. Emphasis is formulation and validation of models as well as methods of solution. Prereq: MATH 3191 and 3200. Cross-listed with MATH 5791. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 4792 - Probabilistic Modeling

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4792
Every other year. Markov chains; Poisson processes, continuous time Markov chains, elementary topics in queuing theory, and some mathematical aspects of Monte Carlo simulation, including random variate generation, variance reduction, and output analysis. Prereq: MATH 4810, 5310 and some programming experience. Cross-listed with MATH 5792. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 4793 - Discrete Math Modeling
Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4793
Every other year. Focuses on the use of graph theory and combinatorics to solve problems in a wide variety of disciplines. Applications are selected from computer science, communication networks, economics, operations research, and the social, biological and environmental sciences. Prereq: MATH 3191 and 4408. Cross-listed with MATH 5793. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 4794 - Optimization Modeling

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4794
Every other year. Principles of model formulation and analysis are developed by presenting a wide variety of applications, both for natural phenomena and social systems. Examples of optimization models to represent natural phenomena include principles of least time and energy. Examples in social systems include resource allocation, environmental control and land management. Specific applications vary, but are chosen to cover a wide scope that considers dichotomies, such as discrete vs. continuous, static vs. dynamic, and deterministic vs. stochastic. Some computer modeling language (like GAMS) is taught. Prereq: MATH 2421 and 3191. Cross-listed with MATH 5794. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 4810 - Probability

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4810
Examines elementary theory of probability, including independence, conditional probability, and Bayes' theorem; random variables, expectations and probability distributions; joint and conditional distributions; functions of random variables; limit theorems, including the central limit theorem. Prereq: MATH 2421 and 3191. Cross-listed with MATH 5310. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 4820 - Statistics

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4820
Point and confidence interval estimation, principles of maximum likelihood, sufficiency and completeness, tests of simple and composite hypothesis, linear models and multiple regression, analysis of variance. Prereq: MATH 3800. MATH 4810 highly recommended, but not required. Cross-listed with MATH 5320. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 4830 - Applied Statistics
Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4830
Review of estimation, confidence intervals and hypothesis testing; Anova; categorical data analysis; non-parametric tests; linear and logistic regression. Prereq: an introductory course in statistics such as MATH 2830 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with MATH 5830. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 4840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 4840
Variable credit depending on the student's needs. Offered for the advanced student who desires to pursue a specific topic in considerable depth. Note: Supervision by a full-time faculty member is necessary, and the dean's office must concur. Students may register for this course more than once with departmental approval. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5000 - RM-MSMSP: Algebraic Patterns and Functions I

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5000
Systematic study of the core elements of algebra: linear, quadratic, exponential, logarithmic functions and their graphs. Includes modeling using graphing calculators and real world applications. Concepts are linked to other scientific, mathematical, and pedagogical domains. This course is not applicable toward any degree in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Prereq: permission of project director. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5002 - RM-MSMSP: Algebraic Patterns and Functions II

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5002
This course is a continuation of the material covered in MATH 5000. Topics that will be covered include logarithmic, exponential and trigonometric functions and applications, parametric equations, systems of equations and inequalities, matrices and linear programming. This course is not applicable toward any degree in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Prereq: MATH 5000 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5004 - RM-MSMP: Statistics and Probability

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5004
Studies the collection, presentation, and analysis of data; and elements and applications of counting discrete probability. Includes real world applications and technology.
Concepts are linked to other scientific, mathematical, and pedagogical domains. This course is not applicable toward any degree in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.
Prereq: permission of project director. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5005 - RM-MSMSP: Geometry

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5005
Systematic study of advanced geometric concepts: history of geometry and measurement, patterns among shapes, 2- and 3-dimensional shapes, constructions, symmetry or transformational geometry. Includes applications and activity-oriented instruction. Concepts are linked to other scientific, mathematical, and pedagogical domains. This course is not applicable toward any degree in the College of Liberal and Sciences. Prereq: permission of project director. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5006 - RM-MSMSP: Mathematics of Change

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5006
Systematic study of the application of calculus to the analysis of changing systems in real world applications. Emphasizes the connections that exist between calculus and aspects of middle school curricula. Concepts are linked to other scientific, mathematical, and pedagogical domains. This course is not applicable toward any degree in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Prereq: MATH 5000 (or equivalent) or permission of project director. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5007 - RM-MSMP: Discrete Math—Counting the Possibilities

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5007
Systematic study of basic techniques in discrete mathematics and their various applications: permutations and combinations, inclusion or exclusion, pigeonhole principle, graph theory, and recursive pattern solving. Applications to topics such as network analysis and voting theory are stressed. Concepts are linked to other scientific, mathematical, pedagogical domains. This course is not applicable toward any degree in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Prereq: MATH 5000 (or equivalent) or permission of project director. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5008 - RM-MSMSP: Discovery and Use of the History of Math

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5008
Systematic study of the people, events, ideas and issues from the history of mathematics, focusing on historical topics that are central to the discipline and teaching of mathematics and emphasizing web research of historical topics of interest. Concepts are linked to other scientific, mathematical, and pedagogical domains. Note: This course
MATH 5009 - RM-MSMSP: Math Modeling--Using and Applying Math

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5009
Systematic study of math modeling using algebra, geometry, discrete mathematics, rates of change, and statistics to solve real-world problems in areas such as finance, biology, economics, and physics. Concepts are linked to other scientific, mathematical, societal, and pedagogical domains. This course is not applicable toward any degree in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Prereq: MATH 5006 (or equivalent) or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5010 - History of Mathematics

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5010
A history of the development of mathematical techniques and ideas from early civilization to the present, including the inter-relationships of mathematics and sciences. Prereq: MATH 1401. Not open to students who have had MATH 4010. No credit for applied math graduate students. Cross-listed with MATH 4010. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5011 - RM-MSMSP: Mathematics and Science of Musical Instruments

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5011
A mathematical modeling course which investigates the mathematics and physics behind musical instruments while providing a deeper understanding of trigonometry and elementary calculus concepts. Note: This course is not applicable toward any degree in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Prereq: MATH 5000, 5002. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5017 - Topics in Mathematics for Teachers

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5017
Topics vary from semester to semester. Designed for professional mathematics teachers. Note: This course will not count toward a degree in applied mathematics. Prereq: permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
MATH 5027 - Topics in Applied Mathematics

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5027
Selected topics in mathematical problems arising from various applied fields such as mechanics, electromagnetic theory, economics and biological sciences. Prereq: permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5070 - Applied Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5070
Designed to serve as an introduction to real analysis. Topics include: fundamentals of logic and theorem proving, infimum and supremum, real numbers, point-set topology in metric spaces, properties of functions, sequences and series of functions, fixed point theorems, Riemann integral, power series. Prereq: MATH 4320. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5110 - Theory of Numbers

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5110
Every other year. Topics include divisibility, prime numbers, congruences, number theoretic functions, quadratic reciprocity, and special Diophantine equations, with applications in engineering. Prereq: MATH 3000. Cross-listed with MATH 4110. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5135 - Functions of a Complex Variable

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5135
Infrequent. The complex plane, infinite series and products, elementary special functions, Cauchy-Riemann equations, conformal mapping, complex integration, Cauchy integral theory, and residue theory. Prereq: MATH 4320; MATH 5070 recommended. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5198 - Mathematics for Bioscientists

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5198
Infrequent. Develops mathematical reasoning: introduces linear algebra, discrete structures, graph theory, probability, and differential equations, using applications to molecular biology. Note: No credit for mathematics or engineering students. Prereq:
MATH 2411. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5250 - Problem Solving Tools

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5250
Students learn and refine both problem solving techniques and computer programming skills. Examples, exercises, and projects are taken from a wide range of mathematical topics including algebra, calculus, linear algebra and probability. Note: This course will not count toward a graduate degree in applied mathematics. Coreq: MATH 2421. Cross-listed with MATH 3250. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 When Offered: FALL
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5310 - Probability

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5310
Examines elementary theory of probability, including independence, conditional probability, and Bayes' theorem; random variables, expectations and probability distributions; joint and conditional distributions; functions of random variables; limit theorems, including the central limit theorem. Prereq: MATH 2421 and 3191. Cross-listed with MATH 4810. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5320 - Statistics

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5320
Point and confidence interval estimation, principles of maximum likelihood, sufficiency and completeness, tests of simple and composite hypothesis, linear models and multiple regression, analysis of variance. Prereq: MATH 3800. MATH 4810 highly recommended, but not required. Cross-listed with MATH 4820. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5350 - Mathematical Theory of Interest

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5350
Rates of interest, term structure of interest rates, force of interest, yield rate, principal, equation of value, annuity, perpetuity, stocks, bonds, other financial instruments. Prereq: MATH 4810/5310. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5351 - Actuarial Models
Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5351
Severity models, frequency models, aggregate models, risk measures, ruin theory, construction and selection of empirical models, credibility, simulation. Prereq: Probability (MATH 4810/5310), Statistics (MATH 4820/5320). Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5387 - Regression Analysis, Modeling and Time Series

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5387
Topics include linear and multiple regression, basic experimental designs, one-way analysis of variance. Emphasis is on practical aspects and applications of linear models to the analysis of data in business engineering and behavioral, biological and physical sciences. Prereq: MATH 3191 and 3800/4820. Cross-listed with MATH 4387. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 When Offered: FALL
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5390 - Game Theory

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5390
Infrequent. Begins with an introduction to the mathematical theory of games and the definition of a solution, including extensive and normal forms of representation. The fundamental minimax theorem is presented first, as the foundation for two-person matrix games, then extended with fixed point theory to other games. Principles of dominance and solution methods are presented, plus applications to economics, political science, engineering, and other fields. An introduction to n-person game theory is included, with basic terms and concepts. Prereq: MATH 2421, 3191 and 3800/4810. Cross-listed with MATH 4390. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5394 - Experimental Designs

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5394
Infrequent. Completely randomized block designs, factorial and fractional factorial experiments, balanced incomplete block designs, response surface methods. Prereq: MATH 4387 and 5387. Cross-listed with MATH 4394. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5410 - Modern Cryptology

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5410
Every other year. Deals with the mathematics that underlies modern cryptology. Topics include: classical cryptology, public and private key cryptosystems, secret sharing schemes, authentication schemes, linear feedback shift registers, discrete logarithm and elliptic curve-based schemes. Prereq: MATH 3191. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5432 - Computational Graph Theory

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5432
Infrequent. Algorithmic techniques in graph theory and other discrete mathematics areas. Typical topics include: branch-bound algorithms, matching, colorings, domination, min-plus algebra, simulated annealing and related heuristics, NP-completeness theory. Prereq: a course in graph theory and some programming experience. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5446 - Theory of Automata

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5446
Infrequent. Studies the relationships between classes of formal languages (regular, context-free, context-sensitive, phrase-structure) and classes of automata (finite-state, pushdown, Turing machines). Additional topics include decidability and computability issues. Prereq: MATH 3000 and 3140. Cross-listed with CSCI 5446. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5490 - Network Flows

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5490
Every other year. Begins with the classical min-cost flow problem, defined on an ordinary network. Other problems, such as shortest path, are also shown in this class. Both theory and algorithms are presented. Extensions include generalized networks, nonlinear costs, fixed charges, multi-commodity flows and additional applications, such as in communications networks. Prereq: graduate standing in math or computer science. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5576 - Mathematical Foundations of Artificial Intelligence I

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5576
Infrequent. A fundamentals course that complements other approaches, such as in engineering, psychology, and business administration. Here the emphasis is on the mathematical foundations. Topics include logical inference, problem solving, heuristic search, neural nets, analogical reasoning and learning. Models and paradigms also consider different measures of uncertainty. Prereq: CSCI 2511, MATH 2511/3000 and 3191. Cross-listed with MATH 4576. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
MATH 5593 - Linear Programming

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5593
A linear program is an optimization problem that seeks to minimize or maximize a linear function subject to a system of linear inequalities and equations. This course begins with examples of linear programs and variations in their representations. Basic theoretical foundations covered include polyhedra, convexity, linear inequalities and duality. Two classes of solution algorithms are given: simplex methods and interior point methods. The primary emphasis of this course is on mathematical foundations, and applications are used to illustrate the main results. Prereq: MATH 3191. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 When Offered: FALL
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5610 - Computational Biology

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5610
Every other year. Basic introduction and mathematical foundations. Topics include comparative genomics; proteomics; phylogeny; dynamic programming and sequence alignment; gene expression arrays and clustering; Bayesian networks; structure prediction and hidden Markov models. Prereq: CSCI 1410 or equivalent programming experience, and MATH 3191 or 3195. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5660 - Numerical Analysis I

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5660
Methods and analysis of techniques used to resolve continuous mathematical problems on the computer. Solution of linear and nonlinear equations, interpolation and integration. Prereq: MATH 2411, 3191 or 3195, and programming experience. Cross-listed with CSCI 4650, 5660, and MATH 4650. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5661 - Numerical Analysis II

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5661
Numerical differentiation and integration, numerical solution of ordinary differential equations, and numerical solutions of partial differential equations as time allows. Prereq: MATH 3195 or both 3191 and 3200; MATH or CSCI 4650 or 5660; or programming experience. Cross-listed with MATH 4660, CSCI 4660 and 5661. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5674 - Parallel Computing and Architectures
Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5674
Infrequent. Examines a range of topics involved in using parallel operations to improve computational performance. Parallel architectures, parallel algorithms, parallel programming languages, interconnection networks, and their relation to specific computer architectures. Prereq: MATH 4650. Cross-listed with MATH 4674. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5718 - Applied Linear Algebra

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5718
Topics include: vector spaces, practical solution of systems of equations, projections, eigenvalues and eigenvectors, unitary transformations, Schur QR, singular value decompositions, similarity transformations, Jordan forms, and positive definite matrices. Prereq: MATH 3191. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 When Offered: FALL
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5733 - Partial Differential Equations

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5733
Infrequent. Initial/Boundary value problems for first-order, wave, heat and Laplace Equations; maximum principles; Fourier Series and applications. Prereq: MATH 2421 and 3200; graduate standing. Cross-listed with MATH 4733. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5779 - Math Clinic

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5779
The clinic is intended to illustrate the applicability and utility of mathematical concepts. Research problems investigated originate from a variety of sources--industry, government agencies, educational institutions, or nonprofit organizations. Prereq: consult Schedule Planner or instructor. Cross-listed with MATH 4779. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5791 - Continuous Modeling

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5791
Every other year. Surveys mathematical problems that arise in natural sciences and engineering. Topics may include population models, epidemic models, mechanics, heat transfer and diffusion, tomography, pharmaco-kinetics, traffic flow, fractal models, wave phenomena, and natural resource management. Most models discussed are based on differential and integral equations. Emphasis is formulation and validation of models as well as methods of solution. Prereq: MATH 3191 and 3200. Cross-listed with MATH
MATH 5792 - Probabilistic Modeling

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5792
Every other year. Markov chains; Poisson processes, continuous time Markov chains, elementary topics in queuing theory, and some mathematical aspects of Monte Carlo simulation, including random variate generation, variance reduction, and output analysis. Prereq: MATH 4810 or 5310 and some programming experience. Cross-listed with MATH 4792. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5793 - Discrete Math Modeling

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5793
Every other year. Focuses on the use of graph theory and combinatorics to solve problems in a wide variety of disciplines. Applications are selected from computer science, communication networks, economics, operations research, and the social, biological and environmental sciences. Prereq: MATH 3191 and 4408. Cross-listed with MATH 4793. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5794 - Optimization Modeling

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5794
Every other year. Principles of model formulation and analysis are developed by presenting a wide variety of applications, both for natural phenomena and social systems. Examples of optimization models to represent natural phenomena include principles of least time and energy. Examples in social systems include resource allocation, environmental control and land management. Specific applications vary, but are chosen to cover a wide scope that considers dichotomies, such as discrete vs. continuous, static vs. dynamic, and deterministic vs. stochastic. Some computer modeling language (like GAMS) is taught. Prereq: MATH 2421 and 3191. Cross-listed with MATH 4794. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5830 - Applied Statistics

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5830
Review of estimation, confidence intervals and hypothesis testing; ANOVA; categorical data analysis; non-parametric tests; linear and logistic regression. Prereq: an introductory course in statistics such as MATH 2830 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with MATH 4830. Semester Hours: 3
When Offered: SPRING
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5840
Available only with approval of graduate advisor. Subjects arranged. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5939 - Internship/Cooperative Education

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5939
Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5950 - Master's Thesis

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5950
Semester Hours: 1 to 8
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 5960 - Master's Project

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 5960
Note: Credit hours for this course will not count toward a graduate degree in Applied Mathematics. Semester Hours: 1 to 8
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 6023 - Topics in Discrete Math

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 6023
Topics may include graph theory, combinatorics, matroid theory, combinatorial matrix theory, finite geometry, design theory, and discrete algorithms. Note: Since topic varies by semester, students may register for this course more than once. Prereq: permission of the instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 6131 - Real Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 6131
Every other year. Lebesgue measure and integration, general measure and integration theory, Radon-Nikodym Theorem, Fubini Theorem. Prereq: MATH 4320 or
5070. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 6330 - Workshop in Statistical Consulting

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 6330
Students participate as consultants in a drop-in consulting service operated by the department. Seminars provide students with supervised experience in short term statistical consulting. Note: Since problems vary each semester, students may register for this course more than once. Prereq: MATH 5387. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 6360 - Exploratory Data Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 6360
Every other year. Philosophy and techniques associated with exploratory (vs. confirmatory) data analysis, both as originally presented (John Turkey) and current computer-based implementations. Graphical displays, robust-resistant methods (lines, two-way fits), diagnostic plots, standardization. Prereq: Previous statistics course or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 6376 - Statistical Computing

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 6376
Computationally-intensive methods in statistics, including random number generation and Monte Carlo methods, data partitioning and re-sampling, numerical and graphical methods, nonparametric function estimation, statistical models and data mining methodology, analysis of large data sets. Prereq: MATH 4820/4830 and 4387. Cross-listed with MATH 7376. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 6380 - Stochastic Processes

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 6380
Every other year. Markov processes in discrete and continuous time, renewal theory, martingales, Brownian motion, branching processes, and stationary processes. Applications include queuing theory, performance evaluation of computer and communication systems and finance. Prereq: MATH 3191, MATH 3200, and MATH 4810/5310. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 6384 - Analysis of Dependent Data
Summer 2010 Registration MATH 6384
Infrequent. Statistical methods for the analysis of data with temporal and/or spatial dependence. Longitudinal data, stationary and non-stationary time series models, geostatistical and lattice spatial models, point processes, hierarchical models. Prereq: MATH 4820 or 4830 and MATH 4387. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 6388 - Advanced Statistical Methods for Research

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 6388
Infrequent. The second in a two-semester course in applied statistics. Topics include multifactor analysis of variance and covariance, categorical data, general linear models, bootstrapping, and other computationally intensive statistical methods. Prereq: MATH 5387. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 6393 - Introduction to Bayesian Statistics

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 6393
Prior and posterior distributions, conjugate models, single and multiparameter models, hierarchical models, mixture models, numerical methods for evaluating posteriors, Monte Carlo methods, and Markov chain Monte Carlo. Prereq: MATH 3800 or both MATH 4810 and MATH 4820 (or equivalent). Some computer programming experience. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 6395 - Multivariate Methods

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 6395
Every other year. Multivariate distributions, hypothesis testing and estimation. Multivariate analysis of variance, discriminant analysis, multidimensional scaling, factor analysis, principal components. Prereq: MATH 5387. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 6398 - Calculus of Variations and Optimal Control

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 6398
Infrequent. Standard variational problems (geodesic, time-of-transit, isoperimetric, surface, area), Euler-Lagrange equations, variational principles in mechanics, optimal control problems, necessary conditions for optimality, Pontryagin principle. Prereq: MATH 4320. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
MATH 6404 - Applied Graph Theory

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 6404
Every other year. Emphasis on graph theory. Topics will include trees, diagraphs and networks, intersection graphs, coloring, clique coverings, distance, paths and cycles. Topics are motivated by applications. Prereq: Graduate standing. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 6595 - Computational Methods in Nonlinear Programming

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 6595
Every other year. Introduces fundamental algorithms and theory for nonlinear optimization problems. Topics include Newton, quasi-Newton and conjugate direction methods; line search and trust-region methods; active set, penalty and barrier methods for constrained optimization; convergence analysis and duality theory. Prereq: MATH 4320 and MATH 5718. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 6653 - Introduction to Finite Element Methods

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 6653
Every other year. The Finite Element Method (FEM) is introduced as a generic tool for the approximation of partial differential equations that model engineering and physics problems of interest. Elliptic, hyperbolic, and parabolic equations are solved with FEM. Prereq: MATH 5660. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 6735 - Continuum Mechanics

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 6735
Every other year. Indicial notation. Eulerian and Lagrangian coordinates. Deformation, strain, strain rate, stress. Conservation of mass, momentum, and energy. Exploitation of entropy production inequality to obtain constitutive equations for elastic, viscous, visco elastic, plastic, or porous materials. Prereq: MATH 3191 and 3200 or graduate standing. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 6840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 6840
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
MATH 7101 - Topology

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7101
Every other year. Topological spaces, compactness, separation properties and connectedness. Prereq: MATH 4320. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7132 - Functional Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7132
Every other year. Linear metric and topological spaces, duality, weak topology, spaces of functions, linear operators, compact operators, elements of spectral theory, and operator calculus. Prereq: MATH 6131. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7376 - Statistical Computing

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7376
Computationally-intensive methods in statistics, including random number generation and Monte Carlo methods, data partitioning and re-sampling, numerical and graphical methods, nonparametric function estimation, statistical models and data mining methodology, analysis of large data sets. Prereq: MATH 4820/4830 and 4387. Cross-listed with MATH 6376. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7381 - Mathematical Statistics I

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7381
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7382 - Mathematical Statistics II

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7382
Every other year. (Continuation of MATH 7381.) Hypothesis testing, robust estimation, tolerance intervals, nonparametric inference, sequential methods. Prereq: MATH 7381. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7384 - Mathematical Probability
Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7384
Every other year. Measurable spaces, probability measures, random variables, conditional expectations and martingales. Convergence in probability, almost sure convergence, convergence in distribution, limit theorems (law of large numbers, central limit theorem, laws of iterated logarithm). Prereq: MATH 4810/5310 and MATH 5070 or MATH 6131. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7385 - Stochastic Differential Equations

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7385
Brownian motion, Ito integral, Ito formula, Dynkin's formula, stochastic optimal control, boundary value problems, Girsanov theorem, mathematical finance, optimal stopping. Prereq: MATH 7384. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7397 - Nonparametric Statistics

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7397
Every three years. Statistical inference without strong model assumptions. Hypothesis testing and estimation using permutations and ranks, analysis of variance, and nonparametric model fitting. Prereq: applied mathematics - statistics (PhD.) Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7405 - Advanced Graph Theory

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7405
Continuation of MATH 6404. Topics to be covered include: trees and optimization, encoding and embedding of graphs, generalized colorings and applications, perfect graphs, extremal problems, substructures, connectedness' and cycles. Prereq: MATH 6404 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7409 - Applied Combinatorics

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7409
Every other year. Emphasis is on enumerative combinatorics. Topics include multinomial coefficients, generating functions, SDRs, Polya's enumeration theory, pigeon-hole principle, inclusion/exclusion and Moebius inversion of finite posets. Topics may also include introduction to designs and finite geometry. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
MATH 7410 - Combinatorial Structures

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7410
Every other year. Finite combinatorial structures; existence, construction and applications. Topics include Latin squares, Hadamard matrices, block designs, finite geometries and extremal and non-constructive combinatorics. Prereq: MATH 5718 and MATH 7409 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7413 - Modern Algebra I

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7413
Every other year. Groups, rings and ideals, integral domains. Prereq: MATH 3140. Coreq: MATH 5718. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7414 - Modern Algebra II

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7414
Every other year. Field theory, Galois theory, Modules over rings, especially over integral domains. Prereq: MATH 5718 and MATH 7413. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7419 - Mathematical Coding Theory.

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7419
Error correcting codes are used to recapture information that has been distorted in some transmission process. Various coding schemes use block codes obtained from algebraic, geometric and combinatorial structures. Topics include: fundamentals, linear, Reed-Muller, Golay, cyclic and BCH codes. Prereq: MATH 5718. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details.

MATH 7421 - Projective Geometry

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7421
Every other year. Synthetic and algebraic development of projective spaces. Collineation groups, representation theorems, quadratic sets and applications. Emphasis is on finite projective spaces. Prereq: MATH 5718 and MATH 7409. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7593 - Advanced Linear Programming
Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7593
Every three years. A Ph.D. level course that goes deeper into linear programming, starting from where a graduate-level course (5593) ends. Topics include advanced sensitivity analysis, sparse matrix techniques, and special structures. Additional topics, which vary, include deeper analysis of algorithms, principles of model formulation and solution analysis. Prereq: MATH 5593. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7594 - Integer Programming

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7594
Every three years. A Ph.D. level course that uses linear programming (5593), especially polyhedral theory, to introduce concepts of valid inequalities and superadditivity. Early group-theoretic methods by Gomory and Chvatal's rounding function are put into modern context, including their role in algorithm design and analysis. Duality theory and relaxation methods are presented for general foundation and analyzed for particular problem classes. Among the special problems considered are knapsack, covering, partitioning, packing, fix-charge, traveling salesman, generalized assignment matchings. Matroids are introduced and some greedy algorithms are analyzed. Additional topics, which vary, include representability theory, heuristic search and complexity analysis. Prereq: MATH 5593. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7595 - Advanced Nonlinear Programming

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7595
Every three years. Focuses primarily on the fundamental theory of nonlinear programming. Topics include convex analysis, optimality criteria, Lagrangian and conjugate duality, stability and sensitivity analysis. Other topics vary depending on the research interests of the instructor. Prereq: MATH 6595. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7663 - Finite Difference Methods for Partial Differential Equations

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7663
Every other year. Consistency, stability, and convergence for difference schemes. Derivations based on Taylor series and finite series. Methods for parabolic and hyperbolic initial value problems and initial-boundary-value problems, elliptic boundary-value problems, some nonlinear problems. Prereq: MATH 5070 and MATH 5733. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7665 - Numerical Linear Algebra
Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7665
Every other year. Solution of linear equations, eigenvector and eigenvalue calculation, matrix error analysis, orthogonal transformation, iterative methods. Prereq: MATH 5660 and MATH 5718. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7667 - Introduction to Approximation Theory

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7667
Every other year. Linear normed and Banach spaces, convexity, existence and uniqueness of best approximations, least square approximation and orthogonal polynomials, Chebyshev approximation by polynomials and other related families, splines. Prereq: MATH 5070 and MATH 5718. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7821 - Topics in Projective Geometry

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7821
Infrequent. Advanced topics in projective geometry. Topics may include finite projective planes, free projective planes, derivation, collineation groups, higher dimensional projective spaces, ovals and ovoids. Prereq: MATH 7421. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7822 - Topics in Linear Algebra

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7822
Infrequent. Topics may include canonical forms, bilinear and quadratic forms, and combinatorial matrix theory. Prereq: MATH 5718. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7823 - Topics in Discrete Math

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7823
Infrequent. Advanced topics in discrete mathematics; will change from semester to semester. Prereq: MATH 7413, 6404 and 7409 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7824 - Topics in Computational Mathematics

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7824
Infrequent. Topics include methods for differential equations, numerical optimization, approximation theory, inverse problems, and Fourier analysis. Prereq: Permission of MATH 7825 - Topics in Optimization

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7825
Infrequent. Some topics are extensions of those introduced in MATH 6595, while other topics are new. Examples of topics are: duality, stability, sensitivity, consistency, redundancy, principles of optimality, control theory, calculus of various global (non-convex) optimization and model reformulation. Prereq: Permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7826 - Topics in Probability and Statistics

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7826
Infrequent. Topics may include generalized linear models, information theory, robust methods, spatial statistics, sequential analysis, Monte Carlo methods, queuing theory. Note: Since topics vary each semester, students may register for this course more than once. Prereq: Permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7827 - Topics in Applied Mathematics

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7827
Infrequent. Topics include problems in differential equations, optimization, mathematical modeling, Fourier analysis and approximation theory. Note: Since topics vary each semester, students may register for this course more than once. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7840
Available only to Ph.D. students. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7921 - Readings in Mathematics

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7921
Annual. Seven readings courses are offered regularly primarily for Ph.D. students at the research level in the designated fields. The seminar format requires significant student participation. Prereq: permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
MATH 7922 - Rdgs: Math Fndts - Cmptr Sc

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7922
Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7923 - Readings: Discrete Mathematics

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7923
Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7924 - Rdgs: Comp Mathematics

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7924
Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7925 - Readings: Optimization

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7925
Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7926 - Rdgs: Applied Prob/Stats

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7926
Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 7927 - Rdgs: Comp/Math Biology

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 7927
Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 8660 - Mathematical Foundations of Finite Element Methods

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 8660
Every other year. Theoretical foundations of finite element methods for elliptic boundary value problems, Sobolev spaces, interpolations of Sobolev spaces, variational formulation of elliptic boundary-value problems, basic error, estimates, applications to elasticity, practical aspects of finite element methods. Prereq: MATH 6653 (or equivalent programming experience), and MATH 6131/7132. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 8664 - Iterative Methods in Numerical Linear Algebra

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 8664
Every other year. Preconditioned iterative methods for linear systems and eigen problems, conjugate gradients, multigrid and domain decomposition. Prereq: MATH 5660 and MATH 7665. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MATH 8990 - Doctoral Dissertation

Summer 2010 Registration MATH 8990
Only for students working on their Ph.D. research. Semester Hours: 1 to 10
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 1025 - CAD and Graphics for Mechanical Engineering

Summer 2010 Registration ME 1025
Introduction to 3-D computer-aided design software, solid modeling, industry-standard engineering drawing practices, and engineering graphics. Applications to mechanical engineering. Prereq: High School Geometry and Algebra. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 1208 - Special Topics: 1208-1298

Summer 2010 Registration ME 1208
Subject matter to be selected from topics of current technological interest. Credit to be arranged. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 2023 - Statics

Summer 2010 Registration ME 2023
A vector treatment of force systems and their resultants; equilibrium of trusses, beams, frames, and machines, including internal forces and three-dimensional configurations, static friction, properties of areas, distributed loads and hydrostatics. Prereq: PHYS 2311. Coreq: MATH 2411. Cross-listed with CVEN 2121. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 2030 - Analysis Techniques in Mechanical Engineering
Summer 2010 Registration ME 2030
Introduces experimental methods and mathematical analysis used in engineering. Spreadsheets are used to analyze engineering data and prepare tables and graphs. Introduction to computer programming using MATLAB. Prereq: MATH 1401 and MECH 1025. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 2033 - Dynamics

Summer 2010 Registration ME 2033
A vector treatment of dynamics of particles and rigid bodies, including rectilinear translation, central-force, and general motion of particles, kinematics of rigid bodies, the inertia tensor, plane motion of rigid bodies, energy and momentum methods for particles, systems of particles, and rigid bodies. Prereq: MECH 2023 or CVEN 2121. Cross-listed with CVEN 3111. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 2208 - Special Topics: 2208-2298

Summer 2010 Registration ME 2208
Subject matter to be selected from topics of current technological interest. Credit to be arranged. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 3010 - Elementary Numerical Methods and Programming

Summer 2010 Registration ME 3010
A development of basic numerical methods used to solve engineering problems. Introduction to MATLAB to implement numerical simulations. Coreq: MATH 3195 or (MATH 3191 and MATH 3200). Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 3021 - Introduction to Fluid Mechanics

Summer 2010 Registration ME 3021
Applies exact and approximate theories to engineering problems in fluids. Examples include potential flow theory, Euler’s equations for in viscid fluids, Bernoulli’s equations, Navier-Stokes equations, and pipe flow. Prereq: MECH 2033 or CVEN 3111 and MATH 2421. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 3022 - Thermodynamics II
Summer 2010 Registration M E 3022
Generalized thermodynamic cycles; general thermodynamic cycle considerations, compressor, expander, heat exchanger processes, refrigeration cycles, mixtures and combustion. Prereq: ENGR 3012 and MATH 2421. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 3023 - System Dynamics I: Vibrations

Summer 2010 Registration M E 3023
Modeling of dynamical systems. Analysis of single and multiple degree of freedom systems. Introduction to continuous systems. Prereq: CVEN 3111 or MECH 2033, MATH 3195 or MATH 3191 and MATH 3200 and MECH 3010. Coreq: CVEN 3121 or MECH 3043. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 3024 - Introduction to Materials Science

Summer 2010 Registration M E 3024
The development of the physical principles relating the structural features of materials to their observed properties. Prereq: PHYS 2311. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 3027 - Measurements

Summer 2010 Registration M E 3027
Principles of digital and analog measurements; systems for sensing, transporting, modifying, and outputting information; systematic and random error analysis. The laboratory includes a variety of instruments and components illustrating fundamental experimental measurement techniques and methods. Prereq: MATH 3195 or (MATH 3191 and MATH 3200), MECH 3030 and MECH 3032. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 3028 - Laboratory of Mechanical Measurements

Summer 2010 Registration M E 3028
Modern techniques for Mechanical measurements. Laboratory includes techniques for the calibration of transducers and analysis of Statistical uncertainty. Data Acquisition Systems used for Signal acquisition and measurement of common mechanical quantities, such as displacement, velocity, acceleration and force. Design and characterization of a second order measurement system based on strain gages. Coreq: MECH 3027. Semester Hours: 1to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
MECH 3030 - Electric Circuits and Systems

Summer 2010 Registration M E 3030
Basic electrical engineering concepts for non-majors. Basic study of circuit analysis (RLC and Op-amps), transformers and motor equations, and simple electronic circuits (diodes and transistors). Prereq: MATH 2421 and PHYS 2331. Cross-listed with ELEC 3030. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 3031 - Fluids/Thermal Laboratory

Summer 2010 Registration M E 3031
Laboratory exercise in compressible and incompressible fluid flow; steady state and transient heat transfer. Prereq: ENGR 3012. Coreq: MECH 3021. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 3032 - Electric Circuits and Systems Lab

Summer 2010 Registration M E 3032
Basic electrical engineering lab for MECH majors. Coreq: MECH 3030 or ELEC 3030. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 3034 - Properties of Engineering Materials

Summer 2010 Registration M E 3034
Experiments to determine material properties and the effect of processing on properties important in mechanical design. Materials include metal, polymers, and composites. Loadings include tension, compression, and bending under static, dynamic impact and creep states. Coreq: MECH 3024 or (MECH 3043 or CVEN 3121). Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 3035 - Design of Mechanical Elements

Summer 2010 Registration M E 3035
Review of mechanics of materials and stress analysis; detailed design of various machine elements such as fasteners, springs, brakes and gears. Includes design project. Prereq: MECH 3043, CVEN 3121. Coreq: MECH 3024. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 3042 - Heat Transfer
MECH 3042 - Basic Laws of Heat Transfer

Summer 2010 Registration M E 3042

Basic laws of heat transfer by conduction, convection, and radiation with engineering design applications. Includes design project. Prereq: ENGR 3012 and MATH 2421. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 3043 - Strength of Materials

Summer 2010 Registration M E 3043

Application of exact and approximate theories of stress and displacement to engineering problems in solids. Examples include torsion of rods and bending of beams. Combined stresses, principal stresses and energy methods are examined. Prereq: MECH 2023, CVEN 2121. Cross-listed with CVEN 3121. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 3065 - Intermediate Dynamics

Summer 2010 Registration M E 3065

An in-depth study of Newtonian dynamics with constraints. Mechanism synthesis using graphical and analytic techniques. Prereq: MECH 2033 or CVEN 3111 and MECH 3010. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 3145 - Manufacturing Processes Design

Summer 2010 Registration M E 3145

Basic manufacturing background will be provided to engineering students in order to: (1) apply manufacturing specifications to the design of mechanical devices, and (2) communicate with technical personnel in a production environment. Topics cover metal casting, bulk and sheet metal forming, material removal and joining and fastening processes. Prereq: MECH 1025. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 3147 - Bioengineering

Summer 2010 Registration M E 3147

Explores engineering principles that have application in biology, and principles discovered in biology which may have application in engineering. Some topics covered are: cell biology, molecular biology, viscoelasticity, physical theory of plant cell growth aerodynamics, fluid mechanics, biofluid dynamics and animal flight. Prereq: junior standing in engineering. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
MECH 3208 - Special Topics: 3208-3298

Summer 2010 Registration ME 3208
Subject matter to be selected from topics of current technological interest. Credit to be arranged. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 3840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration ME 3840
This category is intended for upper-division level special topics which students may wish to pursue on their own initiative, with guidance from a professor who agrees to limited consultation on the work and to award credit when the project is completed. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 4023 - System Dynamics II: Controls

Summer 2010 Registration ME 4023
Introduces the Laplace Transformation. Control system analysis using root locus and frequency response methods. Basic compensation techniques are be covered. Prereq: MECH 3023. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 4024 - Mechanical Behavior of Materials

Summer 2010 Registration ME 4024
Studies the response of materials to applied stresses. Emphasis is on the understanding of the relationships between structure and properties. Fracture mechanics and fatigue are introduced. Prereq: MECH 3024. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 4035 - Senior Design I

Summer 2010 Registration ME 4035
Group and individual projects to design engineering components and systems. Design methodology, product specs, creativity, design reviews, communication, presentations, and report writing are emphasized. MECH 4035 and MECH 4045 form a one year sequence and must be taken consecutively. Prereq: MECH 3035 and MECH 3042. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 4045 - Senior Design II
MECH 4045 - Student teams manufacture and construct and/or redesign mechanical parts or assemblies that they designed in previous course (MECH 4035). A proposal, oral progress reports, and a final written report and demonstration are required. MECH 4035 and MECH 4045 form a one year sequence and must be taken consecutively. Prereq: MECH 4035. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 4110 - Numerical Methods for Engineers

MECH 4110 - Numerical Methods for Engineers
Introduction to numerical analysis. Solution of linear and nonlinear equation systems. Numerical methods for ordinary and partial differential equations. Engineering applications. Prereq: MATH 3195 or (3191 and 3200) and some programming experience. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 4112 - Internal Combustion Engines

MECH 4112 - Internal Combustion Engines
Students obtain a sufficient understanding of internal combustion engines that will allow them to perform analysis of combustion thermodynamics and actual cycles, including heat addition, heat loss, air/fuel flow, and engine design and performance. Prereq: ENGR 3012. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 4114 - Designing with Composites

MECH 4114 - Designing with Composites
Analysis and design of polymers and polymer-based composites. Failure criteria include static strength, stiffness, creep, fatigue, impact and fracture toughness. Design criteria include strength-to-weight ratio and cost-to-strength ratio. Prereq: MECH 3043/CVEN 3121. Cross-listed with MECH 5114. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 4115 - Applied Plasticity and Creep

MECH 4115 - Applied Plasticity and Creep
Plastic deformation of materials applied to bulk and sheet metal manufacturing processes such as extrusion, rolling and sheet metal. Linear and nonlinear viscoelastic creep with applications to plates and shells. Prereq: MECH 3043. Cross-listed with MECH 5115. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
MECH 4116 - Robotics

Summer 2010 Registration M E 4116
Introduces kinematics, dynamics, and control of robot manipulators. Emphasis is placed on computer use in control of actual robots and in computer simulation of mathematical models of robots. Students must turn in a project report based on the computer simulation. Prereq: MECH 3065. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 4120 - Methods of Engineering Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration M E 4120
Selected topics from real analyses with applications to engineering analyses. Topics include vector calculus, ordinary differential equations, partial differential equations, and calculus of variations. Prereq: MATH 3195 or (MATH 3191 and MATH 3200). Cross-listed with MECH 5120. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 4132 - Power Plant Systems Design

Summer 2010 Registration M E 4132
Detailed engineering analysis and design of a thermal power plant, including heat balance, selection of equipment (boiler, turbines, heat exchangers, pumps, cooling tower), performance evaluation, economic evaluation and feasibility studies. Prereq: MECH 3022. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 4135 - Mechanical Systems Design

Summer 2010 Registration M E 4135
Detailed engineering design of mechanical systems. Students work in teams on a project selected for entire class. Projects are similar to typical ones from industry. Course stresses creativity, synthesis, design judgment, and analysis of real-world problems. Oral and written presentations are required. Prereq: MECH 3035. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 4136 - Control Systems Design

Summer 2010 Registration M E 4136
Detailed engineering design of control systems. Students work in teams on a project selected for entire class. Projects are similar to typical ones from industry. Course stresses creativity, synthesis, design judgment, and analysis of real-world problems. Oral and written presentations are required. Prereq: MECH 4023. Semester Hours: 3 to
MECH 4141 - Fluid Mechanics

Summer 2010 Registration ME 4141
Viscous incompressible fluid flows. Topics include derivation of equations governing viscous compressible fluid motion; specializations to simple flows; boundary-layer theory; similarity solutions; introduction to turbulence and Reynolds stresses. Prereq: MECH 3021. Cross-listed with MECH 5141. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 4142 - Thermal Systems Design

Summer 2010 Registration ME 4142
Detailed engineering design of thermal/fluids systems. Students work in teams on a project selected for entire class. Projects are similar to typical ones from industry. Course stresses creativity, synthesis, design judgment, and analysis of real-world problems. Oral and written presentations are required. Prereq: ENGR 3012 and MECH 3021. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 4147 - Engineering Economy

Summer 2010 Registration ME 4147
Applies economic and financial principles to evaluation of engineering alternatives. Calculation of annual costs, present worth, and prospective rates of return on investment. Review of systems analysis techniques, including simulation, linear programming, and project scheduling. Prereq: junior standing in engineering. Cross-listed with CVEN 4077. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 4155 - Air Conditioning Design

Summer 2010 Registration ME 4155
Basic principles of heating and ventilating systems. Determination of heating and cooling loads. Design and layout of heating, ventilating, and air conditioning systems. Includes design project. Prereq: MECH 3022 and MECH 3042. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 4160 - Introduction to Operations Research

Summer 2010 Registration ME 4160
Introduces operations research, including mathematical programming models, models for decision alternatives, for procurement and inventory, and for queuing operations.
Prereq: MATH 3195 or (MATH 3191 and MATH 3200). Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 4163 - Rigid-body Dynamics

Summer 2010 Registration M E 4163
Review of Newtonian dynamics, Lagrange's equations for particles, systems, and rigid bodies. Conservative and non-conservative systems, moments of inertia, principal axes, angular momentum and Euler equations. Illustrations from spinning bodies, including tops, gyro-compass and rotating machinery. Prereq: MECH 2033 or CVEN 3111, MATH 3195 or (MATH 3191 and MATH 3200). Cross-listed with MECH 5163. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 4166 - Computerized Numerical Control (CNC) Manufacturing

Summer 2010 Registration M E 4166
Modern manufacturing engineering concepts using computerized numerical control (CNC). The students learn state-of-the-art CNC methodologies, including digitizing, drawing, generating codes, and manufacturing, using modern CNC machines. Prereq: junior standing in engineering. Cross-listed with MECH 5166. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 4175 - Finite Element Analysis in Machine Design

Summer 2010 Registration M E 4175
Students learn basic theory of finite element analysis (FEA) as it applies to stress analysis and design of mechanical components. Commercial package will be used giving students practical experience in the use of FEA. Prereq: MECH 3035. Cross-listed with MECH 5175. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 4195 - Solid Modeling

Summer 2010 Registration M E 4195
This is a basic course in solid modeling using Solid Works computer software. Topics include feature-based modeling, parametric part design, parent/child relationships, use of datums, patterning, relations, sweeps, blends, assembly, tolerancing, rapid prototyping, CNC manufacturing, CMM inspection, and Step standards. Prereq: Junior standing in engineering. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
MECH 4208 - Special Topics: 4208-4298

Summer 2010 Registration M E 4208
Subject matter to be selected from topics of current technological interest. Credit to be arranged. Prereq: senior standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 1to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 4840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration M E 4840
This category is intended for upper division level special topics which students may wish to pursue on their own initiative, with guidance from a professor who agrees to limited consultation on the work and to award credit when the project is completed. Semester Hours: 1to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 5110 - Numerical Methods for Engineers

Summer 2010 Registration M E 5110
Introduces numerical analysis. Solution of linear and nonlinear equation systems. Numerical methods for ordinary and partial differential equations. Engineering applications. Prereq: graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with MECH 4110. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 5114 - Designing with Composites

Summer 2010 Registration M E 5114
Analysis and design of polymers and polymer-based composites. Failure criteria include static strength, stiffness, creep, fatigue, impact and fracture toughness. Design criteria include strength-to-weight ratio and cost-to-strength ratio. Prereq: graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with MECH 4114. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 5115 - Applied Plasticity and Creep

Summer 2010 Registration M E 5115
Plastic deformation of materials applied to bulk and sheet metal manufacturing processes such as extrusion, rolling and sheet metal. Linear and nonlinear viscoelastic creep with applications to plates and shells. Prereq: graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with MECH 4115. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
MECH 5120 - Methods of Engineering Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration M E 5120
Selected topics from real analyses with applications to engineering analyses. Topics include vector calculus, ordinary differential equations, partial differential equations and calculus of variations. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with MECH 4120. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 5121 - Introduction to Fluid Dynamics

Summer 2010 Registration M E 5121
Physical properties of gases and liquids; kinematics of flow fields; equations describing viscous, heat-conducting Newtonian fluids. Exact solutions and rational approximations for low- and high-speed dissipative flows, surface and internal waves, acoustics, stability, and potential flows. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 5122 - Macroscopic Thermodynamics

Summer 2010 Registration M E 5122
Axiomatic presentation of fundamentals of classical thermodynamics (first law); energy, work and heat. Equilibrium, reversible, and irreversible processes; entropy production and the second law. Applications to stability and phase equilibrium. Irreversible thermodynamics and the Onsager reciprocal relations. Prereq: graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 5123 - Introduction to Continuum Mechanics

Summer 2010 Registration M E 5123
Cartesian tensor notation. Deformation, strain, strain rate and compatibility. Definition of stress vector and tensor. Fundamental balance laws of mass, momentum and energy; entropy production inequality. Constitutive equations for elastic, viscoelastic and plastic materials; ideal, compressible, and viscous fluids. Beltrami-Mitchell and Navier-Stokes equations. Prereq: graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 5124 - Yield-Limited Behavior of Materials

Summer 2010 Registration M E 5124
Analysis of material behavior within the "elastic range," with emphasis on the phenomenon of yield and factors that influence it. Examination of the theory of dislocations; study of strengthening mechanisms in solids. Consideration of various time-dependent but reversible (inelastic) deformation phenomena. Presentation of appropriate engineering case studies to augment various topics. Prereq: MECH 5143. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 5133 - Theory of Inelastic Materials

Summer 2010 Registration M E 5133
Mathematical theory of linear viscoelasticity. Finite elements models. Solution of boundary-value problems in linear viscoelasticity. Non-Newtonian flow. Selected topics in nonlinear material behavior. Prereq: MECH 5143 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 5141 - Viscous Flow

Summer 2010 Registration M E 5141
Viscous incompressible fluid flows. Topics include derivation of equations governing viscous compressible fluid motion; specializations to simple flows; boundary-layer theory; similarity solutions; introduction to turbulence and Reynolds stresses. Prereq: graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with MECH 4141. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 5142 - Statistical Thermodynamics

Summer 2010 Registration M E 5142
Introduces the molecular interpretation and calculation of thermodynamic properties of matter, thermodynamic probability, distribution functions, Schrodinger wave equations and solutions and ensemble theory. Applications to ideal and real gases, solids, liquids, radiation, conduction electrons, and chemical equilibrium. Prereq: graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 5143 - Theory of Elasticity

Summer 2010 Registration M E 5143
Review of the basic equations of linear theory of elasticity. St. Venant torsion and flexure. Plane strain, plane stress, and generalized plane stress. Application of conformal mapping and Fourier transform techniques. Prereq: graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
MECH 5144 - Plasticity and Creep

Summer 2010 Registration M E 5144

Inelastic deformation of materials such as metals, alloys, glasses, composites and polymers from the phenomenological and structural point of view. Case studies of plastic and creep deformations in engineering materials. Prereq: MECH 5143. Semester Hours: 3to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 5161 - Compressible Flow

Summer 2010 Registration M E 5161

Energy, continuity, and momentum principles applied to compressible flow; one-, two-, and three-dimensional subsonic, supersonic and hypersonic flows. Normal and oblique shocks, and method of characteristics. Prereq: MECH 5141 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 5162 - Heat Transfer I

Summer 2010 Registration M E 5162

Review of equations governing transport of heat by conduction and radiation. Analytical and numerical solution of boundary value problems representative of heat conduction in solids. Radiation properties of solids, liquids and gases; transport of heat by radiation. Prereq: graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 5163 - Dynamics

Summer 2010 Registration M E 5163

Review of Newtonian dynamics, Lagrange's equation for particles, systems and rigid bodies. Conservative and non-conservative systems, moments of inertia, principal axes, angular momentum and Euler equations. Illustrations from spinning bodies, including tops, gyro-compass and rotating machinery. Prereq: Graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with MECH 4163. Semester Hours: 3to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 5166 - Computerized Numerical Control (CNC) Manufacturing

Summer 2010 Registration M E 5166

Modern manufacturing engineering concepts using computerized numerical control (CNC). The students learn state-of-the-art CNC methodologies, including digitizing, drawing, generating codes, and manufacturing using modern CNC machines. Prereq: graduate standing or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with MECH 4166. *Semester
MECH 5172 - Heat Transfer II

Summer 2010 Registration M E 5172
Review of equations governing transport of heat in fluids in motion. Description of heat transfer in free and forced convection, including laminar and turbulent flow. Dimensional analysis and heat transfer correlations, numerical methods and combined heat transfer mechanisms. Prereq: MECH 5141 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 5175 - Finite Element Stress Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration M E 5175
Students learn basic theory of finite element analysis (FEA) as it applies to stress analysis and design of mechanical components. Commercial package will be used giving students practical experience in the use of FEA. Prereq: MECH 5143 or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with MECH 4175. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 5208 - Special Topics: 5208-5298

Summer 2010 Registration M E 5208
Subject matter to be selected from topics of current technological interest. Credit to be arranged. Prereq: graduate standing or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 5840 - Independent Study

Summer 2010 Registration M E 5840
Available only through approval of the graduate advisor. Subjects arranged to fit needs of the particular student. Prereq: graduate standing. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 5842 - Independent Study: MECH

Summer 2010 Registration M E 5842
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 5950 - Master's Thesis
Summer 2010 Registration M E 5950

Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 5960 - Master's Report

Summer 2010 Registration M E 5960
Master of Science in Engineering report. Students seeking the Master of Science in Engineering, and who do not choose to do a thesis, must complete an individual project of an investigative and creative nature under the supervision of a member of the graduate faculty. Prereq: completion of 21 hours toward the M.S. Degree. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MECH 5970 - Graduate Problem Course

Summer 2010 Registration M E 5970
The graduate problem course is for the solution of specific problems in MECH specialty areas. Each student is assigned a set of problems of some difficulty requiring the use of the literature of the various areas covered. Prereq: 15 hours of graduate level courses in MECH. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MGMT 1000 - Introduction to Business

Summer 2010 Registration MGMT 1000
This course will introduce students to the nature and role of business in our society. Problems confronting business are surveyed from a management, financial, economic and marketing viewpoint. Career opportunities in business are also considered. Students are advised to take this course during their freshman year and may not take it in the junior or senior years. Prereq: Open to freshman and sophomores, non-degree students and music majors at all levels. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 When Offered: FASPRSUM
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MGMT 1111 - Business Freshman Seminar

Summer 2010 Registration MGMT 1111
This course introduces students to the nature and role of business in our society. Career opportunities in business are also considered. This course is designed to assist first year students transition to life on campus. The course content is integrated with various activities designed to familiarize 1st year students with school resources, develop critical thinking and writing skills and build relationships critical to ongoing academic success. Students are advised to take this course during the first semester of their freshman year. Note: Credit will not be given for both MGMT 1111 and MGMT 1000. Prereq: Open only to new Freshman. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
When Offered: FALL SPR
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MGMT 2939 - Cooperative Education

Summer 2010 Registration MGMT 2939
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MGMT 3000 - Managing Individuals and Teams

Summer 2010 Registration MGMT 3000
Focuses on helping students understand how to manage individuals and groups effectively. Students are encouraged to know themselves better and how their behavior affects how they deal with organizational situations; they also learn how individuals differ and how to design, manage and work in a team. This is a business core course therefore a grade of a 'c' or better must be earned to satisfy graduation requirements. Prereq: Junior standing. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MGMT 3010 - Managing People for a Competitive Advantage

Summer 2010 Registration MGMT 3010
Provides an overview of the management of human resources in organizations. Areas of study include recruitment, selection, training, career development, performance appraisal, compensation and employee or labor relations. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MGMT 3111 - Business Transfer Student Seminar

Summer 2010 Registration MGMT 3111
This course is designed to assist first year transfer students transition to UC Denver. The course includes various activities designed to familiarize students with University and Business School resources, develop critical thinking, writing, time management and study skills, and build relationships critical to ongoing academic success. Students are advised to take this course during their first or second semester at UC Denver. Concurrent registration in MGMT 3000 is required. Prereq: Junior standing. Cross-listed with MGMT 3000. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MGMT 3830 - Business and Sustainability

Summer 2010 Registration MGMT 3830
Business activity can have significant environmental and societal impacts. This course examines some of the ways that companies and consumers are reducing their impact on communities and the environment. Sustainability issues will be considered from a management, finance, marketing, and consumer perspective. Climate change and renewable energy will be featured topics in the class. Prereq: MKTG 3000. Cross-listed with MGMT 4830, BUSN 6830. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MGMT 3939 - Internship/Cooperative Education

Summer 2010 Registration MGMT 3939
Supervised experiences involving the application of concepts and skills in an employment situation. Prereq: senior standing and 3.5 GPA. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MGMT 4100 - Managing Cultural Diversity

Summer 2010 Registration MGMT 4100
Practical and policy issues that arise from living and working in a multicultural world in order to promote informed, effective management. Particular emphasis is given to the development of innovative approaches to managing the challenges posed by a work force that differs in characteristics, such as race, gender, ethnicity, age, lifestyle and disability. Prereq: MGMT 3000. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 When Offered: FALL SPR
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MGMT 4330 - Mastering Management

Summer 2010 Registration MGMT 4330
Designed to give students hands on practice developing critical management skills, such as communication, conflict handling, negotiation, giving feedback, public speaking, meeting management and self management. Prereq: MGMT 3000 with a grade of 'C' or better. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MGMT 4350 - Leading Organizational Change

Summer 2010 Registration MGMT 4350
Focuses on the tasks and skills of a leader in leading organizational changes. Topics include: diagnosing problems, creating urgency, building the change team, creating a vision, implementing change strategies, sustaining the momentum and making change stick. These tasks and skills are studied in various organizational change contexts. Prereq: MGMT 3000 with a grade of 'c' or better and MGMT 4370. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
MGMT 4370 - Organization Design

Summer 2010 Registration MGMT 4370
Examines how to structure organizations to perform effectively. Addresses the effects of computer-based information technologies (e.g. intranets, extranets, and the internet) on firm structure, strategy, and culture. Emphasis is placed on the role of the task, technology, and the environment as constraints on organizational design. Prereq: MGMT 3000. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MGMT 4400 - Environments of International Business

Summer 2010 Registration MGMT 4400
An overview of the environmental complexities that arise when business activities and firms cross national borders. Key international business environmental complexities associated with country differences, cross-border trade and investment, and global monetary system are examined. Prereq: MGMT 3000 and junior standing. Cross-listed with INTB 4400. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MGMT 4410 - Operations of International Business

Summer 2010 Registration MGMT 4410
Focuses on the impact of environmental factors on international business operations and the identification and analysis of complex strategic and operational issues facing business firms in global markets. The strategies and structures of international businesses, alternative foreign market entry modes, and the unique roles of various business functions at international business firms are explained and assessed. Prereq: INTB 4400 or MGMT 4400. Cross-listed with INTB 4410. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MGMT 4420 - Human Resources Management: Staffing

Summer 2010 Registration MGMT 4420
Methods, theories, research findings, and issues in staffing. Topics include performance-based framework for selecting employees, establishing performance expectations, planning the recruitment process and finding valid and useful tools to select the best candidate. Prereq: MGMT 3010 (may be taken concurrently). Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MGMT 4430 - Human Resources Management: Training

Summer 2010 Registration MGMT 4430
Methods, theories, research findings, and issues in training. Topics include how to design, deliver, and evaluate training programs. Prereq: MGMT 3010 (may be taken concurrently). Cross-listed with MGMT 6720. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MGMT 4440 - Human Resource Management: Performance Management

Summer 2010 Registration MGMT 4440
Focuses on the design and implementation of human resource management systems to assess and enhance employee performance. Areas of study include performance definition and measurement, goal setting, feedback, employee development, rater training, and pay for performance. Prereq: MGMT 3010 (may be taken concurrently). Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MGMT 4450 - Human Resources Management: Compensation

Summer 2010 Registration MGMT 4450
Develop and administer pay systems considering economic and social pressures, traditional approaches and strategic choices in managing compensation. Current theory research and practice. Students design a compensation strategy and a system that translates that strategy into reality. Prereq: MGMT 3010 (may be taken concurrently). Cross-listed with MGMT 6740. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MGMT 4500 - Business Policy and Strategic Management

Summer 2010 Registration MGMT 4500
Emphasis is on integrating the economic, market, social or political, technological, and components of the external environment with the internal characteristics of the firm; and deriving through analysis the appropriate interaction between the firm and its environment to facilitate accomplishment of the firm's objectives. Open only to business students in their graduation semester. This is a business core course therefore a grade of 'C' or better must be earned to satisfy Business graduation requirements. Prereq: Graduation term, senior standing and completion of all business core courses with a grade of a 'C' or better. Semester Hours: 3to 3 When Offered: FASPRSUM
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MGMT 4770 - Human Resource Information Systems

Summer 2010 Registration MGMT 4770
Focuses on the management of human resource information systems. It addresses how modern information systems tools can provide better human resource intelligence to users in today's enterprises, allowing them to make better decisions. It examines how information about workforce and human resource management processes can be collected and used to set targets to meet strategic objectives, monitor performance, receive notifications when performance is below expectations and respond immediately by taking corrective actions. Prereq: MGMT 3000. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

MGMT 4780 - Managing Entrepreneurial Ventures

Summer 2010 Registration MGMT 4780
Teaches future new and small business owners the practical aspects of managing their entrepreneurial venture, to develop a comprehensive business plan and to develop the skills necessary to improve the odds of success. The course will consider strategies to leverage limited resources for maximum effect. Also covers small organization and group behavior, performance, leadership and motivation in small business settings and focuses on the owner/manager as the principle success factor in the context of a small organization. Note: For business majors only. Can be applied to management emphasis and to Entrepreneurship Certificate. Prereq: MGMT 3000, MKTG 3000, and BLAW 3000 strongly recommended. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

PHIL 3100 - Current Perspectives on the Evolution of Consciousness and Culture

Summer 2010 Registration PHIL 3100
Studies of evolution traditionally regard morphology (anatomy)/behavior and mind/consciousness as separate fields that belong either in biology/paleontology or in psychology/philosophy. The "middle ground" behavior, anthropology, social systems, is also treated separately in most cases. Recent approaches tend toward a more holistic view using unifying principles and "laws of nature" that show similar processes (dissipative effects, information theory, development theory) operating across all fields. Examines the relationships and common threads between the physical anatomical evolution of organisms and their behavior perception and consciousness. Prereq: Introductory course in evolution (biology/paleontology), psychology, philosophy, anthropology or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOL 3100 and RLST 4280. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

PHYS 1000 - Introduction to Physics

Introductory survey course for nonscientists that emphasizes the main concepts of physics. Although this course is mainly descriptive, some high school algebra will be used. The accompanying lab work is designed to illustrate the material discussed in the lectures. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 1052 - General Astronomy I

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 1052

The history of astronomy is studied from early civilizations to the present. The basic motions of the earth, moon, sun, and planets are discussed both qualitatively and quantitatively, using elementary principles of physics. Properties of our solar system are discussed in detail, including results from unmanned space probes. Note: An additional 30 hours of laboratory work (at times to be arranged), plus appropriate report preparation time, are required to complete laboratory component of the course. Prereq: High school algebra or equivalent. Semester Hours: 4 to 4 GT Pathways Category Key: GT-SC1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 1100 - Foundations of Physics

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 1100

One-semester non-lab survey course especially designed for non-science majors. Acquaints students with some of the major principles and methods of physics. Includes applications of physics to everyday life and some discussion of the historical development of physics. Prereq: A good working knowledge of elementary algebra. Semester Hours: 4 to 4 GT Pathways Category Key: GT-SC2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 1115 - Physics Content

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 1115

Covers content areas of undergraduate physics. Topics include matter and energy; heat and thermodynamics; atomic and nuclear structure; mechanics; electricity and magnetism; and wave characteristics. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 1332 - Explorations in Physics

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 1332

Applications of physics are explored in depth for students considering physics as a major or minor. Topics vary each semester, providing conceptual and mathematical insights and hands-on activities on how physics is used in the real world or at research frontiers. Prereq: Algebra and Trigonometry. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 1840 - Independent Study: PHYS

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 1840
Students must check with a faculty member before taking this course. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 2010 - College Physics I

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 2010
(This course is an approved Colorado Statewide Guaranteed Transfer Course). Mechanics, heat and sound. Prereq: College algebra and trigonometry. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
GT Pathways Category Key: GT-SC1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 2020 - College Physics II

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 2020
Electricity, magnetism, light and modern physics. Prereq: PHYS 2010. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
GT Pathways Category Key: GT-SC1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 2030 - College Physics Lab I

GT Pathways Category Key: GT-SC1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 2311 - General Physics I: Calculus-Based

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 2311
Covers vector displacement, uniform and accelerated motion, force, momentum, energy, rotating systems, oscillations, and an introduction to thermodynamics. Emphasis is on basic principles. Coreq: MATH 1401. Semester Hours: 4to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 2321 - General Physics Lab I

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 2321

Semester Hours: 1to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 2331 - General Physics II: Calculus-Based

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 2331
Covers electrostatics, magnetic fields, electromagnetic waves (including light), and optics. Prereq: PHYS 2311. Coreq: MATH 2411. Semester Hours: 4to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 2341 - General Physics Lab II

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 2341
Prereq: PHYS 2321. Semester Hours: 1to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 2371 - Topic-Driven Physics Lab

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 2371
A focused topic is used to show how many fundamental ideas in physics provide the basis for current applications and research. A laboratory component further illustrates the ideas and develops essential skills in physics experimentation. Coreq: PHYS 2331. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 2711 - Vibrations and Waves

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 2711
Introduces vibrations and waves associated with physical phenomena. Analytic and numerical methods in physical contexts. Topics include harmonic oscillators, resonance, coupled oscillators, nonlinear oscillators, waves in elastic media, sound waves, pulses and dispersion. Prereq: PHYS 2331 and MATH 2411. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 2811 - Modern Physics I

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 2811
Presents a study of the events and discoveries that occurred during the latter part of the 19th and the first part of the 20th centuries which led to the discovery of quantum mechanics; namely, special relativity, particle nature of radiation, wave properties of particles, models of the atom, and the introduction of quantum mechanics. Prereq: PHYS 2331 and MATH 2411. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 2821 - Modern Physics II

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 2821
Quantum physics used for an understanding of energy levels and configuration of hydrogen atoms, strength of molecular bonds, atomic and molecular spectroscopy, solid state physics, band theory, nuclear and subatomic physics. Also includes quantum statistics, general relativity and cosmology. Prereq: PHYS 2811. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 2840 - Independent Study: PHYS

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 2840
Students must check with a faculty member before taking this course. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 2939 - Internship/Cooperative Education

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 2939
Experiences involving application of specific, relevant concepts and skills in supervised employment situations. Prereq: 15 hours of 2.75 GPA. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 3040 - Modern Cosmology

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 3040
Designed for non-majors, covering the large-scale structure of the universe. Topics covered are gravitational concepts, neutron stars, pulsars, black holes, big bang universe and cosmological tests. Prereq: PHYS 2010 or equivalent. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 3050 - General Astronomy II

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 3050
Evolution of our sun and other stars is studied, as well as the methods used to gain the information. Discussion includes objects such as neutron stars, novae and supernovae, and black holes. Large-scale structures, including clusters and galaxies, are studied.
Prereq: PHYS 1052, 2010 or 2311. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 3060 - Astronomical Image Processing Lab

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 3060
Techniques in digital image processing. Emphasis on data reduction of astronomical images, processed and reduced on the department's own computer and software platform. Exercise and project oriented. Prereq: MATH 2411 or PHYS 2811 or 1052 and PHYS 2020. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 3082 - Energy and the Environment

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 3082
For students of various backgrounds who wish to increase their understanding of the environmental and technical issues of supplying the energy demands of our society. Alternative energy sources and conservation are explored as solutions to promote sustainable society. Prereq: One college-level science course and MATH 1110 or equivalent. Cross-listed with ENVS 3082. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 3120 - Methods of Mathematical Physics

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 3120
Typically covers calculus of variations, special functions, partial differential equations, integral transforms, linear vector spaces, and tensor analysis. Prereq: MATH 2421 and 3195 (or equivalent) or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 3151 - Biophysics Outlook I

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 3151
Designed as a companion to General Biology I (but can take stand-alone), this course explores how biophysics concepts and experimental methods add to the knowledge of life's processes at the molecular and cellular level. Prereq: PHYS 2311 and PHYS 2331. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 3161 - Biophysics Outlook II

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 3161
Designed as a companion to General Biology I (but can take stand-alone), this course explores how biophysics concepts and experimental methods contribute to the understanding of the structure and function of plants, animals & ecological systems. Prereq: PHYS 2311 and PHYS 2331. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 3211 - Analytical Mechanics

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 3211
Topics include the Lagrange and Hamiltonian formulations, the two-body problem, rigid body motion, and small oscillations. Prereq: PHYS 2711, MATH 2421 and 3195 or equivalent. Coreq: PHYS 3120. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 3251 - Biophysics of the Body

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 3251
Fundamental ideas of mechanics are used to model the form and function of the human body, including statistics, locomotion, energy, and fluid flow. Topics from analytical mechanics are included to ensure student knowledge of Lagrangian and Hamiltonian formalisms. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 3411 - Thermal Physics

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 3411
Covers the basic concepts of the three related disciplines of thermodynamics, statistical mechanics, and kinetic theory. Prereq: PHYS 2331, 2811 and MATH 2421; Coreq: MATH 3195 or equivalent. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 3451 - Biophysics of the Cell

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 3451
This course will cover the fundamentals of thermodynamics and statistical mechanics and apply these physical principles to the understanding of biological systems. Topics covered include, heat entropy, equilibrium, Brownian motion, probability and statistics. The biological processes studied will include molecular motors, protein function, membranes, ion channels, and action potentials. Prereq: PHYS 2331, PHYS 2811 and MATH 2421. Coreq: MATH 3195 or equivalent. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 3620 - Sound and Music

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 3620
Considers the basic nature of sound waves, the ear and hearing, and musical instruments. Although this course is mainly descriptive, some high school algebra will be used. Prereq: MATH 1070 or equivalent. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 3711 - Junior Laboratory I

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 3711
Advanced laboratory in classical and modern physics. Prereq: PHYS 2811. Semester Hours: 2 to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 3721 - Junior Laboratory II

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 3721
Advanced laboratory in classical and modern physics. Prereq: PHYS 3711. Semester Hours: 2 to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 3811 - Quantum Mechanics

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 3811
A course in which both wave and matrix mechanics are developed and applied to selected problems in atomic physics. Prereq: PHYS 2811 and 3211. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 3820 - Subatomic Physics

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 3820
Introductory treatment of the various concepts and models used to describe nuclear and high energy particle phenomena. Prereq: PHYS 2811. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 3840 - Independent Study: PHYS

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 3840
Note: Students must check with a faculty member before taking this course. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 3939 - Internship/Cooperative Education

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 3939
Designed experiences involving application of specific, relevant concepts and skills in supervised employment situations. Prereq: Junior standing and 2.75 GPA. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 4331 - Principles of Electricity and Magnetism

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 4331
Elements of mathematical theory of electricity and magnetism, including electrostatics, magnetostatics, polarized media, direct and alternating current theory, and introduction to electromagnetic fields and waves. Prereq: PHYS 2331 and 3120. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 4351 - Bioelectromagnetism

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 4351
The fundamental theory of electric and magnetic fields is developed and applied to problems of biology and medicine. Examples in medical diagnostics and treatment are built upon rigorous application of Maxwell's equations and constitutive models of electromagnetic properties of biomaterials. Prereq: PHYS 2331 and 3120. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 4400 - Topics in Scientific Instrumentation and Laboratory Methods

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 4400
Short courses on practical knowledge needed to design scientific instruments, develop technical products, and use special laboratory procedures to research. Topics include materials, mechanisms, electronics, and optics. Specific topic information is available through the physics department web site. Prereq: Two semesters of 2000-level introductory physics or instructor's permission. Cross-listed with PHYS 5400-5499. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 4401 - Special Topics

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 4401
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 4402 - Special Topics
Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 4402
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 4403 - Special Topics

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 4403
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 4510 - Optics

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 4510
Presents a contemporary treatment of selected topics in optics, such as matrix methods in geometrical optics, the Fourier analysis approach to physical optics, and interaction of light with matter. Prereq: PHYS 2331, 2811 and 3120. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 4550 - Astrophysics

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 4550
Covers stellar astrophysics, solar physics, star formations, stellar evolution, processes in the interstellar medium, galactic dynamics and evolution, formation of galaxies and cosmology. Prereq: MATH 3195; PHYS 2821 and 3050 recommended. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 4610 - Computational Physics

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 4610
Designed to provide an understanding of the role of the computer in modern theoretical physics by studying the simulation of physical phenomena in various fields of physics. Prereq: PHYS 3120. Semester Hours: 2 to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 4620 - Computational Physics II

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 4620
Assigns the student to an individual, advanced-level project modeling a physical phenomenon on the computer. Prereq: PHYS 4610. Semester Hours: 2 to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 4650 - Solid State Physics
Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 4650
Covers the basic thermal and electrical properties of solids which are explained in terms of the Brillouin zone structures of phonons and electrons. Prereq: PHYS 3411 and 3811. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 4711 - Senior Laboratory I

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 4711
Individual project laboratory with emphasis on modern methods of physical experimentation. Prereq: PHYS 3721. Semester Hours: 2 to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 4721 - Senior Laboratory II

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 4721
Individual project laboratory with emphasis on modern methods of physical experimentation. Prereq: PHYS 4711. Semester Hours: 2 to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 4788 - Bioinformatics

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 4788
Provides a broad exposure to the basic concepts and methodologies of bioinformatics and their application to analyzing genomic and proteomic data. Topics may include dynamic programming algorithms, graph theoretic techniques, hidden Markov models, phylogenetic trees, RNA/protein structure predictions and microarray analysis. Prereq: CSCI 1410, MATH 3191 or 3195. Cross-listed with CSCI 4788, MATH 4788. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 4810 - Atomic and Molecular Structure

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 4810
A course in which quantum mechanical methods are applied to problems in atomic and molecular physics, such as the one-electron atom, atomic and molecular spectra, and particle scattering. Prereq: PHYS 3811. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 4840 - Independent Study: PHYS

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 4840
Note: Students must check with a faculty member before taking this course. Semester
Hours: 1to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 4850 - Physics for Design and Innovation I

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 4850
A service-learning project using fundamental physical principles to design a prototype scientific instrument, technical device, or technical process for a real-world client. Includes instruction on project management, intellectual property, and market analysis. Cross-listed with PHYS 5850. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 4852 - Physics for Design and Innovation II

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 4852
A capstone project using fundamental physical principles to prototype a scientific instrument, technical device or technical process. The focus is on the student's own product idea. Includes online guided readings on the wider context of product development. Students should consult with instructor on necessary physics and mathematics preparation for the project. Prereq: PHYS 4850. Cross-listed with PHYS 5852. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 4920 - Advanced Undergraduate Seminar

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 4920
Studies a focused topic such as: size and age of the universe, critical phenomena, non-linear optics, energy, fiber-optic communications, among others. Students research these topics and give a seminar outlining their findings. Prereq: PHYS 2811 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 1to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 4931 - Internship in Applied Physics

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 4931
Lab experience at major federal and industrial laboratories; an alternative means by which senior physics students complete their senior lab requirement. Note: To be taken in lieu of PHYS 4711 and/or 4721. Prereq: PHYS 3721. Semester Hours: 2to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 4939 - Cooperative Education
Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 4939
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 4980 - Advanced Physics Topics

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 4980
Covers a particular topic, as announced in the ‘Schedule Planner.’ Note: May be taken more than once for credit in different topics. Prereq: PHYS 2811. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 5101 - RM-MSMSP: Forces and Motion

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 5101
Systematic study of the concepts of motion and the forces that cause motion to change, using daily hands-on activities that include identifying patterns by collecting, graphing or analyzing data and applying concepts to everyday phenomena. Concepts are linked to other scientific, mathematical, societal, and pedagogical domains. This course is not applicable toward any degree in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Prereq: Permission of project director. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 5102 - RM-MSMSP: Light, Color, and Geometrical Optics

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 5102
Systematic study of numerous phenomena in light and geometrical optics including: illumination, shadows, and pinholes; reflection and image formation with lenses; color. Concepts are linked to other scientific, mathematical, societal, and pedagogical domains. This course is not applicable toward any degree in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Prereq: Permission of project director. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 5103 - Forms and Transfer of Energy

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 5103
Presents approaches to teaching basic concepts of energy with an emphasis on electricity and magnetism. Addresses the Colorado Department of Education’s Grade 8 science assessment framework, specifically 2.8, 2.9 and 4.2. Course is not applicable toward any degree in physics. Prereq: Permission of project director. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 5400 - Topics in Scientific Instrumentation and Laboratory Methods
Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 5400
Short courses on practical knowledge needed to design scientific instruments, develop technical products, and use special laboratory procedures in research. Topics include materials, mechanisms, electronics, and optics. Specific topic information is available through the physics department web site. Cross-listed with PHYS 4400-4499. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 5401 - Special Topics

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 5401
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 5402 - Special Topics

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 5402
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 5403 - Special Topics

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 5403
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 5840 - Independent Study: PHYS

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 5840
Note: Students must check with a faculty member before taking this course. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 5850 - Physics for Design and Innovation I

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 5850
A service-learning project using fundamental physical principles to design a prototype scientific instrument, technical device, or technical process for a real-world client. Includes instruction on project management, intellectual property, and market analysis. Cross-listed with PHYS 4850. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 5852 - Physics for Design and Innovation II
Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 5852
A capstone project using fundamental physical principles to prototype a scientific instrument, technical device or technical process. The focus is on the student's own product idea. Includes online guided readings on the wider context of product development. Students should consult with instructor on necessary physics and mathematics preparation for the project. Prereq: PHYS 4850 or 5850. Cross-listed with PHYS 4852. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 5939 - Internship/Cooperative Education

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 5939
Note: Students must check with a faculty member before taking this course. Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 5950 - Master's Thesis

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 5950
Note: Students must check with a faculty member before taking this course. Semester Hours: 1 to 8
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 5960 - Master's Project

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 5960
Note: Students must check with a faculty member before taking this course. Semester Hours: 1 to 8
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 5980 - Advanced Physics Topics

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 5980
Covers a particular topic as announced in the 'Schedule Planner.' Note: May be taken more than once for credit in different topics. Prereq: PHYS 2811 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PHYS 6840 - Independent Study: PHYS

Summer 2010 Registration PHYS 6840
Note: Students must check with a faculty member before taking this course. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
PMUS 1001 - Music Appreciation

Summer 2010 Registration PMUS 1001
Explores the style of music in the major compositional periods, including contemporary pop styles. This course will not satisfy any degree requirements for music majors. For non-music majors who want to learn how to listen to music with greater understanding and pleasure. Semester Hours: 3 to 3 GT Pathways Category Key: GT-AH1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PMUS 1020 - Beginning Musicianship

Summer 2010 Registration PMUS 1020
Provides basic musical and theoretical skills to students who do not have the proficiency to enroll in Theory I and Ear Training I. Major concepts include an introduction to music fundamentals, basic ear training, introduction to sight singing and an applied understanding of the keyboard. This course will not satisfy any degree requirements for Music majors. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PMUS 1023 - Piano Class I

Summer 2010 Registration PMUS 1023
This course focuses on beginning note reading in both treble and bass clefs, learning one octave major key scales, basic harmonization, and beginning improvisation. Students perform in both individual and group settings. Note: This course is restricted to Music-Majors only. Prereq: Acceptance to the MEIS program Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PMUS 1024 - Piano Class II

Summer 2010 Registration PMUS 1024
Continuation of PMUS 1023. This course focuses on more advanced note reading, technique, chord vocabulary, sight reading, and improvisation. Introduction of minor scales. Performances in both individual and group settings. Note: This course is restricted to Music-Majors only. Prereq: Acceptance to the MEIS program, PMUS 1023 or approval of instructor Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PMUS 1025 - Piano Class III

Summer 2010 Registration PMUS 1025
Continuation of PMUS 1024. This course assumes general fluency in major and minor scales. Focus on expanding chord vocabulary, sight reading, transposition, and performing more advanced repertoire. Performances in both individual and group settings. Note: This course is restricted to Music-Majors only. Prereq: Acceptance to the MEIS Program, PMUS 1023 and PMUS 1024, or approval of instructor. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PMUS 1026 - Piano Class IV

Summer 2010 Registration PMUS 1026
Continuation of PMUS 1025. This course assumes fluency in major and minor scales. Focus on harmonizing with complex chords, playing by ear, improvisation, and playing repertoire in broader range of key signatures. Students perform in both individual and group settings. Note: This course is restricted to Music-Majors only. Course meets in Roland Piano Lab. Prereq: Acceptance to the MEIS program, PMUS 1023, PMUS 1024 and PMUS 1025, or approval of instructor. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PMUS 1040 - Class Guitar

Summer 2010 Registration PMUS 1040
Designed to provide each student with a basic knowledge of the fretboard. The course material focuses on beginning note reading, basic chord forms and elementary improvisation. Students have the opportunity to perform in both individual and group settings. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PMUS 1041 - Class Guitar II

Summer 2010 Registration PMUS 1041
This group guitar class is designed to go beyond PMUS 1040 and provide students with an advanced knowledge of the fretboard. The course material focuses on advance position note reading, complex chord forms and scale vocabulary. Students have the opportunity to perform in both individual and group settings. Prereq: PMUS 1040. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PMUS 1050 - Voice Class I

Summer 2010 Registration PMUS 1050
Fundamentals of voice production: posture, breath management and support, tone, resonance, diction, phrasing and interpretation. Development of technique, confidence, and control through group and solo singing. Development of repertoire that includes contemporary and commercial vocal styles. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
PMUS 1060 - Voice Class II

Summer 2010 Registration PMUS 1060
Fundamentals of voice production: posture, breath management and support, tone, resonance, diction, phrasing and interpretation. Extension of PMUS 1050, with opportunity to continue to develop individual skills in singing. Development of technique, confidence, and control through group and solo singing. Development of repertoire that includes contemporary and commercial vocal styles. Prereq: PMUS 1050. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PMUS 1093 - Commercial Guitar Styles and Theory - Harmony

Summer 2010 Registration PMUS 1093
A comprehensive guitar course that focuses on harmonic theory specific to the guitar fingerboard. Topics include: chord voicing and inversions, jazz and commercial accompaniment styles including walking bass, bossa nova, funk and finger picking. Semester Hours: 2 to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PMUS 1094 - Commercial Guitar Styles and Theory - Melody

Summer 2010 Registration PMUS 1094
A comprehensive guitar course that focuses on harmonic theory specific to the guitar fingerboard. Topics include: tetrachords, scales, modes, arpeggios, finger technique development and improvisation. Semester Hours: 2 to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PMUS 1100 - Music Theory I

Summer 2010 Registration PMUS 1100
Study of harmonic procedures as derived from the common practice period, and their relationship to contemporary concepts. Coreq: PMUS 1110 and PMUS 1023. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PMUS 1110 - Ear Training and Sight Singing I

Summer 2010 Registration PMUS 1110
Laboratory course designed to help students listen to music analytically and to apply the harmonic principles learned in PMUS 1100 to the performance of music. Coreq: PMUS 1100 and PMUS 1023. Semester Hours: 1 to 1
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
PMUS 1200 - Music Theory II

Summer 2010 Registration PMUS 1200
Continuation of PMUS 1100. Prereq: PMUS 1110 and PMUS 1100. Coreq: PMUS 1210 and PMUS 1023. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

PMUS 1210 - Ear Training and Sight Singing II

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RLST 3300 - Shamanic Traditions

Summer 2010 Registration RLST 3300
Explores shamanic religious traditions across the world. This form of religion, involving spiritism, animism, trance states, and "mind power," is the oldest and most widespread religion in world history. Covers the "Shramana" disciplines of India, probable source for the name "Shamanism;" Tibet, Central Asia Korea, China, Japan, Australia; Pacific Island, Native American, and traditional African cultures. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RLST 3400 - Asian Philosophies and Religions

Summer 2010 Registration RLST 3400
We in the Western world encounter a vastly different world, a radically different "universe of meaning," when we examine the traditions of the East. Even what we tacitly assume to be "real" is claimed by the Hindus and Buddhists of India to be a grand illusion. The world of China is, again, very different from India. An examination of Tibetan and Japanese religious forms will conclude our study of Asian thought. Cross-listed with PHIL 3666. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RLST 3500 - Religions of India

Summer 2010 Registration RLST 3500
Examines the transcendentalist philosophy of India, which rests at the foundation of the great Eastern religious traditions of Hinduism and Buddhism. The Indian ideas of God, the soul, time, the nature of the universe, and its ultimate goal are examined. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RLST 3660 - Chinese Philosophy and Culture
Summer 2010 Registration RLST 3660
China is a fascinating world with its own characteristic orientation to philosophical questions. Chinese thinkers produced the "Flowering of a Hundred Schools of Thought" in the Axial Age, the same period of time in which philosophy was coming to birth in ancient Greece. Covers some of the Chinese schools, including Confucianism, Taoism, Mohism, Legalism, Chinese "Logic", and the later schools of Neo-Confucianism, Neo-Taoism and Chinese Buddhism. Cross-listed with PHIL 3981. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RLST 3720 - Religious Narratives

Summer 2010 Registration RLST 3720
Investigates the language and structure of religious discourse in Western literature. Welcomes interdisciplinary and comparative perspectives with a focus on cultural constructions of the sacred. Cross-listed with ENGL 3520. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RLST 3740 - Biblical Traditions: Old Testament

Summer 2010 Registration RLST 3740
Investigates the history and nature of the Biblical text. Follows the tradition of critical scholarship beginning in the Enlightenment era and continued down to the present day, sometimes entitled "Secular Humanism." Topics include theories of authorship of the Torah, its general nature and content; the historical books of the Bible, the Prophets, and the Wisdom Literature. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Summer 2010 Registration RLST 3760
Examines the books of the New Testament from a scholarly, historical-critical perspective, which views it as a historically and culturally conditioned text, reflecting the beliefs and attitudes of the authors who produced it. The course covers the canonical gospels, letters, and other writings of the New Testament. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RLST 3770 - Archaeological Discoveries Relating to the Bible

Summer 2010 Registration RLST 3770
Examines the revolutionary impact of archaeology on Biblical Studies. Among these discoveries are Egyptian, Mesopotamian, and Canaanite texts, the Dead Sea Scrolls, and the Gnostic texts. Through these investigations, the Bible will be placed in its appropriate historical, literary and cultural context. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
RLST 4000 - Religion and Cultural Diversity

Summer 2010 Registration RLST 4000
Religion is one of the key elements which creates multiculturalism. This course explores issues in religion and religious identity in contemporary America, including Native American spiritual traditions, Jewish-American traditions, Muslim-American traditions, Asian-American traditions, the African-American Pentecostal movement, and the growth of the Black Muslim movement. Attention is also given to the question of gender issues, as the traditional model for gender roles was formulated, in part, from a religious basis. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RLST 4010 - Comparative Religious Systems

Summer 2010 Registration RLST 4010
A cross-cultural analysis of religious belief and behavior. Emphasis is placed on religions found among non-Western cultural groups and includes consideration of how major religions of the world are manifested on local levels. Cross-listed with ANTH 4130, 5130, RLST 5010. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RLST 4160 - Mysticism

Summer 2010 Registration RLST 4160
Explores the mystical strains within the world's great religious traditions. Jewish, Christian, and Islamic mystics did not always express the same beliefs and attitudes as mainstream adherents. When mystics are placed side-by-side, amazing similarities appear. One cannot always tell whether a given mystical statement is Hindu, Jewish, Sufi, or Christian. This class examines these mystical traditions, East and West. Cross-listed with RLST 5160. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RLST 4260 - Kosmos: Theories of the Universe
Summer 2010 Registration RLST 4260
A course in philosophical cosmology using material from the sciences, history and philosophy. The goal is to illuminate our present theories concerning the nature of the universe and the place of life within it. Cross-listed with PHIL 3420.

Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RLST 4280 - Current Perspectives on the Evolution of Consciousness and Culture

Summer 2010 Registration RLST 4280
Studies of evolution traditionally regard morphology (anatomy) / behavior and mind/consciousness as separate fields that belong either in biology/paleontology or in psychology/philosophy. The "middle ground" behavior, anthropology, social systems, is also treated separately in most cases. Recent approaches tend toward a more holistic view using unifying principles and "laws of nature" that show similar processes (dissipative effects, information theory, development theory) operating across all fields. Examines the relationships and common threads between the physical anatomical evolution of organisms and their behavior perception and consciousness. Prereq: Introductory course in evolution (biology/paleontology), psychology, philosophy, anthropology, or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with GEOL 3100 and PHIL 3100.

Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RLST 4300 - Myth and Symbol

Summer 2010 Registration RLST 4300
Approaches the field of classical Greek mythology and religion from the perspective of Jungian archetypal theory. The deities of the ancient Greeks are presented as archetypal patterns with universal correlates elsewhere in world religions. A foundation in C. G. Jung's archetypal theory will be offered to ground the course material. Cross-listed with RLST 5300.

Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RLST 4320 - Spirituality in the Modern World

Summer 2010 Registration RLST 4320
Examines the issue of spiritual currents in the modern world. Joseph Campbell claimed that Western culture long ago lost an active sense of the sacred and that the traditional religions have not been the spiritual center for the vast majority of moderns for centuries. This class looks at the modern spiritual awakening in Shamanism, Eastern thought, the New Age movement, the men's movement, paganism and goddess religion, and the revival of traditional religious forms in recent decades. Prereq: RLST 4300.

Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
RLST 4340 - The Hero's Journey

Summer 2010 Registration RLST 4340
The myth of the hero's journey serves as a metaphor for the vicissitudes life puts each of us through. The hero or heroine represents the ego-self who undertakes the journey—a grand adventure into the realm of the unknown—to seek the treasure. He or she is greatly transformed by the process, ultimately into the great self, who wins the boon to share with all humanity. Versions of the story are found all over the world, such as in the sagas of Gilgamesh, Odysseus, Psyche, King Arthur, Dorothy of Oz, and Luke Skywalker from a galaxy far, far away. Cross listed with ENGL 3530. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RLST 4360 - Freudian and Jungian Perspectives in Dream Analysis

Summer 2010 Registration RLST 4360
Focuses on the phenomenon of dreams in a way that differs distinctly from the traditional approach to the subject in the field of psychology. Throughout history, dreams have been regarded as prophetic, as the voice of the gods. These "spiritual" approaches to dreams are examined, as well as some major theorists on dreams, especially the work of Sigmund Freud and C. G. Jung. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RLST 4400 - Differing Concepts of God

Summer 2010 Registration RLST 4400
God, gods, and goddesses have been imagined in many different modes, forms, aspects, and guises throughout human history. This course investigates Paleolithic models of God, the Great Goddess of the Neolithic era, the gods of mythological traditions, Biblical God, the abstract God of the philosophers, the God of the pantheists, the deists, and the God of the mystics. Cross-listed with RLST 5400, PHIL 4650 and 5655. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RLST 4420 - Goddess Traditions

Summer 2010 Registration RLST 4420
Explores the many forms which goddesses have assumed through history, including the Neolithic Great Mother and her heiresses in the ancient Mediterranean cultures, such as: Isis, Ishtar, Demeter, Hecate, Aphrodite, Artemis, Athena and others, and their parallels in India. Goddess traditions have encompassed a full spectrum from virgins to Great Mothers to dark underworld goddesses of death and destruction. Cross-listed with RLST
5420 and WGST 4420. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RLST 4440 - Concepts of the Soul

Summer 2010 Registration RLST 4440
Asks the questions: What is the nature of the human being? What makes us "human?" Do humans have a "soul?" What is its nature? Is it different from the "spirit?" What is its ultimate fate? Examines the various theories put forward by philosophers of both Eastern and Western traditions. Cross-listed with RLST 5440 and PHIL 4470, 5470. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RLST 4460 - Death and Concepts of Afterlife

Summer 2010 Registration RLST 4460
Examines how the major religious traditions approach the issue of death. Where the Egyptians were fascinated by death, their Mesopotamian and Hebrew neighbors saw no kind of experience continuing after death. Concepts of the Final Judgment Day and the end of the world follow Zoroastrianism, Christianity, and Islam, while Indian religions developed a sophisticated theory of reincarnation and the "art of dying." Finally, we will turn to Chinese belief in ancestral spirits. Cross-listed with RLST 5460. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RLST 4480 - Perspectives on Good and Evil

Summer 2010 Registration RLST 4480
Examines the "problem of evil." As formulated in the philosophical tradition: if the deity is understood as perfect, then why is there evil? How can a perfect entity create imperfection? Why would an absolutely benevolent God cause or allow the innocent to suffer? Presents the classical formulation of the problem, the traditional solutions offered, and the classical critiques of each answer. Considers the perspectives of the various religious orientations, each of which deals differently with the question of suffering. Cross-listed with PHIL 4480. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RLST 4500 - Religion and Politics

Summer 2010 Registration RLST 4500
Exploration of: (1) theoretical perspectives on the relationship between religion and politics; (2) causes of and justifications for the historical development of the Western separation of "church" and state; (3) contemporary responses to and analyses of this separation; and (4) several current debates about public policy in America that reveal tensions between these two spheres. Cross-listed with PSCI 4057, 5057 and RLST 5500. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RLST 4730 - Whores and Saints: Medieval Women

Summer 2010 Registration RLST 4730
Studies how women are presented in texts, as well as works by women. Investigates the roles open to women and societal attitudes toward women, who were considered seductresses, saints, scholars and warriors in the middle ages. Prereq: Nine hours of literature courses or instructor permission. Cross-listed with ENGL 4510, ENGL 5510, RLST 5730 and WGST 4510. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RLST 4840 - Independent Study: RLST

Summer 2010 Registration RLST 4840
Various topics in religious studies pursued in independent research. Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RLST 5010 - Comparative Religious Systems

Summer 2010 Registration RLST 5010
A cross-cultural analysis of religious belief and behavior. Emphasis is placed on religions found among non-Western cultural groups and includes consideration of how major religions of the world are manifested on local levels. Cross-listed with ANTH 4130, 5130, RLST 4010. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Examines the purposes of research, the methods and designs of quantitative and qualitative research, and the processes involved in research studies. The methods of research examined include experimental designs, quasi-experimental designs, descriptive surveys, case studies, ethnographies and correlational designs. Designing a research study is a part of the course activities. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RSEM 5300 - Introduction to Measurement

Summer 2010 Registration REM 5300
A first-level course that examines the nature and purpose of psychological measurement. Particular attention is paid to the concepts of reliability, validity, norms, interpretation of scores, response sets, fairness in testing, and norm-referenced vs. criterion-referenced interpretation of scores. A variety of instruments that are used to measure human attributes and behaviors are studied. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RSEM 5350 - Workshop in Instrument Development

Summer 2010 Registration REM 5350
Provides an opportunity to learn the art and technology of developing different measures in education. Students develop an instrument of their own design. Topics vary. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RSEM 5400 - Introduction to Evaluation of Programs and Persons

Summer 2010 Registration REM 5400
Models and methods of evaluating programs and persons in education and related fields, such as business and nursing, are examined. Emphasis is given to the topics of formative and summative evaluation, frameworks for program evaluation, teacher evaluation, merit pay, and the measurement and design problems associated with each
RSEM 5800 - Workshop: Topics in Research and Evaluation Methodology

Summer 2010 Registration REM 5800
Topics and credit hours vary from term to term. Often workshops address a current topic in research, evaluation, or measurement by considering its scholarly foundations and its application to schools and other educational settings.Semester Hours: 1to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RSEM 5840 - Independent Study: RSEM

Summer 2010 Registration REM 5840
Semester Hours: 1 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RSEM 5910 - Practicum in Research and Evaluation Methodology

Summer 2010 Registration REM 5910
Supervised work in projects that provide experience in data analysis, research, measurement, or evaluation. Requires a minimum of 75, 150, 225, or 300 clock hours under supervision (for 1, 2, 3, or 4 credit hours, respectively).Semester Hours: 1to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RSEM 5920 - Readings in Educational Statistics

Summer 2010 Registration REM 5920
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RSEM 5921 - Readings in Educational Research

Summer 2010 Registration REM 5921
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RSEM 5923 - Readings in Educational Measurement

Summer 2010 Registration REM 5923
Semester Hours: 1 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RSEM 5924 - Readings in Program Evaluation
Summer 2010 Registration REM 5924
Semester Hours: 1to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RSEM 6050 - Seminar in Assessment Policy Issues

Summer 2010 Registration REM 6050
Three public policy issues involving educational assessment are analyzed. The policy issues selected vary to reflect current policy debates. Sample issues are school accountability, grading and report cards, performance-based graduation standards, classification of students as having special needs, merit pay for teachers, and retaining students in grade. Each analysis examines (a) policy history; (b) value assumptions and constituency interests; (c) validity of assessment procedures; and (d) consequences of policy alternatives. Prereq: RSEM 5050 or RSEM 5300 (or another introductory course in educational measurement or assessment. )Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RSEM 6100 - Methods of Qualitative Inquiry

Summer 2010 Registration REM 6100
Prepares graduate students to conduct field research employing qualitative methods and perspectives. Students become familiar with evolving theoretical and methodological perspectives in qualitative research drawn from anthropology, clinical psychology, sociology and education. Students apply techniques of qualitative data collections and analysis in a pilot investigation. Prereq: RSEM 5080 or RSEM 5200 or EDLI 7000 (or their equivalents as determined by the course instructor. )Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RSEM 7050 - Methods of Survey Research

Summer 2010 Registration REM 7050
Covers the purposes and methods of survey research. Topics included are: goals and uses of survey research, data collection methods, questionnaire and interview protocol design, reliability and validity of data collection methods, sampling, ways to reduce error in data collection and sampling, data analysis techniques commonly used in survey research studies, interpreting and reporting results, and ethical issues. Students design and conduct a survey as part of the course requirements. Prereq: RSEM 5100, 5200 or EDLI 7000 (or their equivalents, as determined by the course instructor). Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RSEM 7100 - Advanced Methods of Qualitative Inquiry
Summer 2010 Registration REM 7100
An advanced seminar directed at individuals who have completed an introductory course in methods of qualitative research. Topics included are qualitative data collection, data analysis, and writing about data. Students collect and analyze data. Prereq: RSEM 6100 or equivalent. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RSEM 7110 - Intermediate Statistics

Summer 2010 Registration REM 7110
Continuation of RSEM 5100, covering more advanced methods of analyzing data, with an emphasis on the use and interpretation of descriptive and inferential techniques. Topics covered are one-way and two-way analysis of variance; power; multiple comparisons; factorial designs and factorial ANOVA; partial correlation, multiple correlation and regression; analysis of covariance; and selected use of packaged statistical programs (SPSS). Prereq: RSEM 5100 or equivalent. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RSEM 7120 - Advanced Methods in Quantitative Inquiry and Measurement

Summer 2010 Registration REM 7120
Covers advanced topics in quantitative design and analysis, including advanced measurement topics. Topics include: specific types of design used in experimental, quasi-experimental, co-relational, and survey research; multivariate ANOVA, ANCOVA and MRC; factor and trend analyses; classical test theory; and IRT approaches. Students analyze their own data using techniques presented in the course. Prereq: RSEM 5080 or RSEM 5200 and RSEM 7110 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RSEM 7150 - Mixed Methods Research

Summer 2010 Registration REM 7150
This seminar is directed at individuals who have completed both qualitative and quantitative research courses and are interested in combining these in the mixed-method approach. Focus will be on developing the skills and knowledge needed to formulate mixed-methodological research questions in which quantitative and qualitative data collection, analysis and interpretational techniques are utilized simultaneously or sequentially. Prereq: EDLI 7000, RSEM 7110 and 6100 or equivalents or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RSEM 7240 - Patterned Inquiry for Educational Administrators
Summer 2010 Registration REM 7240
This seminar provides students with a conceptual and practical basis for conducting and evaluating educational research. Its focus is on the application of research to problems of administrative practice. The seminar is also intended to prepare students for dissertation research. Prereq: RSEM 7110. Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

RSEM 7500 - Special Topics: Research and Evaluation Methods

Summer 2010 Registration REM 7500
Specific topics vary from semester to semester. Semester Hours: 1 to 6
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SCHL 5020 - Collection Development

Summer 2010 Registration SL 5020
Principles and practices for developing information collections to meet user needs. Includes selection, evaluation and policy and procedure development for all materials, including print, electronic technologies and multimedia. Prereq: SCHL 5530. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SCHL 5030 - Information Literacy and Reference

Summer 2010 Registration SL 5030
Teaching, assessment, and integration of information literacy skills and educational technology standards with subject content areas. Reference collection development, policies and procedures, and use of and reference tools, including electronic resources. Emphasis is placed on standards-based collaborative planning and instruction with classroom teachers. Prereq: SCHL 5530, 5110 and 5020. Semester Hours: 4 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SCHL 5040 - Information Storage and Utilization

Summer 2010 Registration SL 5040
Provides basic principles and practices of utilizing standard methods for organizing, accessing and storing information. Includes cataloging and classification in text-based and electronic systems. Semester Hours: 2 to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SCHL 5110 - Integrating Instructional Technology Practices in School Libraries

Summer 2010 Registration SL 5110
Analyze instructional technology use in school library settings. Discuss current trends and issues related to the use of technology within schools. Emphasis integrating instructional technology that focuses on student achievement and the students' ability to use technology resources that promote critical thinking skills, information evaluation and dissemination skills. Semester Hours: 2to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SCHL 5160 - Managing School Library Programs

Summer 2010 Registration SL 5160
Case studies in the organization and administration of school library and instructional leadership of programs and projects. Topics include project management, personnel administration, budget development, management philosophies, copyright and intellectual freedom. Prereq: SCHL 5530, SCHL 5110, SCHL 5120, SCHL 5130 & SCHL 5140. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SCHL 5530 - Foundations of School Librarianship

Summer 2010 Registration SL 5530
This course is the first course in the School Library programs and provides an overview of school librarianship. The course is designed to develop an understanding of the history of school library programs, their current place in the public school system and society and their future. Semester Hours: 2to 2
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SCHL 5830 - School Library Workshop

Summer 2010 Registration SL 5830
Specific content and titles vary depending upon the particular school library skills addressed in the course. Semester Hours: 0.5to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SCHL 5911 - School Library Field Experience-Elementary

Summer 2010 Registration SL 5911
Provides practical experience in the management of a school library program. Includes 90 hours in an elementary school library plus instruction within an online seminar for practicum coaching and field experience goals and instructional development. Prereq or Coreq: SCHL 5160. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SCHL 5912 - School Library Field Experience-Secondary
Summer 2010 Registration  SL 5912
Provides practical experience in the management of a school library program. Includes 90 hours in a secondary (7-12) school library plus instruction within an online seminar for practicum coaching and field experience goals and instructional development. Prereq or Coreq: SCHL 5160. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SCHL 6720 - Practitioner-Based Research in School Libraries

Summer 2010 Registration SL 6720
Analyze, evaluate and interpret published research conducted in library science. Provide an introduction to qualitative and quantitative data collection and data analysis measures. A school library practitioner-based action research project will be produced. Prereq: SCHL 5160. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SCHL 6999 - Leadership and Practice in School Libraries

Summer 2010 Registration SL 6999
Designed to be the final class in the Master's in School Libraries Program, it is a reflective examination of the nature of contemporary leadership and practice in the field and provides a structure and forum for the successful completion of the comprehensive portfolio. Prereq: SCHL 5020, SCHL 5110, SCHL 5160 and SCHL 5530. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 5060 - Improvement of Instruction

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5060
Designed to assist the educator in the systematic improvement of instruction. Emphasis is on emergent knowledge related to successful classroom practices, techniques of assessment, analysis and action related to the improvement of professional skills. Cross-listed with ELED 5060. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 5200 - Classroom Management

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5200
Instructional management, physical management, and behavior management are studied as interactive components in the establishment and maintenance of an effective learning environment. Cross-listed with ELED 5200. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
SECE 5300 - Introductory Curriculum and Methods in Secondary Mathematics

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5300
Surveys secondary mathematics curriculum and methods for pre-service teachers. Topics include planning lessons, motivation, grading, constructing tests, problem solving, teaching aids, expository and discovery lessons, teaching concepts, procedures and problem solving. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 5340 - Multicultural Science Education

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5340
This course examines literature in science education related to multicultural issues, topics will be framed by an understanding of equity in diverse, urban classrooms and how it informs curriculum and instruction. Cross-listed with ENVS 5340. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 5350 - Issues and Problems in Science Education

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5350
Recent developments in theory, curriculum, methods, and materials in secondary science, examined for their contribution to the objectives of science education. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 5400 - Curriculum in Secondary Mathematics

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5400
Investigates curriculum in middle and high school mathematics, development, history and trends, and pertinent research. Participants construct and share curriculum relevant to their interest. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 5401 - Assessment in Mathematics Education

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5401
Curriculum-based assessment covering nature of assessment and its relation to evaluation and grading; teacher-made assessments; validity and authentic assessment; techniques for assessing learning of mathematical concepts, procedures, and problem solving. Emphasis on assessment practices of mathematics teachers. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
SECE 5410 - Advanced Methods and Strategies in Secondary Mathematics

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5410
An in-depth investigation of specific methods and strategies suitable for teaching mathematics for middle and senior high schools. Participants model and share various strategies, including the expository, collaborative discovery, laboratory, and Socratic methods. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 5411 - Mathematics Education and Gender

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5411
Investigates gender-inclusive curriculum and teaching methods, equity and assessment, mathematical life histories, women in mathematics history, women's individual development and voice, single sex programs, and gender differences. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 5417 - Structure of Rational Numbers

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5417
Emphasizes the use of multiple solution strategies to examine the structure of rational numbers. The assigned problems allow elementary and secondary teachers to investigate the mathematical notions of equivalence, properties, unitization, partitioning, ratios and proportionality. Prereq: Teaching license or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with ELED 5417. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 5418 - Mathematical Modeling

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5418
Elementary and secondary teachers explore settings where mathematics is utilized in everyday activities. Teachers create mathematical models to describe events or situations in the world and use a variety of modeling strategies to solve problems. Prereq: Teacher licensure or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with ELED 5418. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 5419 - Exploring the Structure of Geometry Using Technology

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5419
Develops elementary and secondary teachers' conceptual understanding of geometric properties and theorems through investigations on dynamic computer software. The software enhances and extends teachers' ability to solve complex problems by manipulating abstract ideas on the computer. Prereq: teaching license or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with ELED 5419. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 5420 - Teaching Mathematics to Low Achievers

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5420
Problems and characteristics of low achievers, motivation, attitudes, scaffolding with available materials, programs for low achievers, self-esteem, mathematics laboratory and activity approach to teaching mathematics. Appropriate for all grades. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 5430 - Teaching Aids in Mathematics Education

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5430
Examination, production, and use of manipulative aids, audiovisual aids, and other materials for teaching mathematics. Open to elementary and secondary teachers. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 5440 - Topics in Mathematics Education

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5440
An in-depth study of topics such as computers, testing, learning theory and mathematics laboratories. (May be repeated as topics vary.) Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 5460 - Secondary Social Studies Methods and Curriculum Design

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5460
Recent developments in theory and materials in the social studies are examined, and present practices are analyzed for their contribution to general goals of social studies education. Appropriate for secondary teachers and elementary teachers with a specialization in social studies. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 5464 - Teaching About Ethnicity, Race and Prejudice

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5464
Designed to introduce the nature of racial and ethnic groups, prejudice, discrimination and ethno violence. It also includes the teaching about these and related topics and deals with resolving problems of intergroup relations in schools and institutional settings.
Cross-listed with ELED 5464. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 5465 - Teaching Critical Issues in Social Studies: An Interdisciplinary Approach

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5465
An in-depth study of critical social issues related to global or international; ethnicity, race, gender and minorities; cross-cultural studies; and current societal problems. Requires an interdisciplinary approach and covers the structure of the social science disciplines. Prereq: A minimum of 24 semester hours in history and social sciences. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 5480 - Museum Studies in Paleontology

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5480
A practical laboratory-based course covering aspects of museum studies related to paleontological collections. Students learn how to stabilize and prepare bones removed from fossil quarries; learn molding and casting techniques for bones and fossils; assist with the cataloging and curation of the collection; and participate in designing museum displays. Prereq: At least one science class. Cross-listed with GEOL 3415, ELED 5480. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 5490 - Middle School Curriculum

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5490
Explores the unique curriculum requirements of transient youth. Topics to be addressed include team teaching, interdisciplinary curricula, flexible scheduling, basic skills development, guidance function, fine arts, practical arts, industrial arts, career education, teaching strategies and management techniques. Cross-listed with ELED 5490. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 5500 - The Nature of Science

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5500
This course is a critical exploration of science and scientific knowledge using an epistemological approach to ask (and possibly answer) questions about sociological issues in science and implications for science research, teaching and learning. Cross-listed with ENVS 5500. Semester Hours: 3to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
SECE 5510 - Teacher Leadership: Theory to Reality

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5510
Working with colleagues in schools to make a difference as a team member and a change agent requires knowledge and skills that are “more than teachers, yet different from administrators” (Danielson, 2006). This course will provide teachers with skill building related to what it takes for teachers to improve schools. Cross-listed with ELED 5510. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 5520 - Teacher Leadership: Essential Knowledge

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5520
Teacher leaders need expertise about what constitutes a quality curriculum and how best to guide others to develop lessons with assessments that reflect essential standards. They use culturally responsive and differentiated teaching strategies to assure that learning occurs. Cross-listed with ELED 5520. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 5530 - Teacher Leadership: Vital Skills

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5530
Teacher leaders need skills in collaboration, facilitation and coaching in order to work with colleagues in ways that will optimally impact student learning. This course will provide theory and practice in models of adult learning, professional development and communication. Cross-listed with ELED 5530. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 5650 - Environmental Education

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5650
Theory and practice of conservation education, which include use of resource personnel and the study of curricular and instructional development. Field experiences are incorporated. Primarily oriented to elementary and junior high school. Semester Hours: 3 to 3
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 5660 - Energy Education

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5660
Explores current energy problems. Students examine such topics as fuels from plants, fuels from wastes, fossil fuels, nuclear energy, wind energy, geothermal energy, solar energy and energy conservation. Included is a demonstration of available educational resources for grades K-12. The purpose of the course is to make technical aspects of SECE 5780 - Storytelling

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5780
Explores the history, function, philosophy, and techniques of storytelling. This class also includes collecting, selecting, preparing, developing, and delivering stories. Research and resources are emphasized. Cross-listed with ELED 5780.Semester Hours: 1 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 5800 - Curriculum Workshop for Secondary Teachers

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5800
Opportunity to construct curriculum relevant to teachers’ interests. Topics and credit hours vary.Semester Hours: 0.5 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 5840 - Independent Study: SECE

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5840
Semester Hours: 1 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 5910 - Advanced Practicum in Teaching

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5910
This course is not to be used as independent study, but is to be used by students approved in advance by the director of teacher education. This course fulfills the student teaching requirement for students seeking a second endorsement. Prereq: Permission of instructor.Semester Hours: 1 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5920
Semester Hours: 1 to 4
Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 5930 - Internship in Secondary Education
SECE 5930 - Master's Thesis

SECE 5950 - Spring 2010 Registration

SECE 5950 - Master's Thesis

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 5950

Semester Hours: 1 to 8

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 6100 - Seminar in Secondary Education

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 6100

Students work on individual topics and report orally and in writing. Prereq: Permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 6110 - Curriculum in Urban Studies

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 6110

Places curriculum development in the historical, social, and political context of educational change. Considers underlying concepts and assumptions, examines the implications of implementation theory and practice for school restructuring, and professional development. Prereq: graduate student status. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.

SECE 6120 - International Perspectives on the Curriculum

Summer 2010 Registration SECE 6120

Considers schooling patterns in the U.S., the U.K., Japan, Australia, and several European countries, examining different approaches to curriculum issues in relation to social, historical, and economic factors. Prereq: FNDS 5500 or permission of instructor. Semester Hours: 3 to 3

Registration is changing. Visit our website for details ucdenver.edu/registration.
