Using the input from our kick-off session, Back to the Basics of CBPR Principles, we selected three CBPR Principles to focus on during our second session.

1. Respects and recognizes the community as a unit of identity.
2. Builds on strengths and resources in the community
3. Facilitates collaborative, equitable involvement of all partners in all phases of research

Join us to hear from community partners, Tammy Bellafato and Maret Felzein about their experience with advisory boards, partnerships and incorporating the right community voice into research. Charlene Barrientos Ortiz, a CCTSI Community Research Liaison, will facilitate a discussion to address importance issues and audience questions.
